Morning Chronicle.

Portsmouth, N. H.

TUESDAY, JUNE 17, 1862.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

—— From a lengthy statement in the Mirror, of the present condition of the mills in Manchester, business there appears to be, upon the whole, brisk, and the prospect cheering. In flush times the monthly pay roll is $105,000; after the first of July, as prospects now are, it will be $70,000,—exactly two-thirds. The repairs and building this year will be large,—nearly all the corporations intending to increase their capacities by adding to their present buildings or by erecting new ones.

—— The gun establishment of the Amoskeag Co., at Manchester, is nearly complete, and the Mirror says that when done, it will be equal to the best in the country. It will be able to turn out 1500 rifles a month, and will give employment to 200 men of superior skill as machinists. They have a government contract for 10,000 rifles of the Springfield pattern, and will be in full blast on the first of next month. They are making 500 breech-loading carbines, of the Linder patent, for government, which will be delivered in two weeks. These are a very handsome and effective weapon for cavalry use. They have also made a steel breech-loading cannon, of the Linder patent, which is ordered by Russia as a sample. It is now finished and ready to be tested.

—— John L. Perley, Jr., of Laconia, Lieutenant in the cavalry, died at the residence of his father on Monday morning, 9th inst., of fever. He had recently returned ill from Winchester.

—— A correspondent of the Manchester Mirror, writing from Fair Oaks, Va., says the 5th N. H. Regiment have received the approbation of Gen. McClellan, over his own signature, and adds:—

Our gallant Gen. Richardson was out the other day, when the 2d Delaware Regt. came to join his Division, to survey them, and as he walked up the line with his trousers torn from the foot half up the knee and his old black hat on, the men could not help "snickering." But when they saw their Col. take off his hat to him, they began to think this man was more than a private.—Gen. Richardson addressed the Col. of the Delaware Regt., and said, "Here are the 5th N. H., the 88th N. Y., and the 57th Pa. regiments that I know how to depend upon. They stood fire like a stone wall." Upon this those of our regiment present, gave three cheers for their General. The General turned round and said, "It is not I that deserves the cheers, it is you; you did the work. You haven't got acquainted with me yet; if you had, you would know that."

—— James R. Hill, Esq., the celebrated harness manufacturer of Concord, has commenced the erection of a large block of stores on the corner of Maine and School streets. The building will extend 110 feet upon each street, will be two stories in height, surmounted with a French roof, and constructed with iron facings. The upper story will be used for offices. The new post office will be in the western portion of the edifice on School street, with an addition in the rear for the distributing department of the mails. The work reflects great credit upon the energy and enterprise of Mr. Hill.

—— Among the wounded soldiers who arrived at the New England Rooms, in New York city, were the following members of N. H. Regiments:

L. E. Wardwell, Co. H, 2d; Jarvis J. Jordan, Co. C, 5th; Reuben C. Philbrick, Co K, do.; Edward W. Forrest, Co. H, 2d; G. G. Davis, Co. A, 2d.

☞ To-day, the Seventeenth of June, is the eighty-seventh anniversary of the never-to-be-forgotten Battle of Bunker Hill. It becomes us all to inquire, how much of real liberty, — freedom, — independence, — the generation of to-day are enjoying, more than our great-grandfathers possessed, either before or after their "Rebellion"—the Revolution? And how much, if any, more or less, "independence" will our "misguided Southern brethren" possess, at the close of this their greatest of all Rebellions, than they enjoyed when they began it? We shall see.

The day ought to be "celebrated"—should be added to the meagre list of New England's legal holidays, which ought to be at least a dozen, instead of less than half the number.

☞ The Kansas State Senate, sitting as a Court of Impeachment, has found John W. Robinson, Secretary of State, guilty of high misdemeanor, by a vote of 17 to 4. On the remaining charges the Court found him not guilty. The Court, by a vote of 18 to 3, declared that John W. Robinson be removed from his office of Secretary of State. The case of Mr. Hilleyer, the Auditor, was then taken up.

☞ The principal newsdealer in Baltimore, Mr. Henry Taylor, says that he now orders as many as 50,000 daily papers, which he supplies to the army.

☞ The biggest kind of guns are now being placed in the forts of Portland harbor.

☞ By steamships Bavaria and China, off Cape Race, we have seven days' later news from Europe. By the Bavaria's advices we learn that the French army at Rome has been reduced to a single division of three brigades. Her news is generally of but little interest. The China's dispatches are four days later than those of the Bavaria. It is rumored that Louis Napoleon will establish a protectorate over Mexico. Notice has been given of the blockade of the ports of Tampico and Alvarado. British steamer Porcupine is to be ready in about ten days to take soundings for laying a submarine cable. The China made the passage from Queenstown to Cape Race in 5 days 17 hours.

☞ It has been ascertained at the Post Office Department that single rate letters, embossed with one and three cent stamps of the old style, have in some instances been treated by postmasters as wholly unpaid, and extra postage thereon exacted. Public notice is therefore given that stamped envelopes of this description have not been superseded, and are perfectly valid for prepayment of postage to the amount which the stamps indicate.

☞ Eben Senter, alias Francis Adams, of Malden, Mass., has been arrested for swindling A. & E. Cutter, coal dealers, of Saco, Me., by pretending to sell them a cargo of coal (to arrive) on terms considerably less than the ruling rates, and obtaining thereon a loan of $30. Senter has been engaged pretty extensively in the swindling business, as a number of cases have come to light since his arrest. He obtained $50 in one case, as an advance on a load of coal which he pretended to sell to a merchant in Boston. Senter subsequently was discharged, his sisters having taken up all the fraudulent paper and paid all the swindles. They have paid over $1500 for their brother to get him out of difficulty, at various times. He is now 62. In 1843 he was sent to State Prison for one year, for swindling a commission house in Boston.—His subsequent career shows that he had better have remained in that useful (to such as him) institution.

☞ A Fortress Monroe correspondent of the Tribune says:—

"Gen. Burnside is at Fortress Monroe.—In regard to the action of Gov. Stanley, Gen. B. is understood to give it his approval, and it would seem that the public have been misled concerning it. It would appear that so far from closing the negro schools he only said that in case North Carolina returned to the Union with the anti-school law in full force, he would feel called upon to enforce it, and close the schools of the kind in question. Misapprehending Gov. Stanley's remarks, Mr. Colyer closed the schools himself. I understand that these substantially are the facts in the case."

☞ On Friday afternoon, Peter C. Real, a well-known manufacturer of gold braid, at No. 256 Broadway, New York, was shot dead in his store by a woman named Mary Stewart, alias Mrs. Mary Real. She claimed to be his wife, and alleged that he had abandoned her, and kept company with other women. At the inquest, it was shown that she was known by the name of Real, and that the deceased had recognized her under it.

☞ In the U. S. Circuit Court, at Boston, on Saturday, Appleton Oaksmith was found guilty of fitting out the Margaret Scott as a slaver. The Jury were out half an hour. The penalty for the offence is not less than three nor more than five years' imprisonment, with a fine not exceeding $5000. The case has excited considerable interest.

THE FIRST CHERRIES.—The editor of the Herald says he saw, on Saturday, ripe cherries grown in Newburyport. They were of the Holmat Duke variety, which is the most valuable of all the Duke cherries—rich and finely flavored, ripening by the middle of June.

☞ The principle being recognized that medical officers should not be held as prisoners of war, it is directed that all medical officers so held by the United States shall be immediately and unconditionally discharged.

☞ At the battle of Port Republic, Sam Cochrane remained at his gun, fired it alone three times, making great havoc among the rebels, then knocked a rebel down with a stone and escaped.

CONGRESS, Saturday.—In the Senate the bill respecting the pay of volunteer officers and soldiers, was passed. The amendment to the naval appropriation bill, that minors may be enlisted without the consent of their parents, was adopted.

DIVIDENDS.—The Salmon Falls Manufacturing Company has declared a dividend of 4 per cent. payable 16th inst.

The Boston & Maine Railroad Company $3 per share, July 1st.

☞ Gold is worth something now. On Saturday it sold at 7 per cent. premium in New York, ranging with United States 6 per cent. stocks; and sterling Exchange was 116 a 117.

☞ Peterson's Magazine, for July, is already published,—as usual full of matters interesting and instructive to the ladies.

THE REBELLION.

It is reported that the rebel loss at Port Republic was heavy; 400 were counted on the field, and the whole number is estimated at 600, exclusive of those carried away by the rebels themselves. Gen. Stewart was killed, and Generals Haughton, Jackson and Elzie wounded—the former mortally. Our force was mostly composed of Western men, who did their duty nobly.—Jackson is understood to have retreated towards Gordonsville, whence he has direct communication with Richmond.

The Charleston Courier of the 9th, says that on Saturday morning a portion of Gen. Ewell's command attacked the Federals near Hanover bridge and captured a quantity of baggage. The Federals advanced on James Island on Sunday morning. On their approach the rebel troops fled.

The Federal fleet in James river is still inactive at City Point, for reasons best known to the Government.

The news of the naval fight on the Mississippi, the taking of Corinth and Memphis and the advance of the Federals in East Tennessee, has just been published in Richmond, causing great consternation and depression.

The Charleston papers say fighting continues in the vicinity of that city. There was a short engagement on James' Island on Tuesday afternoon, which lasted until dark. The Union troops were under the protection of felled trees and their gunboats. A Georgia Colonel and 40 to 60 others were killed. The reports claim that the rebels succeeded in driving our troops from the woods they were trying to occupy, and that they disabled a Yankee propeller on Monday. A Federal prisoner taken on Monday, reported our forces on James' Island to be 16 regiments,—a few more being expected.

It was reported at Charleston that the steamer Cecil, with a cargo of cotton for Nassau, had been captured.

TO-NIGHT, PEARSON'S GRAND HISTORIC MIRROR OF THE WAR will open at the Temple, and we confidently anticipate that a crowded house will greet its debut in our city. It comes to the citizens of Portsmouth with an enviable reputation, and wherever it has been exhibited it has received the cordial and unanimous approval of the press and public. In New York city, New Haven, Hartford, Springfield, Providence, Worcester and Lowell the excitement was so intense to witness this matchless production, that the large halls were insufficient to accommodate the immense crowds who nightly thronged to gaze upon this beautiful painting. Our exchanges from those cities fairly teem with encomiums on this work of art, and the excitement among all classes of citizens to visit it is without a parallel in the history of Panoramic Paintings.

Apart from the Artistic merit of this Painting, the subject which it so truthfully represents is a powerful inducement for the public to witness it. At the present time, when the Grand Army of the Union is advancing in triumph on every side, and the Rebels are fleeing in dismay before our victorious troops, we are doubly anxious to ascertain every incident and event connected with this great campaign. By visiting this Panorama our wishes can be fully realized, for, thanks to the talented artists, we have all the various battles, sieges, bombardments and naval engagements, which have taken place from the commencement of the war up to the present time. When we consider that for the small sum of fifteen cents we can witness a beautiful and artistic illustration of the great passing events of the day, combined with good songs and music, passing away two hours of agreeable amusement and instruction, it does not seem at all surprising that large audiences should attend an entertainment of this kind, when scarcely a family can be found in the United States which has not some representative at the war; and whether it be a father, brother, son or lover, the interest which follows all their movements naturally awakens a deep anxiety on the part of their relatives at home to witness the different localities where they are positioned, and the various engagements in which they have participated.

The citizens of Portsmouth should congratulate themselves on the subject that for a panoramic exhibition this painting ranks among the very first in order of any thing of the kind ever offered in this city.

We are happy to record the fact that Mr. Rufus Somerby will delineate the various scenes as they are presented to view. He is always listened to with delight, and we are confident he will do ample justice to this painting, as the subject is one well calculated to inspire the most lofty and sublime ideas.

Vocal and instrumental music, embracing popular and appropriate selections, will be introduced, and thus the charms of melody are wedded to the painter's art. We sincerely hope that the Temple will be crowded to-night, and that a cordial greeting will be accorded to this entertainment on its first appearance in this city. The entertainment speaks for itself. It has been eminently successful in its career in all places where it has been on exhibition; and it now only remains for our citizens to go and judge for themselves, and we are sure they will be well paid for their trouble.

☞ A rat hunt took place in Washington county, Pa., last week, and fourteen thousand nine hundred of the vermin were killed.

☞ A whirlpool, some three hundred and sixty feet in diameter, has been formed in the sea near Torre del Greco by the late eruption of Vesuvius.

PLOT TO DEPOSE JEFF. DAVIS.—The Charleston Courier of the 22d ult. makes the annexed statement:

"We have been reliably informed that men of high official position among us—men of good intentions, but of mistaken and misguided patriotism, are sowing the seeds of discord broadcast in our midst, by preaching a crusade against President Davis, and calling for a general convention of the Confederate States to depose him and create a Military Dictator in his place!"

☞ The two steamers which sailed from New York for Liverpool, on Saturday, took out $1,775,000 in specie.

☞ See yon fair maiden in another column, picking Sambuci Grapes for Speer's Wine. It is an admirable article, used in hospitals, and by the first class families in Paris, London and New York, in preference to old Port wine. It is worth a trial, as it gives great satisfaction. 1y.

TO THE CITIZENS OF PORTSMOUTH.

The proprietors of the "Historic Mirror of the War," now on exhibition, deem it necessary to inform the public that every effort has been made to procure accurate and truthful sketches of all the principal events and incidents of

THIS GREAT REBELLION.

Messrs. Pearson, the well-known Artists of New York city, assisted by several of the leading Artists of the day, have succeeded in representing on canvas the great historical events of the times, and at a very large expense they have placed before the public not only a most correct and truthful representation of these exciting scenes, but by all pronounced in every respect

A WORK OF ART.

The unseemly daubs which are generally produced for public inspection under the name of Panoramas, have in a great measure, shaken the confidence of the people; consequently, when a meritorious work is offered to their notice, it is frequently condemned without hearing them. It is necessary, therefore, to inform all classes that this Panorama has met with the most unbounded success, having been exhibited within the past few months to no less than 125,000 SPECTATORS.

This being its first exhibition in this city, the proprietors would inform the citizens that they intend exhibiting it every evening for one week, relying upon its intrinsic merits to create the same enthusiastic patronage which its stay in any other city has never failed to produce. June12

For the Chronicle.

FOURTH OF JULY.—Messrs. Editors:—There seems to be a desire on the part of many to have the coming 4th of July celebrated in this city. Perhaps there never was a time, since the days of '76, that called for the observance of our nation's birthday of liberty and independence, more than at this period. The observance of our national holiday serves to keep our memory fresh and green in regard to those principles which actuated our forefathers to noble deeds,—the blessings of which we now enjoy. The South has forgotten these landmarks in our nation's history, and is vainly endeavoring to sweep down, beneath the surging waves of revolution and rebellion, the memory of our Washington, and the cherished records of our nation, its defenders and its martyrs. But we should not forget our country and its anniversary day—and our children should not forget it.

The coming 4th of July should be celebrated in every city, every town and every hamlet in the country, where "Liberty and Union, one and inseparable," is the watchword, and where the old flag of our forefathers is waving and is cherished; and I believe that if our deluded brothers of the South could but catch the sound of our loud hurrah, the cheering peal of our bells, and the soul-stirring national airs arising from every hill and valley, ushering in another independence day,—it would soften the hearts of many who once joined in just such demonstrations, before the veil of secession had been drawn over their eyes.

To be sure, we have not much capital to work into a celebration,—but with a little pains and enterprise, and some money, we can get up a demonstration which will be better than to have little or nothing done.

I would propose that the city of Portsmouth and the neighboring towns join together in the work. By inquiring, I have found the citizens of the adjacent towns willing to co-operate in any plan we may devise. Many of the towns have military companies stationed or organized within their limits, which, with the school delegations in handsomely-trimmed cars, will help fill up our procession. We have two or three companies in the city, including the Horse Guards. The exhibition of the Fire Department would be a feature which would be interesting. A Regatta can be produced at little expense—a floral display will interest the little folks—and a patriotic oration, and illumination of our dwellings and music in the evening, will interest every one.

What is wanted, is a few energetic young ladies and gentlemen, who will give a couple of weeks' time to the undertaking, and the work will be accomplished. Looking at the matter in a pecuniary light, one hundred dollars will come into our city for every dollar appropriated or subscribed by our citizens. H.

MASONIC.—Among the officers elected and installed at the Annual Convocation of the Grand Royal Arch Chapter of New Hampshire, held at Concord, June 10th, was John Knowlton, of this city, G. Treasurer. Mr. Knowlton was also elected, on the next day, at the annual Communication of the Most Worshipful Grand Lodge of the State of New Hampshire, R. W. Grand Treasurer. John R. Holbrook, of this city, was appointed Deputy G. Master for District No. 1, and John Christie one of the Grand Lecturers. At the meeting of the Grand Commandery of Knights Templar, Albert R. Hatch of this city was elected R. E. Gr. Commander, and John Knowlton Gr. Treasurer. Albert R. Hatch, Josiah Stevens, Jr., of Concord, and John S. Kidder of Manchester, will represent the Grand Commandery of New Hampshire, at the meeting of the General Grand Commandery of U. S., to be holden in New York, Sept. 1, 1862.

☞ We learn from the New York papers that Mr. Charles C. Yeaton, formerly of this city, has invented a wonderful type-setting and distributing machine. Rev. W. G. Brownlow, a day or two since, visited Mr. Yeaton's office, for the purpose of examining the machine. He expressed himself highly delighted with his visit, and prolonged it considerably beyond his anticipations.

☞ The friends of Mr. Charles E. Hawkins, of this city, Master's Mate on board the U. S. sloop of war Dale, will be pleased to learn that he has received the appointment of Acting Master on board the Dale.

The boys of Portsmouth, N. H., have formed a military company, and are drilled by that good soldier, Capt. G. W. Towle, who has very few superiors as a drill master.—Boston Sat. Eve. Gazette.

NAVAL.—Francis T. Morton, Esq., a member of the Suffolk bar, who has been for some time associated in business with Stillman B. Allen, Esq., of Boston, has been appointed Assistant Paymaster in the United States Navy.

☞ The S. J. Court, Law Term, and U. S. District Court will be held in Exeter, to-day,—Tuesday.

☞ A few days since, a soldier from Fort McClary, Kittery, hired a team at Mr. Locke's livery stable in this city, to be gone a couple of hours, and his being absent a day or two, gave rise to the inference, which got into some of the papers abroad, that he had deserted and stolen the team. But as he voluntarily returned the team, in good condition, he can hardly be called a horse thief, however chargeable he may be with "desertion," in overrunning his leave of absence.

HALEY, MORSE, & BOYDEN'S
Pat'nt Self-Adjusting Clothes Wringer

Simple, Economical, Durable,
AND CANNOT GET OUT OF ORDER!

THE SELF-ADJUSTING CLOTHES WRINGER is the greatest improvement of the nineteenth century, and has only to be known, and tried, to come into general use. The saving of clothes, in pressing out the water between two rubber rolls, instead of wringing or twisting, will amount to enough in a short time, to pay for a machine.

Every one is aware that the twisting or wringing of clothes stretches and breaks the fibers; but this machine presses them so even that a newspaper, thoroughly soaked, can be wrung without breaking it in the least; and it works so easy that a child twelve years old can operate it without trouble. Hot water does not injure the rolls, and woollen goods can be wrung out of boiling water to prevent fulling, which cannot be done by hand.

In Starching, it is invaluable, especially on large articles, such as Ladies' Skirts, &c., as it leaves the starch in the clothes perfectly even. It will wring the largest bed-quilt or the smallest pocket-handkerchief, dryer than it can possibly be done by hand, without alteration, IN LESS THAN ONE-FOURTH OF THE TIME. The machine is so simple that it cannot get out of repair.

The great improvement in this, over every other Wringing Machine yet invented, is, its Self-Adjusting arrangement, requiring no alteration to wring a handkerchief or bed quilt; consequently, the most ignorant servant can operate it.

The machine is made of wood, and so arranged that no iron can possibly come in contact with the clothes, thereby avoiding all danger of injury to the clothes by iron rust.

We offer this CLOTHES WRINGER to the public with full confidence in its real utility and merit; and any purchaser who thinks, after giving the machine a fair trial, that it is not worth its cost, or is not satisfied with its operation, can return the machine and have its cost refunded.

Any person wishing to purchase one of the Machines, can have one sent to their house, if in the city, by leaving their address with the subscriber.

Terms Cash on delivery—the money to be refunded if the machine proves unsatisfactory in any respect.

"MAGEE'S PATENT"
VENTILATING & AIR-WARMING
FURNACES.

The subscribers, being the Sole Agents in this vicinity for the manufacture and sale of this valuable Furnace, would ask those about remodelling or erecting buildings to examine this truly valuable invention.

For economy, purity of air and ease of management it has no equal, producing a current of warm air, moist and agreeable;—and as none of the air which comes in contact with the fire-pot is used for respiration, the tendency to produce headache so much complained of in other Furnaces, is entirely obviated.

The objects aimed at by the constructors of heating apparatus have been to obtain the greatest amount of heat from a given amount of fuel, and to prevent the escape of heat to the smoke pipe or chimney.

To accomplish this many complicated and expensive heating arrangements have been constructed, some possessing but little improvement over former methods, while many have proved a total failure. The reason for this is obvious. The combustible gases being lighter than the air, pass off into the pipe or chimney without being consumed. This objection, so common in other Furnaces, is obviated in the

MAGEE FURNACE.

The flue or pipe in this Furnace being below the fire-pot, the gases, from their specific gravity, cannot descend, and are burned up by the admission of cold air through the fire-pot, which ignites them as they pass off from the coal, thus saving at least 20 per cent. of the properties of the heat in the fuel.

No heating apparatus with the smoke-pipe or flue on the top of the cone can be made to consume the gases of the coal, as they pass off with a large amount of the heat generated, making the chimney the hottest part of your dwelling.

This Furnace does away with the great number of pipes and angles for the radiation of heat, which are so liable to fill up and get out of order, thus simplifying, while it increases the surface of radiation.

These Furnaces consume all the coal, make no clinkers, the sifting of coal is entirely dispensed with, and they will save from 30 to 50 per cent. of fuel over common Furnaces.

For ease of management, economy and purity of air, these Furnaces have no equal. They can be regulated so as to give any amount of heat required, and the fire may be kept the entire season without once going out.

They give entire satisfaction wherever used. We have in store the different sizes, Brick and Portable, to which we invite the attention of those in want of the best Furnace in the world,—and would refer them to the following named gentlemen, who have them now in use:

Samuel Cleaves, Esq., Albert R. Hatch, Esq.,
Aaron H. Hill, Charles H. Mendum,
Henry F. Wendell, John Sise, and others.

Also on hand, the celebrated and unequalled

☞ ATTENTION, THE WHOLE! ☜

PORTSMOUTH, April 21st, 1862.

I have for several years been afflicted with distress at my stomach, loss of appetite, and often vomited up all of my food immediately after eating it, and all medicine failed to give any relief until about a year ago, when I took one bottle of DR. S. SWETT'S PANACEA, which fully cured me, so that I have not had the least trouble from any of these complaints since, and I enjoy good health. M. LOWD.

Exeter, Feb. 24, 1838. Dr. Swett:—"Sir, for the benefit of those who are afflicted as I have been, with a humor, which prevented quiet rest night and day, I would say, that your PANACEA has effected a radical cure on me; and would add—that by the use of it, my health has been greatly improved; therefore, I cheerfully recommend it as superior to any other medicine I ever used for humors and consumptive complaints."

WM. P. LEAVITT.

From ELDER I CHESLEY, Lee, May 31, 1841.

DR. SWETT: Permit me to testify, as I feel in duty bound to do, that my daughter was afflicted with scrofulous humor, and that previous to your visiting our house in the spring of 1840, she had been confined for a number of months, without her natural rest by day or night. She had applied to a number of physicians, but continued to grow weaker till she commenced using your PANACEA and HUMOR WASH. Since then, she has recovered her health so far as to rest quietly by night, and labor by day. I esteem your medicine one of the best that can be found for the disease above named." ISRAEL CHESLEY

☞ Any one returning the remainder of a bottle or box of Dr. Swett's medicines shall have pay for it if it do not agree with his case, or if it is worth the price. All orders directed to DR. S. SWETT, Portsmouth, N. H., promptly attended to. may26o

AN ITALIAN SUNSET.

The moon is up, and yet it is not night—
Sunset divides the sky with her—a sea
Of glory streams along the Alpine height
Of blue Prenetta, and above, Heaven is free
From clouds, but of all colors seems to be
Melted to one grand tint of the West,
Where the day joins the past eternity;
While, on the other hand, meek Dian's crest
Floats through the azure air—an island of the blest!

A single star is at her side, and reigns
With her over half the lovely heaven; but still Yon sunset sea heaves brightly, and remains
Roll'd in the pearl of the far Rhaetian hill,
As day and night contending were, until
Nature reclaim'd her orders—gently flows
The deep-dyed Brenta, where their lines instill
The odorous people of a new born rose,
Which answers upon her stream, and glazed with-in it glows,

Full with the face of heaven, which, from afar
Comes down upon the waters, all its hues,
From the rich sunset to the rising star,
Their magical variety diffuse:
And now they change; a paler shadow strews
Its mantle over the mountains; parting day
Dies like the dolphin, whom each pang imbues
With a new color as it gasps away,
The last still lovelier, till 'tis gone—and all is gray.

—Byron.

A REBEL VIEW OF THE NORTHERN DEMOCRACY.

—The Memphis Avalanche of May 28th, contains the following instructive article:—

"We recollect noticing some days since in a very fishy Southern journal an encomium upon the Northern Democracy—a political organization which died with the fall of Fort Sumter, and whose putrified carcass has been assigned long ago to the tomb of the Capulets. Any distinction, therefore, between this apostate party (if we only except the powerless faction of Vallandigham) is exceedingly ill-timed, and only serve to delude and deceive our people.

"It boots not that there is a difference of opinion between the two upon the subject of the universal abolition of slavery, so long as they are indiscriminately arrayed against us in the ranks of the Union army of invasion that now destroy our homes, impoverish our people and ravage our fields. The whole North, irrespective of former political parties, is arrayed in a solid phalanx of armed hostility against us, and we must war Democrats and so-called Conservatives as well as Abolitionists and Republicans, if we would be free. We can see no practical difference between them, so far as the vital issue to us—the warquestion—is concerned.

"The platform of the Northern Democracy hoists, as one of its tenets, the enunciation that "the Rebellion must be crushed," and in so doing places itself not only beyond a claim to our sympathy but as equally hostile and malignant towards us as the original advocates and supporters of Abraham Lincoln. Where will we find more violent and ungenerous enemies than Fox, McClernand and Butler, all Northern Democrats of the first water? Let us hear no further mention made of this faction as the special friends of the South."

GOV. STANLEY.—A correspondent writes to the Traveller, under date of Newbern, N. C., June 4th, as follows:

"Gov. Stanley has been applied to by citizens of this county to return to them, runaways. He tried it once, but the fugitive came into town again the next day, when the Governor declined to interfere, saying that he had no machinery for executing civil process, and no military force at his disposal for that purpose, and he could not again interfere. Gen. Burnside says that his army shall not be used as negro catchers. He (General B.) was a Breckinridge Democrat."

PURE OLD BOURBON WHISKEY.

Correspondence between some of the most eminent physicians of New York and Brooklyn, and Wm. J. Cutter, Jr., Louisville, Ky:

NEW YORK MAY 1, 1861.

Mr. WM. T. CUTTER, Jr., Louisville, Ky.:

Dear Sir:—The great difficulty experienced in procuring Brandy sufficiently pure for medicinal purposes, has induced many of the physicians of this vicinity to adopt Bourbon Whiskey as a substitute, both in the hospitals and private practice; and, since the latter has come into general use, we have reason to believe that a great deal now sold is of very inferior quality.

Presuming that from your position in the vicinity of the manufacture of Whiskey in Kentucky, as well as your skill as a chemist, will enable you to select a reliable article, and having full confidence in your integrity, we are led to inquire whether you will not aid us in having this market supplied, through an agency, with the best quality of Pure Old Bourbon Whiskey for the use of the sick.

Drs. VALENTINE MOTT, Willard Parker & others.

Gentlemen:—Your letter of May 1st has been received, and in response thereto I wished I have made arrangements to supply your city and vicinity with a pure article of copper distilled Bourbon Whiskey, which I trust will fully meet the requirements of your letter. Thanking you for your kind expressions of confidence, &c.,

I remain, very respectfully, yours truly,

WM. T. CUTTER, JR.

We, the Physicians of Portsmouth, having full confidence in the integrity of D. R. AMBROSE, recommend him as a suitable person to sell OLD BOURBON WHISKEY in Portsmouth, for medicinal purposes, in accordance with an arrangement made between the New York Physicians and Wm. T. SPEER'S SAMBUCI WINE

PURE AND FOUR YEARS OLD,

OF CHOICE OPORTO FRUIT,

For Physicians' Use,

FEMALES, WEAKLY PERSONS, INVALIDS.

SAMBUCUS TREE, OF PORTUGAL,

The Great Remedy for Kidney Affections, Rheumatism, Chronic Complaints

Excellent Wine for Females.

Every Family should use the SAMBUCI WINE celebrated in Europe for its medicinal and beneficial qualities as a gentle Stimulant, Tonic, Diuretic and Sudorific, highly esteemed by eminent physicians, used in European and American Hospitals, and by some of the first families in Europe and America.

AS A DIURETIC, it imparts a healthy action to the Glands and Kidneys, and Urinary Organs, very beneficial in Dropsy, Gout and Rheumatic Affections.

SPEER'S SAMBUCI WINE is not a mixture or manufactured article, but is pure from the juice of the Portugal Sambucus, cultivated in New Jersey, recommended by Chemists and Physicians as possessing medical properties superior to any other Wines in use, and an excellent article for all weak and debilitated persons, and the aged and infirm, improving the appetite, and benefitting ladies and children.

A LADIES' WINE, because it will not intoxicate as other wines, as it contains no mixture of spirits or other liquors, and is esteemed for its fine, peculiar flavor and nutritive properties, imparting a healthy tone to the digestive organs, and a blooming, soft and healthy skin and complexion.

WE REFER TO

a few well known gentlemen and physicians, who have tried the Wine:

HONOR TO THE FIFTH REGIMENT.—A correspondent of the Boston Journal in his report of the battle of Fair Oaks, speaks commendingly of the N. H. Fifth. He says:

Sedgwick's division, therefore, left off in crossing on the "Grape Vine Bridge," so called. As it proved this bridge was in one sense the salvation of our army, and therefore deserves a passing notice. It was built by Col. Cross, 5th N. H. Volunteers, with his regiment and 250 men of the N. Y. 64th. Its length was over 70 rods, constructed of heavy timbers, sometimes laid in "cribs" three tiers deep, over mud and water from one to five feet deep, through a dense growth of trees, bushes and vines. Except the siege works around Yorktown, this is the heaviest piece of work yet finished by the Federals on this peninsula, and the New Hampshire men received great praise from all who saw the result of their arduous labors. Over this bridge passed Sumner's corps to battle, having no other means of getting to the field.

This regiment is in Gen Richardson's Division and Howard's Brigade, and acted as his advance guard. At daybreak, Colonel Cross captured a confederate lieutenant with important dispatches, which Maj. Cook took to Gen. Sumner. Line of battle was at once formed. The first man killed was Stephen Avery, of Co. D, 5th N. H. When Gen. Howard fell, severely wounded, the brigade command fell on Col. Cross. Up to this time the regiment had only skirmished and taken prisoners. Its hour had now come, and glorious work it did, driving the enemy back in splendid style.

The correspondent says, I had been to the artillery force, a little to the rear, and was returning, when I saw some men come from the railroad, carrying a wounded man on a blanket. They paused to rest, and a group soon gathered. Riding up, I asked who they had. "It's Col. Cross," said one of the bearers. I dismounted, and sure enough there lay the stalwart Colonel of the Fifth, the blood trickling from his forehead, a slight wound—but shot through the thigh—faint and bleeding. Observing that the bearers were all of the 69th (Irish) Regiment, I asked one where the Col's men were. "Sure, sir, he sent them all back to the fight; and our Captain bid us take the Colonel to the rear," said the brave fellow. Twice the Fifth moved upon the enemy and both times they gave way. The Colonel was shot in the act of ordering a third advance. The regiment covered itself with glory. Gens. Howard, Richardson and Sumner, all sent to the Colonel to express their admiration of the bravery and steadiness of his line. The enemy were checked and hurled back with terrible loss. No other regiments marched against them, and the Fifth, under its Lieutenant Colonel, marched in splendid order to the new position assigned them, having lost in about forty minutes nearly two hundred killed and wounded.

☞ The peach prospects in New Jersey are said to be very favorable. A good crop is looked for.

An Irishman had a difficulty as to the height of two of his friends. He ultimately came to the conclusion that "if there was any difference, they were both alike."

☞ A regular line of communication between Norfolk and Newbern is in contemplation, via the canal.

Portsmouth, N. H.

WEDNESDAY, JUNE 18, 1862.

A PROPHECY BECOME HISTORY.—A literary friend, by no means an admirer of the Peace Society, being in our counting-room the other day, happened to see two volumes of the Friend of Peace, printed forty years ago; and suggested printing some extracts from the old books, with the view of showing their futility.

On opening one of the volumes, we happened to see the following remarkable predictions, which to many might then seem extravagant and foolish, but now, alas! they are the mournful truth.

"So long as the custom of war shall be popular, and the passion for war shall be considered as honourable, so long it will be in the power of ambitious men to disturb the peace of the world.

What, my brethren, has our nation to expect if the popularity of war shall be continued? Our numbers are rapidly increasing, and probably it will not be fifty years, perhaps not ten, before there will be a convulsion in the United States, and one part of the citizens armed against the other for mutual havoc and destruction. Party spirit already exists in the land—this is ever of a jealous and delusive nature. Those who are under its influence are not very apt to study the things that make for peace, nor very slow to invent pretexts for violent measures.

Should there be a rupture in these States, the miseries and desolations of the Russian campaign will probably be forgotten in the contemplation of still more distressing scenes in our own country. The progress of the successful army may be marked by the most shocking scenes of devastation, misery and blood. Extensive fields of battle may be covered with the dead bodies of our children, our grand-children, and friends. The highways and the passes of rivers may present huge heaps of corpses, piled one upon another. The dead, the wounded, the sick and the dying may be promiscuously trodden under foot by beasts and men, and crushed by the wheels of cannon and other carriages. And the whole land may be filled with mourning, lamentation and wo."

It is very certain that the efforts of the Peace society did make war and military matters somewhat unpopular at the North, and that the great body of people here were opposed to our war with Mexico, and the Texan matter which brought it on,—but at the South it was otherwise; the peace movement was not felt, Mr. Calhoun annexed Texas, as he said, to strengthen the institution of slavery, and the Mexican war was a darling project and favorite scheme in his region. And every body knows that in the palmy days of Floyd, Wise & Co., "one part of the citizens," viz. the Southern part, were kept "armed against the other" (Northern part,) for "havoc and destruction," at the expense of the United States, while we were systematically disarmed.—The "pretexts for violent measures" were easily found: our "Southern brethren" were not "very slow" at that—nor the North, or rather, the Government, in retaliating.

A jubilee will soon take place in Vienna, in honor of the four hundred years' existence of the art of printing in that city.—The first Vienna printer, Ulrich Hann, opened his printing office in 1462, but did not succeed, and emigrated to Rome. He was the cause of the Emperor Frederic the Fourth bestowing a privilege on the printers in the year 1468, which placed them in equal rank with noblemen and scholars, and permitted them to wear a sword.—Ex.

Since that time, it was for a long time supposed that the pen was the mightier weapon—but now, alas! the plough has again been beaten into swords, and the pruning-hooks into spears, and all the infernal dogs of war let loose to prey on humanity and civilization, not to mention christianity.

☞ The citizens of Newton, Mass., propose to have a great Union demonstration on the 4th of July,—a leading feature of which will be a grand concert by more than 2000 children and a choir of adult voices—which will "raise a song such as has never yet echoed through the hills of New England." Among the committee on music, we notice the names of Mr. F. J. Campbell, professor of music at the Mass. Inst. for the Blind, and Mr. J. G. Tompson, jr., formerly of this city. The idea is sublime, and will no doubt be carried out in a fitting manner.

ARTIFICIAL NEWS.—For two or three days last week, it was whispered round among the traitors and semi-rebels in Washington that the Monitor was captured.—Most people did not believe it: but in a day or two more, it came out that a Monitor was captured, viz. a crab schooner named Monitor, coming out of one of the Virginia rivers, and being suspected as a rebel craft, was captured by a U. S. armed vessel.

☞ The Philadelphia Evening Journal says that the great influx of negroes into Chester county, Pa., has so reduced the price of labor that the negroes actually work for ten cents a day.

☞ The army worm has made its appearance among the cornfields of Kentucky. And what with the armies and the army worms, it would seem there is some cause o fear the utter destruction of the land.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

—— A band has been organized in Dover, under the leadership of Mr. John McGuinness, formerly of Manchester, assisted by Mr. J. Burleigh Pinkham, of Dover, an experienced leader of former bands in that vicinity.

—— A son of Samuel Haley of Tuftonborough, aged fifteen years, while at play with an older brother, fell, and the older one came upon him in such a way as to break the bone of the thigh near the body.

—— The dwelling-house, barn and out-buildings, belonging to Sanford Greeley, in Londonderry, which were burned on Thursday morning, were insured in the Rockingham Farmers' Company for $1000. The fire was undoubtedly the work of an incendiary; two weeks ago an attempt was made to burn the buildings by setting fire in the shed attached to the house. Combustibles had been gathered together, camphene poured over them and fired, but from some cause the flames did not communicate with the buildings.

—— A very large portion of the heavy articles of trade in Manchester being located on the west side of Elm street, it is proposed to lay rails through a back street west of Elm, to intersect with the Lawrence Road, and by this means bring the freight cars into town by horse power, and thus without risk or great expense, transport the heavy merchandise of traders to their very doors.

—— The N. H. Journal of Agriculture says:—"News from all parts of the State leads us to infer that there will be a large crop of grass. So far as we can learn, worms and other destructive creatures promise to be unusually voracious. The currant worm, or span worm, has already done much injury in the gardens in the vicinity of Manchester."

—— Petitions are before the Legislative Committee on Agriculture, for the protection of birds and game in its season. This is right; for while all our neighboring States have laws to such effect, we are exposed to predatory invasions from all quarters. Preserve the birds to eat the insects and save the crops.—Journal of Agriculture.

—— A Legislative temperance society has been organized at Concord. Senator Patten of District No. 2 is President, and Frank McDuffee Secretary. A meeting is to be held on every Wednesday evening. Some of the members of the Legislature have organized a prayer meeting which is to meet on Tuesday evenings.

—— Nathaniel Parker Willis is spending the summer with his family, at a quiet rural retreat in Campton, four miles from Plymouth.

—— A man and his wife living at Sanbornton Bridge, learned last week for the first time that such a man as Henry Ward Beecher is in existence.

N. H. LEGISLATURE.

MONDAY.—In the House, a resolution was introduced, authorizing the Governor to draw from the Treasury such sums as may be necessary to pay the expenses incurred by the Sanitary Commission in sending home diseased or disabled soldiers of any of the N. H. Regiments, who are destitute of other means of return. Referred to Committee on Military Affairs. A bill was introduced exempting certain property from levy and sale on attachment and execution. This bill exempts necessary household furniture, necessary team, and the tools or books necessary for carrying on the trade or profession of the debtor. Referred to the Committee on the Judiciary.

CONGRESS, Monday.—In the Senate, the Naval Appropriation bill was passed. Mr. Wilson's amendment for the non-employment of slaves in Navy Yards, was rejected. The amendment appropriating $25,000 for repairs of the Annapolis Academy, was adhered to.

In the House, Mr. McPherson introduced resolutions creating an office of Lieutenant General of the Army of the United States, to be filled by nomination after the war is over, with the most meritorious General in the field, the office to continue only through the life or service of the person so appointed. The bill to establish and equalize the grade of line officers was amended and passed. Admirals are to rank with Major Generals, and Commodores with Brigadiers. The students at the Naval Academy are to be styled Midshipmen, and when graduated Ensigns. The House passed the bill reorganizing the Navy Department. It provides for a Bureau of Steam Engineering and a Bureau of Equipment and Recruiting.

FROM NEW ORLEANS.—A private letter from New Orleans states that there has been a great change of sentiment amongst the laboring classes of that city in favor of the Union, and that hundreds have already enlisted in the Federal army. The weather so far has been unusually cool, which is favorable to the health of our troops.

PERSONAL.—Mr. William Everett, youngest son of Hon. Edward Everett, who has been for some time a member of Trinity College, in Cambridge, England, has recently gained a scholarship after a severe examination in classics and mathematics.

THE REBELLION.

It is reported that a rebel army, 65,000 strong, has concentrated at Grenada, Miss.

The rebels report that they have captured the New Orleans, Great Eastern and Opelousas railroad, and with it a train containing several of our men. The people of Vicksburg are confident of keeping their city out of our hands.

Part of the 3000 rebel cavalry which appeared at Old Church on Friday, (not 30,000, as given in the dispatch,) committed serious depredations at White House and vicinity. A train was fired into near Tunstall's Station, and two men were killed and several wounded. At White House, the telegraph wire was destroyed, and the sutlers were scattered in all directions. Our cavalry were sent in pursuit, but the enemy had too long a start for them, and they succeeded in capturing but five.

A correspondent of the Philadelphia Press, on board the steamer Brooklyn, off Baton Rouge, May 30, writes that Fort Morgan has surrendered, leaving Mobile unprotected. Also that Brig. Gen. Williams encountered a large body of rebels outside of the city, and a terrific engagement was transpiring. Result unknown.—Gen. Butler is sending up more men.

The rebels, on the 13th, had possession of Old Church, but, it is said, would be driven out on the next day. The 19th Mass. regiment has been added to the 1st Brigade of Gen. Hooker's division. An attack is momentarily expected. Wagons, ambulances, &c., have been sent to the rear, and the troops are kept under arms.

Correspondents of New York papers give further accounts of the advance on Charleston. Brig. Gen. Wright landed at Seabrook's Point May 31, had a skirmish with the rebels June 1, and drove them across the river and took possession of the bridge. On the 1st and 2d inst., Generals Hunter, Benham and Stevens, with a good force, went to Stono Inlet, accompanied by eight gunboats, and landed on James Island without opposition. A part of our forces were attacked, and after two hours' fighting the rebels were routed, with a loss of 17 killed, 30 wounded, and 6 prisoners. Our loss was three killed and thirteen wounded. The next day the 8th Michigan and 79th New York regiments charged on a rebel battery half a mile in advance of their former position, and captured three guns and destroyed the remaining one. The rebel officers taken prisoners say the approaches to Charleston are lined with batteries, and that every inch of ground will be hotly contested.

Jackson has been reinforced by 12,000 men, and Gen. Fremont is in a very exposed condition. It is said no reinforcements are on the way to him.

THE GOVERNOR'S HORSE GUARDS.—This body of troops has become a State Institution, and therefore is an object of universal favor. The parade of the Guards was about the only spectacle by which people were attracted to Concord on Election Day.—N. H. Statesman.

Yes, and never did they make better appearance, or drill so well. Improvement, and increased interest, both on the part of the members of the corps and the public, are apparent at each appearance of the battalion. And there are no signs of its being a short lived affair, as many croakers prophesied at the outset; but on the contrary it bids fair to grow and increase with each anniversary, like the Boston Lancers; and as the Statesman says, long remain "a State institution," and a credit to the commonwealth.

And in this connection we may say, that while it was gratifying to see the Governor elect with suite mounted, in the midst of his Guards, for the first time, at the late inauguration—and while the troop was well officered—yet the absence of some of the prime movers in the organization of the corps—Gen. Stark, Ex-Gov. Goodwin, Gen. Gage, and Col. Gilmore, was generally regretted. To the bounteous private liberality and hospitality of Gov. Goodwin and Gen. Stark, not less than to their enlightened public spirit and official encouragement, was due in great measure the highly successful establishment of the Horse Guards; and long may and will it be, ere either of these gentlemen are forgotten by the corps.

Nor have the very liberal railroad arrangements which Superintendent Gilmore has always tendered the Guards; as also has Manager Stark, and Superintendent Prescott of the Eastern Road,—when occasion called the troop over either of their roads—been unnoticed or forgotten. Not a little of the Guards' successful appearance at any point, is due to this enlightened liberality on the part of Mr. Gilmore and the others. "Pro duce et republica."

☞ The Cape Ann Advertiser says the Cape North fishery has proved a complete failure this season. Southern mackerel come in very well. Five dollars per barrel for new mackerel are declined.

☞ The citizens of Crittenden county, Ark., have been greatly alarmed on account of the discovery of a negro conspiracy. Some of the white inhabitants have taken refuge in Memphis in fear for their lives.

☞ Gen. George F. Shepley has been freely suggested in Maine, as the Democratic candidate for Governor, and also for member of Congress. Gen. Shepley is at present military commandant of New Orleans, and has written a letter to the Portland Argus, in which he says:

Allow me through your columns to express my thanks for these many and oft repeated expressions of the confidence and esteem of my friends in Maine, and at the same time respectfully to decline ever to be considered as a candidate for any political office.

If, at the close of the war, I can be permitted to return as a private citizen of a united and peaceful country, my highest aspirations and hopes will be fully realized.

☞ Among the prizes secured by the recent capture of Norfolk, are the books of the navy yard there while that was under rebel rule. They contain the names and services of all those who gave aid and comfort of any description to the rebel navy.

☞ The Manchester American man is informed that we consider an eclipse, or any other event, as taking place, all the same, whether seen by any obtuse editor such as he, or any other man, or not.

☞ There never was a show better advertised, in all sorts of ways, in Portsmouth, than Pearson's Grand Historic Mirror of the War; and report says there has rarely been a better show here to advertise.

☞ See yon fair maiden in another column, picking Sambuci Grapes for Speer's Wine. It is an admirable article, used in hospitals, and by the first class families in Paris, London and New York, in preference to old Port wine. It is worth a trial, as it gives great satisfaction. 1y.

TO THE CITIZENS OF PORTSMOUTH.

The proprietors of the "Historic Mirror of the War," now on exhibition, deem it necessary to inform the public that every effort has been made to procure accurate and truthful sketches of all the principal events and incidents of

THIS GREAT REBELLION.

Messrs. Pearson, the well-known Artists of New York city, assisted by several of the leading Artists of the day, have succeeded in representing on canvas the great historical events of the times, and at a very large expense they have placed before the public not only a most correct and truthful representation of these exciting scenes, but by all pronounced in every respect

A WORK OF ART.

The unseemly doubts which are generally produced for public inspection under the name of Panoramas, have, in a great measure, shaken the confidence of the people; consequently, when a meritorious work is offered to their notice, it is frequently condemned without being seen. It is necessary, therefore, to inform all classes that this Panorama has met with the most unbounded success, having been exhibited within the past few months to no less than 125,000 SPECTATORS.

This being its first exhibition in this city, the proprietors would inform the citizens that they intend exhibiting it every evening for one week, relying upon its intrinsic merits to create the same enthusiastic patronage which its stay in any other city has never failed to produce. june12

POLICE COURT, Monday,—Charles Kimball, on complaint of Mrs. Elizabeth Washington, for riotous conduct, was bound over in the sum of $50, for his appearance before the S. J. Court.

John Goulding, Frank Willey, Patrick Flynn and Thomas Kiley, for obstructing the sidewalk, on Congress street, were each fined $1 and costs, taxed at $5. 86.

THE 9TH.—Recruiting is progressing gradually in all parts of the State for the Ninth Regiment, N. H. Volunteers. And among the rest, Adj. A. J. Hill, of this city—who saw honorable service and "smelt gunpowder" in the Mexican war, and more recently with the 3d N. H. Regiment, at Port Royal—has opened a recruiting office at Jefferson Hall; and it gives us pleasure to say, that we consider Capt. Hill eminently qualified, by capacity and experience, for the position of Captain in the new Regiment, and hope he may speedily obtain the requisite number of recruits, and so his commission.

A GOOD MOVE—The picking up loose stones from the streets, by the City teams. Another would be, clearing the streets of bits of paper—or rather keeping them out of the streets. No neat storekeeper would knowingly allow his clerk to sweep any rubbish or dirt into the street; and no neat clerk would do it, if he was allowed to be so untidy. Scraps of paper can be sold for from one to 5 cts. per pound, which will pay a boy well for saving—or they can be burnt, even in summer. At any rate, there is no excuse for filling the streets and sidewalks with rubbish. The inevitable dust is full bad enough.

☞ An elegant sign is that of Messrs. Marston, Randall & Co.'s Fish Market, at The Spring—containing as it does a graphic picture of scale fish and a lobster, natural as if just flapped from the water (and his claw-ship boiled.) And a fine spacious market they have there, too,—clean and inviting, and well supplied with all the seasonable varieties of fish daily. Mr. Rowell caught those fish, we believe; and the oldest painter in the city, we think, did the lettering, which is as good as need be, and not easily beaten by all the young ones.

☞ Notwithstanding some green eyed people (or rather a single person with vision of that color, if, indeed, his whole system is not,) have seen fit to attack the Chronicle flag-staff,—yet that insult was more than repaid by the honor we had at early sunrise on the morning of the 17th, of the countenance and assistance, in running up the stars and stripes,—of a gallant officer of high rank at this naval station, and his little daughter, who were enjoying their accustomed morning walk round from the Navy Yard before breakfast—concerning which practice, the gentleman gaily said, (but not exactly in these words,) that although many people would think it a hardship to walk the five or six miles, and often more, yet they found it to pay well, to master their sluggishness at daybreak, and come out to the birds' early concert.

PEARSON'S GRAND HISTORIC MIRROR OF THE WAR was exhibited last evening to a crowded and highly delighted audience. This entertainment consists of a combination of splendid paintings representing the different scenes we have so far passed thro' in this great but wicked rebellion—commencing with the bring of the first gun at Sumter and ending with the fearful contest at Pittsburg Landing. We cannot enumerate the different scenes in full, but suffice it to say we were spell-bound with wonder and delight with the magnificent collection that met our gaze. The painting of the gallant 7th Regiment of New elicited great enthusiasm, and we must say is a superb work of art. The Ellsworth Zouaves is also an excellent representation, for we could easily discern the features and noble form of the lovad and lamented Ellsworth. These scenes, with many others too numerous to mention, are painted in the highest style of art. The various scenes are described in a truly eloquent manner by Mr. Rufus Somerby, a gentleman possessing rare elocutionary powers. The ballads were rendered in a sweet, touching style, by Lizzie Somerby. In fact the exhibition is one of great excellence and merit. Go early if you wish to procure a seat.

☞ We are indebted to the polite attention of Mr. Henry S. Bodge, for a palm-leaf fan left at the Chronicle counting-room,—with which we will endeavor to keep cool, if that Ballot man will only "let us alone." P. S.—At this present writing, (Tuesday morning,) we are altogether too cool enough, and don't want any more fans brought in.

—— An association of the Sons of New Hampshire, has been formed in Washington, to relieve the sick and wounded soldiers from this State. Senator Hale is Chairman of the Committee appointed to visit every Hospital. A handsome fund has already been raised.

EASTERN RAILROAD.—The reduced price of tickets from Salem to Boston on this road, which commenced May 19, has resulted in an increase of travel. We learn that over 9500 tickets have been sold between Salem and Boston, and more than 7000 between Lynn and Boston. The public favor low fares and we hope the road will find it for their pecuniary advantage also.—Salem Observer.

The reduction is only on package or season tickets, between Boston, Lynn and Salem. A reduction all through would please the public.

☞ The organ of the Richmond Thugs, the Dispatch, says ten guerrilla soldiers have been hung by Fremont in Western Virginia, and calls for prompt retaliation.—It will not be satisfied with hanging man for man, but demands the assassination of Gen. Fremont.

☞ Gen. George F. Shepley, military commandant and acting mayor of New Orleans has vetoed an order passed by both branches of the City Government, calling an election for city officer on the first Monday in June.

☞ Rev. E. H. Chapin, although not quite recovered, was able to preach to his congregation on Sunday morning last.

Important to Females.

DR. CHEESEMAN'S PILLS.

The combination of ingredients in these Pills are the result of a long and extensive practice.—They are mild in their operation, and certain in correcting all irregularities, Painful Menstruations, removing all obstructions, whether from cold or otherwise, headache, pain in the side, palpitation of the heart, whites, all nervous affections, hysterics, fatigue, pain in the back and limbs, &c., disturbed sleep, which arises from the interruption of nature.

DR. CHEESEMAN'S PILLS

was the commencement of a new era in the treatment of those irregularities and obstructions which have consigned so many to a PREMATURE GRAVE. No female can enjoy good health unless she is regular, and whenever an obstruction takes place the general health begins to decline.

DR. CHEESEMAN'S PILLS

are the most effectual remedy ever known for all complaints peculiar to FEMALES. To all classes they are invaluable, inducing, with certainty, periodical regularity. They are known to thousands, who have used them at different periods, throughout the country, having the sanction of some of the most eminent Physicians in America.

Explicit Directions, stating when they should not be used, with each Box.—The Price One Dollar per Box, containing from 50 to 60 Pills.

"MAGEE'S PATENT"

VENTILATING & AIR-WARMING

FURNACES.

The subscribers, being the Sole Agents in this vicinity for the manufacture and sale of this valuable Furnace, would ask those about remodelling or erecting buildings to examine this truly valuable invention.

For economy, purity of air and ease of management it has no equal, producing a current of warm air, moist and agreeable;—and as none of the air which comes in contact with the fire-pot is used for respiration, the tendency to produce headache so much complained of in other Furnaces, is entirely obviated.

The objects aimed at by the constructors of heating apparatus have been to obtain the greatest amount of heat from a given amount of fuel, and to prevent the escape of heat to the smoke pipe or chimney.

To accomplish this many complicated and expensive heating arrangements have been constructed, some possessing but little improvement over former methods, while many have proved a total failure. The reason for this is obvious. The combustible gases being lighter than the air, pass off into the pipe or chimney without being consumed. This objection, so common in other Furnaces, is obviated in the

MAGEE FURNACE.

The flue or pipe in this Furnace being below the fire-pot, the gases, from their specific gravity, cannot descend, and are burned up by the admission of cold air through the fire-pot, which ignites them as they pass off from the coal, thus saving at least 20 per cent. of the properties of the heat in the fuel.

No heating apparatus with the smoke-pipe or flue on the top of the cone can be made to consume the gases of the coal, as they pass off with a large amount of the heat generated, making the chimney the hottest part of your dwelling.

This Furnace does away with the great number of pipes and angles for the radiation of heat, which are so liable to fill up and get out of order, thus simplifying, while it increases the surface of radiation.

These Furnaces consume all the coal, make no clinkers, the sifting of coal is entirely dispensed with, and they will save from 30 to 50 per cent. of fuel over common Furnaces.

For ease of management, economy and purity of air, these Furnaces have no equal. They can be regulated so as to give any amount of heat required, and the fire may be kept the entire season without once going out.

They give entire satisfaction wherever used. We have in store the different sizes, Brick and Portable, to which we invite the attention of those in want of the best Furnace in the world,—and would refer them to the following named gentlemen, who have them now in use:

Samuel Cleaves, Esq., Albert R. Hatch, Esq.,
Aaron H. Hill, Charles H. Mendum,
Henry F. Wendell, John Sise, and others.

Also on hand, the celebrated and unequalled

☞ ATTENTION, THE WHOLE! ☜

PORTSMOUTH, April 21st, 1862.

I have for several years been afflicted with distress at my stomach, loss of appetite, and often vomited up all of my food immediately after eating it, and all medicine failed to give any relief until about a year ago, when I took one bottle of DR. S. SWETT'S PANACEA, which fully cured me, so that I have not had the least trouble from any of these complaints since, and I enjoy good health. M. LOWD.

Exeter, Feb. 24, 1858. Dr. Swett:—"Sir, for the benefit of those who are afflicted as I have been, with a humor, which so disturbed quiet rest night and day, I would say, that your PANACEA has effected a radical cure on me; and would add—that for the use of it, my health has been greatly improved; therefore, I cheerfully recommend it as superior to any other medicine I ever used for humors and consumptive complaints."

WM. P. LEAVITT.

From ELDER I CHESLEY, Lee, May 31, 1841.

DR. SWETT: Permit me to testify, as I feel in duty bound to do, that my daughter was afflicted with scrofulous humor, and that previous to your visiting our house in the spring of 1840, she had been confined for a number of months, without her natural rest by day or night. She had applied to a number of physicians, but continued to grow weaker till she commenced using your PANACEA and HUMOR WASSAIL. Since then, she has recovered her health so far as to rest quietly by night, and labor by day. I esteem your medicine one of the best that can be found for the disease above named." ISRAEL CHESLEY

☞ Any one returning the remainder of a bottle or box of Dr. Swett's medicines shall have pay for it, if it do not agree with his case, or if not worth the price. All orders directed to DR. S. SWETT, Portsmouth, N. H., promptly attended to. may26o

APPLES AND CARROTS—DRIED APPLES—In years when apples and carrots are both abundant, which make the best feed for neat stock? Most farmers would say that carrots would. Of this we have entertained doubts, and were pleased to find that from observations made by J. Talcot of Rome, N. Y., as published in the Country Gentleman, he has come to the same conclusion. "Last year," he says, "apples were too scarce to feed, but I think from some experiments that I made, that they are at least equal to carrots in weight, for feeding to neat stock and especially to milch cows; they always gained both in milk and flesh with me when fed on them." The late Dr. Chandler, one of the pioneer settlers of Minot, and one of the first to plant an orchard in that section of Maine, used to feed great quantities of apples to stock, and we have seen very good beef and pork made on no other feed than apples, given both in a raw and cooked state.

While upon this subject it occurs to us that it would pay pretty well, when apples are plenty, to cut and dry them in kilns, so as to have them in a state of preservation "all the year round," and feed for stock and hogs. What is to hinder? They need not be pared or cored—can be cut or sliced by machinery, and dried as well as hops or oats, in kilns prepared for the purpose, and then packed away in barrels for future use. As nothing but water is evaporated in drying, this can easily be supplied again, as every housewife knows, when wanted to be fed out; and cattle, sheep and hogs, can thus be wearied to apple-sauce as often as is necessary, any time of year. Sauce for goose, you know, is equally good for gander; and the proverb may be full as applicable if written so as to read, sauce for man, sauce for pig.

☞ The War Department has upon its books six hundred thousand strong, but there are in reality but four hundred thousand able-bodied fighting soldiers under the command of the national generals to-day.—It has been insinuated on the floor of the House of Representatives that gross frauds have been practiced, and that skeleton regiments, in considerable numbers, have drawn pay steadily as full regiments.

PURE OLD BOURBON WHISKEY.
Correspondence between some of the most eminent physicians of New York city, Brooklyn, and Wm. J. Cutter, Jr., Louisville, Ky:—
NEW YORK May 1, 1861.
Mr. Wm. T. Cutter, Jr., Louisville, Ky.:
Dear Sir:—The great difficulty experienced in procuring Brandy sufficiently pure for medicinal purposes, has induced many of the physicians of this vicinity to adopt Bourbon Whiskey as a substitute, both in the hospital and private practice; and, since the latter has come into such general use, we have reason to believe that a great deal now sold is of very inferior quality.
Presuming that your residence in the vicinity of the manufacture of Whiskey in Kentucky, as well as your skill as a chemist, will enable you to select a reliable article, and having full confidence in your integrity, we are led to inquire whether you will not aid us in having this market supplied, through an agency, with the best quality of Pure Old Bourbon Whiskey for the use of the sick.

Gentlemen:—Your letter of May 1st has been received. In accordance with your wishes, I have made arrangements to supply your city and vicinity with a pure article of copper distilled Bourbon Whiskey, which I trust will fully meet the requirements of your letter. Thanking you for your kind expressions of confidence, I remain, very respectfully, yours truly,
WM. T. CUTTER, Jr.
We, the Physicians of Portsmouth, having full confidence in the integrity of D. R. AMBROSE, recommend him as a suitable person to sell OLD BOURBON WHISKEY in Portsmouth, for medicinal purposes, in accordance with an arrangement made between the New York Physicians and Wm. T. SPEER'S SAMBUCI WINE
PURE AND FOUR YEARS OLD,
OF CHOICE OPORTO FRUIT,
For Physicians' Use,
FEMALES, WEAKLY PERSONS, INVALIDS.
SAMBUCUS TREE, OF PORTUGAL,

Every Family should use the SAMBUCI WINE celebrated in Europe for its medicinal and beneficial qualities as a gentle Stimulant, Tonic, Diuretic and Sudorific, highly esteemed by eminent physicians, used in European and American Hospitals, and by some of the first families in Europe and America.
AS A DIURETIC, it imparts a healthy action to the Glands and Kidneys, and Urinary Organs, very beneficial in Dropsy, Gout and Rheumatic Affections.
SPEER'S SAMBUCI WINE is not a mixture or manufactured article, but is pure from the juice of the Portugal Sambucus, cultivated in New Jersey, recommended by Chemists and Physicians as possessing medical properties superior to any other Wines in use, and an excellent article for all weak and debilitated persons, and the aged and infirm; improving the appetite, and benefitting ladies and children.
A LADIES' WINE, because it will not intoxicate as other wines, as it contains no mixture of spirits or other liquors, and is admired for its rich, peculiar flavor and nutritive properties, imparting a healthy tone to the digestive organs, and a blooming, soft and healthy skin and complexion.

FRANKLIN HOUSE,
Portsmouth, N. H.
The undersigned having assumed the management of this well known public house, and having made extensive improvements therein, solicits a continuance of the patronage of the travelling public that has long been extended to the house.
A new parlor and an extensive suite of commodious and well-ventilated sleeping apartments have been added; and a separate Ladies' Entrance from Congress street, arranged. Gentlemen with their families, or ladies unattended, will now find quiet and retired apartments connected with the street and dining hall by an independent staircase.
The house will be kept as a first class hotel in every respect, and the proprietors will spare no pains to merit the patronage of those visiting this section of the State.
A good STABLE is connected with the house, where parties visiting Portsmouth with teams, will be promptly and carefully waited upon.

Advertising.
For a Square (1½ inches) or less, one insertion 50 cents, three insertions $1, one week $1.50—one month $3, three months $8, six months $8, one year $15. These are Daily rates—and no advertisements receive more than one insertion in the Weekly (Gazette) without special order and charge.
Funeral Notices, and Advertisements of articles Lost and Found, &c., 50 cents.
Advertisements may appear both in the Daily Chronicle and Weekly Gazette, if ordered; and will thus receive the most thorough circulation both in this city and vicinity, and throughout the State. ☞ Liberal terms for yearly advertising.

The Chronicle.

A CONTROVERSY.—A religious controversy is thus illustrated:—1st. "Two beans and two beans make four beans!" 2d. "I beg your pardon, sir, but according to my arithmetic, three beans and one bean make four beans." 3d. "Gentlemen, I pity your stupidity and your ignorance, and I lament the mischief you are working in inculcating that but two parcels of beans can make four beans, while both history and geometry so clearly establish that it takes four separate and individual beans to make four beans."

☞ The rebel presses are very severe and blood-thirsty towards Gen. Butler. A writer in the Mississippian proposes that a purse of $10,000 be made up for the head of "the modern Nero, the brutal, beastly and sanguinary savage, Gen. B. F. Butler.'

☞ The Louisville Journal states that a trade in powder, more or lless extensive, is now carried on between Cincinnati and the rebel dominion.

The Yacht Sibyl
Will commence her trips for the season between PORTSMOUTH and the ISLES OF SHOALS, June 20th.

THE REBELLION.

It is suggested that the Government does not intend to keep a large volunteer force in New Orleans during the coming hot and sickly season. After order is restored, it is probable that a force of regulars will garrison the forts, and, with a number of vessels of war, maintain the Federal control of the city, while the army of General Butler will be made useful at other points of the rebellion.

Pierre Soule has arrived at New York, a prisoner, from New Orleans. Gen. Shepley had vetoed the resolution of the Board of Aldermen of New Orleans, annulling the contracts for cleaning the streets; also, a resolution annulling the lease of certain markets. On the 11th, 1800 families were supplied with provisions.

The screw propeller Oristo, fitted up as a privateer, at Nassau, by Capt. Semmes, late of the Sumter, has been seized by the local government on complaint of a loyal citizen of the United States, and placed in charge of Lieut. H. H. Hammensley, of the British vessel-of-war Bulldog.

☞ There is not much War news this week (for our Weekly,) and a shroud of mystery hangs over all public movements. May the present apparent quiet be but the lull that precedes the storm which shall sweep to swift destruction all enemies of Union and good government, and restore quiet and peace to our once-favored land.

BOGUS CORRESPONDENCE. — For the sake of writing a smart letter, or a taking item, some persons are willing to sacrifice truth and disregard principle.

The New York World has a correspondent at Corinth, who writes from that place a letter severely censuring General Halleck, and declaring that the General was outwitted by Beauregard, and that his management in the field has been a disgraceful failure. It might be replied that this correspondent has almost confessed a longing for revenge for Halleck's famous order excluding correspondents from his lines; but it is needless to do so. He furnishes the answer to his own statements and to his own diatribe, as follows:—

"In almost every letter I had something flattering for the Chief. I have no more modesty than to say that I wrote for him as if I had been bribed to write for him. I started the story of 'Old Brains.' Every little helpe, I thought. I gave it to another correspondent. He published it and I had the satisfaction of seeing it printed far and near. 'Good,' cried the newspapers in chorus, 'he is familiarly known as 'Old Brains.' He wasn't."

The writer who thus acknowledges, without a blush, that he has been guilty of deliberate falsehood, is as little worthy of trust now in opposition to the General, as when he was fabricating stories for the benefit of the latter. Falsehoods on the one side of the matter are very likely to be followed by falsehoods on the other.

CONGRESS, Wednesday.—In the Senate, Mr. Hale introduced a bill relative to future enlistments in the army, which was referred to the Military Committee. It authorizes the President, when necessary, to call upon all persons, without distinction of race, color or condition—every slave so enlisted to be forever thereafter free.

The House passed the Senate's joint resolution for the encouragement of enlistments. It gives a premium of two dollars for every soldier enlisted in the regular army or volunteer forces for three years, and the soldier will receive one month's pay in advance. The Slave Confiscation bill was passed,—82 against 54.

FOURTH OF JULY.—A citizens' meeting was held at the City Rooms, Wednesday evening, to make arrangements for celebrating the coming Fourth of July. Mr. James H. Head was chosen Chairman, and Mr. James W. Yeaton Secretary. Messrs. E. A. Tilton, J. H. Head, Wm. R. Preston, Louis W. Brewster, Wm. P. Walker, A. L. Bennett, Charles W. Marden, W. Freeman, N. P. Thacher, Wm. E. Hadley, Frank W. Hackett, and James Lord, were appointed a committee to draw up a plan for the celebration; and the meeting adjourned until Friday evening next, to meet at the same place.

MAJOR CILLEY.—Col. Allen, of the Maine Cavalry, under date of June 9th, writes that he has just returned from Middleton, where he had been to visit Major Cilley. He found the Major very comfortable. His right arm was severed near the shoulder by a shell exploding and striking him while in his saddle, in the village of M. He has the best of care, and Surgeon Haley says he will be able to start for home in about two weeks. The wounded privates were doing well, and were well cared for ARTHER'S HOME MAGAZINE, for July, contains a fine frontispiece—"the Fisherman's Family," besides other illustrations and an attractive table of contents.

NEW ENGLAND NAVY YARDS. — A writer in the Commercial Bulletin calls the attention of the Secretary of the Navy to the importance of giving more work to the Charlestown and Portsmouth navy yards, on the ground that the expense for labor is less, while the work and materials have always been superior to those of Brooklyn and Philadelphia. Facts are cited in proof of these statements, which certainly should have weight with the Navy Department.—If the object is to have the work done where it can be performed best and at the least cost, then the Charlestown and Portsmouth yards should come in for a larger share of work than at present.

For the Chronicle.

HOW SENATOR HALE GETS RID OF HIS CORRESPONDENTS.—The vast amount of correspondence to which a Member of Congress is subjected, is frequently commented upon, and there are in Congress some members who have an incredible amount of this kind of labor thrust upon them, and who perform it with commendable patience.—Mr. John P. Hale, the Senator from New Hampshire, is not one of this kind of laborers. It is not his forte to answer letters,—consequently, he does not answer them.—Correspondents learn this after a while, and he dodges a vast deal of labor thereby.

Some time since, this trait of the Senator's was the subject of discussion between a gentleman who has considerable correspondence with Members of Congress, and one of Mr. Hale's warm personal and political friends. The one party contended that Hale would not answer the most civil and respectful letter, if it cost him the slightest effort to do so; while the other as earnestly denied the alleged want of courtesy and industry on the part of the Senator to his constituents, and said that he never failed to answer his letters, and he did not believe he omitted to answer other peoples'. The talk terminated in a bet, that the Senator would take no notice of such a letter, to be sent by the "party of the first part," who at once addressed to Mr. Hale, a letter he was upon the point of sending to another member, which was an important affair to a number of persons in this vicinity, and which required a reply which Mr. Hale could have sent at once, without leaving his seat in the Senate chamber. As was expected by the writer, Mr. Hale paid no attention whatever to the communication, and his friend lost the bet, which as he held a good office, he was at once both able and willing to pay. Q.

Ed. Notes.—We have never before heard or seen a complaint of this sort, against Senator Hale; but we do know, that on two or three separate occasions in which we addressed him a brief note of inquiry, we received no reply whatever—not even the civility of a business acknowledgment of the receipt of the same.

In marked contrast to this, was the well-known promptness and courteous attention which the late Judge Woodbury always gave to his correspondents, however unimportant and uninteresting to himself. On at least two distinct occasions, and we think more, we wrote him at Washington, asking information or advice, for which he was to receive no pay or reward, except that which every gentleman is always sure of, who does another a favor—and each and every time, the earliest possible return mail brought an answer, though it was not procured without some considerable trouble to himself.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

—— The N. H. State Prison has a well assorted library of upward of seven hundred volumes. The only donation to it, during the past year, was from Mr. S. Boyce, of Lynn, Mass., a prominent member of the Society of Friends and an agent for the disposal of their publications. An annual appropriation of $100 is made for the library.

—— Mr. J. A. Chamberlin, of Lyme, has recently sheared from three yearling bucks, 39 pounds of wool, and 18 pounds from a three-year old buck.

☞ A young man, named Granville Bragg has been arrested in Sandwich, N. H., for the murder of Frank Libby, a few weeks since.

☞ Mr. Avery (Mr. Morse's successor) advertises a large amount of new wares, in detail—comprising a great variety of articles for use or ornament. He has tastefully fitted up the store, and his rich goods (among which are some superb photograph albums, elegant pocket cutlery, &c.,) show to advantage. Of course he is to continue the newspaper busines, &c., as heretofore.

☞ The new patent Horse-shoe, advertised by Mr. Webber, looks as if it would answer an excellent purpose; and is said to have been thoroughly tried and not found wanting. If all that is said of it can be substantiated, it will be a great desideratum indeed—"the lame will walk," &c.

The loudest howler in the South is the Jackson Mississippian, a bloody bowie-knife paper. It says:—"Hereafter let the motto of the South be—'Perish cities! Perish armies! Perish property! Perish everything! But surrender NEVER!!'"

LETTER FROM ENGLAND.

LONDON, May 1, 1862.

Dear M.:—After an agreeable, though not rapid, passage, we arrived at Queenstown on Sunday, and at Liverpool on Monday at 8 o'clock. The morning we started was gloriously bright, the next day partially cloudy, and after the third day the sun was not visible during the entire passage. * *

We remained only one day in Liverpool, going to Chester, the most famous city in England for itsantiquity. Its quaint houses, narrow streets, venerable churches, and old walls interested us quite as much as we anticipated. The annual races were in progress, and we witnessed two. Should have remained over one day to see the grand race on Wednesday for the Cup, but could find no accommodation at the hotel. Leaving C. we passed through Birmingham to the old town of Coventry, long ago made famous by Lady Godiva, but has in these latter days a still greater interest through Tennyson's version of the story. From C. to Leamington, a famous watering place and beautiful city. From this point we visited Warwick Castle, going all over it.—Both Castle and grounds far exceeded our expectation. Most of all were we astonished with the many valuable pictures and full collection of ancient armor. From W. to Guy's Cliff, and visited the house of Hon. Mr. Percy—splendid house and grounds, but furnished in a style quite inferior to many a successful tradesman in New York.

It seems all these splendid surroundings have no claim to secure exemption from the every-day ills that affect common humanity, for both Warwick and Percy were at the Mineral Springs in Germany, on the score of health, the Countess W. being a very great invalid. Her old nurse said to be sure her lady was sick, but she thought economy had much to do with their absence, as when at home she had to entertain largely, which she could now ill afford. Kenilworth came next—probably the finest ruin in England, and which you have doubtless often seen described. I would like to have read "Kenilworth" beneath its walls, but time would not admit of that.

On to Stratford on-Avon, or as our driver pronounced it, hon-Haveon, where we had a delightful time in visiting Shakespeare's birth-place, (now under the charge of the Shakespeare Assoc.,) the church where the poet is buried, and various other localities, including the "Red Horse" Inn, where Irving wrote some of his most popular sketches. When here on a precious visit, our driver volunteered a bit of literary criticism, to the effect that a countryman of mine, who had resided in this town, was a much more polished writer than Shakespeare, and his name was Irving. For the information I bestewed upon him my old cotton umbrella.

From Stratford we passed to Oxford, a splendid city whose architectural magnificence surpassed altogether our expectations. We exhausted ourselves in visiting about six colleges, (there being 19 in all,) and finished off with the Bodleian Library, the finest in the world (I believe?). Saw the various objects of historical interest, such as the cap in which Arch. Laud was executed, his cane and crosier, many fine paintings, and a wilderness of illuminated manuscripts. You cannot move in Oxford without finding matters connected with the old reformers and martyrs. There is a fine monument near the spot where Cranmer and his associates were burned.

From Oxford after paying an exorbitant fee, we came to London, on Friday, where as yet we have seen but little. Yesterday we went to the Tower, seeing its unrivalled collection of armor, the crown jewels, the cell where Raleigh was confined and where he wrote his history of the world, the spot where the princes were smothered, and the tower where the Duke of Clarence was drowned in a butt of Malmsey. To St. Paul's and Hyde Park finishes the story of our sight-seeing to date.

This morning we went at an early hour to hear Spurgeon, and although expecting and almost determined to dislike him, I came away agreeably impressed. His voice is very fine, and neither in matter nor manner did he offend good taste.—Neither did I observe any want of reverence, a point on which he has been hardly criticized. He is not equal to Chapin as a pulpit orator, and I am at a loss to account for his exceeding popularity, unless it be his earnestness and apparent sincerity. The place will seat comfortably 4400 persons, but long after every seat was occupied the crowd came surging in, filling every vacant standing spot—still they came, until the police found it necessary to shut the great iron gates, denying further admissions.—It was a magnificent sight, that immense crowd with upturned faces of almost breathless interest, for aside from the coughing the silence was so unbroken that you could have heard the dropping of a pin. The sexton finding that I was an American, carried me behind the pulpit and allowed me to go in and out as often as necessary.—The air was such that I could remain only a few minutes at a time. Merle D'Aubigne made some remarks, but I had previously left the house. Should like to have seen the man made so famous by his History of the Reformation. W.

N. H. LEGISLATURE.

TUESDAY.—In the Senate, an act in addition to an act to incorporate the Rockingham Farmers Mutual Fire Insurance Company, was passed. An act to exempt the Treasurers of Railroads from the obligation to reside in this State, &c., was laid on the table.

In the House, a bill was introduced, to provide for the taking of the depositions of persons in the military service of the U. S. This bill provides that the Cols., Lieut. Cols. and Majs. of the several regiments may take the depositions of their soldiers. Read twice and referred. Several petitions for the passage of a law for the protection of useful birds, were referred to the Committee on Agriculture. The petition of Chas. H. Chase and 20 others, of Portsmouth, for the repeal of the act of 1861, entitled an act relating to school committees in the city of Portsmouth, was referred to the Committee on Education.—The vote whereby the House accepted the report of the Committee on Unfinished Business, indefinitely postponing the bill granting lands to Dartmouth College, was reconsidered, and the matter was referred to a committee of ten—one from each county. A resolution was adopted that a committee of ten be appointed to take into consideration the existing statutes of the State relative to intoxicating liquors, and report by bill or otherwise what modification or alteration it is expedient should be made.

CONGRESS, Tuesday.—In the Senate, the bill increasing the medical service of the volunteers, was passed. The Pacific Railroad bill was taken up.

In the House, the bill amending the Patent Office law, was passed. The Confiscation bill was reported from the committee, without alteration. The House went into Committee of the Whole on the bill authorizing an additional issue of Treasury Notes. The Senate's substitute for the bill prohibiting slavery in the Territories, was concurred in. The bill granting lands to the several States for the establishment of agricultural colleges, was passed. It apportions lands to each State and Territory at the rate of 30,000 acres for each Senator, Representative and Delegate, according to the census of 1860, the interest on the proceeds of the sales to be appropriated as above.

☞ The Nashville, Tenn., Courier, a rebel paper, recently expressed the following pleasant sentiments towards the white men of the North:—

"As our Norman kinsmen in England, always a minority, have always ruled their Saxon countrymen in political vassalage up to the present day, so have we, the slave oligarchs, governed the Yankees till within a twelvemonth. We framed the Constitution, for seventy years moulded the policy of the Government, and placed our own men, or northern men with southern principles, in power.

"On the 6th of November, 1860, the Puritans emancipated themselves, are now in violent insurrection against their former owners. This insane holiday freak will not last long however, for, dastards in fight, and incapable of self-government, they will inevitably again fall under the control of the superior race. A few more Bull Run thrashings will bring them once more under the yoke as docile as the most loyal of our Ethiopian 'chattels.'"

This brave talk comes from the same class of men who said a few years ago in Congress, "We will subdue you!" It is quite obvious, says Uncle Toby, that this peculiar aristocracy might be suddenly let down by destroying the food it feeds upon, and by which it grows so great.

☞ A monument for Senator Broderick is being erected in San Francisco. The cost of the work, exclusive of the statue, will be $8,000. The statue will cost probably between $2,000 and $3,000.

INTERESTING STATISTICS.—Friend F.:—I have occupied some of my leisure time in collecting the following statistics, which may be of interest enough to help fill up the "local" some day. They are as near accurate as can be obtained. The sidewalks I have passed over mostly this season, and the measure will fall short rather than overrun.

There are within the limits of the city of Portsmouth, 1645 dwelling-houses, 95 of which are brick; 253 stores and shops, 183 of which are brick; 13 miles of brick and stone sidewalks, in good order; 10 churches and places of worship; 7 public houses; 3 breweries, manufacturing say 50,000 barrels of ale per year; 325 horses; 160 piano fortes; 451 marriageable young ladies; 24 do. gents; 2 billiard clubs; 1 bowling club; 2 boat clubs; 1 gymnasium; and up to last Sabbath, 867 spring bonnets of the latest approved coal scuttle pattern. *

☞ We are "obliged" to our old friend John Rogers, of the Kittery greenhouse and nurseries,—or rather to "Mr. and Mrs. John Rogers,"—for a liberal slice of a certain suggestive loaf; flanked by a boxful of the most beautiful rosebuds,—which certainly "need no bush," except that they grew on, to render them acceptable. A newspaper editor, especially in the rural districts, must be able to write a "notice" of almost anything; but we must beg to be excused from "painting the lily" or "puffing" a rose. But nobody has asked, suggested or expected us to do this—and so we will close by wishing the new couple a long life and a happy one, and especially all success to "John Rogers, nursery-man, seed-man and florist."

And by the way, we have often recommended lovers of the beautiful to pass thro' Love Lane; and we presume the way is open yet—as the fact of our friend's venturing it, as above, is yet another evidence of his good taste.

A Real and Great Improvement

IN HORSE SHOES.

S. W. WEBBER,

Blacksmith and Horse-Shoer,

NO. 80 STATE STREET, Portsmouth,

HAS purchased the sole right to manufacture and use

Cate's Patent Grooved Horse Shoes.

in this city and vicinity; and is prepared to furnish and set the same, at the regular prices for other Shoes, (except for steel Shoes, which are 25 cts. extra), and warrant them to give full satisfaction in all cases. The improvement consists in the nails being set in a metal groove which protects the heads, and the Shoe being concave on both the upper and under sides, so as to be much lighter, to hold on better, and afford a good purchase for the horse without corks, except on very hard ice.

These Shoes are peculiarly favorable for tender or bad feet, quarter cracks, interfering, overreaching, &c.; and gentlemen who have been troubled with their horses, and the public generally, are invited to call and examine the same, and give them a trial.

Any other pattern of Shoe will be put on, to suit customers, as usual; and BLACKSMITH JOBBING generally attended to. S. W. WEBBER.

Local.

PEARSON'S GRAND MIRROR OF THE WAR, is evidently the great attraction of the day. Last night again, as also on the preceding evening, the Temple was filled to repletion, and numbers have been compelled to leave, unable to procure seats. The enthusiasm of the audience last evening, on witnessing the highly exciting scenes of this great rebellion, was immense: they seemed to be lost to themselves and everything around them, and it seemed as if we must be on the battle field watching the stern realities of the fearful contest. What should be thought of the paltry sum of fifteen cents, when for that amount we can enjoy one of the rarest intellectual treats ever offered to our citizens? There we can imagine ourselves standing by the loved forms of our fathers, husbands, brothers and lovers that are engaged in this deadly conflict. And as the views pass before you, Mr. Somerby describes with pathos and eloquence the engagements and victories in the great struggle. We hope our readers will avail themselves of an opportunity to witness this superb exhibition, as we understand it will positively close on Saturday evening next.

☞ See yon fair maiden in another column, picking Sambuci Grapes for Speer's Wine. It is an admirable article, used in hospitals, and by the first class families in Paris, London and New York, in preference to old Port wine. It is worth a trial, as it gives great satisfaction. ly.

MARRIAGES.

In this city, at the Middle St. Baptist Church, on Sunday evening, June 15th, by Rev. Mr. Eddy, Mr. JAMES W. TRAGUE, of this city, to Miss ROOKERY ADELAIDE BRACKETT, daughter of the late George Brackett, of Greenland.

TO THE CITIZENS OF PORTSMOUTH.

The proprietors of the "Historic Mirror of the War," now on exhibition, deem it necessary to inform the public that every effort has been made to procure accurate and truthful sketches of all the principal events and incidents of

THIS GREAT REBELLION.

Messrs. Pearson, the well-known Artists of New York city, assisted by several of the leading Artists of the day, have succeeded in representing on canvas the great historical events of the times, and at a very large expense they have placed before the public not only a most correct and truthful representation of these exciting scenes, but by all pronounced in every respect

A WORK OF ART.

The unseemly doubs which are generally produced for public inspection under the name of Panoramas, have, in a great measure, shaken the confidence of the people; consequently, when a meritorious work is offered to their notice, it is frequently condemned without being seen. It is necessary, therefore, to inform all classes that this Panorama has met with the most unbounded success, having been exhibited within the past few months to no less than 125,000 SPECTATORS.

This being its first exhibition in this city, the proprietors would inform the citizens that they intend exhibiting it every evening for one week, relying upon its intrinsic merits to create the same enthusiastic patronage which its stay in any other city has never failed to produce. june12

VENTILATING & AIR-WARMING

FURNACES.

The subscribers, being the Sole Agents in this vicinity for the manufacture and sale of this valuable Furnace, would ask those about remodelling or erecting buildings to examine this truly valuable invention.

For economy, purity of air and ease of management it has no equal, producing a current of warm air, moist and agreeable;—and as none of the air which comes in contact with the fire-pot is used for respiration, the tendency to produce headache so much complained of in other Furnaces, is entirely obviated.

The objects aimed at by the constructors of heating apparatus have been to obtain the greatest amount of heat from a given amount of fuel, and to prevent the escape of heat to the smoke pipe or chimney.

To accomplish this many complicated and expensive heating arrangements have been constructed, some possessing but little improvement over former methods, while many have proved a total failure. The reason for this is obvious. The combustible gases being lighter than the air, pass off into the pipe or chimney without being consumed. This objection, so common in other Furnaces, is obviated in the

MAGEE FURNACE.

The flue or pipe in this Furnace being below the fire-pot, the gases, from their specific gravity, cannot descend, and are burned up by the admission of cold air through the fire-pot, which ignites them as they pass off from the coal, thus saving at least 20 per cent. of the properties of the heat in the fuel.

No heating apparatus with the smoke-pipe or flue on the top of the cone can be made to consume the gases of the coal, as they pass off with a large amount of the heat generated, making the chimney the hottest part of your dwelling.

This Furnace does away with the great number of pipes and angles for the radiation of heat, which are so liable to fill up and get out of order, thus simplifying, while it increases the surface of radiation.

These Furnaces consume all the coal, make no clinkers, the sifting of coal is entirely dispensed with, and they will save from 30 to 50 per cent. of fuel over common Furnaces.

For ease of management, economy and purity of air, these Furnaces have no equal. They can be regulated so as to give any amount of heat required, and the fire may be kept the entire season without once going out.

They give entire satisfaction wherever used. We have in store the different sizes, Brick and Portable, to which we invite the attention of those in want of the best Furnace in the world,—and would refer them to the following named gentlemen, who have them now in use:

Samuel Cleaves, Esq.; Albert R. Hatch, Esq.,
Aaron H. Hill, Charles H. Mendum,

American and Foreign Patents.

R. H. EDDY,

SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,

Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, (under the Act of 1837,)

75 State Street, opposite Kilby Street,

BOSTON,

After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Bonds, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with dispatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of patents or inventions—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

The Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing Patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions unexpiraed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The Testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL. At THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional services so moderate.

The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents.

These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full specimens of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.

All necessity of a journey to Washington, to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse."

CHARLES MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office."

EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents

Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but one of which patents have been granted, and that is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges."

JOHN TAGGART.

During eight months, the subscriber, in course of his large practice, made on twice rejected applications SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in his favor, by the Commissioner of Patents. R. H. EDDY.

IMPORTANT TO THE AFFLCITED.

DR. DOW continues to be consulted at his office, Nos 7 and 9 ENDICOTT STREET, Boston on all diseases of a

PRIVATE OR DELICATE NATURE.

By a long course of study and practical experience of unlimited extent, Dr. D. has now the gratification of presenting the unfortunate with remedies that have never, since he first introduced them, failed to cure the most alarming cases of

GONORRHŒA AND SYPHILIS.

Beneath his treatment, all the horrors of venereal and impure blood, Impotency, Scrofula, Gonorrhœa, Ulcers, painand swellings in the regions of procreation, Inflammation of the Bladder and Kidneys, Hydrocele, Abscesses, Humors, frightful Swellings, and the hideous train of evils and symptoms attending this class of disease, are made to become as harmless as the simplest ailings of a child.

SEMINAL WEAKNESS.

Dr. D. devotes a great part of his time to the treatment of those cases caused by a secret and solitary habit, which ruins the body and mind, unfitting the unfortunate individual for business or society. Some of the sad and melancholy effects produced by early habits of youth, are Weakness of the Back and limbs, Dizziness of the head, Dimness of sight, Palpitation of the heart, Dyspepsia, Nervousness, Indigestion, Pains of the digestive functions, Symptoms of Consumption, &c. The fearful effects on the mind are much to be dreaded; loss of memory, confusion of ideas, depression of spirits, evil forebodings, aversion of society, self-distrust, timidity, &c., are among the evils produced. Such persons should, before contemplating matrimony, consult a physician of experience, and be at once restored to health and happiness.

Patients who wish to remain under Dr. Dow's treatment a few days or weeks, will be furnished with pleasant rooms, and charges for board moderate.

CAUTION

To Females in Delicate Health.

DR. DOW, Physician and Surgeon, No 7 ENDICOTT STREET, Boston, is consulted daily for all disease incident to the female system. Prolapsus Uteri, or falling of the Womb, Fluor Albus, Suppression, and other menstrual derangements, are all treated upon new pathological principles, and speedy relief guaranteed in a few days. So invariably certain is the new mode of treatment, that most obstinate complaints yield under it, and the afflicted person soon rejoices in perfect health.

Dr. Dow has no doubt had greater experience in the cure of diseases of women and children, than any other physician in Boston.

Boarding accommodations for patients who may wish to stay in Boston a few days under his treatment.

Dr. Dow, since 1845, having confined his whole attention to an office practice, for the cure of Private Diseases and Female Complaints, acknowledges no superior in the United States.

N. B.—All letters must contain one dollar, or they will not be answered.

Office Hours from 8 A. M. to 9 P. M.

CERTAIN CURE

in all cases, or No Charges Made.

Dr. Dow is consulted daily, from 8 A. M. to 9 P. M. as above, upon all difficult and chronic diseases of every name and nature, having by his unremitting attention and extraordinary success gained a reputation which calls patients from all parts of the country to obtain advice.

Among the physicians in Boston, none stands higher in the profession than the subscriber, Dr. DOW, No. 7 Endicott street, Boston. Those who need the services of an experienced physician and surgeon should give them a call.

PURE OLD BOURBON WHISKEY.

Correspondence between some of the most eminent physicians of New York and Brooklyn, and Mr. J. W. CUTTER, Jr., Louisville, Ky:

NEW YORK May 1, 1861.

Mr. WM. T. CUTTER, Jr., Louisville, Ky.:

Dear Sir:—The great difficulty experienced in procuring Brandy sufficiently pure for medicinal purposes, has induced many of the physicians of this city to adopt Bourbon Whiskey as a substitute, both in the hospitals and private practice; and, since the latter has come into such general use, we have reason to believe that a great deal sold is of very inferior quality.

Presuming that your residence in the vicinity of the manufacture of Whiskey in Kentucky, as well as your extensive acquaintance, will enable you to select a reliable article, and having full confidence in your integrity, we are led to inquire whether you will not aid us in having this article supplied, through an Agency, with the best quality of Pure Old Bourbon Whiskey for the use of the sick.

We are, very respectfully, yours truly,

Dr. VALENTINE MOTT, William Parker, & others.

Gentlemen:—Your letter of May 1st has been received. In accordance with your wishes, I have made arrangements to supply your city and vicinity with a pure article of copper distilled Bourbon Whiskey, which I trust will fully meet the requirements of your letter. Thanking you for your kind expressions of confidence, &c.,

I remain, very respectfully, yours truly,

WM. T. CUTTER, JR.

We, the Physicians of Portsmouth, having full confidence in the integrity of Dr. R. ANDERSON, recommend him as suitable person to sell OLD BOURBON WHISKEY in Portsmouth, for medicinal purposes, in accordance with an arrangement made between the New York Physicians and Wm. T. Cutter, Jr., of Louisville, Ky., and a similar agreement between said Cutter and the Physicians of Boston.

SAMBUCUS FREE. OF PORTUGAL,

The Great Remedy for Kidney Affections, Rheumatism, Chronic Complaints

Excellent Wine for Females.

Every Family should use the SAMBUCI WINE celebrated in Europe for its medicinal and beneficial qualities as a gentle Stimulant, Tonic, Diuretic and Sudorific. It is highly esteemed for its great physicians, used in European and American Hospitals, and by some of the first families in Europe and America.

AS A DIURETIC, it imparts a healthy action to the Glands and Kidneys, and Urinary Organs, very beneficial in Dropsy, Gout and Rheumatic Affections.

SPEER'S SAMBUCI WINE is not a mixture or manufactured article, but is pure from the juice of the Portugal Sambucus, cultivated in New Jersey, recommended by Chemists and Physicians as possessing medical properties superior to any other Wines in use, and an excellent article for all weak and debilitated persons, and the aged and infirm, improving the appetite, and benefiting ladies and children.

A LADIES' WINE, because it will not intoxicate as other wines, as it contains no mixture of spirits or other liquors, and is esteemed for its rich, peculiar flavor and nutritive properties, imparting a healthy tone to the digestive organs, and a blooming, soft and healthy skin and complexion.

HOT AND COLD BATHS, for use of guests and the public, day and evening—the best facilities. mar22-3m

FRANKLIN HOUSE,

Portsmouth, N. H.

The undersigned having assumed the management of this well known public house, and having made extensive improvements therein, solicits a continuance of the patronage of the travelling public that has so long been extended to the house.

A new parlor and an extensive suite of commodious and well-ventilated sleeping apartments have been added; and a separate Ladies' Entrance from Congress Street, arranged. Gentlemen with their families, or ladies unattended, will now find quiet and retired apartments connected with the street and dining hall by an independent staircase.

The house will be kept as a first class hotel in every respect, and the proprietors will spare no pains to merit the patronage of those visiting this section of the State.

A good STABLE is connected with the house, where persons visiting Portsmouth with teams, will be promptly and carefully waited upon.

The Chronicle.

A MICHIGAN MAN INHERITS TWO HUNDRED AND FIFTY MILLION DOLLARS. Mr. C. T. Tucker, of Decatur, it is said, is likely to come into full possession of the Lawrence estate, in the Bank of England, amounting to fifty million pounds, or nearly two hundred and fifty million dollars. This matter has been in litigation about fifteen years, and all the testimony necessary to establish the claim has been finally obtained. Lyman Lawrence of Mattawan, who is a brother of Mr. Tucker's wife, was the legitimate heir, but made a full assignment to Mr. Tucker, who will have the full control of the vast estate. If this claim should be fully established, he will be the richest man in America.

SAD MISFORTUNE.—In West Newbury, Mass., as the wife of Mr. John C. Carr, was stepping down from a chair, her head came in contact with a two-foot rule in the hand of her husband, with such violence as to destroy the sight of her only remaining eye, the other having been destroyed about ten years since by coming in contact with the rein-hook inside of the chaise in which she was riding, in consequence of the horse falling down. This accident renders her totally blind.

☞ Gen. Pettigrew, the rbeel, earnestly denies that any negroes are used by the Confederates, otherwise than as body servants, and says that if they fought, it was entirely voluntary and in that capacity.—He characterizes the idea as barbarous, and trusts the Confederates will never resort to it, saying that if they cannot gain their independence without any aid, they deserve to be conquered.

CHINA.—The last news from China is important. The rebels have received two more defeats at the hands of the disciplined forces of the Imperialists. Col. Ward, the Yankee, who has brought the Chinese soldiers to a state of efficiency, comparatively speaking, has been created a Mandarin.

GOLD SPECULATORS IN TROUBLE.—It is stated that one cause for the recent rise in the price of gold, was the fact that speculators found one source of supply unexpectedly cut off from them, and were obliged to go into the markets and purchase, to perform their contracts.

GODEY'S LADY'S BOOK for July contains twenty full page engravings, and all those other attractive features which have made "Godey's" so unequalled in interest and profit to lady readers. The July number commences the thirty-third year of its publication.

An Executive Committee, composed of ten, of which Senator Hale is Chairman, was formed, and the Association is therefore fully organized. A subscription was taken up, and a large amount immediately subscribed. Nearly all of the States have Associations there of a similar character, and a vast amount of good has resulted from them.

THE N.H. FIFTH AT FAIR OAKS.

COL. CROSS' REPORT.

HEADQUARTERS 5th N. H. Vols.
Camp at Fair Oaks Station, June 2.

Captain:—I have the honor to report the part taken by my regiment in the battle of June 1, 1862.

On the evening of May 31, the Fifth N. H. Regiment was posted as advance in front of the Brigade of Gen. French. Being very near the enemy we took several prisoners, and soon after daybreak an orderly having a dispatch from Gen. Pryor, of the Confederate Army, to Gen. Anderson, was captured and sent to headquarters. Soon after this my regiment moved across the railroad and took post in the edge of the woods.—Here, being fired upon by the enemy's pickets, we had several men wounded. We were then ordered back to a position in the first line of battle, but soon again advanced into the woods, where we took twenty or thirty prisoners.

I then received orders from Gen. Richardson to move to the support of French's Brigade. While marching along the railroad I received notice that Brig. Gen. Howard was severely wounded and the command of his brigade devolved upon me—Finding that two other regiments of the brigade had been some time under fire, and severely handled, I directed them to file out of the woods and re-form in rear of Meagher's Brigade, while I advanced my regiment to occupy the ground. We advanced in line of battle, through a thick wood, and about three hundred yards from the railroad encountered the rebel line of battle, and a fierce fire commenced on both sides. Twice my line advanced in the most gallant style, and each time the enemy fell back.—The fire on each side was now very close and deadly, the opposing lines being several times not over 20 or thirty yards apart. When about ordering another advance, I was struck by a rifle ball in the thigh, and disabled. Lieut. Col. Langley then being in command, and the rebel line having in a great measure ceased firing, he brought off the regiment in fine order, carrying most of our wounded.

I cannot speak too highly of the coolness, bravery, and general good conduct of my officers and men, in the face of a vastly superior force, and under a fire such as troops in battle seldom experience. The loss of my regiment is killed, wounded and missing, (as far as we can now ascertain) is about 185 enlisted men and five officers wounded, namely: Col. Cross, Major W. W. Cook, Capt. E. E. Sturtevant, 1st Lt. D. G. Reed, 2d. Lt. A. G. Cummings.

I am, captain, very resp'y, &c.,
EDWARD E. CROSS, Col. 5th N. H.V.

Capt. Norrell, A. A. Gen.

ARMY APPOINTMENTS.—There have been about 1000 appointments and promotions in the army since the General Orders of December last, according to a pamphlet just issued, of which there are Major Generals 17, Brigadier Generals 93, Brigade Surgeons 58. The additional Aides-de-Camp appointed by the President under the act of August last are as follows:—Colonels 34, Lieut. Colonels 9, Majors 24, Captains 97. Three Brigadier Generals have resigned, and four have declined.

☞ We have received, from the author, an Address on the Death of Gen. Nathaniel Lyon, delivered at Manhattan, Kansas, Sept. 26th, 1861, by Rev. George D. Henderson, Chaplain at Fort Riley. The address is an eloquent and glowing tribute to the memory of a noble man, by a friend and admirer, who knows how to appreciate his worth.

☞ Gen. Gustavus W. Smith is reported to be palsied and unfit for duty in the rebel army.

THE REBELLION.

A scouting expedition to the Mattapong, from Gen. McClellan's division, on Wednesday, destroyed the bridge, took a number of wagons and cars loaded with supplies for Richmond, destroyed a large amount of rebel grain, and captured several important prisoners.

An intelligent Union refugee from Richmond states that since the appointment of Lee as General-in-Chief, nearly the whole army has been concentrated near Richmond, even recalling some regiments sent against Gen. Burnside. The conscription act is rigidly enforced. Jeff. Davis is hated by the army as stubborn, self willed tyrant, and Beauregard has lost prestige, though they still hold the delusion of a rebel victory at Shiloh. The Southern papers praise the exploits of the guerrillas, especially the fact of their not taking any prisoners. If these guerrillas capture any Northern troops, they are led into the woods, a few shots are heard, and the statement made that the Yankees were paroled. There are from 400 to 500 persons in prison in Richmond, charged with disloyalty to the South.

The Philadelphia Ledger has a bulletin that the Sec. of War has again called on the Governors of the Northern States to know how many men they can at once supply to reinforce the army. The cause was believed to be the reinforcement of Jackson in Shenandoah Valley.

SLOW — OR NOT SLOW. — Messrs. Editors:—You say that the North, or rather the Government, were "not slow in retaliating" on the rebels: but surely you should not forget that the South Carolina Senators left Congress Nov. 11, 1860; that Cobb, Sec. of U. S. Treasury, resigned Dec. 10; South Carolina passed the secession ordinance Dec. 24, and seized Fort Moultrie on the 29th.

Floyd, U. S. Sec. of War, resigned Dec. 30. Jan. 3, 1851, Gov. Brown, of Georgia takes Fort Pulaski,—and Jan. 4, Pres. Buchanan keeps a day of Fasting,—not a very severe retaliation—and not a very rapid move for a government. Jan. 9, the Charleston rebels fired on the Star of the West:—Congress, in the mean time, using no coercion, and the President openly proclaiming that he could not use it.

The Peace Conference met at Washington Feb. 4. Fort Sumter was attacked by the rebels April 12, and soon surrendered. On the 15th, and not till then, Pres. Lincoln called for 75,000 militia,—which was the very first move toward any thing like retaliation. This was five months after the rebellion broke out.

It seems to me the Government was slow: but when this call was made, the Northern people came, quick and eager for defence.

Our Government is slower than the Northern people now:—and if they were called for earnestly, another half-million of men would take the field very speedily.

—— BOB SHORT.

Ed. Notes.—It was not exactly that we intended to state that the Government was so very prompt in its retaliation—force for force, war for war, blood for blood—but that it was nothing loth to use this the only means it had for such occasions. All human governments are based on a sword—and we were not blaming our Government for employing its only legitimate means of preserving itself; but it is the means that we deprecate. So long as individuals or nations have it understood that they countenance appeals to arms,—are ready for a duel or a battle—so long will personal fights and wars continue, and the provocation and justification for the same be ample. Any other ground than this, must allow man to be by nature a fighting animal, and the race capable of its highest mental and moral attainments in a state of war.

The contrabands in Washington are said to be greatly terrified at the correspondence between our Government and the Danish Minister, and seem to prefer returning South again to be sent comfortable to the West Indies.—Boston Post.

If this be correct, it goes to show that the race mentioned are fond of their homes, and averse to emigration. We suppose no one of our readers has ever heard that a single family of freed men has left the British West Indies within the years since their freedom.

☞ A large number of volunteers are absent from their regiments, who are now fit for duty. To enable them to return, the Governors of States are authorized to give them certificates or passes, which will entitle them to transportation to the station of the nearest U. S. mustering officer or Quartermaster, who will pay the cost of such transportation on such certificate or pass, and provide transportation for the soldier to his regiment or station.

—— Seventy-nine students from Dartmouth College, left Hanover on Thursday morning, for Providence, to join the Rhode Island Cavalry.

LETTER FROM ENGLAND.

LONDON, May 1.

I am greatly disappointed in the temperature of London, always supposing that May day in England corresponded with our first of June; but I have not seen a day that I could leave off my thick winter overcoat. We have not ordered fire solely on the score of economy. Living in England is usually much more expensive than in any other country; but now, during the Exhibition, the city being unusually full, the charges are exorbitant.

MAY 24.

Since writing the above, we have been to Sydenham, to see the old Crystal Palace, and a more fairy-like spectacle I never beheld. The natural features of the country are very beautiful, and art has done everything to embellish and beautify. From the principal balcony you have a landscape 25 miles in extent, rich with foliage, while the gardens abound with flowers, shrubbery and fountains.

The Exhibition this year is very fine, but I think not quite equal to that of 1851, except in the fine arts department, which excels anything ever before seen in England. Pictures have been loaned from almost every fine gallery in England and France, so that one sees a wilderness of pictures, which ought to be seen daily for a week in order to be properly appreciated.

Our visit to Hampton Court should have included Richmond Kew Gardens and a sail on the Thames, (by cockneys, and perhaps others, pronounced Tems,)—but the showers by which England is so frequently blessed, (to the great inconvenience of travellers,) interrupted the programme. You are doubtless aware that this palace was built by Cardinal Wolsey,—and when, in the days of his adversity, the King commented upon its magnificence, his ingenious reply was that he had endeavored to make it worthy of his majesty's acceptance. The King took him at his word, and the poor Cardinal had here the first intimation of the change in his fortunes, foreshadowing the condition which called for the celebrated soliloquy—"This is the state of man," &c. Here are many valuable pictures: Raphael's Cartoons, Sir Peter Lely's portraits by dozens, and many pictures familiar to us by engravings. The grounds are very finely arranged, and all the surroundings are in the highest style of artistic arrangement.

As it rained, we had to take a covered carriage through Buthy Park to Richmond, passing at Twickenham Pope's villa and Strawberry Hill. At Kensington Museum there are a thousand and one curious objects, and a capital collection of pictures, formerly in the Vernon Gallery and the Sheepshanks collection. Here are Landseer's by dozens, embracing most of the popular subjects which one has seen engraved. Here also are pictures by Sir Thomas Lawrence, Webster, Mulready, Leslie, Elly, Constable, Collins, and twenty-five of Turner's.

We are not very pleasantly situated, lodging at one house and boarding at another, on the opposite side of the street.—The locality is 69 Pall Mall, within a stone's throw of St. James Palace. Every morning we have from our window fine music from two powerful bands—the occasion being the changing of the guard. The soldiers form a hollow square, with the bands in the centre, playing the finest operatic music.

Yesterday we drove in Hyde Park, tho' in the most humble manner as contrasted with the aristocratic equipages which passed us by hundreds, with their prancing horses and powdered footmen. It was an amusing scene. Part of the grounds are fine, though as a whole the Park does not begin to compare with that of New York.

I have not as yet seen enough of Englishmen to judge personally of their sentiments towards the North. I am well assured, however, that there is very little sympathy with the North, the commonalty feeling that the war is the immediate cause of their embarrassments; and the more aristocratic portion, fearing and disliking the power of our country united, wishing to see us divided. Such I understand to be the avowed sentiments of Earl Shaftesbury and Lord John Russell.

MAY 27.

Yesterday we went to Windsor Castle, seeing the arms and banners of the Knights of the Garter, and going all through the various apartments, including the grand banquet room, where the Wellington banquet was held—altogether the finest specimens of Gobelin tapestry that we have yet seen; and last of all, the view from the celebrated East Terrace, where, in old Queen Bess' day, she daily promenaded, and caused old Pepys in his diary to exclaim,—"But Lord! the prospect that is in the balcony, the terrace and the walk are strange things to consider, and the best in the world, sure!"

Last evening I went to a reception at Minister Adams' and had a very pleasant time. To day we are all wide-awake with the news from America. Glorious as it is, I shall not be without anxiety until the grand battle has been fought and won, for evidently the Confederates have determined to risk all on its result.

☞ James M. Wilson, a prominent California politician of the Douglas school, but a native of Derry, N. H., has just been appointed Paymaster in the army.

☞ The valuable and extensive Law Library of the late Nathan Dane Appleton, was sold during the late session of the Supreme Judicial Court at Alfred, Maine.—Its original cost was nearly $3000, but it brought only about $400. The Maine Reports sold for $2 per volume. Many important text books sold for a mere trifle.

WAR MEETING.—A meeting was held in Newburyport, on Wednesday evening, to stir the patriotic feelings of the town, and fill up the ranks of the company there. Mayor Jackman presided; speeches were made by several gentlemen, and patriotic songs sung by a select choir.

TO THE CITIZENS OF PORTSMOUTH.

The proprietors of the "Historic Mirror of the War," now on exhibition, deem it necessary to inform the public that every effort has been made to procure accurate and truthful sketches of all the principal events and incidents of

THIS GREAT REBELLION.

Messrs. Pearson, the well-known Artists of New York city, assisted by several of the leading Artists of the day, have succeeded in representing on canvas the great historical events of the times, and at a very large expense they have placed before the public not only a most correct and truthful representation of these exciting scenes, but by all pronounced in every respect

A WORK OF ART.

The unseemly daubs which are generally produced for public inspection under the name of Panoramas, have, in a great measure, shaken the confidence of the people; consequently, when a meritorious work is offered to their notice, it is frequently condemned without being seen. It is necessary, therefore, to inform all classes that this Panorama has met with the most unbounded success, having been exhibited within the past few months to no less than 125,000 SPECTATORS.

This being its first exhibition in this city, the proprietors would inform the citizens that they intend exhibiting it every evening for one week, relying upon its intrinsic merits to create the same enthusiastic patronage which its stay in any other city has never failed to produce. June13

Local.

☞ The Masonic celebration on St. John's Day (Tuesday next), at Portland, promises to be one of the grandest affairs of its kind that has ever taken place in New England. An extra train will leave this city on the morning of the 24th, so as to arrive in season to join the procession. De Witt Clinton Commandery, Knights Templar, of this city have decided to attend, and they will be accompanied by large delegations from Mt. Horeb Commandery, of Dover, and St. Paul's Commandery, of Concord.

☞ A valuable young cow, belonging to Mr. Lombard, was run over and killed by a train on the Eastern Railroad, in this city, on Wednesday morning.

☞ Uncle Toby gratefully acknowledges the receipt of fine strawberries from Mr. C. M. Coleman.

☞ The Ballot don't usually publish Births; but thus announces the mysterious arrival of one little stranger:

HUB-BUB.—Much commotion was created about the Squamscott House, Exeter, on Sunday, by the arrival by private conveyance of a stranger who had quite a retinue of attendants. Maj. Blake was all smiles and attention, the landlady all bustle and activity, the indefatigable Clerk was driving hither and thither, and the household generally were active in good offices for the new guest, who did not book his name on arrival, who had never been seen before by any of them, and showed no due appreciation of the attentions to him. A recruiting officer called to enlist him, but he evinced no patriotic emotion; and a justice of the peace was sent for to administer the oath of allegiance, but the fellow wouldn't swear. He kept his room and said "nothing to nobody," and yet, strange to say, at once became a favorite with the managers of the house, who are evidently proud of his presence.

P. S.—His surname is Prall, and he weighs ten pounds, it is said.

SEMI-ANNUAL DIVIDENDS.—The Washington Mills have declared a dividend of 4 per cent, payable July 1, to stockholders at the close of business on the 18th inst.

Stark Mills 5 per cent, payable June 23, to holders 16th inst.

Manchester Print Works 5 per cent, payable June 23.

Western Railroad 4 per cent, payable July 1 to holders June 18.

Fitchburg Railroad 3 per cent, payable July 1.

CONGRESS, Thursday.—In the House, Mr. Lehman of Pennsylvania presented the tender by Philadelphia of League Island for a Navy Yard. He said that city paid $310,000 for it, and offered it as a free gift to the Government. Referred to the Naval Committee.

Mr. Mallory of Kentucky offered a resolution proposing an adjournment of Congress, the Senate concurring, on the 30th of June. Adopted—106 against 20.

A bill was reported, establishing at Chicago a national foundry for the manufacture and repair of ordnance and munitions of war, appropriating $200,000 for the purpose. Also, for establishing naval depots and yards on Lakes Erie, Michigan and Ontario, appropriating $250,000. Referred to the Committee of the Whole.

"AMONG THE PINES."—The interesting and thrilling articles, descriptive of Life among the poor Whites in South Carolina, which have been published in the pages of the Continental Monthly, are to be issued shortly in a 12mo. volume, by Charles T. Evans, 532 Broadway, N. Y. The author, who evidently describes facts which have fallen under his notice, wields a graphic pen, and is destined to take a first place in the ranks of American authors.

☞ On Monday noon, a fire broke out in a rope-walk, in Cincinnati, destroying it, together with some sixteen buildings in the vicinity, making from 40 to 50 families houseless. The flames spread with such great rapidity that several persons were badly burned, and a number of others narrowly escaped with their lives. A pile of coal, of nearly 300,000 bushels, caught fire and burned with great fierceness for several hours. It is estimated that the loss is about $40,000, which is partially insured.

☞ On Monday, two families, including all told two men and their wives, (one a-piece) and fourteen children, started from Lawrence, Mass., for Salt Lake City, Utah Territory, to thrive under the local laws of Brigham Young. They have been residents of Lawrence for upwards of nine years, and worked on the Pacific; their children, however, were allowed to attend the City Missionary's Sabbath Schools, notwithstanding the peculiar religious ideas of the parents.

☞ A dispatch from Cape Race, N. F., June 17th, says:—"The weather is frightful. We had a thick snow storm last night, and the wind has been blowing a gale from the Northeast. There are no signs of an improvement this evening."

☞ Returns of the election from different portions of Illinois thus far show a majority of 13,600 against the new Constitution.

WONDERS WILL NEVER CEASE, neither will the excitement at the Temple while Pearson's Grand Historic Mirror continues to delight and interest the citizens of Portsmouth. We cannot say too much in praise of this matchless collection of paintings.—As a work of art we never saw them excelled in panoramic form; as a subject of interest, none could present itself that would touch the hearts of the people as this; for an intellectual repast, we never had one in our city that could approach it; and as a very reasonable amusement, everybody can testify to that. Therefore we say to our readers, don't let the chance slip by without improving the opportunity of witnessing this splendid performance. Mr. Rufus Somerby entertains the audience with a spirited lecture on the various scenes which pass before us during the evening; he holds his auditors in almost breathless pleasure and silence from the first scene to the last: and truly he has just the style of oratory to awaken that patriotism which should beat in the heart of every American. This entertainment closes on Saturday evening; they cannot stay longer as they have engagements made which they must fulfil.—And we would say to every man, woman and child, if you would enjoy a rare treat go to the Temple at the earliest opportunity.

☞ See yon fair maiden in another column, picking Sambuci Grapes for Speer's Wine. It is an admirable article, used in hospitals, and by the first class families in Paris, London and New York, in preference to old Port wine. It is worth a trial, as it gives great satisfaction. 1y.

A Real and Great Improvement

IN HORSE SHOES.

S. W. WEBBER,

Blacksmith and Horse-Shoer,

NO. 80 STATE STREET, Portsmouth,

Has purchased the sole right to manufacture and use

Cate's Patent Grooved Horse Shoes.

in this city and vicinity; and is prepared to furnish and set the same, at the regular prices for other Shoes, (except for steel Shoes, which are 25 cts. extra), and warrant them to give full satisfaction in all cases. The improvement consists in the nails being set in a steel groove which protects the heads, and the Shoe being concave on both the upper and under sides, so as to be much lighter, to hold on better, and afford a good purchase for the horse without corks, except on very hard ice.

These Shoes are peculiarly favorable for tender or bad feet, quarter cracks, interfering, overreaching, &c.; and gentlemen who have been troubled with their horses, and the public generally, are invited to call and examine the same, and give them a trial.

Any other pattern of Shoe will be put on, to suit customers, as usual; and BLACKSMITH JOBBING generally attended to. S. W. WEBBER.

"MAGEE'S PATENT"

VENTILATING & AIR-WARMING

FURNACES.

The subscribers, being the Sole Agents in this vicinity for the manufacture and sale of this valuable Furnace, would ask those about remodelling or erecting buildings to examine this truly valuable invention.

For economy, purity of air and ease of management it has no equal, producing a current of warm air, moist and agreeable;—and as none of the air which comes in contact with the fire-pot is used for respiration, the tendency to produce headache so much complained of in other Furnaces, is entirely obviated.

The objects aimed at by the constructors of heating apparatus have been to obtain the greatest amount of heat from a given amount of fuel, and to prevent the escape of heat to the smoke pipe or chimney.

To accomplish this many complicated and expensive heating arrangements have been constructed, some possessing but little improvement over former methods, while many have proved a total failure. The reason for this is obvious. The combustible gases being lighter than the air, pass off into the pipe or chimney without being consumed. This objection, so common in other Furnaces, is obviated in the

MAGEE FURNACE.

The use or pipe in this Furnace being below the fire-pot, the gases, from their specific gravity, cannot descend, and are burned up by the admission of cold air through the fire-pot, which ignites them as they pass off from the coal, thus saving at least 20 per cent. of the properties of the heat in the fuel.

No heating apparatus with the smoke-pipe or flue on the top of the cone can be made to consume the gases of the coal; as they pass off with a large amount of the heat generated, making the chimney the hottest part of your dwelling.

This Furnace does away with the great number of pipes and angles for the radiation of heat, which are so liable to fill up and get out of order, thus simplifying, while it increases the surface of radiation.

These Furnaces consume all the coal, make no clinkers, the sifting of coal is entirely dispensed with, and they will save from 30 to 50 per cent. of fuel over common Furnaces.

For ease of management, economy and purity of air, these Furnaces have no equal. They can be regulated so as to give any amount of heat required, and the fire may be kept the entire season without once going out.

They give entire satisfaction wherever used. We have in store the different sizes, Brick and Portable, to which we invite the attention of those in want of the best Furnace in the world,—and would refer them to the following named gentlemen, who have them now in use:

Samuel Cleaves, Esq., Albert R. Hatch, Esq.,
Aaron H. Hill, Charles H. Mendum,
Henry F. Wendell, John Sise, and others.

Also on hand, the celebrated and unequalled

PORT ROYAL.—A friend writing to the Traveller from Port Royal on the 8th of June, says that Gen. Hunter's colored regiment is now uniformed, and numbers one thousand strong; that the rainy season has set in, affording about a couple of magnificent thunder storms daily; and that the health of the troops is by no means so bad as was feared it would be.

WHAT NEXT?—Mr. J. McNamee, of Easton, Pa., has invented and very recently taken out a patent for an indicator and register of drinks and sugars, to be used at the bars of hotels and drinking restaurants, to detect barkeepers who are dishonestly inclined.

☞ Street railroads in Cincinnati do not make very profitable returns to the stockholders. Official examination by the Council Committee shows a loss to the companies, in the two years and three months they have been in operation, of $60,428.

☞ For want of other material, some of the wounded at Fair Oaks were recently supplied with a soup made from the flesh of horses which were killed for that purpose.

UNCERTAINTIES OF THE TURF.—It is stated that the winner of the Derby Stake in England, was a horse named Caractacus. So little was known of the abilities of this horse before the race, that the betting against him was forty to one.

PURE OLD BOURBON WHISKEY.

Correspondence between some of the most eminent physicians of New York and Brooklyn, and WM. J. CUTTER, Jr., Louisville, Ky:

NEW YORK May 1, 1861.

MR. WM. T. CUTTER, Jr., Louisville, Ky.:

Dear Sir:—The great difficulty experienced in procuring Brandy sufficiently pure for medicinal purposes, has induced many of the physicians of this vicinity to adopt Bourbon Whiskey as a substitute, both in the hospitals and private practice; and, since the latter has come into much general use, we have reason to believe that a great deal now sold is of very inferior quality.

Presuming that your residence in the vicinity of the manufacture of Whiskey in Kentucky, as well as your skill as a chemist, will enable you to select a reliable article, and having full confidence in your integrity, we are led to inquire whether you will not aid us in having this market supplied, through an Agency, with the best quality of Pure Old Bourbon Whiskey for the use of the sick.

We are, very respectfully, sir, yours truly,

LOUISVILLE, Ky., July 31, 1861.

DR. VALENTINE MOTT, Willard Parker & others.

Gentlemen:—Your letter of May 1st has been received. In accordance with your wishes, I have made arrangements to supply your city and vicinity with a pure article of copper distilled Bourbon Whiskey, which I trust will fully meet the requirements of your letter. Permit me to thank you for your kind expressions of confidence. &c.,

I remain, very respectfully, yours truly,

WM. T. CUTTER, Jn.

We, the Physicians of Portsmouth, having full confidence in the integrity of Mr. J. R. AMBROSE, recommend him as a suitable person to sell OLD BOURBON WHISKEY in Portsmouth, for medicinal purposes, he having made an arrangement made between the New York Physicians and Wm. T. Cutter, Jr., of Louisville, Ky., and a similar agreement between said Cutter and the Physicians of Boston.

OF CHOICE OPORTO FRUIT,

For Physicians' Use,

FEMALES, WEEKLY PERSONS, INVALIDS.

SAMBUCUS TREE, OF PORTUGAL,

The Great Remedy for Kidney Affections, Rheumatism, Chronic Complaints

Excellent Wine for Females.

Every Family should use the SAMBUCI WINE celebrated in Europe for its medicinal and beneficial qualities as a gentle Stimulant, Tonic, Diuretic and Sudorific, highly esteemed by eminent physicians, used in European and American Hospitals, and by some of the first families in Europe and America.

AS A DIURETIC, it imparts a healthy action to the Glands and Kidneys, and Urinary Organs, very beneficial in Dropsy, Gout and Rheumatic Affections.

SPEER'S SAMBUCI WINE is not a mixture or manufactured article, but is pure from the juice of the Portugal Sambucus, cultivated in New Jersey, recommended by Chemists and Physicians as possessing medical properties superior to any other Wines in use, and an excellent article for all weak and debilitated persons, and the aged and infirm, improving the appetite, and benefiting ladies and children.

A LADIES' WINE, because it will not intoxicate as other wines, as it contains no admixture of spirits or other liquors, and is admired for its rich, peculiar flavor and nutritive properties, imparting a healthy tone to the digestive organs, and a blooming, soft and healthy skin and complexion.

Portsmouth, N. H.

The undersigned having assumed the management of this well known public house, and having made extensive improvements therein, solicits a continuance of the patronage of the travelling public that has so long been extended to the house.

A new parlor and an extensive suite of commodious well-furnished sleeping apartments have been added; and a separate Ladies' Entrance from Congress Street, arranged. Gentlemen with their families, or ladies unattended, will now find quiet and retired apartments connected with the street and dining hall by an independent staircase.

The house will be kept as a first class hotel in every respect, and the proprietors will spare no pains to merit the patronage of those visiting this section of the State.

A good STABLE is connected with the house, where persons visiting Portsmouth with teams, will be promptly and carefully waited upon.

The Chronicle.

WESTERN ELOQUENCE.—When the bill to provide for the protection of the American eagle came up in the House of Representatives of Minnesota, on its third reading Mr. Severance, the author of the bill, arose in its defence, and, according to the St. Paul Pioneer, addressed the House as follows:—

"Mr. Speaker, I have only to say that any man who will in any way injure or take the life of our national bird, is mean enough to carry rotten sardines in the same pocket with musty fine cut tobacco, and pass the same around on the ace of spades at the commission table; or would empty the canteen of a rebel prisoner, and sit upon it and whistle a Confederate air through the key hole of Washington's tomb."

The bill, of course, passed unanimously.

☞ A tomb has been erected over the grave of the author of "The Pilgrim's Progress" in Bunhill Fields Burial Ground, City Road, London. The requisite funds for this memorial have been raised by public subscription. The length of the tomb is about seven feet, and the height rather over four feet. On the top, in a reclining posture, with book in hand, is the carved effigy of John Bunyan, in stone, with the head resting on a pillow, the length of the figure being five feet and eight inches.

☞ A letter to the Providence Post, from Washington, says the latter city appears to be "a combination of the vices of New York, the cunning of Philadelphia, and the respectable pomposity of Boston, without any of their attendant virtues."

RAILROAD IN INDIA.—Great excitement prevailed among the Punjabees at the opening of the railway from Umritsir to Labore. A Brahmin looking at the locomotive, exclaimed in a transport of amazement and awe: "All the incarnation of all the gods in India never produced such a thing as that." By this time the news of the wonderful car has been carried by caravans far into Cabul and Central Asia.

☞ Lorenzo Lane attempted to commit suicide in Boston on Tuesday, with an awl and a chisel. He inflicted sixty wounds in the region of the heart, some of which were thought to be of a fatal character.

The new, fast-sailing, and beautiful Pilot Boat ONWARD, built in 1862 by George E. Preble, and now being rigged and fitted for the business, will be ready at all times to accommodate large or small parties in special trips to and from the Shoals, or in fishing excursions on the Pilot's cruising ground. Portsmouth, N. H.

SATURDAY, JUNE 21, 1862.

N. H. LEGISLATURE.

WEDNESDAY.—The Senate passed the bill relating to the compensation of jailers. By the bill as amended, $2 per week is allowed for the board of prisoners, when the number is less than six, $1.87 1-2 when between six and twelve, and $1.75 when more than twelve. The bill relating to the residence of Treasurers of Railroads was taken from the table, amended and passed.

In the House, petitions were presented for a bird law, and for a tax upon dogs.—The Committee on Military Affairs, to whom was referred so much of the Governor's Message as relates to the organization of the militia of the State, offered their report, accompanied by a bill. The report says:—

The absence of all arms from the arsenals of the State, is to the committee an important fact in considering the revival of the general system of twenty-five years ago. There must be nearly, if not quite, 40,000 men, including our forces in the field, liable to do duty, and the procurement, either by private individual purchase, or by application from the State Treasury, of arms for this force, would necessitate an expenditure of $400,000, estimating the arms at $10 each—an outlay which seems to your committee too heavy to be incurred. The prompt and thorough enrolment of those liable to do military duty, to be made under sufficient penalties, together with enactments for their immediate organization, in case of public exigency; and the complete equipment of a smaller body, well officered, uniformed and drilled, which shall form a nucleus for speedy enlargement if required, and be ready at all times to respond to the calls upon the State, seems to your committee the only feasible method to meet the present exigency.

The bill, accompanying the report, was laid on the table, and ordered to be printed. The petition of Charles H. Chase and 208 others of Portsmouth, for the repeal of the act relating to school committees in this city was referred to the delegation from the city, of Portsmouth. A resolution was adopted that a committee of one from each county, with such as the Senate may join, be appointed to consider the report of the Quartermaster General in relation to repairs upon the arsenal at Portsmouth, and, if necessary, to visit said arsenal, and report upon the necessity for another arsenal in the State. A bill was reported as a substitute for the existing statute authorizing cities and towns to aid the families of volunteers. It provides that cities and towns shall raise the money necessary to assist the families and dependants of volunteers; that assistance shall be rendered only from the time of mustering into the service of the United States. That adopted children may be relieved. That the families of inhabitants heretofore enlisted in regiments from other States may be relieved, who do not receive aid from such other State. That expenditures for families of commissioned officers shall not be reimbursed by the State. That relief shall be afforded only when it is imperatively demanded by the circumstances of the case and can be afforded in no other way.

OAKSMITH, THE SLAVE TRADER.—Oaksmith is a son of Seba Smith, of Maine, author of the Jack Downing letters,—his mother being Mrs. Elizabeth Oakes Smith, a lady of literary note. The children combined the names of the parents into the name of Oaksmith. This defendant was once a shipmaster on the coast of Africa, and afterwards went to California and Central America, then published a magazine in New York, called the "Great Republic," and other literary works, and lately had been a broker.

AT NEW ORLEANS, June 2, Wm. B. Mumford was hung for lowering down the United States flag, on the Mint. He was hung on the same building.

A rebel named Wm. T. Hunter, at New Orleans, shaved a slave girl's head, whipped her savagely, and then washed her back with brine, because he supposed she had told of concealed arms in his house. Complaint was made; Hunter came before Gen. Butler for trial,—and was sent to Fort Jackson, and told to behave himself, otherwise the officers must whip him, and then bathe his back in brine.

Nearly 1000 contrabands are quartered in the New Orleans Custom House.

☞ A Court of Inquiry is now sitting at the Brooklyn Navy Yard, consisting of Com. Radford and Lieut. Flagg, to inquire into the conduct of Acting Master Stone, charged with having given up the prize ship Emily St. Pierre, of which he was commander, to an inferior force without any resistance.—The defence set up is that the vessel was sent away from the fleet without the necessary arms for an emergency.

☞ A Dental practitioner writes us in deprecation of the too frequent use of charcoal in any form, on the teeth and gums; as while it cleans the teeth, it injures the gums by making them soft and flabby, and loosens and often loses the teeth. He recommends tincture of myrrh as a wash.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

—— The most valuable military property of the State is as follows: 8 brass cannon, six-pounders; 3 four-pounders; 960 Windsor rifles; 42 percussion rifles; 1685 percussion muskets; 77 pistols; 171 sabres and belts; 50 artillery swords and belts.

—— The legislative delegation from Hillsborough county are quite excited in reference to the proposed removal of the courts and county offices from Amherst to Nashua and Manchester. A lively contest is looked for in this direction.

—— The Concord correspondent of the Manchester Mirror gives a full account of a recent visit to the Sunday school of the convicts at the State Prison. There are 112 prisoners, and about one-half of the number attend the school. He says:

"Among those who paid good attention to the exercises was Cornelius Haskell, a mulatto, who cruelly and inhumanly murdered a Mr. Washer at Warner, and afterwards cut the body in pieces, about five years ago. William Trask, of Swanzey, another noticeable convict, reads the Old and New Testaments through every year. Another attentive Sabbath School pupil is Amasa E. Brown, of Berkshire, Vt., serving a three years' term for burglary. He has had quite an experience in institutions of reform, and this is his second term in our prison. When he left, about three years since, he told Warden Fox that he wished to enter the Methodist Institute, and prepare for preaching the gospel, remarking (we think in good faith) that he believed his reform was thorough. He went down into the city, got intoxicated, and passed his first night in the lock-up. For some crime he spent a year in Sing Sing, N. Y., came back to New Hampshire, again committed burglary, and is now passing his time in our prison, apparently quite pleasantly. He has said nothing recently about studying for the ministry. Another convict, with a frank and pleasant countenance, is R. S. Richardson, from Rockingham county, under sentence of thirty years for poisoning Mr. Healy. He readily obeys all orders, and has never given the overseers a particle of trouble. Certainly he is not naturally depraved. A very eccentric prisoner is John Emmons, of Alexandria. He was incarcerated for obtaining money under false pretences. There is evidently a 'screw loose' in his mental organization. He seems to consider it no disgrace, but rather an honor, to be allowed to remain in the institution. He is an easy writer, and pens on an average 250 letters per year. Some of them are quite lengthy, and several have been published. During the past twelve months he has read 40,000 pages. Many of the prisoners' cells are nicely arranged with books, papers, and pictures of loved ones."

—— On Monday night, the engineer of a freight train from Laconia, discovered a man lying across the track, but too late to stop the train. The cow-catcher hit his head and shoulders, and knocked him entirely off the track down the embankment. The train was immediately stopped to pick up the dead man, as no ordinary individual could be expected to survive such an encounter. But not so with this "contraband," as he proved to be, for when the men took hold of him to raise him up, he jumped up as kinky as ever, and to all appearances uninjured. He had received no injury except a slight scratch upon his arm.

—— The position of Chaplain of the 6th New Hampshire regiment has been tendered to Rev. J. A. Hamilton of Keene, who accepts the appointment. The present chaplain, Rev. Mr. Stinson, has resigned, his resignation to take effect about the middle of July.

—— The Claremont Manufacturing Co. is making steel pens in great numbers.

☞ E. D. Plumb, bearer of ratified copies of the postal convention and extradition treaty with Mexico, is in Washington.—The news of the defeat of the French at Puebla, is fully confirmed, but the report that the Mexicans outnumbered the French is untrue, as the contrary was the case.—The Mexicans valiantly repulsed the French in three determined charges, forcing the latter to retire to Orizaba, where they were closely hemmed in by the Mexicans.

☞ The garrison of New Orleans consists of the 9th and 12th Connecticut, 26th and 52d Massachusetts, 8th New Hampshire, 12th and 13th Maine Volunteers, three divisions of cavalry, and several batteries. These troops are bivouacing in the streets and squares of the city, and not allowed to leave certain districts except on business or leave of absence, which is rarely given.

☞ In Deerfield, Mass., on the 16th inst., the wife of Deacon D. W. Childs was attacked by a cow having a young calf, and she now lies in a critical condition. At the first plunge the cow threw her five or six feet into the air with her horns. Had not her husband been near at hand, the animal would have torn her to pieces.

☞ An officer in the blockading squadron off Charleston states that Capt. Mourland, of the Cambria, lately captured by the gunboat Huron, while trying to run the blockade, was formerly second officer of the Cunard steamer Arabia. He was to receive ten thousand dollars if he succeeded in running the vessel into Charleston.

☞ A bill to repeal the personal liberty law of Wisconsin was passed by the Assembly of that State on the 13th inst., by a vote of 51 ayes to 25 nays.

THE REBELLION.

Cumberland Gap has been evacuated by the rebels, and is now held by Union troops under Gen. Geo. W. Morgan. Gen. Morgan praises the conduct of his division in his arduous march through an extremely difficult country. He says that his cannon were dragged up the precipitous side of the Pine and Cumberland mountains by the aid of block and tackle, 200 men being employed upon the ropes of a single piece.—The rebel force has been withdrawn to defend Chattanooga against the attack of Gen. Mitchell.

15,000 Union troops are to be raised in Tennessee for service in the State. Several leading Unionists are engaged in the work. Union meetings have been held in Smith, De Kalb and Gill counties, Tenn. The clergy of Nashville have been required to take the oath of allegiance.

The Buffalo Commercial says there can be longer any doubt that at last Gen. McClellan has been generously reinforced.—The Pennsylvania reserve, 8000 strong, is now with him, so are ten regiments which have during most of the year been in the neighborhood of Newport News, Old Point, &c., and so also is McDowell's corps, at least 30,000 strong. In addition to all this, the Syracuse Journal says it has positive information that several N. Y. regiments, including the 10th and 101st regiments, with others, have joined Gen. McClellan's forces within ten days.

Collisions between the Unionists and rebels in Norfolk and Portsmouth are frequent.

There was much skirmishing in front of the army of the Potomac, on Wednesday, the rebels having assumed a more menacing attitude, apparently seeking to bring on a general engagement in front of their works, in order to draw our troops within range of their batteries.

S. J. COURT—JUNE TERM.—The Law Term of this Court for the First Judicial District commenced in Exeter on Tuesday, the 17th inst.

Present, Chief Justice Bell, and Associate Justices Sargeant, Bellows and Doe.

There are 12 actions upon the Carroll Docket, 3 in Strafford, and 88 upon the Docket of Rockingham county.

The following divorces have been decreed upon the Rockingham Docket:

Thos. Boardman and Harriet S. Boardman.

Lydia L. Dearborn and Josiah Dearborn.

Abby A. Burnham and Abraham Burnham.

Ann M. Meade and John Meade.—Ballot.

☞ The steamship Glasgow, from Liverpool, has arrived at New York. A Queenstown dispatch of the 5th states that the steamer Columbia, from Hamburg for Nassau, with a cargo of arms and ammunition for the rebels, put into Plymouth, the crew having mutinied. The authorities were investigating the matter.

☞ The Albany Argus is our authority for the statement that "of the 10,000 free Blacks [in New Orleans] 8000 are Mulattoes." We doubt that a like evidence of amalgamation can be found in the case of any free city on earth.

☞ Friday, June 20th, completed the twenty-fifth year of the reign of Victoria, Queen of Great Britain.

THE ATLANTIC MONTHLY, for July, is issued. It commences the tenth volume.

TO THE CITIZENS OF PORTSMOUTH.

The proprietors of the "Historic Mirror of the War," now on exhibition, deem it necessary to inform the public that every effort has been made to procure accurate and truthful sketches of all the principal events and incidents of

THIS GREAT REBELLION.

Messrs. Pearson, the well-known Artists of New York city, assisted by several of the leading Artists of the day, have succeeded in representing on canvas the great historical events of the times, and at a very large expense they have placed before the public not only a most correct and truthful representation of these exciting scenes, but by all pronounced in every respect

A WORK OF ART.

The unseemly doubt which are generally produced for public inspection under the name of Panoramas, have, in a great measure, shaken the confidence of the people; consequently, when a meritorious work is offered to their notice, it is frequently condemned without being seen. It is necessary, therefore, to inform all classes that this Panorama has met with the most unbounded success, having been exhibited within the past few months to no less than 125,000 SPECTATORS.

This being its first exhibition in this city, the proprietors would inform the citizens that they intend exhibiting it every evening for one week, relying upon its intrinsic merits to create the same enthusiastic patronage which its stay in any other city has never failed to produce. June21

THE CHRONICLE.—Something more than ten years ago, on the 11th of June, 1852, we issued the Prospectus for The Daily Morning Chronicle—the which we are reminded of by seeing a copy of that to us important document, to-day. On reading it over once more, we may say that whether or no we have succeeded in fulfilling all we therein promised ourselves and the public to attempt, yet "the public" (our patrons) have done for us more than we asked or expected, as is shown by our long-continued and ever-increasing success.

☞ Collections are announced to be taken up to-morrow, in some of the churches in this city, for the benefit of the sick and wounded soldiers in the Hospitals,—to be expended under the direction of the Sanitary Commission. From an article in the Boston Advertiser in relation to the Commission we extract the following:—

The heavy work of the Commission, that in which it will save for us the greatest amount of suffering and of life, is now fairly under way. The wounded men to be cared for, removed and nursed, are now numbered, not by scores and hundreds, but by thousands. They fall in a district where from local causes recovery under any circumstances is not speedy, while in the army hospitals in that region wounds are said to scarcely heal at all. The men must be removed to more favorable quarters to save them. The Sanitary Commission has its steamers lying in the York river, supplied with nurses and hospital stores of all sorts; its agents are on the ground working indefatigably, and every day receive and send North our wounded soldiers, provided for and watched over with such tender care as moves the roughest of those unfortunate men to tears of gratitude.

The Sanitary Commission supplies the care of nurses, who serve, not for pay, but from purely humane motives,—and the thousand comforts suggested by such eager benevolence and denied by no regulations. In short the whole system on which the Commission proceeds, gives the wounded man a new chance for life, the value of which a grateful country will appreciate when it finds how many thousands of cases there are in which this chance is the turning-point between life and death. The Commission which is performing such a work for the country, should not appeal in vain for public aid. Contributions should flow in to the utmost extent of its wants, the instant its call for aid is sent forth.

☞ A beautiful flowering tree,—the finest of the species we ever saw,—is that in front of Mr. Marsh's residence, on State street, now in full and fragrant bloom.

A rich and rare tree is the red-leaved beech, in Mr. A. H. Hill's garden, on Mason Hill. The only original tree of this species known, is said to be in the robber-infested Black Forest of Germany—whence many shoots have been taken. The leaves are of a very dark reddish brown all summer, and turn to a green shade in Autumn. We are also glad to notice that Mr. Hill has in bloom an offshoot of the large and elegant golden laburnum tree, which for many years delighted all passers by his premises, but which was winter-killed.

☞ We understand that the rate of city taxation in Portsmouth this year will be 96 cts. per $100; a trifle inside of 1 per cent, —which is a single mill more on the dollar than last year, and considerably less than it will be when the U. S. taxes are rated.

It appears by a statement made in the Board of Aldermen, that the amount of the valuation of taxable property in Portsmouth is $6,158,502.

☞ Capt. John Murray, of Co. D, Fifth N. H. Regiment, who was reported wounded at the battle of Fair Oaks, arrived at his home in Newcastle on Saturday last. He had been sick with fever for some weeks, and left his bed for the field of battle, where he was sustained during the greater part of the fight by the excitement of the occasion, but was at last supported from the field completely exhausted, though without a wound.

☞ One of our townsmen, in the 2d N. H. Regiment, Mr. Freeman B. Teague, son of Mr. John Teague, is missing. A little more than a week ago he was on picket duty near Richmond, and has not been seen or heard from since. It is supposed that he was taken prisoner by rebel scouts.

☞ Lieut. Reed Worden has been ordered to report to Capt. Pearson, at the Portsmouth Navy Yard, for command of the gunboat Conemough; Lieut. R. W. Meade, Jr., and Acting Master W. A. Stapleford are ordered to the same vessel.

☞ The 21st of June, 1812, was the wedding day of a couple in our city, who this day (Saturday) arrive at the fiftieth anniversary of that event: the golden period which should not and will not be passed unnoticed by the numerous friends of JONATHAN MORRISON, Esq., and lady. May they enjoy another similar term, and never grow old.

☞ At the citizens' meeting on Friday evening, a general plan for the celebration of the 4th of July was proposed, and committees were appointed to raise funds, &c. The plan proposed is one that, fully carried out, would ensure an appropriate and attractive public celebration, at comparatively little expense.

GOING, GOING, GOING.—Pearson's Great Mirror of the War, now making such an excitement in our city, will positively close to night, and we cannot prevail on them to stay longer, as their engagements in other places must be fulfilled. Last night and also night before, hundreds were turned away from the Temple, unable to gain admittance in consequence of the immense crowd that had assembled at an early hour. There was not even standing room. The disappointed ones we shall not have to caution to go early to get a seat, for we know they will be on hand. The popularity so suddenly acquired by this exhibition is well deserved. The painting is magnificent, excelling anything we ever witnessed, and as the glowing descriptions were given by Mr. Somerby, the vast concourse of spectators burst into renewed and vehement applause. The last exhibition for children will take place this afternoon, children admitted for six cents. Bear this in mind, to-night closes this exhibition. june21

THE GREAT REBELLION.—To-morrow (Sunday) Mr. Somerby, the eloquent delineator of the Mirror of the War which has been on exhibition during the past week at the Temple, will deliver a lecture on the subject of the Great Rebellion, at that place, at 8 o'clock. This exhibition has had a remarkable "run" here, and the crowded houses it has drawn, show that its merits are fully appreciated by the public. In regard to the proposed lecture to-morrow evening, those who have already heard Mr. Somerby explain the paintings can estimate for themselves the value of the treat they may expect. The subject itself is vast enough for a dozen lectures, with even Mr. S. to deliver them. June 21

☞ Rev. C. C. Shackford, of Lynn, Mass., will preach at the Unitarian Church to-morrow.

Rev. T. C. Moulton, of New Bedford, will preach at the Christian Church, Court street.

☞ The Board of Aldermen, on Thursday evening, authorized the Mayor to overdraw $2000, in addition to $10,000 already overdrawn, to meet the school teachers' salaries, &c., which become due before the year's tax can be collected.

☞ Don't fail to look at the Auction advertisements, and the goods of all sorts at auction, this morning.

SUMMER SOLISTICE.—This day, Saturday, June 21, is the longest in the year.

Barnum's Dog Show at the Aquarial Gardens in Boston is attracting attention.—There are more than a thousand pups, from twelve different States, of every size, color and species. It is seriously proposed to withdraw the slavery question from the Congress at Washington and refer it to this Congress of curs, that they may have their day in barking at it.—Newburyport Herald.

☞ Mathews' Arnica Hair Gloss. The Arnica Montana, from which this invaluable preparation derives its name, is a perennial plant, a native of the mountains of Siberia. From it is obtained an oil which has been discovered to be the most powerful remedy for allaying and removing inflammation known to pharmacy. This oil, combined with other tried ingredients, forms the Arnica Hair Gloss. June.1 1md

A Real and Great Improvement
IN HORSE SHOES.

S. W. WEBBER,
Blacksmith and Horse-Shoer,
NO 80 STATE STREET, Portsmouth,

Has purchased the sole right to manufacture and use

Cate's Patent Grooved Horse Shoes.

in this city and vicinity; and is prepared to furnish and set the same, at the regular prices for other Shoes, (except for steel Shoes, which are 25 cts. extra), and warrant them to give full satisfaction in all cases. The improvement consists in the nails being set in a steel groove which protects the heads, and the Shoe being concave on both the upper and under sides, so as to be much lighter, to hold on better, and afford a good purchase for the horse without corks, except on very hard ice.

These Shoes are peculiarly favorable for tender or bad feet, quarter cracks, interfering, overreaching, &c.; and gentlemen who have been troubled with their horses, and the public generally, are invited to call and examine the same, and give them a trial.

Any other pattern of Shoe will be put on, to suit customers, as usual; and BLACKSMITH JOBBING generally attended to. S. W. WEBBER.

"MAGEE'S PATENT"

VENTILATING & AIR WARMING

FURNACES.

The subscribers, being the Sole Agents in this vicinity for the manufacture and sale of this valuable Furnace, would ask those about remodelling or erecting buildings to examine this truly valuable invention.

For economy, purity of air and ease of management it has no equal, producing a current of warm air, moist and agreeable;—and as none of the air which comes in contact with the fire-pot is used for respiration, the tendency to produce headache so much complained of in other Furnaces, is entirely obviated.

The objects aimed at by the constructors of heating apparatus have been to obtain the greatest amount of heat from a given amount of fuel, and to prevent the escape of heat to the smoke pipe or chimney.

To accomplish this many complicated and expensive heating arrangements have been constructed, some possessing but little improvement over former methods, while many have proved a total failure. The reason for this is obvious. The combustible gases being lighter than the air, pass off into the pipe or chimney without being consumed. This objection, so common in other Furnaces, is obviated in the

MAGEE FURNACE.

The flue or pipe in this Furnace being below the fire-pot, the gases, from their specific gravity, cannot descend, and are burned up by the admission of cold air through the fire-pot, which ignites them as they pass off from the coal, thus saving at least 20 per cent. of the properties of the best in the fuel.

No heating apparatus with the smoke-pipe or flue on the top of the cone can be made to consume the gases of the coal, as they pass off with a large amount of the heat generated, making the chimney the hottest part of your dwelling.

This Furnace does away with the great number of pipes and angles for the radiation of heat, which are so liable to fill up and get out of order, thus simplifying, while it increases the surface of radiation.

These Furnaces consume all the coal, make no clinkers, the sifting of coal is entirely dispensed with, and they will save from 30 to 50 per cent. of fuel over common Furnaces.

For ease of management, economy and purity of air, these Furnaces have no equal. They can be regulated so as to give any amount of heat required, and the fire may be kept the entire season without once going out.

They give entire satisfaction wherever used. We have in store the different sizes, Brick and Portable, to which we invite the attention of those in want of the best Furnace in the world,—and would refer them to the following named gentlemen, who have them now in use:

Samuel Cleaves, Esq., Albert E. Hatch, Esq.,
Aaron H. Hill, Charles H. Mendum,

MATHEWS' Arnica HAIR GLOSS

This is a new and invaluable preparation for preserving and beautifying the hair.

The wonderful virtues of Arnica in allaying and removing inflammation are universally known.

ARNICA HAIR GLOSS is a combination of these virtues, with other tried and excellent ingredients.

ARNICA HAIR GLOSS stimulates and invigorates the hair, prevents it from falling out—restores it when lost—promotes its growth and strength—renders it proof against all disease.

ARNICA HAIR GLOSS permanently cures all irritations and eruptions of the scalp, and makes it healthy and fertile. For the removal of dandruff it has no equal. Its operations in this particular are magical and permanent

ARNICA HAIR GLOSS is unequalled as a hair-dressing compound. It not only cleanses the scalp and invigorates the hair, but it renders the latter charmingly soft and lustrous. Its odor is particularly delicate and fragrant—the proprietor having taken especial pains to secure this result.

ARNICA HAIR GLOSS is the very best preparation for the hair ever discovered.

ARNICA HAIR GLOSS, notwithstanding its surpassing merits—is retailed at only Twenty-five cents a bottle, by all Druggists.

INDIA TRADE.—The Post says fourteen ships from Calcutta will arrive at Boston in July and August. Several others are also loading at Calcutta, making in all about twenty ships for Boston sailing in March and April. In addition to these there will be probably ten more ships from Manila, Batavia and Penang. This looks well for the city. Calcutta vessels pay good freights.

THE COURSE OF EVENTS.—A Washington correspondent says that a Colonel of a New York regiment, lately sent into Virginia, a Tammany Hall democrat, has just returned to Washington, declaring in favor of the confiscation of rebel property and the emancipation of their negroes. This seems to be the tendency in all divisions of the army and among the people also.—Newburyport Herald.

A VALUABLE SHEEP.—Mr. Samuel Haley, of Lewiston, Me., has a Dutch Imported Sheep, one year old last March. It had a lamb which weighed when two months old, 54 lbs. The first fleece taken off this year weighed 13 1-4 lbs. The wool was nine and a half inches long.

☞ George, son of John Gordon, Anson, Me., 13 years old, while driving a horse to harrow, on Tuesday week last, was kicked by the horse on the head, fracturing the skull so that nine pieces of bone were taken therefrom. The boy is still alive.

PURE OLD BOURBON WHISKEY.

Correspondence between some of the most eminent physicians of New York and Brooklyn, and WM. J. CUTTER, JR., Louisville, Ky:

NEW YORK May 1, 1861.

Mr. WM. T. CUTTER, Jr., Louisville, Ky.:

Dear Sir:—The great difficulty experienced in procuring Brandy sufficiently pure for medicinal purposes, has induced many of the physicians of this vicinity to adopt Bourbon Whiskey as a substitute, both in the hospitals and private practice, and, since the latter has come into such general use, we have reason to believe that a great deal now sold is of very inferior quality.

Assuming that your residence in the vicinity of the manufacture of Whiskey in Kentucky, as well as your skill as a chemist, will enable you to select a purpose, we indeed having full confidence in your integrity, we are led to inquire whether you will not aid us in having this market supplied, through an agency, with the great quality of Pure Old Bourbon Whiskey for the use of the sick.

We are, very respectfully, sir, yours truly,

Drs. VALENTINE MOTT, Willard Parker & others.

Gentlemen:—Your letter of May 1st, has been received. In accordance with your wishes, I have made arrangements to supply your city and vicinity with a pure article of copper distilled Bourbon Whiskey, and trust will fully meet the requirements of your letter. Thanking you for your kind expressions of confidence, &c.,

I remain, very respectfully, yours,
WM. T. CUTTER, Jr.

We, the Physicians of Portsmouth, having full confidence in the integrity of D. H. AMBROSE, recommend him as a suitable person to sell OLD BOURBON WHISKEY in Portsmouth, for medicinal purposes, in accordance with an arrangement made between the New York Physicians and Wm. T. Cutter, Jr., of Louisville, Ky., and a similar agreement between and Cutter and the Physicians of Boston.

SPEER'S SAMBUCI WINE

PURE AND FOUR YEARS OLD,

OF CHOICE OPORTO FRUIT,

For Physicians' Use.

FEMALES, WEAKLY PERSONS, INVALIDS.

SAMBUCUS TREE. OF PORTUGAL,

Every Family should use the SAMBUCI WINE celebrated in Europe for its medicinal and beneficial qualities as a gentle Stimulant, Tonic, Diuretic and Sudorific, highly esteemed by eminent physicians, used in European and American Hospitals, and by some of the first families in Europe and America.

AS A DIURETIC, it imparts a healthy action to the Glands and Kidneys, and Urinary Organs, very beneficial in Dropsy, Gout and Rheumatic Affections.

SPEER'S SAMBUCI WINE is not a mixture or manufactured article, but is pure from the juice of the Portugal Sambucus, cultivated in New Jersey, recommended by Chemists and Physicians as possessing medical properties superior to any other Wines in use, and an excellent article for all weak and debilitated persons, and the aged and infirm, improving the appetite, and benefitting ladies and children.

A LADIES' WINE, because it will not intoxicate as other wines, as it contains no mixture of spirits or other liquors, and is admired for its rich, peculiar flavor and nutritive properties, imparting a healthy tone to the digestive organs, and a blooming, soft and healthy skin and complexion.

WE REFER TO

Daily Morning Chronicle

VOL. 20. PORTSMOUTH, N. H. MONDAY, JUNE 23, 1862. NO. 119.

The Chronicle.

☞ On the 5th inst., two little boys seven or eight years old, were in a freight car at the Milwaukee and Prairie du Chien depot at Milwaukee, when some one came along and closed it, without knowing they were there. The train started before they had time to make a noise, and they were taken through to Prairie du Chien in total darkness, and without a thing to eat or drink for about fifteen hours. When the car was opened they jumped out and took the back track on the clean run, but were stopped at Bridgeport, about six miles from Prairie du Chien, given something to eat and put aboard a train for home.

☞ The Provincial Parliament of Canada have declared by a majority vote, which defeated the ministry and induced their resignation, that there is no requirement for an organized militia, nor for training, arms or armories for a militia;—and the majority, in thus voting, have given great offense to all those who sympathized with the South in its rebellion against our government.

☞ A Scotch paper says that Queen Victoria seems to be enjoying and benefitting by her sojourn at her favorite Highland home. Though more retired than in former times, the Queen takes daily out-door excursions, and has visited most of the residents upon the estate of Balmoral, and also a few of those upon the estate of Abergeldie. The Princesses and their attendants are out driving or riding frequently.

☞ The Nashville Union is satisfied that the leading rebels of that city design some mischief. For some days they have been throwing out dark hints about a rebel expedition on Murfreesboro', and predicting the recapture of Nashville. The Union calls for the arrest of certain known influential secesshers there. "Strike down the tall poppies," it says.

A letter from a lady in Lawrence, Kansas, says:—"The contrabands are very numerous here and make some laughable displays of gratitude to those to whom they suppose themseves indebted for their liberty. One of them a girl, who washes for me, has named herself Sarah Jenison Montgomery Jim Lane."

☞ The subject of uniting the provinces of New Brunswick and Nova Scotia under one Government is now being discussed by the parties concerned, who are in general favorable to the measure. The two provinces united would comprise an area of thirty millions of acres and a population of 580,000 souls.

☞ The last advices from Europe bring intelligence of the death of Henry Thomas Buckle, the distinguished writer of "The History of Civilization." He was travelling in the East for his health, and his death occurred at Damascus, on the 31st of May. He was born in 1822.

A HARDY PRINCE.—The Prince of Wales, in Egypt, has shown himself to possess qualities worthy of a true traveller.—He travels without pretension, walks a good deal, rolls up his trousers, and wades from the boats to the shore of the Nile, when most of his suite are carried on the backs of the natives.

A much larger breath of land than usual has been put under cultivation this season in all the region between the Kennebec and the Penobscot waters, particularly near the sea shore. Farmers there are engaged in hoeing their corn which looks well. The fruit trees all promise a splendid crop.—Kennebec Journal.

☞ Congress has inquired why the Prize Courts of New York and Philadelphia do not take action toward condemning some of the rebel vessels which have been captured. The result of the inquiry may produce facts of a startling character.

☞ An Austrian by the name of Kalab, a clerk in the Vienna post office, through many years of letter-stealing, succeeded in purloining some one hundred thousand letters, more than sixty-two thousand of which were found in his possession upon the occasion of his arrest.

NO. 31 DANIEL STREET.
Portsmouth, April 25, 1862.

☞ ATTENTION, THE WHOLE! ☜
PORTSMOUTH, April 21st, 1862.
I have for several years been afflicted with distress at my stomach, loss of appetite, and often vomited up all of my food immediately after eating it, and all medicine failed to give any relief until about a year ago, when I took one bottle of DR. S. SWETT'S PANACEA, which fully cured me, so that I have not had the least trouble from any of those complaints since, and I enjoy good health. M. LOWD.
Exeter, Feb. 24, 1863. Dr Swett:—"Sir, for the benefit of those who are afflicted as I have been, with a humor, which prevented quiet rest night and day, I would say, that your PANACEA has effected a radical cure on me; and would add—that by the use of it my health has been greatly improved; therefore, I cheerfully recommend it as superior to any other medicine I ever used for humors and consumptive complaints."
WM. P. LEAVITT.
From ELDER I CHESLEY, Lee, May 31, 1841.
DR. SWETT: Permit me to testify, as I feel in duty bound to do, that my daughter was afflicted with scrofulous humor, and that previous to your visiting our house in the spring of 1840, she had been confined for a number of months, without her natural rest by day or night. She had applied to a number of physicians, but continued to grow weaker till she commenced using your PANACEA and HUMOR WASH. Since then she has recovered her health so far as to rest quietly by night, and labor by day. I esteem your medicine one of the best that can be found for the disease above named." ISRAEL CHESLEY
☞ Any one returning the remainder of a bottle or box of Dr. Swett's medicine shall have pay for it, if they do not agree with his case, or if not worth the price. All orders directed to DR. S. SWETT, Portsmouth, N. H., promptly attended to. may 29d

MONDAY, JUNE 23, 1862.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

—— The Third and Fourth N. H. Regiments, which have remained at Port Royal and vicinity since their departure from the State, are among the troops who are advancing against Charleston.

—— Major Josiah Stevens, of the 2d Regiment, promoted to be Lieut. Colonel of the 9th, has not yet accepted the appointment. He has signified his intention to lay the matter before Gen. Hooker, and act according to his wishes. The Major, with Lieut. Col. Fiske, has made the 2d Regiment pre-eminently serviceable; and now that Lieut. Col. F. is obliged to leave the Regiment for a time on account of sickness, the services of Major Stevens have been in demand. No braver or more self-possessed officer serves in the army than he.

—— In the case of Wm. Perry, in equity vs. John Davis, of Hooksett, in the U. S. Circuit Court in Boston, on Friday, John Davis, an old man, upwards of sixty, refused to execute a deed, according to the decree of the Court, and was ordered to jail for contempt, where he lies to await a change in his temper, or a change in the temper of the Court, the latter not at all likely.

—— On Thursday evening about eight o'clock, two boys, Frank Moore, 16 years old, and Calvin Dodge, 15 years old, went into the Merrimac River, four miles below Manchester, on the Bedford side, and were drowned.

—— The Seventh N. H. Regiment, Col. Putnam, for a long time pining at Tortugas for scenes of warlike activity, have been ordered to Stono Inlet, opposite Charleston. The steamer Ericcson was sent for them two weeks ago, and probably by this time they have reached the Inlet.

—— At a recent meeting of the Belknap County Agricultural Society, it was voted to have a Fair on the 24th and 25th of September.

—— The Company which has left Dartmouth College to join the R. I. Cavalry, included three students from Bowdoin, Oliver W. Davis, Jr. of Great Falls being one of them.

N. H. LEGISLATURE.

THURSDAY.—The Senate passed the act authorizing the Eastern Railroad in New Hampshire and the Eastern Railroad Co. in Massachusetts to unite and form one corporation, under the name of the Eastern Railroad Company. Also, a resolution authorizing assistance to the Sanitary Commission, in aid of returning volunteers.

In the House was presented and referred a petition for an act to incorporate the Steam Mill Company of South Hampton. Also, the petition of Ichabod Goodwin and 274 others of Portsmouth, praying for a law for the protection of birds; and a petition of 400 scholars of the public schools of this city, for the same. Application was made for a Bank at Claremont to be called the Bank of Sullivan County. A bill was reported for a tax on dogs. It provides for a tax of $1 on each male dog and $3 on each female dog, all dogs not licensed, to be killed: also that the owner of sheep or lambs killed by dogs shall be paid the amount of damage by the city or town in which they reside, the city or town to recover the same, in an action of tort, from the owner of the dog. The Committee of elections, to whom was referred the remonstrance of George W. DeRochemont against the right of Nathaniel P. Coleman to a seat in the House from the town of Newington, reported a resolution un-seating Mr. Coleman, on the ground that he was not legally elected. After some discussion the report was recommitted to the Committee, with instructions to report the facts in case. The bill in relation to the Naturalization Law was recommitted to the Committee on the Judiciary, with instructions to report the same in a new draft, providing for the repeal of the laws in different sections, so that the repeal of those regarding the jurisdiction of naturalization, shall be embraced in one section, and the repeal of the limitation of thirty days now existing be provided for in a separate section.

☞ Gen. McClellan has issued a humane order forbidding all fast driving of horses and mules, except in cases of necessity. Trains will not move faster than a walk, except under written orders to the officer or wagon master in charge. Officers sending mounted messengers with despatches which are to be carried at a faster pace than a walk, will indicate on the envelope the gait the messenger is to take, whether a trot or a gallop. The General has named his headquarters Camp Lincoln.

☞ In the U. S. Senate, on Friday, the Pacific Railroad bill being under consideration, a motion to strike out the section providing four branch lines from the Eastern terminus was rejected. The bill was then read a third time and passed—35 yeas, nays5.

THE REBELLION.

Gen. Lewis Wallace has resumed command of Memphis.

Gen. Shields has concentrated all his troops at Strasburg. Ewell is now believed to occupy Suray with a heavy force.—Gen. Fremont was about to advance to Newmarket, opposite the Gap, which leads to Suray. Jackson is believed to have a large force of light troops at Harrisonburg, and another force at Port Republic. Prisoners report White, with 1500 men, within supporting distance of Port Republic.

The pursuit of Beauregard's army is not to be continued. A private letter states that Gen. Buell has started with his whole army for East Tennessee, via Huntsville.

The reported surrender of Fort Morgan at Mobile was incorrect.

On the 18th inst., the enemy, 30,000 strong, was in line of battle before Gen. Hooker's advanced posts. In the afternoon of the same day the Mass. 16th encountered the rebel pickets in the wood, in front of Gen. Casey's old camping ground, and drove their whole picket line in a half a mile.

Col. Ellet, of the Ram fleet, died at Cairo, on Saturday morning, from a wound received in the engagement before Memphis.

12,000 of Beauregard's men are at Mobile. Fort Morgan has been strengthened. The towns on the west coast of Florida have been re-occupied by the rebels in larger numbers than heretofore. Our troops are erecting fortifications near Pensacola to protect it against the rebels.

Beauregard's army at last accounts was at Okolona, 80,000 strong. Kirby Smith was at Chattanooga with 20,000, Price at Fulton with 15,000, and Van Dorn, with a small cavalry force, at Granada.

A rebel battery, at St. Charles, Ark., 85 miles above the mouth of White river, was captured by a Union force from Memphis, on the 17th, the rebels being driven out at the point of the bayonet. Four Union gunboats were engaged, one of which—the Mound City—was blown up, a ball entering her boiler. Her crew numbered 175, and it is said 125 were killed or wounded. The rebel loss was 125 killed and wounded, and 30 prisoners.

The rebel papers confirm the report of the evacuation of Granada, Miss. Beauregard and Price have both gone to Richmond,—she latter, it is said, to tender his resignation.

☞ The wound received by Gen. Joseph E. Johnston at the battle of Fair Oaks appears to have been much more severe than was at first reported. An Atlanta, Ga., paper publishes an extract of a letter, dated June 2, from a young lady in Richmond, in which the writer gives this account of the matter:—"Gen. Johnston was wounded by a minie ball in the shoulder. The ball passed down his back, and has not been found yet. At about the same time, a spent shell struck him in the breast. He fell from his horse and broke two of his ribs; so, of course, he suffers very much. I spent all day yesterday with him. To-day he is much better, although the ball has not yet been extracted."

CONNECTICUT COFFEE.—Look out for Hartford coffee. The proprietors of the park in Hartford have recently been striving to eradicate the dock that grows there, and a man has bought up the dock roots to make coffee of them.

☞ The North Bridgewater Gazette learns that Mr. Harrison Rogers disposed of a horse in New York last week for $2500, that trotted a mile to wagon in 2.32 1-2; and Mr. William L. Field, one for $800, that trotted a mile to harness in 2.41.

☞ The brig Harriet arrived at Boston, on Friday, from Surinam, having on board James Lyons, the Master's Mate, of the famous privateer Sumter. He came ashore in the Custom House boat, and immediately on landing was taken into custody by an officer from the U. S. Marshal's office.—The rebel culprit had assumed the name of Smith. He was conveyed to the Jail to await legal examination.

☞ The people of Fall River are discussing the propriety of dispensing with the usual Sabbath forenoon preaching, and substituting in its place the Sabbath School. A writer in the News protests against the innovation, as it would be substituting a human for a divine institution.

☞ Gen. McDowell was thrown from his horse on Wednesday, and it was feared the accident would prove fatal; but he is fast convalescing and will soon resume his saddle.

☞ The daily receipt of silver at the International Exhibition in London exceeds four hundred weight. Very little gold is received, and the gold which is taken is principally in half sovereigns.

Punch says women first resorted to tight-lacing to prove to men how well they could bear squeezing.

BURNING OF THE E. R. R. DEPOT IN BOSTON.—The lower or outer end of the passenger station of the Eastern Railroad, Boston, caught fire a little after eight o'clock on Saturday morning, and was nearly destroyed. The first train had gone out some time before, and the only apparent cause for the fire seems to have been some stray sparks from the engine. The flames ran up toward Causeway street with great rapidity, so that there was barely time to save the books and papers. Five passenger and two freight cars were burned with the depot. A locomotive was saved by running it off by hand. The loss is probably from $8,000 to $10,000, fully covered by insurance in the London and Liverpool offices.

The depot consisted of a large, square two-story frame building on Causeway street, in which were the offices and waiting rooms, with a car-house running out about 300 feet, not very high, built of boards, and covered with tin. The car house was destroyed, and the frame building was very much damaged by water and badly scorched. A number of articles of baggage were lost, and the tenants of the confectionery saloon lost their fixtures. The Directors of the Boston and Lowell Railroad have generously offered the use of their depot to the Eastern Railroad, so that trains on the Eastern Railroad will start from the Lowell Railroad station-house.

☞ Decisive action was taken last week at the New Hampshire Universalist Convention at Keene, in regard to the case of Rev. B. M. Tillotson of Manchester. Two reports were made by the investigating committee to the Convention. Though the Convention were of the opinion that Mr T. did commit acts charged against him (writing anonymous letters, making false statements, &c.,) yet they voted to exonerate him on the ground of hereditary aberration of mind. The vote was 16 to 11.

THE BOOK OF DAYS, Part 3, is published by J. B. Lippincott & Co., Philadelphia. We gave expression, a day or two since, to our high appreciation of the merits of this work, founded on an examination of the first two numbers The third we find no less interesting and valuable. It is somewhat unique, and its beautifully printed pages are extremely attractive.

☞ Mumford, recently hung in New Orleans for cutting down the U. S. flag, followed gambling as a profession, and was so noted for his proficiency at cards, that planters would come to the city and furnish him money to play with, giving him half of all he could win.

☞ Mrs. Real, who shot her husband in New York for his infidelity, is reported as overwhelmed with the sympathy of ladies of high position. Edwin James has volunteered his professional services in her behalf, and they have been accepted.

☞ The annual commencement of the New York University was held on Thursday, at Niblo's Garden, New York City.—Among the gentlemen upon whom were bestowed honorary degrees, was Rev. Rufus W. Clark of Brooklyn, formerly pastor of the North Church in this city.

A Real and Great Improvement

IN HORSE SHOES.

S. W. WEBBER,
Blacksmith and Horse-Shoer,
NO 80 STATE STREET, Portsmouth,

Has purchased the sole right to manufacture and use

Cate's Patent Grooved Horse Shoes.

in this city and vicinity; and is prepared to furnish and set the same, at the regular prices for other Shoes, (except for steel Shoes, which are 25 cts. extra), and warrant them to give full satisfaction in all cases. The improvement consists in the nails being set in a steel groove which protects the heads, and the Shoe being concave on both the upper and under sides, so as to be much lighter, to hold on better, and afford a good purchase for the horse without corks, except on very hard ice.

These Shoes are peculiarly favorable for tender or bad feet, quarter cracks, interfering, overreaching, &c.; and gentlemen who have been troubled with their horses, and the public generally, are invited to call and examine the same, and give them a trial.

Any other pattern of Shoe will be put on, to suit customers, as usual; and

CELEBRATION OF THE FOURTH.

The adjourned meeting of the citizens of Portsmouth, to take into consideration the Celebration of the Anniversary of our National Independence, was held at the City Rooms, on Friday evening, and was organized by the choice of Mr. Jas. H. Head as chairman, and Joseph Foster, Secretary. Remarks having been made by several gentlemen, in favor of a public celebration, Mr. Head suggested the following programme, which was accepted:

PROCESSION.

1st Division—Governor's Horse Guards, Company C, of this vicinity; Goodwin Guards; Rockingham Cadets; Companies stationed at Forts Constitution and McClary; Company of Marines stationed at Navy Yard; Capt. Wentworth's company, Kittery; Capt. Fogg's company, Eliot.

2nd—Governor and ex-Governors of the State, Mayor and ex-Mayors of the city, Aldermen, Common Council, Orator of the day, and Reader of the Declaration of Independence, Committee of arrangements, Officers of army and navy, Soldiers and sailors of the war of 1812, Soldiers of the war of 1862,—in carriages; the six Fire Companies of the city, with engines; Atlantic Associates, Ex-6's.

3d—1 regiment of Lads, to the number of 1000, in uniform; Odd Fellows, Masons, Mechanic, and Mercantile Library Associations, Young Men's Temperance Division, Young Men's Catholic Friends' Association.

4th—Ladies on horse-back, to ride for a premium; Floral and national cars and carriages, filled with the young misses of our schools; delegation of school children in cars and carriages, from the neighboring towns.

The procession, after passing through the principal streets of the city, will at an appropriate place, listen to the reading of the Declaration of Independence, Oration, and national airs, the singing to be by 100 children, interspersed with music from the bands.

At 3 o'clock, Grand Regatta on the river, with suitable prizes.

At 5 1-2 o'clock, trial of fire-engines for grand prizes.

Evening—Grand Illumination of public and private buildings; Fire-works, or a Grand Promenade in a mammoth tent.

Jas. H. Head, E. A. Tilton, W. E. Hadley, F. D. Webster, F. W. Hackett, T. E. Rider, A. W. Stavers, F. W. Fernald, were chosen a committee to solicit subscriptions from the citizens.

Messrs. J. A. Sanborn, C. Melcher, J. R. Yeaton, J. H. Head, A. L. Bennett, were chosen committee to confer with military and other organizations, and to invite them to join in the procession; and W. S. Swett, W. Barnabee, N. P. Thacher, C. Newman, C. W. Marden, L. W. Brewster, were chosen committee to confer with the different engine companies, of this city, for a similar purpose.

It is the earnest desire of the committee that citizens erect arches in various parts of the city, and decorate their dwellings. Let every one feel an interest, and do a little. Plans and specifications of arches and decorations will be furnished gratuitously on application to the committee.

Adjourned to meet on Monday evening, 23d inst., at the City Rooms, at 8 o'clock, and all interested are cordially invited.

Per order.

☞ HOW TO DO IT.—Mr. Somerby, the manager of Pearson & Co.'s splendid Mirror of the War, which was exhixited in Portsmouth last week, is meeting with immense success, wherever he goes—having a sort of triumphal march, in fact, unprecedented among panoramas, especially in these dull times for showmen. And it is all done by having a first-rate show, and then letting (no, making) all the people know it. For a guess, we should set his advertising (printing) bill in this city, all told, at $100 or more. And chief among this, of course, was his liberal use of the daily paper—he being aware that it would and did pay him well to expend $35 in advertising in the Chronicle, for a single week—a sum which many of our traders would think high for a year's advertising. The truth is, but few people know how to advertise, and of course can't be blamed for not doing it. But Somerby is posted in that line. We commend him and his exhibition, to the press and public everywhere.

☞ We notice that numerous candidates are talked of for the command of the Third N. H. Regiment, which is now without a colonel, Col. Fellows having been appointed to the Ninth. Well, the numerous friends of Lieut. Col. John H. Jackson, in Portsmouth, Boston, and all over the country, (he in the furlough-absence of Col. Fellows, having really been in command of the 3d for some time,) will think it very strange and unfair if he is not promoted to be Colonel of the Third—a post for which he is eminently qualified, in every respect.

THE NEW N. H. REGIMENT.—Among the rest who are recruiting for the 9th Regt. N. H. V., Capt. G. W. Towle, with Messrs. Simon R. Marston and C. C. Stevens, announce to recruit a Company, with which they will doubtless go into immediate service. And the Journal well adds to this, "We are pleased to find that Capt. Towle, a gentleman of Military taste and ability, is likely to be found in a position where his services can be useful. His associates have not had so much militaay experience, but are first rate men."

☞ The well-known spacious and elegant Ocean House, at Rye Beach, N. H., was burnt to the ground, Saturday night or Sunday morning—the light being so plainly seen in Portsmouth, as to cause an "alarm" here. The house was not occupied, and incendiarism is very naturally suspected. The property was sold at auction a short time since, but we believe had not been transferred to the buyers. It is insured for $10,000.

Many a traveller—residents all over the country, will regret to hear of the destruction of this beautiful villa; and it is indeed a grief to lovers of the beautiful, that such picturesque structures as the Ocean, Nahant and Neponset Houses, should be thus ruthlessly demolished by the fire.

☞ Mr. & Mrs. Jona. Morrison received a very large number of congratulatory callers, at their residence on Summer street, in this city, during Saturday—the occasion being the "golden wedding" of the comparatively aged but blithe couple, who with their family, did the honors and hospitalities of the occasion most fittingly and acceptably—of which more anon.

☞ Paymaster George Lawrence has been ordered to the gunboat Conemaugh, at the Portsmouth Navy Yard; Assistant Paymaster E. Bellows to the gunboat Sonoma; and Assistant Engineer A. G. Pemble to the gunboat Ossipee.

☞ An old gentleman of this city, who has watched the progress of events in Portsmouth for many years, told us on Saturday, that he thought that rarely if ever had he seen so many farmers' wagons in town for business, as on that day. He was too lame and we were too busy to go about counting them; (where was our "statistics" friend?) but we estimated that there might be two or three hundred—which trifling fact indicates that everybody isn't dead yet, nor has the world ceased to move, maugre the croakers.

P. S.—A friend suggests that many of our rural neighbors came in, or stayed over dinner-time, to see Pearson's Mirror of the War in the afternoon.

☞ Christopher J. Marshall, of Company K, 2d N. H. Regiment, who has been detained by the rebels, a prisoner, since the battle of Bull Run, arrived at his home in this city on Saturday morning, having been paroled.

☞ GO TO DIMAN'S.—Mr. Diman is to reopen Highland Cottage, Stratham, for the strawberry season, commencing to-day, Monday. It is a pleasant drive to the Cottage. Those who have a desire for a pleasant and a short afternoon excursion, can take the C. & P. cars at 40 minutes past 4, be at the Cottage by 5 o'clock, and remain there two full hours, then reach home at quarter before 8. A more pleasant trip can scarcely be found in our neighborhood.

☞ George H. Knowlton, Esq., of Biddeford, formerly of Portsmouth, has been admitted to practice in all the courts of the State of Maine.

☞ Brig. Gen. N. J. T Dana, whose brigade behaved so gallantly at Fair Oaks, is a step son of Hon. Charles H. Peaslee, of this city. At Fair Oaks, Gen. Dana's horse was shot under him, receiving six bullets.

☞ Mathews' Arnica Hair Gloss. The Arnica Montana, from which this invaluable preparation derives its name, is a perennial plant, a native of the mountains of Siberia. From it is obtained an oil which has been discovered to be the most powerful remedy for allaying and removing inflammation known to pharmacy. This oil, combined with other tried ingredients, forms the Arnica Hair Gloss. June-1 1md

"MAGEE'S PATENT"
VENTILATING & AIR-WARMING
FURNACES.
The subscribers, being the Sole Agents in this vicinity for the manufacture and sale of this valuable Furnace, would ask those about remodelling or erecting buildings to examine this truly valuable invention.
For economy, purity of air and ease of management it has no equal, producing a current of warm air, moist and agreeable;—and as none of the air which comes in contact with the fire-pot is used for respiration, the tendency to produce headache so much complained of in other Furnaces, is entirely obviated.
The objects aimed at by the constructors of heating apparatus have been to obtain the greatest amount of heat from a given amount of fuel, and to prevent the escape of heat to the smoke pipe or chimney.
To accomplish this many complicated and expensive heating arrangements have been constructed, some possessing but little improvement over former methods, while many have proved a total failure. The reason for this is obvious. The combustible gases being lighter than the air, pass off into the pipe or chimney without being consumed. This objection, so common in other Furnaces, is obviated in the
MAGEE FURNACE.
The flue or pipe in this Furnace being below the fire-pot, the gases, from their specific gravity, cannot descend, and are burned up by the admission of cold air through the fire-pot, which ignites them as they pass off from the coal, thus saving at least 20 per cent. of the properties of the heat in the fuel.
No heating apparatus with the smoke-pipe or flue on the top of the cone can be made to consume the gases of the coal, as they pass off with a large amount of the heat generated, making the chimney the hottest part of your dwelling.
This Furnace does away with the great number of pipes and angles for the radiation of heat, which are so liable to fill up and get out of order, thus simplifying, while it increases the surface of radiation.
These Furnaces consume all the coal, make no clinkers, the sifting of coal is entirely dispensed with, and they will save from 30 to 50 per cent. of fuel over common Furnaces.
For ease of management, economy and purity of air, these Furnaces have no equal. They can be regulated so as to give any amount of heat required, and the fire may be kept the entire season without once going out.
They give entire satisfaction wherever used. We have in store the different sizes, Brick and Portable, to which we invite the attention of those in want of the best Furnace in the world,—and would refer them to the following named gentlemen, who have them now in use:
Samuel Cleaves, Esq., Albert R. Hatch, Esq.,

American and Foreign Patents.
R. H. EDDY,
SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,
Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, (under the Act of 1837,)
75 State Street, opposite Kilby Street,
BOSTON,
After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Bonds, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on the liberal terms and with dispatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of patents or inventions—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.
The Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through its inventors have advantage for securing Patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions unsurpassed by, if not unsurpassed by any which can be obtained elsewhere. The Testimonials below will prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL. THE PATENT OFFICE that the subscriber has had as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional service so moderate.
The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents.
These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.
All necessity of a journey to Washington, to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.
TESTIMONIALS.
"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse."
CHARLES MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.
"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office."
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents.
Mr. R. H Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but one of which patents have been granted, and that is now pending. Such unmistakeable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges."
JOHN TAGGART.
During eight months, the subscriber, in course of his large practice, made on twice rejected applications SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in his favor, by the Commissioner of Patents. R. H. EDDY.

THURLOW WEED AND THE PRINTERS. The printers of New York, under the auspices of the New York Typographical Society, are to give Thurlow Weed a reception at their rooms, in Chamber street, on Tuesday. He has accepted the invitation. He will feel more honored by this ovation than if Congress had tendered him the hospitalities of the nation, and thanked him in a glowing eulogy for the services rendered to his country abroad. If he has a weakness for anything, it is a sort of vehement admiration for the craft. A "poor printer" could honeysuckle him much easier than a New York pocket-book stuffer could a greenborn from the country. No unfortunate type ever left his premises without a "sliver quod in his stick." So strong is his attachment to old friends of the craft, we verily believe if he heard of an old "jour" in Oregon who worked at the "case" with him fifty years ago, he would make a journey out there on purpose to see him. He will soon be one of the oldest members of "the art preservative of all arts."—Albany Knickerbocker.

AN ÆOLIAN HARP.—It is related that in Germany there stood two vast towers, far apart on the extremes of a castle; and the old baron to whom the castle belonged, under some fantastic feeling, stretched huge wires across from one to the other, thus constructing an Æolian harp. Ordinary winds produced no effect upon it; but when fierce storms and mighty winds roused themselves up, and came rushing down the sides of the mountains and through the valleys, and hurling themselves against those wires, they began to roll out majestic strains of music.

UNION HOLIDAYS.—The flag and constitution day resolution has passed both Houses of the Connecticut Legislature, and both are now legal holidays in that State. Flag day is June 14th, and Constitution day Sept. 17th.

A man who had made a fortune by industry and close economy in a retail business, at length retired from trade and used to loan money on interest. One day in midsummer, a friend happened to say to him, "How pleasant it is to have such long bright days!"—"why, y-e-s," replied he, "but these long days the interest comes in so slow."

FROM ROME.—On the 18th ult., there were eighty three Bishops and thirty-seven Cardinals in Rome, with many priests and soldiers. The ecclesiastics are there to attend ceremonies connected with the canonization of the Japanese martyrs. The inhabitants of Rome are convinced that the fall of the temporal power of the Pope is close at hand.

POPULATION OF NEW ORLEANS.—The population of New Orleans in 1860 was 168,675, divided as follows:

Whites born in slave States	69,868
Whites born in free States	9,495
Whites born in foreign countries	64,262
Not known	977
Free colored	10,939
Slaves	13,289
Total	168,675

SEAMEN WANTED.—Three or four thousand seamen for the naval service are wanted immediately. At present there are only 39 men available in all of New England.

☞ Eight governors of rebel States are now out of employment, wandering up and down the earth, like so many frightened deer which have shed their horns.

☞ A citizen of Kentucky has laid before the proper department a system for cottonizing hemp, which is likely to attract much attention.

LARGE TURTLE.—Mrs. L. H. Marston, of West Milan Water Station, on the G. T. Railroad, not to be beaten by any other person, captured a fresh water turtle that weighed 46 pounds. The shell was about 1 foot 6 inches broad, 2 feet long and 6 inches deep. It is being prepared for an ornament. What a wonderful cradle it would make for humanity in its very early stages.—Portland Courier.

PURE OLD BOURBON WHISKEY.

Correspondence between some of the most eminent physicians of New York and Brooklyn, and Wm. J. Cutter, Jr., Louisville, Ky:—

NEW YORK May 1, 1861.

Mr. WM. T. CUTTER, Jr., Louisville, Ky.:

Dear Sir—The great difficulty experienced in procuring Brandy sufficiently pure for medicinal purposes, has induced many of the physicians of this vicinity to adopt Bourbon Whiskey as a substitute, both in the hospitals and private practice; and, since the latter has come into such general use, we have reason to believe that a great deal more sold as of very superior quality.

Presuming that your residence in the vicinity of the manufacture of Whiskey in Kentucky, as well as your skill as a chemist, will enable you to select a reliable article, and having full confidence in your integrity, we are led to inquire whether you will not aid us in having this market supplied, through an Agency, with the best quality of Pure Old Bourbon Whiskey for the use of the sick.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., July 31, 1861.

Drs. VALENTINE MOTT, Willard Parker & others.

Gentlemen—Your letter of May 1st has been received. In accordance with your wishes, I have made arrangements to supply your city and vicinity with a supply of a superior distilled Bourbon Whiskey, which, I trust will fully meet the requirements of your letter. Thanking you for your kind expressions of confidence, &c.,

I remain, very respectfully, yours truly,
WM. T. CUTTER, JR.

We, the Physicians of Portsmouth, having full confidence in the integrity of D. R. AMBROSE, recommend him as a suitable person to sell OLD BOURBON WHISKEY for Medicinal purposes, in accordance with an arrangement made between the New York Physicians and Wm. T. Cutter, Jr., of Louisville, Ky., and a similar agreement between said Cutter and the Physicians of Boston.

IMPORTANT TO THE AFFLICTED.

DR. DOW continues to be consulted at his office, Nos 7 and 9 ENDICOTT STREET, Boston, on all diseases of a

PRIVATE OR DELICATE NATURE.

By a long course of study and practical experience of unlimited extent, Dr. D has succeeded in the gratification of presenting the unfortunate with remedies that have never, since he first introduced them, failed to cure the most alarming cases of

GONORRHŒA AND SYPHILIS.

Beneath his treatment, all the horrors of venereal and impure blood, Impotency, Scrofula, Gonorrhœa, Ulcers, pain and distress in the regions of procreation, inflammation of the bladder and Kidneys, Hydrocele, Abscesses, Humors, frightful Swellings, and the long train of horrible symptoms attending this class of disease, are made to become as harmless as the simplest siblings of a child.

SEMINAL WEAKNESS.

Dr. D devotes a great part of his time to the treatment of those cases caused by a secret and solitary habit, which ruins the body and mind, unfitting the unfortunate individual for business or society. Some of the sad and melancholy effects produced by early habits of youth, are Weakness of the limbs, Dizziness and Pains of the head, Dimness of sight, Palpitation of the heart, Dyspepsia, Nervousness, Derangement of the digestive organs, Symptoms of Consumption, &c. The fearful effects on the mind are much to be dreaded; loss of memory, confusion of ideas, depression, excitement, Hallucinations, aversion of society, self-distrust, timidity, &c., are among the evils produced. Such persons should, before contemplating matrimony, consult a physician of experience, and be restored to perfect health and happiness.

Patients who wish to remain under Dr. Dow's treatment a few days or weeks, will be furnished with pleasant rooms, and charges for board moderate.

CAUTION

To Females in Delicate Health.

DR. DOW, Physician and Surgeon, No 7 ENDICOTT STREET, Boston, is consulted daily for all diseases incident to the female system. Prolapsus Uteri, or falling of the Womb, Fluor Albus, Suppression, and other unnatural derangements, are all treated upon new pathological principles, and speedy relief guaranteed in a few days. So invariably certain is the new mode of treatment, that most obstinate complaints yield under it, and the afflicted person soon rejoices in perfect health.

Dr. Dow has no doubt had greater experience in the cure of diseases of women and children, than any other physician in Boston.

Boarding accommodations for patients who may wish to stay in Boston a few days under his treatment.

Dr. Dow, since 1845, having confined his whole attention to an office practice, for the cure of Private Diseases and Female Complaints, acknowledges no superior in the United States.

N. B.—All letters must contain one dollar, or they will not be answered.

Office Hours from 9 A. M. to 9 P. M.
April, 1862—1y3taw.

CERTAIN CURE
in all cases, or No Charges Made.

Dr. Dow is consulted daily, from 9 A. M. to 9 P. M. as above, upon all difficult and chronic diseases of every name and nature, having by his unwearied attention and extraordinary success gained a reputation which calls patients from all parts of the country to obtain advice.

Among the physicians in Boston, none stands higher in the profession than the celebrated DR. DOW, No. 7 Endicott street, Boston. Those who need the services of an experienced physician and surgeon should give him a call.

MATHEWS' VENETIAN LIQUID HAIR DYE.

☞ MATHEWS' VENETIAN HAIR DYE.—This celebrated Dye was first prepared in 1845; since that time it has been USED BY THOUSANDS, and in no instance has it failed to give PERFECT SATISFACTION.

THE VENETIAN DYE is the cheapest in the world. Its price is ONLY FIFTY CENTS, and each bottle contains DOUBLE THE QUANTITY OF DYE contained in those usually sold for ONE DOLLAR.

THE VENETIAN DYE is the safest composition of its class. It is WARRANTED NOT TO INJURE the hair, or the scalp, in the least.

THE VENETIAN DYE works with RAPIDITY AND CERTAINTY. It causes no annoyance or trouble to those who use it.

THE VENETIAN DYE produces any shade that may be desired,—one that will not fade, crock, nor wash out,—one that is as permanent as the hair itself.

THE VENETIAN DYE does not, in any manner, interfere with the NATURAL softness OF THE HAIR—it neither scorches nor dries it.

THE VENETIAN DYE is the best, cheapest, safest, most convenient, most successful, and most permanent Dye ever used.

Communication.

PORT ROYAL PLANTATIONS.—The papers contain a report (quite too long for us) by Mr. Edward L. Pierce, special agent of the Treasury Department, upon the organization of the colored laborers, and the cultivation of the plantations, at Port Royal.—The efforts there appear to have been quite successful.

With the aid of teachers or superintendents, of whom fifty-two were sent out by the Educational Commission of Boston, and thirty-seven by the New York Freedmen's Relief Association, one hundred and eighty-nine plantations have been organized, upon which were about 9000 negroes,—13,795 acres have been planted, of which 5480 are in cotton and the remainder in corn and provisions; and up to the latest dates, the cultivation had been carried on successfully, some of the corn being already five feet high, and the cotton twice ploughed and chopped out to a stand.

The children and many of the adults have been taught, and already many of them can read the elementary books.

Mr. Pierce received his first appointment from the Treasury Department for three months. The control of all matters at Port Royal is now transferred to the War Department,—and Mr. P. has been offered a position upon the staff of Gen. Saxton, with the rank of Colonel, in order that he might continue the general superintendence thro' the Autumn; but he will only return to Port Royal for a few weeks, being obliged to decline any longer service on account of private business.

The statement recently made that he had abandoned this enterprise, and that a large portion of the teachers had returned to the North, is utterly false. Not only do far the largest portion remain, but Mr. Pierce, on Friday morning, June 20, telegraphed to Boston for thirty more.

Mr. Edward W. Hooper, of Boston, one of the earliest volunteers, has been commissioned as Captain, upon Gen. Saxton's staff, and will probably superintend the schools and plantations.

If the cultivation of the crops can be carried through, undisturbed by war measures or attacks, the negroes will, so far from having been a burden and an expense to the government, have raised several hundred thousand dollars' worth of cotton and corn more than will have been expended upon them—all of which, we trust, will be reserved for their future benefit. And, more important still, they will have proved themselves to be easily controlled and guided, and to be willing and industrious laborers. U. T.

PORTSMOUTH, April 21st, 1862.
I have for several years been afflicted with distress at my stomach, loss of appetite, and often vomited up all of my food immediately after eating it, and all medicine failed to give any relief until about a year ago, when I took one bottle of DR. S. SWETT'S PANACEA, which fully cured me, so that I have not had the least trouble from any of these complaints since, and I enjoy good health.
Exeter, Feb. 24, 1853. Dr. Swett:—"Sir, for the benefit of those who are afflicted as I have been, with a humor, which prevented quiet rest night and day, I would say that your PANACEA has effected a radical cure on me; and would add—that by the use of it, my health has been greatly improved; therefore, I cheerfully recommend it as superior to any other medicine I ever used for humors and consumptive complaints."
WM. F. LEAVITT.
From ELDER I CHESLEY, Lee, May 31, 1841.
DR. SWETT: Permit me to testify, as I feel in duty bound to do, that my daughter was afflicted with scrofulous humor, and that previous to your visiting our house in the spring of 1840, she had been confined for a number of months, without her natural rest by day or night. She had applied to a number of physicians, but continued to grow weaker till she commenced using your PANACEA and HUMOR WASH. Since then, she has recovered her health so far as to rest quietly by night, and labor by day. I esteem your medicine one of the best that can be found for the disease above named." ISRAEL CHESLEY
☞ Any one returning the remainder of a bottle or box of Dr. Swett's medicines shall have pay for it, if it do not agree with his case, or if not worth the price. All orders directed to DR. S. SWETT, Portsmouth, N. H., promptly attended to. may26

Morning Chronicle.

Portsmouth, N. H.

TUESDAY, JUNE 24, 1862.

NEW ORLEANS.

We have another package of New Orleans papers, to June 1, from our attentive correspondent on board the U. S. steamer Pensacola. Some of them contain some new advertisements of runaway slaves.—One master has lost 8, all at once. Another advertises his boy "Washington." A third says his Dick and Betsy are not runaways, but "unwilling to go with him into the country, and therefore conceal" themselves. Two of the runaways are described as "intelligent."

All these papers condemn Gen. Hunter's proclamation,—nearly all of them contain more or less pleas for the continuance of slavery,—though some of them plead very faintly. One of them—the Delta, supposed to be Gen. Butler's semi-official organ, contains the following ominous notice, headed "A Word to the Wise." The sentence in italic, is printed in that style in the Delta of May 31,— and the whole article appears there in large type. The Delta says:—

The people of Louisiana must not mistake a desire to deal kindly with men laboring under one of the grossest delusions known to modern history, and to bring gently back to the blessings of the Union and good government a people resolved apparently upon their own ruin,—for weakness or timidity. Recognizing this territory and this people as part of its own property, in jeopardy, the government wishes to snatch them from the danger with as little damage to them as possible; and being imbued with an ordinary amount of humanity, it would impose as little suffering as possible during the operation. But the country will be rescued, tho' the property be destroyed; the country will be saved, at any expense of suffering.—There should be no mistake about this; no doubts, no hopes, no fears.

Let this once be thoroughly understood and fully accepted, and a world of personal and public suffering may be spared. The hand now clothed in velvet, while soothing to good behavior the frettful child, may be found armed with iron, should that child proceed to kick. It will be found to be so armed. Let this people, disregarding capitulations, and promises of good behavior, and hitherto good treatment, proceed to organize guerrilla bands, to annoy where they cannot hope to conquer, to murder where they cannot fairly fight, and the stern and relentless purposes of war will surely be brought to bear upon them. Justice demands it, the cause demands it, and the blood of those who might fall would demand it, not in vain. Again we say, let there be no mistake about this. Let every man, woman and child ponder upon this, and let their acts in this regard give proof that they have profited by the caution.

The Delta of Sunday, June 1, congratulates its readers that "four more of New Orleans' choicest scoundrels are in custody" of Butler's government, viz., "Eugene and Robert Dupont, Bob Johnson and Ben Leggett,—who have long been a thorn and a curse to New Orleans,—who are leaders of Thugs, the friends of Aldermen, the social companions of every Mayor who has cursed the city for ten years back,—and have been supported by the profits of prostitutes. Some of them are murderers, and expect now to expiate their long years of crime upon the gallows."

☞ We are indebted to P. T. Barnum for complimentary tickets to his famous American Museum, New York, and also to the Aquarial Gardens, Boston, of which interesting place of instruction and amusement he has taken the management,—both which we shall improve our first opportunity to use.

The first public Aquaria ever seen upon this continent, was brought from London by Mr. Barnum, and opened in his N. Y. Museum in 1856. He expended some $20,000 in perfecting this chaste, beautiful and delightful exhibition.

The Crystal Ponds of the Boston Aquarial Gardens contain hundreds of varieties of beautiful living fish, from the huge white whale to the charming little stickleback which builds its nest in the water; thus giving us a charming realization of life beneath the waters, which could not otherwise be obtained.

All of the rare living curiosities and novelties, which have rendered the reputation of Barnum's Am. Museum in New York so world-wide, will be exhibited in Boston in rapid succession; and he has active agents in nearly every part of the world, who, by a lavish outlay of money, will "keep up the supply." There are also attractive stage performances day and evening.

TRADE WITH NEW ORLEANS.—Steamer Roanoke, at New York, brings advices from New Orleans to the 13th, giving prospects of a partial revival of trade. On the 14th inst. there were eight clearances from the port, seven of which were for New York and Philadelphia, with cargoes amounting to nearly 3000 hhds. of sugar, 550 barrels of molasses, and over 300 bales of cotton. It is stated that only 1200 hhds. of sugar were destroyed by the rebel mob in the city, and that there are now 90,000 hhds of sugar and molasses there ready for shipment North.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

—— In the N. H. House of Representatives, William H. Belknap, of Exeter, has been appointed engrossing clerk. Mr. Belknap has had experience in the Registry of Deeds of Rockingham county, and is well qualified for his new position.

—— Some days ago, at Rochester, Edwin A. Sturtevant, son of the well known woolen manufacturer, caught his arm in some machinery and crushed it severely.—He was taken with the lock-jaw, and died in convulsions. He was 19 years of age, and an alumnus of the Phillips Academies at Exeter and Andover, and of Columbia College.

—— Rev. Henry E. Parker, Chaplain of the Second Regiment, returned to Concord last Tuesday, on a short leave of absence. He brings home $20,000 from the soldiers, to be forwarded to their wives and children.

——Rev. J. Henry Gilmore, son of Hon. Joseph A. Gilmore, was ordained pastor of the Baptist Church in Fisherville, last week. Sermon by Rev. Baron Stow, D.D., of Boston.

—— The Lebanon Free Press says that Mr. Rufus M. Merrill, of Holderness, who was pressed into the rebel service in Florida, last summer, and after serving four months, escaped with a companion by putting to sea in an open boat, and was picked up by the Niagara, has opened a recruiting office at Holderness.

☞ The U. S. gunboat Mound City met with a disaster while engaged with a rebel battery on the White river near Charles City, on the 7th inst. A ball from the battery penetrated the boat's boiler, and 125 out of 175 of her crew were killed or wounded by the escaping steam, or drowned by jumping into the river. The boat itself was not greatly injured. The officers of the expedition expect to ascend the river to Jacksonport, 350 miles from the mouth.

While the gunboats engaged the batteries, the troops, under Col. Fitch, landed a short distance below, and proceeded to storm the battery, driving the enemy out at the point of the bayonet.

The rebel loss is 125 killed and wounded and 30 prisoners.

☞ From South Carolina, Flag Officer Dupont writes to the Navy Department that the rebels, through information received from a negro who had been employed by our army, became aware of the absence of our troops from Hutchinson Island, and made a descent upon Mrs. March's plantation, surrounded the house, and with a ferocity, characteristic at all events of that part of the South, murdered in cold blood a large number of contrabands who were awakened from their slumbers to fall into the hands of the infuriated rebels.

☞ At New Orleans, Wm. M. Clary, late second officer of the U. S. transport Saxon, and Stanislaus Roy of New Orleans, were to be hanged on the 16th for burglary, they having forged authority from General Butler to enter a house, which they robbed under false names and the pretended uniform of soldiers of the United States.

George Jackson has been arrested on the charge of being concerned in burning the ship American Union, at the time of the arrival of the Federal fleet.

James Robb is appointed Military Governor of New Orleans.

☞ The United States steamship Connecticut brings to New York a State prisoner in the person of Gen. Butts, who is said to have held the important position of Surveyor-General to the State of Georgia. It appears that Gen. Butts was on board a small boat with two attendants, off the coast of Georgia, searching for salt springs, when the United States gunboat Kingfisher came up, and in the endeavor of Gen. Butts and his attendants to get away, the boat was upset, and they were all—three in number—made prisoners of war.

☞ The Homestead Bill grants one hundred and sixty acres of public land to any person (almost) who will settle on them and cultivate them, except reserved lands within fifty miles of certain Railroads, and of these lands eighty acres. There is nothing in the act, however, to prevent a single man and a single woman, each being twenty-one years of age, from locating each eighty acres of these reserved and higher-priced lands; and they are at perfect liberty to get married the day afterward. Any person, male or female, who is over twenty-one years of age, and a citizen of the United States, or who, not being yet a citizen, has made legal declaration of his intention to become one, or who, being a citizen under twenty one years of age, is nevertheless the head of a family, or has spent fourteen days or over in the military service of the United States, and has never borne arms against the Federal Government nor given aid and comfort to its enemies, is entitled to the benefit of the Bill.

☞ A house occupied by Mr. Foster at Winterport, Me., was burned on Friday night last, and a daughter of Mr. F., about seven years old, perished in the flames.

THE REBELLION.

From Gen. McClellan's headquarters is given a despatch dated Sunday, 8 P. M., which says: This has been a remarkably quiet day, considering the close proximity of the two contending forces. Brisk skirmishing ensued all day Saturday, and at night everything indicated that a general engagement was at hand. The enemy advanced in strong force on our lines during the night, but being promptly met soon retired.

The Richmond papers of Saturday contain a dispatch from Montgomery, Alabama, dated the 17th, stating that Gen. Beauregard and staff had arrived there on their way to Richmond, and it was said they were to be followed by a large portion of the army of the Mississippi, and that a sufficient force had been left under the invincible Bragg to check any advancement of the vandals under Gen. Halleck.

The Charleston Mercury of the 18th, gives a graphic description of an engagement on James Island the previous Sunday, in which it acknowledges a severe loss on both sides, without any material change in position.

Dispatches have also been received at the War Department from the army in the valley of Virginia. As far as heard from all is quiet.

CHARLESTON, S. C.—Richmond papers of 21st contain brief accounts of a bloody battle on Monday last between five Federal regiments and a battery of Parrot guns, and parts of four Confederate regiments and a battery,—4 miles from Charleston. The battle lasted all day with heavy loss on both sides. The Charleston Mercury feared the battle would be renewed the next day, and expressed apprehensions for the safety of the city, in consequence of the great exhaustion of the Southern troops and the loss of many officers.

BEFORE WASHINGTON.—The Richmond Dispatch says it can no longer be denied that Jackson has been heavily reinforced, and the Federal columns must either combine or fall back across the Potomac.

Perley writes from Washington, Saturday,—a gentleman direct from the headquarters of the army of the Potomac is confident that a week or ten days must elapse before Gen. McClellan will be "in position" to reduce Richmond, without any risk of failure, and that there will be no fight previously, unless the enemy attack.

☞ Dispatches of Saturday and Sunday from Corinth, give contradictory stories about Beauregard's errand to Richmond,—though they agree in saying he took no troops with him.

In response to Gen. Halleck's call, a large amount of provisions have been received from St. Louis for suffering Mississippians and distributed liberally among the inhabitants, who seem to be very grateful.

☞ Advices from New Orleans, to June 18th, show that the reported rebel force at Baton Rouge, was only guerillas. Two of these fired at a guard of U. S. soldiers and wounded Col. McMillan. His guard killed one and wounded the other. In answer to enquiry, Gen. Butler orders guerillas to be tried by drum head court martial and shot, their houses burnt and property destroyed

☞ On Sunday, before Richmond, the rebels opened on Gen. Hooker's advance with shell, but did no serious damage. He answered with shell, which drove back the rebel artillerists.

☞ It is believed at Memphis, that most of Beauregard's army is at Richmond.

An elderly lady, who was handling a pair of artificial plates in a dental office, and admiring the fluency with which the dentist described them, asked—"Can a body eat with these things?" "My dear madam, mastication can be performed by them with a facility scarcely excelled by nature herself," responded the dentist. "Yes, I know, but can a body eat with 'em?" replied the woman.

June 7, 1862. eod4w

☞ In Rome there are 48,000 cardinals, priests and monks; 10,000 nuns; 1,000 beggars of the first class, and 5,000 of the second, all licensed by the Government; and 2000 women who live by serving as models to painters and sculptors.

☞ The Newbern Progress reports that 100 rebel dragoons have given themselves up at Washington, N. C. The same paper reports that six North Carolina regiments have been disbanded at Richmond, and are now under guard.

The Boston Transcript says the following very good thing: "Those journals which complain that Mr. Lincoln has no policy, and yet accord him honesty of purpose, evidently forget the old maxim—Honesty is the best policy."

A Real and Great Improvement

IN HORSE SHOES.

S. W. WEBBER,

Blacksmith and Horse-Shoer,

NO 80 STATE STREET, Portsmouth,

Has purchased the sole right to manufacture and use

Cate's Patent Grooved Horse Shoes.

In this city and vicinity, and is prepared to furnish and set the same, at the regular prices for other Shoes, (except for steel Shoes, which are 25 cts. extra), and warrant them to give full satisfaction in all cases. The improvements consist in the nails being set in a steel groove which protects the heads, and the Shoe being concave on both the upper and under sides, so as to be much lighter, to hold on better, and afford a good purchase for the horse without corks, except on very hard ice.

These Shoes are peculiarly favorable for tender or bad feet, quarter cracks, interfering, overreaching, &c.; and gentlemen who have been troubled with their horses, and the public generally, are invited to call and examine the same, and give them a trial.

Any other pattern of Shoe will be put on, to suit customers, as usual; and BLACKSMITH JOBBING generally attended to. S. W. WEBBER.

GOLDEN WEDDING.—In 1812, June 21st, Jonathan Morrison (a native of Sanbornton, N. H., but then a resident of Kensington,) and Elizabeth Locke (also of Kensington,) were married at Seabrook, by Rev. Elias Hull. The fiftieth anniversary of the event was duly celebrated at their residence in this city, on Saturday.—The bride was only seventeen at her marriage—the groom ten years older—and the lady appears younger now, than many who own to a score less years. The happy couple have lived in Portsmouth almost ever since their marriage, and in their present pleasant house, on Summer street, for forty years or more.

The guests on the occasion were numbered by hundreds,—mostly of our citizens; and thronged the house from morn till eve. The only one, we believe, who was also present at the original wedding, was Mr. Locke, of New York,(a brother of Mrs.M.,) who with Capt. A. Bancroft of Newburyport, (also a relative,) took good part with the family, in promoting the successful arrangements on the occasion. The refreshments usual at such rather unusual celebrations, were bountifully served; the family and immediate guests "taking tea (andner too,) in the arbor"—the vine-clad piazza being tastefully decorated for the purpose—and ornamented with, among other things, the portraits of the worthy couple thirty years ago—which show that the fair partner in the concern then retained much of that regal beauty which (all the old folks tell us) twenty years before rendered her "the belle' in her beautiful country home, and one of the acknowledged queens even in Portsmouth. Of the old gentleman,—who enjoyed himself highly on the occassion (this occasion, we mean, for we will say we were not present at the first,) and helped all visitors to do the same—we know he is gallant enough to stand back from the comparison, contenting himself with "the average" appearance of the couple—as well he may.

Beside the scocial pleasures of the occasion, the emblematic event of the day was the presentation to the worthy pair, by the connections, of a purse well filled with "trash" of that color which tints the future of most young couples,—and happy those that have whose version the golden tint of love never fades. May it gild the remaining years of our friends, as we have no doubt it has the long past. There was also singing, by some of the friends, in the evening, of Mr.Morrison's favorite airs of "Ye Olden Time," "John Anderson, my Joe John," and others.

We will close by wishing them a happy Diamond Wedding—and that we may be there.

NAVAL.—Wm. A. Smith is appointed Acting Assistant Engineer, and ordered to the gunboat Sonoma, at this station.

Carpenter Wm. D. Jenkins, of this city, has been ordered to the U. S. ship Sabine, at New York, and has reported for duty.

☞ We are pleased to learn that Mr. Nathan F. Mathes, of this city, has been appointed Sutler to the 9th Regt. N. H. V., by Col. Fellows. If he don't prove an efficient caterer, and popular with officers and men, then we miss our guess.

☞ The Ocean House, Rye Beach, burnt Sunday morning, was insured in the Home Co., New York, $4500; Etna, Hartford, $2500; and New England, Hartford, $2500—making $9500 in all. This amount also covered the small outbuildings for cooking, &c., adjoining, which were not destroyed.

DON'T KILL THE BIRDS, THEN.—We regret to hear of the ravages of the Canker Worm in Hampton and other towns near the Merrimack—which river we believe they have never crossed till last season, though Massachusetts orchards have for years suffered severely from the dreadful pest. In some places in Stratham, whole orchards look as blighted as if seared with fire. They have not entered the towns adjoining Portsmouth yet, but undoubtedly will next year, if not before. Various means are proposed to prevent them, but none seem to be effective as yet. Who shall say that the scarcity of birds has nothing to do with the matter?

ARMY VS. NAVY.—On Saturday last, officer Frank B. Johnson, of the Portsmouth police, arrived in Dover, and with the assistance of City Marshal Legg, succeeded in arresting a young man named William I. Grant, a deserter from the U. S. Marine corps, now at Portsmouth, formerly one of the crew of the gallant "Congress," which was destroyed at Hampton Roads in the late engagement. Grant is a private under Lieut. Charles E. Pope, and Capt. John Marston, a brave and worthy officer, and came to Dover a week or more since and enlisted under David W. Parshley, recruiting officer for the 9th regiment. He is a desperate chap and is determined to enter the army, showing he courts battle and danger. Under the circumstances, it is thought, he will receive some temporary punisment and be allowed to return.—Dover Gazette.

☞ The Bangor Whig states that there is probably a larger amount of tonnage at that port, at the present time, than ever before at one time, and more is wanted.

☞ De Molay Encampment of Knights Templars, of Boston, John T. Heard Commander, passed through this city on Monday, at a 1-4 to 5 o'clock in a special train consisting of the most elegant cars of the Eastern Railroad, with smoking car and refreshment car attached, drawn by the locomotive "Cape Ann," which was decorated with flags, and the portrait of Washington, surrounded by the motto of the Knights with the letter G, squares and compasses, all in a tasteful style. The Sir Knights were expecting to reach Portland at a little past 7 in the evening. They will return on Wednesday, escorting on their arrival the Sir Knights from Providence, and dine at the Revere House in Boston.

De Molay Encampment contains many "solid men of Boston," among them several well known in Portsmouth, and it is a body of men of whom Boston may well be proud.

☞ The adjourned meeting of the citizens met at the City Rooms Monday evening. The various committees reported favorably, and the meeting adjourned to this (Tuesday) evening, at 8 o'clock, at the same place.

☞ It is said the steam frigate Colorado is ordered here, the crew to be paid off.

☞ Mathews' Arnica Hair Gloss. The Arnica Montana, from which this invaluable preparation derives its name, is a perennial plant, a native of the mountains of Siberia. From it is obtained an oil which has been discovered to be the most powerful remedy for allaying and removing inflammation known to pharmacy. This oil, combined with other tried ingredients, forms the Arnica Hair Gloss. June.1 1md

"MAGEE'S PATENT"

VENTILATING & AIR WARMING

FURNACES.

The subscribers, being the Sole Agents in this vicinity for the manufacture and sale of this valuable Furnace, would ask those about remodelling or erecting buildings to examine this truly valuable invention.

For economy, purity of air and ease of management it has no equal, producing a current of warm air, moist and agreeable;—and as none of the air which comes in contact with the fire-pot is used for respiration, the tendency to produce headache so much complained of in other Furnaces, is entirely obviated.

The objects aimed at by the constructors of heating apparatus have been to obtain the greatest amount of heat from a given amount of fuel, and to prevent the escape of heat to the smoke pipe or chimney.

To accomplish this many complicated and expensive heating arrangements have been constructed, some possessing but little improvement over former methods, while many have proved a total failure. The reason for this is obvious. The combustible gases being lighter than the air, pass off into the pipe or chimney without being consumed. This objection, so common in other Furnaces, is obviated in the

MAGEE FURNACE.

The flue or pipe in this Furnace being below the fire-pot, the gases, from their specific gravity, cannot descend, and are burned up by the admission of cold air through the fire-pot, which ignites them as they pass off from the coal, thus saving at least 20 per cent. of the properties of the heat in the fuel.

No heating apparatus with the smoke-pipe or flue on the top of the cone can be made to consume the gases of the coal, as they pass off with a large amount of the heat generated, making the chimney the hottest part of your dwelling.

This Furnace does away with the great number of pipes and angles for the radiation of heat, which are so liable to fill up and get out of order, thus simplifying, while it increases the surface of radiation.

These Furnaces consume all the coal, make no clinkers, the sifting of coal is entirely dispensed with, and they will save from 30 to 50 per cent. of fuel over common Furnaces.

For ease of management, economy and purity of air, these Furnaces have no equal. They can be regulated so as to give any amount of heat required, and the fire may be kept the entire season without once going out.

They give entire satisfaction wherever used. We have in store the different sizes, Brick and Portable, to which we invite the attention of those in want of the best Furnace in the world,—and would refer them to the following named gentlemen, who have them now in use:

Samuel Cleaves, Esq., Albert R. Hatch, Esq.,
Aaron H. Hill, Charles H. Mendum,

American and Foreign Patents.

R. H. EDDY,
SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,
Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, (under the Act of 1837.)
75 State Street, opposite Kilby Street,
BOSTON,

After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Bonds, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with dispatch. Reference made to American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of patents or inventions—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

The Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing Patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The Testimonials hel ow given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that no other office of the kind are the charges for professional service so moderate.

The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents.

These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.

All necessity of a journey to Washington, to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse."
CHARLES MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them as early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office."
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents.

Mr. R. H Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but ONE of which patents have been granted, and that is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges."
JOHN TAGGART.

During eight months, the subscriber, in course of his large practice, made on twice rejected applications SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in his favor, by the Commissioner of Patents. R. H. EDDY.

THE FIFTH N. H. REGIMENT.

The Independent Democrat publishes a letter from the 5th Regiment, dated "Battle field of Fair Oaks, near Richmond, June 5th," from which we make the following extracts, being assured that they will prove of interest to many of our readers:—

Friend A:—There are many incidents connected with the battle which took place here on the 1st inst., which, perhaps, would interest you, as the 5th played a prominent part in the bloody drama. The Rebels attempted here what Beauregard attempted at Shiloh, but were not half as successful. The Union army had been engaged, for a number of days, in bridging the Chickahominy to facilitate the passage of our troops. The Rebels were aware of this and had dammed the river, and the moment Casey and Couch had crossed with their Divisions, they opened the flood gates, and swelled the tiny Chickahominy to a resistless, seething torrent, which swept away the bridges, that had cost us so much labor, as if they had been straws. A part of their plan having been successful: they commenced to carry out the remainder by attacking Casey early Saturday morning, capturing his camp and commissary stores. Up to Saturday night it seemed as if their plans were about to be successful, the overwhelming numbers of the enemy were more than a match for the brave and gallant few who opposed them. Our troops retired in good order, however, disputing every inch of ground and charging furiously upon the rebel horde when they came too near. * *

The first intimation we had that we were upon the battle-field, was the Adjutant saying, "look out, boys, and not step upon these wounded men." It was dark as Erebus, not a star being visible through the murky clouds. Scarcely a word was uttered by us as we marched along, each being busy with his own thoughts.

We were the advance guard of the entire army at this point, and consequently were on picket during Saturday night.—The pickets being posted, Capt. Sturtevant received orders to take six men and see what a fire meant, a few rods ahead of us, which was supposed to be one of Sedgwick's picket-fires. Proceeding towards the fire, he was halted by a sentinel, who demanded, "Who comes there?" "A friend," was the answer." "What regiment do you belong to?" inquired the guard.—"What regiment do you belong to?" demanded the Captain. "What regiment do you?" again inquired the sentinel. "What regimcut do you?" again demanded the Captain sternly. "The 5th Texas," was the answer. Nothing daunted at this unexpected answer, the Captain inquired what force was stationed there. "The 5th Texas and 2d Mississippi," was the answer. The Captain slowly retraced his steps so as not to excite suspicion, and considers himself quite fortunate in getting out of such a tight spot.

Towards daylight Sunday morning, a rebel bearer of dispatches was captured.—Mistaking our regiment for the Rebels, he rode boldly up and inquired for Gen. Pryor's headquarters. "Right in here, sir," said the obliging Col. Cross, taking hold of the bridle-rein and leading him in front of our regiment. The dispatch-bearer was somewhat surprised to find himself among the "Yankees," but he made the best of it.

Before the pickets assembled on the battalions, Col. Cross ordered us (the pickets) to lay low while the regiment fired a volley into the woods. After the battle was over a member of the 41st Virginia inquired who those fellows were with the figure 5 on their caps; on being told it was the 5th New Hampshire, he continued: "Well, you are the first regiment that ever caused the 41st to break. We have been at Ball's Bluff and Bull Run, and never gave way for anybody, but the fire you poured into us in the woods mowed down half our regiment and caused the remainder to break and run." Co. A took ten prisoners in the morning before the battle fairly began. A portion of them were enticed into our hands by making signs to them as if we were Rebels.

After our regiment had retreated from the woods, having lost two hundred inside of forty minutes, Gen. McClellan came up and seeing the condition of affairs, said the Rebels must be driven from the woods at all hazards. "Forward," said Col. Langley, and in we went and drove the Rebels from their shelter.

There is one thing more I wish to speak of, and that is the unfair and one-sided reports of the late contest. The Philadelphia reporters ascribe all the honor to Pennsylvania troops and fail to mention other regiments engaged, who, in many instances, outfought them in every manner. Just so with the New York reporters. They seem to forget that there were any such troops in the field as New Hampshire troops. A large portion of our troops have been returned as belonging to New York and Pennsylvania regiments. Now I do not wish to charge the reporters of New York and Philadelphia presses as guilty of gross and wilful misrepresentations, but, at the same time, I must say there seems to be a screw loose somewhere. The New York Herald has an account of a "brilliant charge made by Meagher's Irishmen at the terrible battle of Fair Oaks." Nothing can be farther from the truth than this statement. In short, it is an absolute falsehood and would put to shame the very "father of lies."—After our first terrible conflict of forty minutes' duration in the swamp, in which we lost one hundred and eighty-six men, we were ordered to retire, and did so, and a part of the Irish Brigade was ordered into the twamp to occupy our late position.—They obeyed of course, but found that the Rebels had retired. A few straggling shots were fired at them by the skulking foe, and their entire loss amounted to only nine killed and wounded. Such was the result of "Meagher's brilliant charge." The Metropolitan press seems to entirely ignore such insignificant troops as those from New Hampshire. More, it publishes a list of the killed and wounded of our regiment and then has the contemptible meanness to claim that they belong to New York regiments. Far be it from me to take away one iota of honor belonging to the Empire and Keystone States. I simply claim what is due us. We fought hard and paid dearly for our share of the honor, and we want

PURE OLD BOURBON WHISKEY.

Correspondence between some of the most eminent physicians of New York and Brooklyn, and Wm. J. Cutter, Jr., Louisville, Ky:

NEW YORK May 1, 1861.

Mr. Wm. T. Cutter, Jr., Louisville, Ky.:

Dear Sir—For great difficulty experienced in procuring Brandy sufficiently pure for medicinal purposes, has induced many of the physicians of this vicinity to adopt Bourbon Whiskey as a substitute, both in the hospitals and private practice; and, since the latter has come into such general use, we have reason to believe that a great deal of spurious and inferior quality.

Presuming that your residence in the vicinity of the manufacture of Whiskey, and your well as your skill as a chemist, will enable you to select a reliable article, and having full confidence in your integrity, we are led to inquire whether you will not aid us in having this market supplied, through an Agency, with the best quality of Pure Old Bourbon Whiskey for the use of the sick.

Drs. VALENTINE MOTT, William Parker & others.

Gentlemen:—Your letter of May 1st has been received. In accordance with your wishes, I have made arrangements to supply your city and vicinity with a pure article of copper distilled Bourbon Whiskey, which I trust will fully meet the requirements of your letter. Thanking you for your kind expressions of confidence, &c.,

I remain, very respectfully, yours truly,
WM. T. CUTTER, Jn.

We, the Physicians of Portsmouth, having full confidence in the integrity of D. R. AMBROSE, recommend him as a suitable person to sell OLD BOURBON WHISKEY in Portsmouth, for medicinal purposes, in accordance with an arrangement made between the New York Physicians and Wm. T. IMPORTANT TO THE AFFLCITED.

DR. DOW continues to be consulted at his office, Nos 7 and 9 ENDICOTT STREET, Bostons on all diseases of a

PRIVATE OR DELICATE NATURE.

By a long course of study and practical experience of unlimited extent, Dr. D. has now the gratification of presenting the unfortunate with remedies that have never, since he first introduced them, failed in curing the most alarming cases of

GONORRHŒA AND SYPHILIS.

Beneath his treatment, all the horrors of venereal and impure blood, Impotency, Scrofula, Gonorrhœa, Gleet, Strictures, Distress in the regions of procreation, Inflammation of the Bladder and Kidneys, Hydrocele, Abscesses, Humors, Frightful Swellings, and the long train of horrible symptoms attending the venereal disease, are made to become as harmless as the simplest ailings of a child.

SEMINAL WEAKNESS.

Dr. D devotes a great part of his time to the treatment of those cases caused by secret and solitary habit, which ruins the body and mind, unfitting the unfortunate individual for business or society. Some of the sad and melancholy effects produced by early habits of youth, are Weakness of the Back and Limbs, Dizziness of the head, Dimness of sight, Palpitation of the heart, Dyspepsia, Nervousness, Derangement of the digestive functions, Cough, Consumption, &c. The fearful effects on the mind are much to be dreaded; loss of memory, confusion of ideas, depression of spirits, forbodding, aversion to society, self-distrust, timidity, &c., are among the evils produced. Such persons should, before contemplating marriage, consult a physician of experience, and be at once restored to health and happiness.

Patients who wish to remain under Dr. Dow's treatment a few days or weeks, will be furnished with pleasant rooms, and charges for board moderate.

CAUTION

To Females in Delicate Health.

DR. DOW, Physician and Surgeon, No 7 ENDICOTT STREET, Boston, is consulted daily for all diseases incident to the female system. Prolapsus Uteri, or falling of the Womb, Fluor Albus, Suppression, and other menstrual derangements, are all treated upon new pathological principles, and speedy relief guaranteed in a few days. So invariably certain is the new mode of treatment, that most obstinate complaints yield under it, and the afflicted person soon rejoices in perfect health.

Dr. Dow has no doubt had greater experience in the cure of diseases of women and children, than any other physician in Boston.

Boarding accommodations for patients who may wish to stay in Boston a few days under his treatment.

Dr. Dow, since 1845, having confined his whole attention to an office practice, for the cure of Private Diseases and Female Complaints, acknowledges no superior in the United States.

N. B.—All letters must contain one dollar, or they will not be answered.

Office Hours from 9 A. M. to 9 P. M.

CERTAIN CURE

in all cases of No Charges Made.

Dr. Dow is consulted daily, from 8 A. M. to 9 P. M. as above, upon all difficult and chronic diseases of every name and nature, having by his unwearied attention and extraordinary success gained a reputation which calls patients from all parts of the country to obtain advice.

Among the physicians in Boston, none stands higher in the profession than the celebrated DR. DOW, No. 7 Endicott street, Boston. Those who need the services of an experienced physician and surgeon should give him a call.

FRANKLIN HOUSE,

Portsmouth, N. H.

The undersigned having assumed the management of this well known public house, and having made extensive improvements therein, solicits a continuance of the patronage of the traveling public that has so long been extended to the house.

A new parlor and an extensive suite of commodious and well-ventilated sleeping apartments have been added; and a separate Ladies' Entrance from Congress Street, arranged. Gentlemen with their families, or ladies unattended, will now find quiet and retired apartments connected with the street and dining hall by an independent staircase.

The house will be kept as a first class hotel in every respect, and the proprietors will spare no pains to merit the patronage of those visiting this section of the State.

A good STABLE is connected with the house, where persons visiting Portsmouth with teams, will be promptly and carefully waited upon.

MATHEWS' VENETIAN LIQUID HAIR DYE.

☞ MATHEWS' VENETIAN HAIR DYE—This celebrated Dye was first prepared in 1845; since that time it has been USED BY THOUSANDS, and in no instance has it failed to give PERFECT SATISFACTION.

THE VENETIAN DYE is the cheapest in the world. Its price is ONLY FIFTY CENTS, and each bottle contains DOUBLE THE QUANTITY OF DYE, contained in those usually sold for one DOLLAR.

THE VENETIAN DYE is the safest composition of its class. It is WARRANTED NOT TO INJURE the hair, or the scalp, in the least.

THE VENETIAN DYE works with RAPIDITY AND CERTAINTY. It causes no annoyance or trouble to those who use it.

THE VENETIAN DYE produces any shade that may be desired,—one that will not fade, crock, nor wash out,—one that is as permanent as the hair itself.

THE VENETIAN DYE does not, in any manner, interfere with the NATURAL BEAUTIES OF THE HAIR—it neither scorches nor dries it.

THE VENETIAN DYE is the best, cheapest, tidiest, most convenient, most successful, and most permanent Dye ever offered.

For a Square (14 inches) or less, one insertion 50 cents, three insertions $1, one week $1.50, one month $3, three months $6, six months $8, one year $15. These are Daily rates—and no advertisements receive more than one insertion in the Weekly Gazette without special order and charge.
Funeral Notices, and Advertisements of articles Lost and Found, &c., 50 cents.
Advertisements may appear both in the Daily Chronicle and Weekly Gazette, if ordered; and will thus receive the most thorough circulation both in this city and vicinity, and throughout the State. ☞ Liberal terms for yearly advertising.

The Chronicle.

☞ The boys can make a very neat ornamental flower pot for a stand in the garden, the door step or the house, by taking a paint keg, sawing it in the middle, and then upon the lower half nailing, neatly, close together, from top to bottom, sticks of willow branches, straight and smooth, cutting them off even with the top and bottom, and then giving the whole a good coat of varnish.—A boy with good taste can add something farther in the way of ornament, but the above will answer to begin with, and make a fine appearance.

A STRANGE FACT.—A horse at New London, belonging to Abner Bassett, having been pretty much worn out in hauling up vessels on marine railways by travelling around a capstan for ten years, now "goes through the motions" for hours every day, in a particular part of the lot where he is pastured. He "winds his round" in imagination with perfect steadiness and regularity, showing the force of horse habit.

☞ In the Kingdom of Bavaria there was a man who had taught a school fifty years. The King ordered the observance of the 50th anniversary as a jubilee, and delivered the commemorative address; after which he settled a generous pension on the aged teacher. To neglect such a teacher would have been not only bad policy, but cold ingratitude.

SAD AFFAIR.—While Mr. Leonard Thomas of Rumford, Me., was hauling manure on Friday, the 6th inst., his youngest son, about two years of age, fell under the wheel of the cart on the opposite side from where his father was, and it passed over his head, crushing it without a sound! The father did not discover the accident until called to it by some of his other children.

☞ Hundreds of families in London never have any artificial heat in their houses but that produced by gas. They use gas stoves of such construction as to heat their rooms perfectly comfortably; and also stoves of other forms for cooking purposes.

☞ The New Orleans papers copy the "Democratic Address," and style it, "the Vallandigham Plan of Reconstruction." A New Jersey paper before us copies from the Richmond Dispatch a bitter piece of abuse, which this rebel sheet heaps upon Pres. Lincoln and Secretary Seward.

☞ The Union gunboat fleet on James river consists of the Wachusett, the Galena, (which has been repaired,) the Monitor, the Maratanza, the Mahaska, the Aroostook, the Port Royal, the Dragon, and the Jacob Bell.

☞ There are only sixty-two Revolutionary patriots now alive.

☞ ATTENTION, THE WHOLE! ☜
PORTSMOUTH, April 21st, 1862.
I have for several years been afflicted with distress at my stomach, loss of appetite, and often vomited up all of my food immediately after eating it, and all medicine failed to give any relief until about a year ago, when I took one bottle of DR. S. SWETT'S PANACEA, which fully cured me, so that I have not had the least trouble from any of these complaints since, and I enjoy good health. M. LOWD.
Exeter, Feb. 24, 1858. Dr. Swett:—"Sir, for the benefit of those who are afflicted as I have been, with a humour, which prevented quiet rest night and day, I would say, that your PANACEA has effected a radical cure on me; and would add—that for the use of it, my health has been greatly improved; therefore, I cheerfully recommend it as superior to any other medicine I ever used for humors and consumptive complaints."
WM. P. LEAVITT.
From ELDER I CHESLEY, Lee, May 31, 1841.
DR. SWETT: Permit me to testify, as I feel in duty bound to do, that my daughter was afflicted with scrofulous humor, and that previous to your visiting our house in the spring of 1840, she had been confined for a number of months, without her natural rest by day or night. She had applied to a number of physicians, but continued to grow weaker till she commenced using your PANACEA and HUMOR WASH. Since then, she has recovered her health so far as to rest quietly by night, and labor by day. I esteem your medicine one of the best that can be found for the disease above named." ISRAEL CHESLEY
☞ Any one returning the remainder of a bottle or box of Dr. Swett's medicines shall have pay for it, if it do not agree with his case, or if not worth the price. All orders directed to DR. S. SWETT, Portsmouth, N. H., promptly attended to. may26d

WEDNESDAY, JUNE 25, 1862.

THE REBELLION.

The U. S. bark Gem of the Sea, on the 3d inst., captured the rebel schooner Mary Stewart, from Nassau, while attempting to run the blockade off the Santee river, S. C.,—cargo salt.

The U. S. steamer Calhoun, has captured on Lake Ponchartrain the rebel steamer Whiteman, also the rebel schooner Venus, having a cargo of 228 bales cotton. An expedition from the same steamer, Calhoun, cut out the rebel gunboat Corphyeus. She was found in one of the bayous, securely moored, and guarded by rebel troops.

The U. S. ship Susquehanna, 11th inst., captured the rebel schooner Princeton, from Havana. Her cargo consisted of drugs, dry goods, provisions, &c.

On the 9th inst. the brig Bainbridge captured schooner Borgany, and sent her to Key West.

Commodore Kelly, of the Mound City, has captured and sent to Cairo the Clara Dobson, one of the largest, handsomest and finest rebel steamers on White river.

Rebel papers state that Holly Springs, Tenn., was occupied by a U. S. force, on the 16th, who took a lot of prisoners on a railway train bound South.

The Charleston Mercury says "the Confederate loss at Secessionville was 40 killed and 100 wounded. We buried on the field 140 Federals and took 40 prisoners."

Advices have been received at the War Department from Gen. Halleck, dated Corinth, 22d, and from Gen. McClellan's army of the Potomac, Monday afternoon. Nothing of public interest had transpired.

A Fortress Monroe letter says a member of the Governor's Guard at Richmond, who was captured at Ashland, on the 19th, states that Beauregard is second in command at Richmond, and that a number of his troops have arrived there.

U. S. gunboat Jacob Bell got aground in James river on Saturday, and the rebels fired upon her with field-pieces, damaging her considerably before she could drive them off.

Rebel sch. Rowena, from Nassau, ran into Stono river, in the night, June 17, and anchored near our gunboats; of course she is a prize.

No battle news at Washington Tuesday.

FROM THE SOUTH WEST.—Advices from Vicksburg via Grenada state that up to the 17th no active demonstration had been made by the Federal fleet since its retirement. Several gunboats appeared on the 15th from below.

It is reported that 5000 Federals, with transports and gunboats, left Baton Rouge on Friday for Vicksburg.

The Vicksburg Whig of the 17th learns that Gen. Lovell and staff had moved their headquarters to Meridian, and hopes that he will not visit that city again. The Federal advanced divisions arrived on Friday evening, and fired a few shots at the lower battery.

A Greenboro' (Miss.) paper of the 14th gives a short report from Oktibbeha county that the negroes are rapidly arming to kill all the whites. On the 18th a negro plot was discovered and frustrated.

The Mobile News of the 14th says a Georgia brigade, 6000 strong, was to leave on Wednesday, under Gen. Lawton, to reinforce Jackson.

U. S. TAXES.—The two Houses of Congress, which had disagreed on the amendments to the great Direct Tax Bill, had a committee of Conference, and on Monday their joint report was unanimously adopted in the Senate, while in the House the vote was 106 to 10. The dog tax is struck out. The bill only awaits the President's approval to become a law, and is to take effect on the 1st of August. The Commissioners of Internal Revenue are to receive a salary of $4000 per annum.

WASHINGTON ITEMS.—The nomination of Brig. Gen. Shields as Major General was rejected by the Senate, Monday. A letter in the Tribune says Gen. Bleaker has been removed by Gen. Fremont for insolence, and Gen. Carl Shurz appointed in his place.

Among the rumors in circulation in Washington is one to the effect that Secretary Stanton is about to relinquish the charge of the War Department, and that Major General Banks will take the place vacated by him. It is also said that in case Major Gen. McDowell should manifest a wish to retire from active service, it will be granted. These rumors are given for what they are worth.

—— The burned bridge which formerly spanned the Piscataquog, is to be replaced by an iron one, at a cost of about $1100.

—— The Ossipee Register has a list of thirty-nine persons, over seventy years of age, living in the little town of Tuftonborough.

☞ The Centennial Celebration of Free Masonry in Maine, came off at Portland on Tuesday, in grand style. At half past 9 in the morning, the Portland Commandery, accompanied by a band, left their quarters and received the Portsmouth and Dover Commanderies,—and afterwards the others, as they arrived. The Grand Procession was formed at 11 o'clock, and made a fine appearance, arriving at the City Hall about one o'clock, where a historical address was delivered by Moses Dodge, master of Portland Lodge.

The Freemasons of Portsmouth were represented by the De Witt Clinton Commandery, and by delegations from St. John's and St. Andrew's Lodges; accompanied by the Portsmouth Cornet Band. They left this city in a special train at 6 o'clock in the morning, and returned in the evening.

☞ The Charleston, S. C., Mercury of June 7, printed on a half sheet, announces the purchase of a small press for present use,—as the fast Hoe press could not be replaced in the Confederacy,—and therefore it is to be removed to Columbia, to have it safe in case "Charleston should be destroyed." The same paper says, from the number of gunboats and vessels off Charleston and in the Stono river, the landing of troops, and continued firing, the attack on Charleston is imminent.

INDIANA UNION CONVENTION.—The Union Mass State Convention was held at Indianapolis on the 18th inst. A State ticket, consisting of three Republican and two Union Democrats was nominated. Letters were received from Senator Wright (Dem.) and others, cordially approving the objects of the Convention. Speeches were made by leading Union Democrats, urging the vigorous prosecution of the war, opposing every description of compromise, and declaring that slavery must take the chances of the war. It is thought that this movement will completely sweep the field in Indiana.

ARRIVAL OF A CARGO OF BEAUREGARD'S BELL METAL.—The ship North America, which arrived at Boston on Saturday, has on board the bells which were contributed by the people of Louisiana, for the prosecution of the war against the Union, under the proclamation issued by Beauregard. They were found in the Custom House at New Orleans, and are reported to be worth $50,000.

☞ It is to be hoped that the pension law, before it receives the signature of Mr. Lincoln, will have been so amended that wounded soldiers will receive pensions from the date of their discharge, and not from the day that a pension is allowed them, as at present.

☞ L. De Wilde, of West Troy, N. Y., now upwards of eighty years of age, is one of the few men now living who took part in Murat's memorable charge at Eylau. He was in the fight for ten hours as captain of a company of dragoons, and was himself severely wounded.

☞ The rebels in Richmond are very short of provisions. At a recent meeting of the city council this fact was made prominent, and a resolution banishing all idle young persons from the city was made and rejected, for the reason that if the fact reached the Yankees they would think the rebels were starving to death.

☞ A boiler head was blown out, on Tuesday morning, in the forge shop of Lazell & Perkins' great Iron Works, at Bridgewater, Mass., killing six men, and wounding seven more.

Among the exchanged prisoners from Richmond is a young man who has for a long time been prisoner of war. He says that one of the rebel surgeons took quite a liking to him, and made him an Assistant Surgeon. On the morning before the battle of Fair Oaks the surgeon told the prisoner that owing to the immense rains and the swollen state of the rivers the Confederates would bag about twenty thousand Yankees. On the return of the army the Union man asked for the twenty thousand Yankees the rebels were about to bring in. The surgeon replied by a shake of the head. More than seven thousand wounded men came into Richmond, till nearly every house was filled with them.

☞ Portland Daily Press, is the name of a new paper in the commercial capital of Maine, edited by Messrs. Gillman and Hall: it is ably conducted and handsomely printed.

☞ President Lincoln has signed the Act of Congress for Freedom in all the Territories of the United States, present and prospective. It is now a law.

☞ General Pettigrew of South Carolina, who since his capture has been the guest of George H. Williams, Esq., of Baltimore, was on Thursday sent to Fort Delaware, by order of Secretary Stanton.

☞ The bill for the issue of $150,000,000 in demand notes, passed the House on Tuesday, 76 to 46.

☞ Among the visitors stopping at the Atlantic House, Rye Beach, are Hon. Albin Beard and lady, of Nashua.

☞ We understand that an excursion party consisting of a goodly number of persons from this city and a large delegation from Boston and Charlestown, recently (by invitation of John Trickey, Esq., formerly of Dover, now engaged in business with E. H. Jewett, of South Berwick, in Boston and Portsmouth,) made an excursion over the B. & M. and Cocheco Railroads, to Alton Bay and quartered at the Winnipiscogee House, kept by Chas. W. Trickey at that pleasant spot.

The steamer Dover was chartered for a special trip for the guests, and the party visited Wolfboro' and rested in the spacious parlors of the Pavilion, which under the excellent management of A. H. Dunton, Esq., is in most admirable order and looks especially inviting; and afterwards visited Centre Harbor and were received by J. L. Huntress in his usual hospitable manner.—The party, after a voyage over both sides of the lake, returning by Davis Island to view the spot where the Regiments were not located, arrived at Alton Bay to partake of an elegant banquet at the "Winnipiscogee," which was served with generous hospitality and rich profusion. The Boston gentlemen after the dinner had been vigorously attacked, of course followed up the proceedings with "a few remarks" as is the fashion with Bostonians, and the affair was finished up in "Boston fashion." The larger portion of the company left Alton Bay the next morning by a special train that had been provided by Supt. Kimball of the Cocheco R. R., while several gentlemen remained behind to enjoy the beautiful scenery and pure air of Alton Bay, and hook an allowance of trout.

Much credit is due to John Trickey, Esq., for the liberal entertainment provided, and the party were also largely indebted to Geo. C. Kimball, Esq., of the Cocheco R. R.; C. W. Trickey, of that excellent hotel the Winnipiscogee, at Alton Bay, Capt. Wiggin, of steamer Dover, and John E. Bickford, of Dover, for many attentions.—The company also acknowledged that much obligation was due to Josiah Dunham, Naval Storekeeper at Charlestown Yard, for his indefatigable services as Provost Marshal.

☞ Mathews' Arnica Hair Gloss. The Arnica Montana, from which this invaluable preparation derives its name, is a perennial plant, a native of the mountains of Siberia. From it is obtained an oil which has been discovered to be the most powerful remedy for allaying and removing inflammation known to pharmacy. This oil, combined with other tried ingredients, forms the Arnica Hair Gloss. June 1 1md

IN HORSE SHOES.

S. W. WEBBER,

Blacksmith and Horse-Shoer,

NO 80 STATE STREET, Portsmouth,

Has purchased the sole right to manufacture and use

Cate's Patent Grooved Horse Shoes,

in this city and vicinity; and is prepared to furnish and set the same, at the regular prices for other Shoes, (except for steel Shoes, which are 25 cts. extra), and warrant them to give full satisfaction in all cases. The improvement consists in the nails being set in a steel groove which protects the heads, and the Shoe being concave on both the upper and under sides, rest as to be much lighter, to hold on better, and afford a good purchase for the horse without corks, except on very hard ice.

These Shoes are peculiarly favorable for tender or bad feet, quarter cracks, interfering, overreaching, &c.; and gentlemen who have been troubled with their horses, and the public generally, are invited to call and examine the same, and give them a trial.

Any other pattern of Shoe will be put on, to suit customers, as usual; and BLACKSMITH JOBBING generally attended to. S. W. WEBBER.

Local.

☞ On Monday forenoon a telegraphic dispatch was received in Boston from the Secretary of Navy, ordering the U. S. steamship Colorado to proceed to Portsmouth Navy Yard. Capt. Rufus A. Preble, the pilot and owner of the yacht 'Sybil of Portsmouth, received a dispatch requiring him to proceed to Boston and pilot the Colorado into Portsmouth. Capt. Preble left by the 11 1-4 train, and on his arrival in Boston at once proceeded on board the Colorado, which ship sailed for Portsmouth in the afternoon, and at 6 o'clock on Tuesday morning was at anchor at the moorings off the Navy Yard. Capt. Preble was absent from the harbor but 19 hours.

☞ The U. S. steam frigate Colorado, Lt. Com'g John L. Davis, arrived at this port on Tuesday morning, and exchanged the usual salutes. She is last from Boston, where she arrived on Saturday evening from Mobile Bay, which point she left on the 5th inst. She comes here to go out of commission, have her crew paid off, and we presume to receive repairs, of which she stands greatly in need. She was sent to sea at a time of pressing necessity, in a condition scarcely up to the requirements of her service, and as she has been relieved from blockading duty by smaller and more available vessels, the frigate will probably be thoroughly overhauled before she is sent on another cruise.

The Colorado sailed from Boston, June 18, 1861, and was first stationed off Pensacola, to afford protection to Fort Pickens against land attacks by the rebels. When here the celebrated "Judith affair" occurred, in which Lieut. Russell and Midshipmen Steene, Blake and Higginson distinguished themselves by their coolness and bravery. The Colorado was next stationed off the Southwest Pass of the Mississippi, which she blockaded for months. During this time she captured the rebel steamer Calhoun, and her officers rendered service in sounding and buoying out the channel. When Flag Officer Farragut arrived with his squadron, the Colorado was ordered to Ship Island to lighten ship in order to cross the bar. This was found impracticable, and she remained outside during the siege of forts Jackson and St. Philip. While there she received on board fifteen hundred of Gen. Butler's troops from the Great Republic, in order to enable that vessel to cross the bar, which she finally succeeded in doing. The Colorado contributed her fine armament to the expedition against New Orleans, eighteen of her heavy broadside guns having been distributed among the squadron. Captain Bailey, accompanied by Midshipman Higginson, took command of one division of gunboats in the memorable action of April 24; Midshipman Bridgman, with 70 of her crew, were transferred to the Richmond for the time. Assistant Engineer White was in the action on the gunboat Wissahickon, and a large portion of the Colorado's crew and marines were engaged on different ships. Only two men belonging to the ship were wounded in the action, and those slightly.

The frigate left Southwest Pass 12th May, and proceeded to Mobile, off which port she remained till the 9th inst. in company with sloop-of-war Preble and gunboat Kanawha.

THE COLORADO ORDERED TO PORTSMOUTH.—A telegraphic dispatch was received Monday morning from Secretary Welles, ordering the frigate Colorado to Portsmouth, N. H., where she will go out of commission, and her officers and crew be paid off. This will be quite a surprise for the good people of the New Hampshire seaport, as no ship of the size of the Colorado has ever entered that harbor.—Boston Journal.

You don't say! Really, we think it would take considerable of a "ship" to "surprise" our "people." If memory serves us, the frigate Wabash, which we believe took President Pierce from this port round to Annapolis, was fully "of the size of the Colorado"—and we never heard of "our good people" being surprised out of their propriety. And we presume other frigates of the same class have entered here, as they should come again—of which last fact, we are glad to see (by this vessel's arrival,) that our National authorities are at last becoming aware. And further, not only was the fastest ship in the U. S. Navy built at Portsmouth Navy Yard, but they now have on the stocks there, the splendid frigate Franklin, the largest U. S. ship, we think. Don't, gentlemen editors in "the hub" and hubbub cities,—pray don't put yourselves out to pity and condole with "old Portsmouth." She is able to stand her hand, and asks no favors,—only justice and fair play.

But the Secretary of the Navy is welcome to send round here, all the big vessels whenever there is doubt about Boston harbor having water enough to accommodate them, Portsmouth harbor can take them, even with inverted masts.

☞ We are glad to learn that the prospects are good for a Celebration of The Fourth in Portsmouth. There is no reason why we may not have a good one—the time is not too short, and funds ought not to be.

☞ A Committee of the House of Representatives, consisting of one member from each county, appointed on motion of Col. Nat Head of Hooksett, together with a committee from the Senate also appointed to visit the State Arsenal in this city and to take into consideration the ridiculous suggestion of Quartermaster General Gage to remove it to Concord, will visit Portsmouth on Saturday.

The committee will be accompanied by His Excellency, Gov. Berry, Hon. W. H. Y. Hackett, President of the Senate, Hon. E. A. Rollins, Speaker of the House, Hon. Allen Tenny, Secretary of State, Col. Henry O. Kent, representative from Lancaster, (who was smart enough on Monday, before our delegation got back to Concord, to strike out the words "and Portsmouth" in a resolution ordering repairs upon the arsenals, and get for his own arsenal at Lancaster all the funds,) and several other gentlemen. Mr. Bailey of this city is member of the committee from this county.

We trust that our citizens will be fully aroused to the importance of demonstrating the necessity of keeping the arsenal where it is and where in case of a war with a foreign foe it would particularly be needed.—Let the Concord people be content with what they have already got, or there may be a move to take from them even that which they have. It is said that one of the members of that locality, who hadn't smelt salt water, wanted to know, a short time ago, why they couldn't have the Navy Yard up there as well as at Portsmouth.

☞ Rusticating in June or early July is among the pleasantest of the year. A ride through Rye and Greenland, on one of our recent "blue days," we found delightful.—The vegetation is everywhere luxuriant, and the recent showers rendered the air balmy and the roads superb. At the Ocean House, only, was a scene of desolation presented. The destruction of the main hotel building was the most complete imaginable,—save a chimney and the foundation, we could see no fragment of the late handsome edifice, so large as your finger—not a scrap of wood was visible. And the skeleton of the old schooner recently wrecked on the beach near, lay on the sand la sight, to complete the sad picture.

But we found the cosy old Atlantic House as inviting as ever, with mine host Philbrick greeting numerous comers heartily as usual, even thus early—and we sat down to one of his capital dinners with a goodly company.

Then a walk on the beach, and in the "Atlantic's" cathedral woods, (and we know not where to point to groves more beautiful,) listening to a little music in the parlors, and exchanging a word with the ever-coming guests—and we must be off.—A drive though the picturesque Breakfast Hill Road, (at one of the hospitable residences on which we are regaled with field strawberries and cream, doubly fragrant of of the meadows, and sent on our way rejoicing with a splendid bouquet, sweet-scented as the breath of morning—which yet delights our senses as we write. Thanks to those fair "calico" maidens.

Then down across Greenland's beautiful Parade, past the finest stone walls and sidewalks we ever saw in any rural town—and through the road between the Peirce and March farms, which is bodered by a long row of very lofty locusts, (in Col. March's premises,) which are just now in full bloom, and present one of the most beautiful sights imaginable. There are also a number of locusts in bloom near Gravelly Ridge School House.

But we have seen enough beauties for one day. The first chance, let us all go to Diman's Highland Cottage, (which you will remember is now open,) and get some strawberries and cream. Then home by the Bay Side Road—one of the most truly rural and sequestered.

FOURTH OF JULY.—An adjourned meeting was held at the City Rooms last evening to hear the report of committees on the celebration. The committee on subscriptions reported that they had raised sufficient funds to warrant proceeding with the work. Other committees also reported favorably.

An adjourned meetting will be held this (Wednesday) evening at the City Rooms, and a full attendance is desired.

☞ We can't say whether the rumors that a new Democratic newspaper is to be started in Portsmouth, are true or not; but we wish there was one—for with three Republican papers, and one independent, with a squint the same way, in the county, politics are all one-sided and dry enough.

☞ The ladies of the Soldiers' Aid Society gratefully acknowledge the following sums received:—

Middle Street Baptist Society,	$20.90,
North Parish	82.40,
South Parish	277.24.

MARY A. FOSTER, Treasurer.

"MAGEE'S PATENT"

VENTILATING & AIR-WARMING

FURNACES.

The subscribers, being the Sole Agents in this vicinity for the manufacture and sale of this valuable Furnace, would ask those about remodelling or erecting buildings to examine this truly valuable invention.

For economy, purity of air and ease of management it has no equal, producing a current of warm air, moist and agreeable;—and as none of the air which comes in contact with the fire-pot is used for respiration, the tendency to produce headache so much complained of in other Furnaces, is entirely obviated.

The objects aimed at by the constructors of heating apparatus have been to obtain the greatest amount of heat from a given amount of fuel, and to prevent the escape of heat to the smoke pipe or chimney.

To accomplish this many complicated and expensive heating arrangements have been constructed, some possessing but little improvement over former methods, while many have proved a total failure. The reason for this is obvious. The combustible gases being lighter than the air, pass off into the pipe or chimney without being consumed. This objection, so common in other Furnaces, is obviated in the

MAGEE FURNACE.

The flue or pipe in this Furnace being below the fire-pot, the gases, from their specific gravity, cannot descend, and are burned up by the admission of cold air through the fire-pot, which ignites them as they pass off from the coal, thus saving at least 20 per cent. of the properties of the heat in the fuel.

No heating apparatus with the smoke-pipe or flue on the top of the cone can be made to consume the gases of the coal, as they pass off with a large amount of the heat generated, making the chimney the hottest part of your dwelling.

This Furnace does away with the great number of pipes and angles for the radiation of heat, which are so liable to fill up and get out of order, thus simplifying, while it increases the surface of radiation.

These Furnaces consume all the coal, make no clinkers, the sifting of coal is entirely dispensed with, and they will save from 30 to 50 per cent. of fuel over common Furnaces.

For ease of management, economy and purity of air, these Furnaces have no equal. They can be regulated so as to give any amount of heat required, and the fire may be kept the entire season without once going out.

They give entire satisfaction wherever used. We have in store the different sizes, Brick and Portable, to which we invite the attention of those in want of the best Furnace in the world,—and would refer them to the following named gentlemen, who have them now in use:

Samuel Cleaves, Esq., Albert R. Hatch, Esq.,
Aaron H. Hill, Charles H. Mendum,
Henry F. Wendell, John Sise, and others.

Also on hand, the celebrated and unequalled

MAGEE COOKING STOVES,

American and Foreign Patents.

R. H. EDDY,
SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,
Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, (under the Act of 1837.)
75 State Street, opposite Kilby Street,
BOSTON,

After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Bonds, Assignments, and Papers of every Description for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with dispatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of patents or inventions—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

The Agency is not only the largest in New-England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing Patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The Testimonials below given prove that none but the BEST SUCCESS WILL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional service so moderate.

The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of Specifications and official decisions relative to patents.

These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full records of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.

All necessity of a journey to Washington, to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse."

CHARLES MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them as early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office."

EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents.

Mr. R. H Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but ONE of which patents have been granted, and that is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges." JOHN TAGGART.

During eight months, the subscriber, in course of his large practice, made on twice rejected applications SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in his favor, by the Commissioner of Patents. R. H. EDDY.

IMMORTELLES.

A BLUE DAY IN JUNE.

There is no price set on the lavish summer,
And June may be had by the poorest comer.
And what she so rare as a day in June?
Then, if ever, come perfect days;
Then Heaven tries the earth if it be in tune,
And over it softly her warm ear lays:
Whether we look, or whether we listen,
We hear life murmur, or see it glisten;
Every clod feels a stir of might,
An instinct within it that reaches and towers,
And, grasping blindly above it for light,
Climbs to a soul in grass and flowers;
The flush of life may well be seen
Thrilling back over hills and valleys;
The cowslip starlets in meadows green,
The buttercup catches the sun in its chalice,
And there 's never a leaf or a blade too mean
To be some happy creature's palace;
The little bird sits at his door in the sun,
Atilt like a blossom among the leaves,
And lets his illumined being o'errun
With the deluge of summer it receives;
His mate feels the eggs beneath her wings,
And the heart in her dumb breast flutters and sings;
He sings to the wide world, and she to her nest,—
In the nice ear of Nature, which song is the best?

Lieut. Kennett, of the Ordnance Department, at Nashville, had occasion to examine that hot bed of rebellion, the 'Southern Methodist Publishing House." That white-choakered bundle of deception, McT., acted the cicerone. Taking the lieutenant into the basement, where machinery had been placed for manufacturing certain parts of Confederate ordnance, he commenced explaining that certain bolts and screws were used in stereotyping, and this and that in the printing business, and so on through quite a list of articles. After the Reverend (?) had finished his explanations, the lieutenant said to him, "I judge by your white cravat and drest that you profess to be a clergyman; now let me tell you, sir, that every sentence you have uttered is a tissue of falsehoods. I have been educated for the ordnance department, and I know where every one of those bolts, nuts and screws belong on a gun carriage.—Good morning, sir!" and the Reverend was left to his own reflection.

VICISSITUDES OF SPECULATION.—Seven years ago parties in this vicinity purchased 2600 barrels of whale oil at fifty-six cents per gallon, and stored it for speculation. Subsequently 600 barrels were withdrawn by one of the owners. The balance, 2000 barrels, has been sold within a few weeks for forty-seven cents a gallon. During the period the oil has been held, the price has been as high as eighty-two cents a gallon, but the owners held on, waiting for something a little better. The total loss on the oil, including interest, depreciation, shrinkage, &c., is estimated at between $40,000 and $50,000. Thus it is, those who are too eager for great profits often lose the whole.—New Bedford Standard.

STATUE OF HORACE MANN.—Miss Stebbins, at Rome, has completed her statue of Horace Mann. It is pronounced in a letter "superb, and, by universal consent, the finest statue in any studio now in Rome. It is eight feet high, and is richly draped with a cloak loosely over the figure, which passes under the right extended arm, then over the breast and left shoulder, falling in rich, graceful folds down the back, quite to the base of the statue. The left hand clasps a book against the breast, and upon the pedestal is a pile of books, which serve as a support to the figure, as well as to indicate the literary pursuits of the man. It will be sent to Munich to be cast in bronze."

I had the pleasure of sitting next to Dr. Asbe one day at dinner, when he began a story with—"As eleven of my daughters and I were crossing Piccadilly"—— "Eleven of your daughters, doctor!" I rather rudely interrupted. "Yes, sir," rejoined the doctor; "I have nineteen daughters, all living—never had a son; and Mrs. Asbe, myself, and nineteen female Asbe plants, sit down—one-and-twenty of us—to dinner every day. Sir, I am smothered with petticoats." He probably meant Ashes.—Willis.

PURE OLD BOURBON WHISKEY.

Correspondence between some of the most eminent physicians of New York and Brooklyn, and Wm. J. Cutter, Jr., Louisville, Ky.

NEW YORK May 1, 1861.

MR. WM. T. CUTTER, Jr., Louisville, Ky.:

Dear Sir:—The great difficulty experienced in procuring Brandy sufficiently pure for medicinal purposes, has induced many of the physicians of this vicinity to adopt Bourbon Whiskey as a substitute, both in the hospitals and private practice; and, since the latter has come into such general use, we have reason to believe that a great deal now sold is of very inferior quality.

Presuming that your residence is in the vicinity of the manufacture of Whiskey in Kentucky, as well as your skill as a chemist, will enable you to select a reliable article, and having full confidence in your integrity, we are led to inquire whether you will not aid us in having this market supplied, through an Agency, with the best quality of Pure Old Bourbon Whiskey for the use of the Medical Profession.

We are, very respectfully, sir, yours truly,

LOUISVILLE, KY., July 31, 1861.

DR. VALENTINE MOTT, Willard Parker & others.

Gentlemen:—Your letter of May 1st has been received. In accordance with your wishes, I have made arrangements to supply your city and vicinity with a pure article of copper distilled Bourbon Whiskey, which I trust will fully meet the requirements of your letter. Thanking you for your kind expressions of confidence, &c.,

I remain, very respectfully, yours truly,
WM. T. CUTTER, Jr.

We, the Physicians of Portsmouth, having full confidence in the integrity of D. R. AMBROSE, recommend him as a suitable person to sell OLD BOURBON WHISKEY in Portsmouth, for medicinal purposes, in accordance with an arrangement made between the New York Physicians and Wm. T. CUTTER, Jr., of Louisville, Ky., and a similar agreement between said Cutter and the Physicians of Boston.

IMPORTANT TO THE AFFLCITED.

DR. DOW continues to be consulted at his office, Nos 7 and 9 ENDICOTT STREET, Boston, on all diseases of a

PRIVATE OR DELICATE NATURE.

By a long course of study and practical experience of unlimited extent, Dr. D. has now the gratification of presenting the unfortunate with remedies that have never failed, since he introduced them, failed to cure the most alarming cases of

GONORRHŒA AND SYPHILIS.

Beneath his treatment, all the horrors of venereal and impure blood, Impotency, Scrofula, Gonorrhœa, Ulcers, pain and distress in the regions of procreation, Inflammation of the Bladder and Kidneys, Gravel, Abscesses, Humors, frightful Swellings, and the long train of horrible symptoms attending this class of disease, are made to become as harmless as the simplest stings of a child.

SEMINAL WEAKNESS.

Dr. D. devotes a great part of his time to the treatment of those cases caused by a secret and solitary habit, which ruins both body and mind, unfitting the unfortunate individual for business or society. Some of the sad and melancholy effects produced by early habits of youth, are Weakness of the Back and limbs, Dizziness of the head, Dimness of sight, Palpitation of the heart, Dyspepsia, Nervousness, Consumption, ruin of the digestive functions, Symptoms of Consumption, &c. The fearful effects on the mind are much to be dreaded; loss of memory, confusion of ideas, depression of spirits, evil forebodings, aversion of society, self-distrust, timidity, &c., are among the evils produced. Such persons should, before contemplating matrimony, consult a physician of experience, and be at once restored to health and happiness.

Patients who wish to remain under Dr. Dow's treatment a few days or weeks, will be furnished with pleasant rooms, and charges for board moderate. apr7—1y3taw

CAUTION

To Females in Delicate Health.

DR. DOW, Physician and Surgeon, No 7 ENDICOTT STREET, Boston, is consulted daily for all diseases incident to the female system. Prolapsus Uteri, or falling of the Womb, Fluor Albus, Suppression, and other menstrual derangements, are all treated on new and improved principles, and speedy relief guaranteed in a few days. So universally certain is the new mode of treatment, that most obstinate complaints yield under it, and the afflicted person soon rejoices in perfect health.

Dr. Dow has no doubt had greater experience in the cure of diseases of women and children, than any other physician in Boston.

Boarding accommodations for patients who may wish to stay in Boston a few days under his treatment.

Dr. Dow, since 1845, having confined his whole attention to an office practice, for the cure of Private Diseases and Delicate Complaints, acknowledges no superior in the United States.

N. B.—All letters must contain one dollar, or they will not be answered.

Office Hours from 8 A. M. to 9 P. M.

CERTAIN CURE

In all cases, or No Charges Made.

Dr. Dow is consulted daily, from 8 A. M. to 9 P. M. as above, upon all difficult and chronic diseases of every name and nature, having by his unwearied attention and extraordinary success gained a reputation which calls patients from all parts of the country to obtain advice.

Among the physicians in Boston, none stands higher in the profession than the celebrated DR. DOW, No. 7 Endicott street, Boston. Those who need the services of an experienced physician and surgeon should give him a call.

FRANKLIN HOUSE,
Portsmouth, N. H.

The undersigned having assumed the management of this well known public house, and having made extensive improvements therein, solicits a continuance of the patronage of the travelling public that has so long been extended to the house.

A new parlor and an extensive suite of commodious and well-ventilated sleeping apartments have been added; and a separate Ladies' Entrance from Congress Street, arranged. Gentlemen with their families, or ladies unattended, will now find quiet and retired apartments connected with the street and dining hall by an independent staircase.

The house will be kept as a first class hotel in every respect, and the proprietors will spare no pains to merit the patronage of those visiting this section of the State.

A good STABLE is connected with the house, where persons visiting Portsmouth with teams, will be promptly and carefully waited upon.

MATHEWS'
VENETIAN LIQUID
HAIR DYE.

☞ MATHEWS' VENETIAN HAIR DYE.—This celebrated Dye was first prepared in 1845; since that time it has been USED BY THOUSANDS, and in no instance has it failed to give PERFECT SATISFACTION.

THE VENETIAN DYE is the cheapest in the world. Its price is only FIFTY CENTS, and each bottle contains DOUBLE THE QUANTITY OF DYE contained in those usually sold for ONE DOLLAR.

THE VENETIAN DYE is the safest composition of its class. It is WARRANTED NOT TO INJURE the hair, or the scalp, in the least.

THE VENETIAN DYE works with RAPIDITY AND CERTAINTY. It causes no annoyance or trouble to those who use it.

THE VENETIAN DYE produces any shade that may be desired,—one that will not fade, crock, nor wash out,—one that is as permanent as the hair itself.

THE VENETIAN DYE is the best, cheapest, safest, most convenient, most successful, and most permanent Dye ever used.

☞ ATTENTION, THE WHOLE! ☜

PORTSMOUTH, April 21st, 1862.

I have for several years been afflicted with distress at my stomach, loss of appetite, and often vomited up all of my food immediately after eating it, and all medicine failed to give any relief until about a year ago, when I took one bottle of DR. SWETT'S PANACEA, which fully cured me, so that I have had the least trouble from any of these complaints since, and I enjoy good health. M. LOWD.

Exeter, Feb 24, 1858. Dr. Swett,—"Sir, for the benefit of those who are afflicted as I have been, with a humor, which prevented quiet rest night and day, I would say, that your PANACEA has effected a radical cure on me, and would add—that by the use of it, my health has been greatly improved; therefore, I cheerfully recommend it as superior to any other medicine I ever used for humors and consumptive complaints."

WM. P. LEAVITT.

From ELDER I CHESLEY, Lee, May 31, 1841.

Dr. SWETT: Permit me to testify, as I feel in duty bound to do, that my daughter was afflicted with scrofulous humor, and that previous to your visiting our house in the spring of 1839, she had been confined for a number of months, without her natural rest by day or night. She had applied to a number of physicians, but continued to grow weaker till she commenced using your PANACEA and HUMOR WASH. Since then, she has recovered her health so far as to rest quietly by night, and labor by day. I esteem your medicine one of the best that can be found for the disease above named." ISRAEL CHESLEY

☞ Any one returning the remainder of a bottle or box of Humor and Ointment shall have pay for it, if it do not agree with his case, or if not worth the price. All orders directed to DR. S. SWETT, Portsmouth, N. H., promptly attended to. may26o

THURSDAY, JUNE 26, 1862.

LETTER FROM KANSAS.

FORT RILEY, KANSAS, June 13.

Messrs. Editors:—Kansas has been the theatre of a vast deal of vaulting ambition, if not of great battles, during the war. The rivalry of the politicians has been exhibited more in the camps than even in Lawrence and Topeka. "Robinson" and "Lane" are the shibboleths which ring through every regiment: till it has become a weariness to listen. Nor is much interest felt by men at large what fourth rate politician or hanger-on is appointed colonel, major, and so on. Such is the sublime chaos in which the powers that be are plunged, that one regiment (the Kansas 2d,) has had three colonels at once, during its stay here: and the contest between them is still pending. Fortunately parts of the Kansas regiments are made up of Illinois troops, whose acquaintance with Robinson or Lane is less intimate, or we should be driven to distraction by the distracted attempts of the political soldiers to mount on each other's shoulders to the next round in the ladder.

If it will do you any good to hear it after the event, this quiet post has been alive with troops for six weeks past. The brigade under Gen. Mitchell (who was severely wounded at Wilson's Creek,) was intended for New Mexico, but was afterwards ordered from here to Corinth. Four regiments, the 1st and 7th Kansas and the 12th and 13th Wisconsin, went to Gen. Halleck; the 2d Kansas has just started for Fort Scott, making part of the Indian Expedition. It has been plain for some time that the Texan rebels in New Mexico could not sustain themselves. They are a horde of savages that cannot exist when they cannot steal, and New Mexico was no place for them. One hundred and fifty Texan Rangers, taken prisoners in a late battle, arrived here this week. They all have that indescribable slouchiug, hang-dog expression which seems to be native to the south western slave States.

Our new State has been terribly scourged by jayhawking, as it is termed; that is, horse stealing and plundering generally.—Some of the principal jayhawkers have been killed, and the business languishes.—Kansas has still profited largely by the war. Some of her most renowned and pious citizens have become rich by spoiling the Egyptians, that is the Missourians, or in more familiar phrase "Butternuts." A great many silk dresses that once adorned the defiant ladies of Secessia, have become adapted to the form and size of our more loyal citizens of Kansas, under the skillful manipulation of sewing-circles. Thousands of "green-backs" have been scattered through the State, and money has not been so abundant for years.

It appears certain that our railroad system will soon be developed and facilities for a market given, such as we have not yet been known. Now is, I think, a very favorable time for investments in Kansas. A great many fine claims are under mortgage, must be sold, and can be bought cheap.—To all stock-raisers, Kansas offers great inducements. It is one of the best sheep-raising countries in the world. A large number of "contrabands" are hired out to our farmers, and are of great advantage as laborers. Kidnapping of these poor creatures by decayed rebels from Missouri has been frequent, but is now at an end. The kidnappers are receiving quarters at Fort Leavenworth. PORTSMOUTH ABROAD.

TROUBLE IN UTAH.—A dispatch from Salt Lake City, dated June 16, says:

"A band of persons, numbering about one thousand men, women and children, under the leadership of one Morris, who claimed to be the "Prophet Moses re-appeared on earth," formed a settlement 30 miles north of Salt Lake City, and committed numerous depredations on the citizens in the vicinity. They refused to labor for their own support, believing that the Lord would supply their wants.

Three of their number, disgusted with the imposition, attempted to leave, but were arrested and placed in confinement, heavily ironed. A writ of habeas corpus was issued by Chief Justice Kinley, which was treated with contempt. A sufficient time having elapsed for producing the prisoners, a second writ, together with an order for the arrest of Morris for contempt, and for the arrest of the leaders of the gang for false imprisonment, was issued. For the execution of this, a posse of 250 infantry and artillery was ordered out on the 11th, by Acting Governor Fuller. Morris and his men were strongly entrenched and thoroughly armed.

Fighting ensued, and two of the Marshal's posse were killed. On the 15th the rebels pretended to surrender, but resisted anew as soon as our attacking party approached. In a hand-to-hand fight, Morris was killed, and another leader mortally wounded. The rebels were then overcome. Several women and children were killed during the siege, the Morrisites refusing to remove them to a place of safety. The prisoners captured numbered 147; they will be brought to Court on the 17th."

MORE GOLD LEAVING.—The steamer City of Washington, from New York on Saturday, took $2,400,000 in specie.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

—— The house of William. S. Prescott, of Epsom, was burned on Monday morning, with all its contents. Cause unknown. Insured in the Gilmanton Company.

—— Letters received in Manchester, from the 8th N. H. Regiment, state that Col. Fearing is very ill of a fever—that a large number of officers of the line have resigned—that Major Smith is likely to become Colonel, in case Col. Fearing is not able to resume command; and that Lieut. Haley is acting Adjutant.

—— Rev. Elijah R. Wilkins, Chaplain of the 5th New Hampshire regiment, has arrived home at Manchester, from the army of the Potomac, having resigned on account of ill health.

—— The ground recently burnt over at Manchester, is to be covered with better buildings this season.

—— The Amoskeag Co., Manchester, have received orders for another steam fire engine for Pittsburg, Penn. They are now finishing up one for the Charlestown Navy Yard; it will be delivered in the course of a week. It would be a good idea to have one for the Navy Yard on Portsmouth station.

—— Albert Robinson, of Co. I, Second Regiment, who was made a prisoner at Bull Run, and was released a short time since from Southern prisons, arrived at his home in Manchester on Monday night.

Rev. Robert Stinson has resigned the Chaplaincy of the 6th N. H. Regiment, and returned home. He has been with the regiment from its formation—was instrumental in getting it up—went into camp with it at Keene—accompanied it to the coast of North Carolina, and has been constantly with it at Hatteras and in the several engagements in which it has participated in that region. Rev. J. A. Hamilton, of Keene, is his successor.—Union.

THE MASONIC CELEBRATION at Portland, on Tuesday, (the Centennial of the introduction of Free Masonry into Maine,) was probably the largest gathering of the mystic Order since the Bunker Hill Monument oration. Every thing passed off with the best style,—the rain holding off till too late to dampen the festivities much. A correspondent writes us that:

"The Procession, consisting of perhaps twenty-five hundred individuals, has been seldom if ever equalled in Portland or the State. The stirring music of the many bands, the rich regalia of the Knights Templar, the happy faces of the crowds of interested spectators, the flags and the streamers waving in the breeze,—all combine to render the day and the occasion one long to be remembered in the annals of the Ancient Order.

Among the many bodies represented from abroad, I notice De Witt Clinton Commandery, Knights Templar, A. R. Hatch, Eminent Commander; St. John's Lodge, No. 1, Washington Freeman, W. Master; and St. Andrew's Lodge, No. 56, John Christie, W. Master;—all from Portsmouth. Probably the three bodies together muster one hundred or more delegates; and with many "private" individuals here from your city, I doubt if old Strawberry Bank was ever before so largely represented in the Forest City, as to-day. The Portsmouth Cornet Band accompanied De Witt Clinton Commandery and discoursed music worthy of themselves, the occasion and the company they were in. St. John's Lodge appeared with a beautiful new banner of silk, for the first time." Tp.

CHANGES IN LODGES.—Mr. Dodge, Master of the Portland Lodge of Free Masons, in his centennial address, spoke of the changes in usage, some for the better, others for the worse. He says that formerly—

"The festival of St. John the Baptist, which we are commemorating this 24th day of June, and that also of St. John the Evangelist, on the 27th of December, were, with few exceptions, promptly and punctually kept as sacred festivals; and in fact the provisions of the charter enjoined it upon the brethren to keep these and other Masonic feast days. In latter days this practice has been much neglected, as we cannot but believe to the injury of the craft.

On the other hand, I learn from the records of the Portland Lodge that when there was no other in the town, it was deemed best to appoint a committee to purchase liquors for the use of the Lodge, at wholesale, rather than to pay so much money as per centage or commissions to retail dealers. Custom has so changed, that for a long series of years last past, no Lodge in this city, and I presume none in the State, has found any necessity for the appointment of such a committee,—and I believe that the change in this respect cannot have been injurious to the welfare and prosperity of the fraternity."

The aged sires, who can remember threescore years, know that similar changes have taken place in Lodges and other institutions in Portsmouth.

And yet we see and hear ignorantly false assertions, some times in high quarters, that there never was so much intemperance as now.

McDOWELL'S COMMAND.—By the following, from the Washington correspondence of the New York Evening Post, it seems that McDowell's army has not joined McClellan:

"I notice in several Northern journals, statements to the effect that McDowell, with his corps of 30,000 men, has joined McClellan in front of Richmond. As the Star said last night, this is 'bosh.' McDowell's troops have not yet reached Fredericksburg, on their way to Front Royal and Manassas Junction. Where they now are, or where they are going, it would be improper to state,—but that any one could make such a wild statement as the one alluded to, is surprising. Certainly no one cognizant of the facts could have done it."

THE REBELLION.

Wednesday's Washington dispatches give a rumor that Jackson or Ewell had captured Front Royal.

A Winchester letter of the 21st inst. says Gen. Fremont will establish himself at Middleton or Winchester. It is confidently believed that Jackson is at Luray. Winchester, it was thought, could be made impregnable.

The Richmond Enquirer of June 21 says:

We learn from the Petersburg Express that the Yankee troops to the number of 6000 have advanced from Norfolk and Suffolk to a point on the Seaboard Railroad known as the Franklin Depot, fifty miles from Portsmouth and thirty miles from Weldon. The aim of this force is, beyond a doubt, to advance to Weldon and cut off the railroad connection at that place with Petersburg and Richmond. At Weldon the roads from Wilmington and Raleigh and Petersburg converge. This explains the recent visit of Gen. Burnside to Gen. McClellan.

All the bridges across the Rappahannock at Fredericksburg, together with the one just finished, were carried away by flood on Monday night. The river rose twelve feet in a few hours. Timber for the construction of new bridges is already on hand, and the damage will soon be repaired.

IN OREGON, the State election took place on the 2d of June. Two tickets were run—the fusion of Douglas Democrats and Republicans, called the Union ticket, and the Baeckinridge ticket, called the Regular Democratic ticket. The Union ticket was elected by nearly 3000 majority, making the relative vote about two to one for the Union ticket. Addison L. Gibbs the Governor elect, is a Douglas Democrat, and emigrated to Oregon from Central New York. John McBride, the member of Congress elected, is a Republican, and was formerly from Missouri.

JOHN BULL IN A BROWN STUDY.—By the latest news from England, it appears that the papers and politicians are puzzling themselves with American affairs, Banks' defeat, and Butler's lady proclamation.

The question of mediation is being revived. The Paris Patrie gives a rumor of approaching negotiations for a joint offer by France and England.

The Times editorially approves mediation, and says Europe ought not to look calmly on, and if the offer of mediation is delayed, a more important question than that of the recognition of the Confederates may have to be considered.

The Times' advocacy of mediation had no effect on the Liverpool cotton market.

[This shows exactly the value of the Times' opinion.]

A question was put in both Houses of Parliament, relative to the rumors of mediation, and Gen. Butler's proclamation regarding the ladies of New Orleans.

Russell and Palmerston said the mediation rumors were quite unfounded. No propositions on the subject had been made, and there were no present intentions to interfere. They denounced Gen. Butler's proclamation and hoped the government would disown it.

☞ An order from Gen. Shepley informs officers and soldiers in the rebel service, desirous of returning to their homes in New Orleans, that they can do so by reporting at headquarters and taking the oath of allegiance. Such persons found in the city, who have not subscribed to the oath, will be treated as spies.

☞ The Bank of Louisiana lately appealed from a decision of the Provost Judge, directing the bank to pay to a depositor, in current funds, the amount of his deposit made in Confederate money; but General Butler sustained the decision of the Provost Judge, and the bank had to comply.

AMONG THE PINES, or South in Secession Time; by Edward Kirke. New York, published by J. R. Gilmore. Sold in Portsmouth by J. F. Shores Jr.

This is a "tale for the times," purporting to detail travel and conversation in the South, during the past year, and will greatly interest more than one class of readers. It is a neat volume of 310 pages.

☞ Advices from New Orleans are to June 18; weather fine; sugars plenty; all quiet.

☞ In Illinois, the new constitution is rejected, by a large majority; also the anti-Banking proposition. The anti-negro propositions are accepted.

☞ At Louisville, Ky., a prison is fitted up for rebel women:—a negro man whose master suffered him to work on Fort Donelson, is declared free by the U. S. Court.

☞ The Knickerbocker Magazine for July, just issued at New York, is more like the old literary favorite, than when filled with political radicalism and abolition rant.

☞ The "Spiritual Sunday School Class Book, No. 1," is just published by Wm. White & Co., at the Banner of Light office, Boston.

ANOTHER RISE IN COAL.—Boston dealers had another meeting on Saturday, and raised the price a second time. It is now $6.50 per ton. During the cold months, when the price is usually highest, it was but $5.50.

The Statesman, from which we copy the foregoing curious and useful list, says:—

"The reasons for several of the changes of names are known to the present generation, of which we can specify a few: Coventry was changed to Benton in honor of "Old Bullion." For changing the name Hawke to Danville, the only reason ever conjectured was that some people supposed the town bore the name of a bird instead of an English admiral. Poplin was changed to Fremont for an obvious reason. New Chester became Hill in honor of Ex-Governor Hill, and for the same cause Adams became Jackson, during that fiery period which commenced in 1827, while the war between the partizans of Adams and Jackson was at a white heat. Dartmouth became Jefferson, Durand became Randolph, Piercy became Stark, and Camden Washington, for a reason as intelligent person will be at a loss to conjecture. The only cause we ever heard for changing Wendell to Sunapee was that the inhabitants became offended with the person for whom the town was named—a large owner of non-resident lands in Wendell."

There is a large number of towns formed by dividing others; in some instances several being made of one town; but, in a great majority of cases, two only being thus constituted. Here is a list.

The following towns were formed by severing portions from several others: Bennington, Bristol, Franklin and Hookett.

CONGRESS is rapidly closing up its business. The Pacific Railroad Bill has passed both Houses—also the anti-polygamy bill. Both await the President's signature.

☞ Strawberries were rarely so plenty in Portsmouth market, as this season.—Prices rule from 17 cents to 33 cents per box.

☞ Sergeant Atwood of Portland, Me., now jailor pro tem. at Charlestown, Virginia, has sent to his friends at P. the manacles which were worn by John Brown, during his imprisonment there. They were given to Mr. Atwood by the jailor who held Brown in his custody.

☞ At Mobile, the rebels are making desperate exertions to fortify the city. All able-bodied citizens are compelled to work six hours per day on the fortifications, and everybody who has any nautical experience is impressed into service on the rebel steamers. The rebels have one iron-clad battery, and have raised a sunken ship, which they are also iron plating.

☞ It appears from the New York Tribune, that Rev. Amos Brown, formerly teacher of the Boys' High School in this city, and now President of a new People's College in New York State, has been greatly efficient in getting the Agricultural College Act through Congress.

☞ Assistant Surgeon Thomas Hiland, U. S. N., has been detached from the Naval Hospital, Chelsea, and ordered to report for duty on board the gunboat Conemaugh, fitting out at Portsmouth.

☞ The 1st of July,—the middle of the year—the "beginning of the end"—is at hand; a good time for all who have unsettled accounts with us or any other man, to square up. "Indemnity for the past, pay up; security for the future, pay down."

☞ The Cincinnati Commercial says the dispatch that Pope had taken 10,000 prisoners and 15,000 stand of arms, was all gammon.

Has purchased the sole right to manufacture and use

Cate's Patent Grooved Horse Shoes.

in this city and vicinity; and is prepared to furnish and set the same, at the regular price for other Shoes, (except for steel Shoes, which are 25 cts. extra), and warrant them to give full satisfaction in all cases. The improvement consists in the nails being set in a steel groove which protects the heads, and the Shoe being concave on both the upper and under sides, so as to be much lighter, to hold on better, and afford a good purchase for the horse without corks, except on very hard ice.

These Shoes are peculiarly favorable for tender or bad feet, quarter cracks, interfering, overreaching, &c.; and gentlemen who have been troubled with their horses, and the public generally, are invited to call and examine the same, and give them a trial.

Any other pattern of Shoe will be put on, to suit customers, as usual; and BLACKSMITH JOBBING generally attended to. S. W. WEBBER.

FOURTH OF JULY TO BE CELEBRATED IN PORTSMOUTH.—Adjourned meetings are held at the City Rooms every evening, to hear the reports of the Committees on the celebration, &c.

The committee on subscriptions report that they have raised sufficient funds to warrant the general committee to advance with the work, trusting that the citizens who have not yet been waited upon, will subscribe liberally; and that the city authorities will assist by a small appropriation.

Committee on military report that Capt. Davidson's company at Fort Constitution, will parade with fifty muskets and 4 brass field pieces. The Goodwin Guards have consented to do escort duty on that day, assisted by the Rockingham Cadets, Capt. Betton. Capt Andrews' company at Fort McClary, 40 men, with two brass field pieces, will appear.

The Kittery and Eliot companies have not yet accepted the invitation, but will probably be here. The Governor's Horse Guards, it is hoped on all hands, will consent to appear. Fifty Marines from the Navy Yard, are confidently expected to be present. The Lancers, lately drilled by Capt. Towle, will take part in the procession, forming the right of the Youths' Regiment.

Committee on fire companies and engines, report favorably to their coming out. 4th

Important to Females.

DR. CHEESEMAN'S PILLS.

The combination of ingredients in these Pills are the result of long and extensive practice.—They are mild in their operation, and certain in correcting all irregularities, Painful Menstruations, removing all obstructions, whether from cold or otherwise, headache, pain in the side, palpitation of the heart, whites, all nervous affections, hysterics, fatigue, pain in the back and limbs, &c., disturbed sleep, which arise from the interruption of nature.

DR. CHEESEMAN'S PILLS

was the commencement of a new era in the treatment of those irregularities and obstructions which have consigned so many to a PREMATURE GRAVE. No female can enjoy good health unless she is regular, and whenever an obstruction takes place the general health begins to decline.

DR. CHEESEMAN'S PILLS

are the most effectual remedy ever known for all complaints peculiar to FEMALES. To all classes they are invaluable, inducing, with certainty, periodical regularity. They are known to thousands, who have used them at different periods, throughout the country, having the sanction of some of the most eminent Physicians in America.

Explicit Directions, stating when they should not be used, with each Box.—The Price One Dollar per Box, containing from 50 to 60 Pills.

Pills sent by mail, promptly, by remitting to the Proprietor. Sold by Druggists generally.

"MAGEE'S PATENT"

VENTILATING & AIR WARMING

FURNACES.

The subscribers, being the Sole Agents in this vicinity for the manufacture and sale of this valuable Furnace, would ask those about remodelling or erecting buildings to examine this truly valuable invention.

For economy, purity of air and ease of management it has no equal, producing a current of warm air, moist and agreeable;—and as none of the air which comes in contact with the fire-pot is used for respiration, the tendency to produce headache so much complained of in other Furnaces, is entirely obviated.

The objects aimed at by the constructors of heating apparatus have been to obtain the greatest amount of heat from a given amount of fuel, and to prevent the escape of heat to the smoke pipe or chimney.

To accomplish this many complicated and expensive heating arrangements have been constructed, some possessing but little improvement over former methods, while many have proved a total failure. The reason for this is obvious. The combustible gases being lighter than the air, pass off into the pipe or chimney without being consumed. This objection, so common in other Furnaces, is obviated in the

MAGEE FURNACE.

The fire or pipe in this Furnace being below the fire-pot, the gases, from their specific gravity, cannot descend, and are burned up by the admission of cold air through the fire-pot, which ignites them as they pass off from the coal, thus saving at least 20 per cent. of the properties of the heat in the fuel.

No heating apparatus with the smoke-pipe or flue on the top of the cone can be made to consume the gases of the coal, as they pass off with a large amount of the heat generated, making the chimney the hottest part of your dwelling.

This Furnace does away with the great number of pipes and angles for the radiation of heat, which are so liable to fill up and get out of order, thus simplifying, while it increases the surface of radiation.

These Furnaces consume all the coal, make no clinkers, the sifting of coal is entirely dispensed with, and they will save from 30 to 50 per cent. of fuel over common Furnaces.

For ease of management, economy and purity of air, these Furnaces have no equal. They can be regulated so as to give any amount of heat required, and the fire may be kept the entire season without once going out.

They give entire satisfaction wherever used. We have in store the different sizes, Brick and Portable, to which we invite the attention of those in want of the best Furnace in the world,—and would refer them to the following named gentlemen, who have them now in use:

Samuel Cleaves, Esq., Albert R. Hatch, Esq.,
Aaron H. Hill, Charles H. Mendum,
Henry F. Wendell, John Sise, and others.

Also on hand, the celebrated and unequalled

MAGEE COOKING STOVES,

Which for economy, durability, ease of management and nicety of operation in every department of cooking,

CANNOT BE SURPASSED

by any other Stove in the market, of whatever name. Therefore we ask those in want of the best Cooking Stove, to examine the

A ROMANTIC STORY

"The course of true love never did run smooth," but "all's well that ends well."—Many of those who on Thursday morning last stopped to admire the handsome faces among the cartes de visite hung up at the entrance of Ryder's Photographic Gallery on Superior street, must have noticed the likeness of a young and beautiful lady attired in mourning; and those of them that stopped later in the day for the purpose of again looking at the attractive face, noticed its disappearance. With that portrait and its withdrawal from exhibition a very romantic but true story is connected, of which we are at liberty to give the outlines.

About a year ago the original of the portrait lived with her father, a "well to do" farmer of the Grand River Valley, Mich., these two constituting the entire family.—The old man was in rapidly failing health, and was exceedingly desirous that his daughter should be married to a neighboring young farmer, who passionately loved her. The girl, however, had already given her heart to a young man whom she had frequently met whilst on a visit to Detroit, and who was sincerely attached to her. The lover was not in a position that would justify his pressing his suit, and therefore the engagement was kept a secret.

The old man finding himself gradually failing in health, became more urgent in his wishes that his daughter would marry his neighbor, but she pleaded for delay on various pretexts. By some means the father at length became possessed of the secret of the attachment, and, without communicating the fact of his knowledge to the daughter, he wrote a letter to the Detroit lover, pointing out the hopelessness of his suit, and stating that the lady was shortly to become the bride of a young farmer for whom she had been for years destined. He added that any attempt to change his decree would be giving the lady needless pain.

Immediately on the receipt of this cruel blow to all his hopes, the young man enlisted in a Michigan regiment under orders to leave for Washington, and wrote the lady a brief note announcing the fact, begging her to forget him, and bidding her farewell forever. The regiment almost immediately went to Washington.

The 2nd 21st of July, 1861, followed, and when the fainting and disheartened soldiers returned from the fatal field of Bull Run to the defences on the line of the Potomac, the young Detroiter was not among them.—Nothing definite was heard from him, and he was supposed to have been killed.

The sorrowful news in time reached the young lady, and she secretly mourned for her lover as among the slain. Shortly afterward the old man was taken sick, and lay on his death bed. Some days before his death, he again pleaded with his daughter on behalf of their young neighbor, urging that if he could see her properly cared for in marriage, he could die in peace.—There being no longer any reason for her refusal, her consent was given, and the marriage was solemnized two days before the death of her father.

The lady's wedded life was short. Her husband, who was very kind to her, and endeavored to win her from her double sorrow—was attacked by typhoid fever about a month after the marriage, and died after a few day's illness, leaving the young widow possessed of considerable property.

As soon as possible she set about disposing of her property in the West, in order that she might join her relatives in New England. During all this time nothing had been heard to contradict the story of the death of her former lover at Bull Run. Her affairs, were, after some delay, finally settled, and she made a round of visits to her friends in the West, previous to going to settle for life in New England. Last week she arrived at this city on her way East, and spent a few days with a lady friend residing on the West Side.

On Wednesday last, the young widow, accompanied by her friends, visited Ryder's Photographic Gallery, for the purpose of having some likenesses taken, and this proved to be an important step in her history.—The picture was so admirable a likeness that Mr. Ryder solicited and obtained the privilege of placing a copy in his show case at the street entrance. On Thursday morning the likeness made its appearance there, and, as we have before remarked, attracted considerable attention.

On that morning a number of Michigan soldiers, taken prisoners at Bull Run and set at liberty on parole, after nine months incarceration in Southern prisons, arrived from Washington, and remained in the city until the departure of the Detroit boat in the evening. During the day they amused themselves by strolling around town. One of them, seeing a group of people gathered around the steps near the Merchants' Bank, stepped up to learn the cause, and, like others, turned to examine the photographs. Suddenly he uttered an exclamation of surprise, looked closely at the portrait of the young widow, and then rushed up stairs to ad the artist. Mr. Ryder being pointed out to him, the soldier brought him down stairs and begged to know how he became possessed of the picture, and an explanation was given. In a few hurried words the soldier stated the cause of his interest obtained the picture from the case, and declared his intention of finding the lady if she was anywhere to be found.

Fortunately Mr. Ryder knew the lady who accompanied the young widow, and at once went with the soldier to her residence. Both ladies were at home. No sooner did the young widow see the soldier, than she shrieked and fell in a fainting fit, for her lover, that she had supposed dead, stood before her. He had been taken prisoner at Bull Run instead of being killed, but had refused to write to any person, and his comrades in prison knew nothing of his friends or previous history, so that the fact of his captivity remained known to but few, if any. Mutual explanations followed the happy meeting, and there is every indication that all obstacles having been removed, the sorrows and sufferings of the pair will be terminated by a happy marriage at no distant day. At all events the widow's visit to the East has been indefinitely postponed, and she has returned to Michigan, the now happy and re-united couple having first sat to Ryder for a pair of large photographic portraits, and taken his own portrait with them as a souvenir of the joyful meeting caused by a picture from his camera.—Cleveland

PURE OLD BOURBON WHISKEY.

Correspondence between some of the most eminent physicians of New York and Brooklyn, and WM. J. CUTTER, Jr., Louisville, Ky:

NEW YORK May 1, 1861.

Mr. WM. T. CUTTER, Jr., Louisville, Ky.:

Dear Sir—From great difficulty experienced in procuring Brandy sufficiently pure for medicinal purposes, has induced many of the physicians of this vicinity to adopt Bourbon Whiskey as a substitute, both in the hospitals and private practice; and, since the latter has come into such general use, we have reason to believe that a great deal now sold is inferior quality.

Presuming that your residence in the vicinity of the manufacture of Whiskey in Kentucky, as well as your skill as a chemist, will enable you to select a reliable article, and having full confidence in your integrity, we are led to inquire whether you will not aid us in having this blessed article, through an Agency, with the best quality of Pure Old Bourbon Whiskey for the use of the sick.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., July 31, 1861.

Drs. VALENTINE MOTT, Willard Parker & others:

Gentlemen—Your letter of May 1st has been received. In accordance with your wishes, I have made arrangements to supply your city and vicinity with a pure article of Copper distilled Bourbon Whiskey, which I trust will fully meet the requirements of your letter. Thanking you for your kind expressions of confidence, I am,

I remain, very respectfully, yours truly,
WM. T. CUTTER, Jr.

We, the Physicians of Portsmouth, having full confidence in the integrity of D. R. AMBROSE, recommend him as a suitable person to sell OLD BOURBON WHISKEY for medicinal purposes, in accordance with an arrangement made between the New York Physicians and W. M. T. CUTTER, Jr., of Louisville, Ky., and a similar agreement between said Cutter and the Physicians of Boston.

IMPORTANT TO THE AFFLICTED.

DR. DOW continues to be consulted at his office, Nos 7 and 9 ENDICOTT STREET, Boston, on all diseases of a

PRIVATE OR DELICATE NATURE.

By a long course of study and practical experience of twenty-one years, Dr. D. has been the qualification of presenting the unfortunate with remedies that have never, since he first introduced them, failed to cure the most startling cases of

CONGENITAL AND SYPHILIS.

Beneath his treatment, all the horrors of venereal and impure blood, Impotency, Scrofula, Gonorrhœa, Ulcers, pain and distress in the region of procreation, Inflammation of the Bladder and Kidneys, Hydrocele, Abscesses, Tumors, frightful Swellings, and the long train of horrible symptoms attending such a disease, are made to become as harmless as the simplest ailings of a child.

SEMINAL WEAKNESS.

Dr. D devotes a great part of his time to the treatment of those cases caused by a secret and solitary habit, which ruins the body and mind, unfitting the unfortunate individual for business or society. Some of the sad and melancholy effects produced by early habits of youth, are Weakness of the Limbs, Pains in the Back, Dim head, Dimness of sight, Palpitation of the heart, Dyspepsia, Nervousness, Derangement of the digestive functions, Dryness of the Skin, Eruptions, &c. The fearful effects on the mind are much to be dreaded; loss of memory, confusion of ideas, depression of spirits, nervous irritability, fear of society, self-distrust, timidity, &c., are among the evils produced. Such persons should, before contemplating matrimony, consult a physician of experience, and be at once restored to health and happiness.

Patients who wish to remain under Dr. Dow's treatment a few days or weeks, will be furnished with pleasant rooms, and charges for board moderate. apr7—1y3taw

CAUTION

To Females in Delicate Health.

DR. DOW, Physician and Surgeon, No 7 Endicott Street, Boston, is consulted daily for all diseases incident to the female system. Prolapsus Uteri, or falling of the Womb, Fluor Albus, Suppression, and other menstrual derangements, are all treated upon new pathological principles, and speedy relief guaranteed in a few days. So invariably certain is this new mode of treatment, that most obstinate complaints yield under it, and the afflicted person soon rejoices in perfect health.

Dr. Dow has no doubt had greater experience in the cure of diseases of women and children, than any other physician in Boston.

Boarding accommodations for patients who may wish to stay in Boston a few days under his treatment.

Dr. Dow, since 1845, having confined his whole attention to an office practice, for the cure of Private Diseases and Female Complaints, acknowledges no superior in the United States.

N. B.—All letters must contain one dollar, or they will not be answered.

Office Hours from 8 A. M. to 9 P. M.

CERTAIN CURE

in all cases, or No Charges Made.

Dr. Dow is consulted daily, from 8 A. M. to 9 P. M. as above, upon all difficult and chronic diseases of every name and nature, having by his unwearied attention and extraordinary success gained a reputation which calls patients from all parts of the country to obtain advice.

Among the physicians in Boston, none stands higher in the profession than the celebrated DR. DOW, No. 7 Endicott street, Boston. Those who need the services of an experienced physician and surgeon should give him a call.

FRANKLIN HOUSE,

Portsmouth, N. H.

The undersigned having assumed the management of this well-known public house, and having made extensive improvements therein, solicits a continuance of the patronage of the travelling public that has so long been extended to the house.

A new parlor and an extensive suite of commodious and well-ventilated sleeping apartments have been added; and a separate Ladies' Entrance from Congress Street, arranged. Gentlemen with their families, or ladies unattended, will now find quiet and retired apartments connected with the street and dining hall by an independent entrance.

The house will be kept as a first class hotel in every respect, and the proprietors will spare no pains to merit the patronage of those visiting this section of the State.

A good STABLE is connected with the house, where persons visiting Portsmouth with teams, will be promptly and carefully waited upon.

MATHEWS'

VENETIAN LIQUID

HAIR DYE.

☞ MATHEWS' VENETIAN HAIR DYE.—This celebrated Dye was first prepared in 1846, since that time it has been USED BY THOUSANDS, and in no instance has it failed to give PERFECT SATISFACTION.

THE VENETIAN DYE is the cheapest in the world. Its price is ONLY FIFTY CENTS, and each bottle contains DOUBLE THE QUANTITY OF DYE contained in those usually sold for ONE DOLLAR.

THE VENETIAN DYE is the safest composition of its class. It is WARRANTED NOT TO INJURE the hair, or the scalp, in the least.

THE VENETIAN DYE works with RAPIDITY AND CERTAINTY. It causes no annoyance or trouble to those who use it.

THE VENETIAN DYE produces any shade that may be desired,—one that will not fade, crock, nor wash out,—one that is as permanent as the hair itself.

THE VENETIAN DYE does not, in any manner, interfere with the NATURAL softness OF THE HAIR.—It neither scorches nor dries it.

THE VENETIAN DYE is the best, cheapest, safest, most convenient, most successful, and most permanent Dye ever used.

A BLUNDER AND A JOKE.—The New Orleans correspondent of the N. Y. Herald says:—

"Speaking of Dr. Smith, I am reminded of one of the best jokes of the season. A gentleman called on Gen. Butler to-day, and stated that he had a negro who was hanging about the general hospital, and he wished to get him. The General's policy in such cases is to turn the negro out of our lines, unless he has been employed by some officer. He therefore turned to one of his aids—Lieut. Clark—and told him to write to Dr. Smith to turn the man out of his hospital. Lieut. Clark wrote to Dr. Smith—"You will at once turn this man out of your hospital"—accidentally omitting to say anything about a colored man. The owner of the slave took the note to the hospital innocently enough, and handed it to Dr. Smith. The Doctor read the order, and, though rather astonished, supposed the General had good reasons for giving such instructions; so up he jumped, and told his visitor to leave the house quicker than he ever came into it. The gentleman was completely astounded, and attempted to ask the reason of such treatment; but the doctor said he would not hear a word, and, taking him by the shoulder, pushed him towards the door, and then ordered a corporal to put him out, which he did, the gentleman brandishing his cane and cursing bitterly against such usage. He went back to the General, and an explanation ensued, and resulted in all hands enjoying a regular old fashioned horse laugh. The negro was not in the hospital, and has not yet been found.

LIVERPOOL A SLAVE-TRADING PORT.—The Liverpool Mercury warns the British Government that the slave-traders expelled from New York find refuge in Liverpool and boldly prosecute their atrocious traffic under the shadow of the British flag. The business is shrewdly done. Secret agents in New York fit out a vessel with a legitimate cargo for Liverpool, the cargo is discharged at that port, and the vessel is then laid up for a few weeks, while preparations are made for the voyage to Africa. Ostensibly the ship is up for the East Indies, but it is known that her real destination is the slave-market. The old crew is got rid of by harsh treatment on the outward voyage, and a motley collection of foreigners is shipped to take its place. According to this account the slave traders have actually established their headquarters in Liverpool, and the authorities find it difficult to trace their operations, so secret and sure are they.

ANTI-SERMON MOVEMENT IN ENGLAND.—The English journals are discussing a movement which originated, we believe, in a letter to one of the daily newspapers of London, to abolish sermons, or, more strictly, to make it understood that the congregation assembles on Sunday for singing and prayer only, and that, this part of the service completed, there shall be a pause, during which those who do not wish to hear the sermon may retire. This proposition is meeting with much attention and applause, and that in the most respectable of the English weekly journals. They complain that the Episcopal liturgy is itself long enough, and that a sermon of an hour's duration superadded to this, is more than weak and exhausted human naturecanbear.

VERDICT.—In Manchester, Vt., resides a man named Dole, who is a violent secessionist. Recently while he was expressing his sentiments in favor of the rebellion, and hoping that every Federal soldier in the South would be shot or struck dead with lightning, Mr. H. E. Miner, editor of the Manchester Journal, knocked him down. Dole had Mr. Minor arrested, and the case was tried before a jury. While the plaintiff's counsel was summing up for his client, one of the jurymen wrote the following verdict: "Not guilty, and the jury would recommend all loyal citizens to go and do likewise." The other members endorsed the verdict, and without leaving their seats returned it to the court, by whom it was received, and the prisoner discharged.

CATCHING NEGROES.—We find the annexed paragraph in a letter from Memphis:

"The police are having a lively time catching runaway negroes, who have come to Memphis to riot upon the community, leaving their masters' service to see the 'sights in town.' We learn that the military authorities are affording all the assistance in their power in this matter, and a large numbers of runaways have been recovered and returned to their masters."

The employment of soldiers in catching negroes is a direct violation of the laws of Congress.

☞ The brig E. Drummond, at New York from Aspinwall, while on the passage, picked up an escaped slave, from Havana, and brought him to New York. He had been six days in a canoe, without food or water. He talks but little English, and says he came from Africa to Havana in a slaver about two months ago.

☞ ATTENTION, THE WHOLE! ☜

PORTSMOUTH, April 21st, 1862.
I have for several years been afflicted with dizzess at my stomach, loss of appetite, and often vomited up all of my food immediately after eating it, and all medicine failed to give any relief until about a year ago, when I took one bottle of DR. S. SWETT'S PANACEA, which fully cured me, so that I have not had the least trouble from any of these complaints since, and I enjoy good health. M. LOWD.

Exeter, Feb. 24, 1863. Dr. Swett:—"Sir, for the benefit of those who are afflicted as I have been, with a humor, which prevented quiet rest night and day, I should say, that your PANACEA has effected a radical cure on me; and would add—that by the use of it, my health has been greatly improved; therefore, I cheerfully recommend it as superior to any other medicine I ever used for humors and consumptive complaints."
WM. P. LEAVITT.

From ELDER I CRESLEY, Lee, May 31, 1841.
DR. SWETT: Permit me to testify, as I feel in duty bound to do, that my daughter was afflicted with scrofulous humor, and that previous to your visiting our town in the spring of 1840, she had been confined for a number of months, without her natural rest by day or night. She had applied to a number of physicians, but continued to grow weaker till she commenced using your PANACEA and HUMOR WASH. Since then, she has recovered her health so far as to rest quietly by night, and labor by day. I esteem your medicine one of the best that can be found for the disease above named." ISAAC CRESLEY.

☞ Any one returning the remainder of a bottle or box of Dr. Swett's medicines shall have pay for it, if it do not agree with his case, or if not worth the price. All orders directed to DR. S. SWETT, Portsmouth, N. H., promptly attended to. may29

NOTES OF FORMER DAYS.

NAMES OF SETTLERS IN NEW HAMPSHIRE—STRAWBERRY BANK.—The names of the stewards and servants, sent by Mason into New Hampshire, about the year 1631, were Walter Neal, Ambrose Gibbins, Thomas Camocks, William Raymond, Francis Williams, George Vaughan, Thomas Warnerton, Henry Jocelyn, Francis Norton, Sampson Lane, Ronald Fernald, Ralph Goe, Henry Goe, William Cooper, William Chadborn, Francis Matthews, Humphrey Chadborn, William Chadborn, Jun., Francis Rand, James Johnson, Anthony Ellins, Henry Baldwin, Thomas Spencer, Thomas Furral, Thomas Herd, Thomas Chatherton, John Crowther, John Williams, Roger Knight, Henry Sherborn, John Goddard, Thomas Fernald, Thomas Withers, Thomas Canney, John Symonds, John Peverly, William Seavey, Henry Langstaff, William Berry, Jeremiah Walford, James Wall, William Brakip, Thomas Walford, Thomas Moore, Joseph Beal, Hugh James, Alexander Jones, John Ault, William Bracket, James Newt.

The first ten were stewards, and had the superintendence of the various branches of business, which were carried on in the plantation. Godfrie, who had been here sometime, lived at Little Harbor, and had the care of the fishery. He had under his direction six great shallops, five fishing boats with sails, anchors, and cables, and thirteen skiffs.

Chadborn built a house near the bank of main river, about three miles from the mouth, which was called the Great House. This was situated near the corner of Water street and Court street, and was occupied by Warnerton.

Gibbins had the care of the saw-mill at Newichewannock, and on his removal to Sanders' point, where the adventurers gave him a tract of land for his faithful services, Chadborn removed to Newichewannock, and took charge of the saw-mill. The care of the salt works was committed to Francis Williams. Ronald Fernald was a surgeon. With the persons above mentioned, Mason sent over eight Danes and twenty-two women. The Danes were employed in sawing lumber and in making potash.

The proprietors likewise sent over several cannon and other warlike implements, which their agents placed on the northeast point of Great Island, at the mouth of the great harbor, which they called Fort Point. They laid out the ground "about a bow-shot from the water-side to a high rock, on which it was intended, in time, to build the principal fort."

A severe contest arose between the agents of the two plantations, respecting the settlement of a point of land, which extended into the river from the southwestern shore, and which was equally convenient for both plantations. Wiggin began to make improvements upon it; Neal ordered him to desist. Wiggin persisted, and threatened to defend his right by the sword: Neal replied in the same determined manner; and they would have proceeded to extremities, if some more moderate persons had not persuaded them to refer the dispute to their employers. From these circumstances the contested place was called Bloody point, and still retains that name.

In 1632, Capt. Neal, Henry Jocelyn, and Darby Field set out on foot to explore the interior part of the country, in which they expected to meet with the great lakes, at a distance not exceeding one hundred miles. In this route they visited the White hills; and from some crystals, which they found there, they gave them the name of Crystal hills. Their provisions growing scanty, and not being able to obtain a further supply in the wilderness, they were obliged to return before they reached the lakes. They described the country through which they passed, in a most romantic style.

In the fall of this year, the settlements along the sea-coast were alarmed with the conduct of one Dixy Bull and fifteen others whom he had associated with him.—They committed several acts of piracy, and rifled the fort at Pemaquid. The two plantations on Piscataqua river united and fitted out four pinnaces and shallops, in which they sent forty men. These being joined by a bark from Boston, with twenty men on board, proceeded to Pemaquid in search of the pirates; but they had gone farther to the eastward before this force arrived there, and by that means escaped being arrested. It was said that Bull was afterwards executed in England.

The bank of the river above where the Great House was built, and extending some distance above what is now called Church Hill, produced a large quantity of strawberries, on which account it was called Strawberry Bank, and Portsmouth was frequently called by the inhabitants of the neighboring towns, The Bank, until the middle of the 18th century.

By order of the proprietors, Capt. Neal, agent of the lower plantation, and Capt. Thomas Wiggin, the agent for the upper plantation, made a survey of their respective patents in 1633, and agreed upon their boundary lines. The lower patent runs from the Harbor's mouth by the sea-side to the entrance of a little river between two head lands, which they called Little Boar's Head and Great Boar's Head, and from the mouth of that little river to go on a straight line to Wheelwright's Creek; and from thence down to the river where it began. But these boundaries included part of Hilton's patent, which extended three miles on the south side of the river into the woods. This line was also adjusted by them, and a plan sent to the proprietors.

THE REBELLION.

From Gen. McClellan's Headquarters, Tuesday, June 24:—From the movements of the enemy last night and from information received from a contraband, a general engagement was looked for this morning.—The troops were all under arms at daylight and everything in readiness,—but after a slight demonstration by the rebels, who found themselves promptly met at every point, they retired to their old position.

A terrible storm visited this section last night, lasting about three hours. The wind blew a hurricane, levelling tents and trees in all directions.

The movements of the enemy to-day have been mysterious. Their pickets at some points have been drawn in half a mile, while at others they remain as usual. The ground vacated by the enemy is now held by our troops.

The action of Col. Ingalls at White House, in causing the arrest of fifty prominent citizens in the rear of our army, is having salutary influence on those who remain. Ten arrests were made in the neighborhood of New Kent Court House and Charles City.

The Richmond papers of to-day, contain nothing of special interest, except the arrival of General Price. No mention is made of the whereabouts of Beauregard's army. The papers complain of the large price paid for substitutes in the rebel army, many of whom immediately desert.

Letters to the Philadelphia papers from Gen. McClellan's army state that our first parallel, three miles long, is completed; also that it is believed the rebels cannot muster 60,000 men on whom they can rely to make a charge on us or stand one from us.

In General McClellan's army, General Hooker's division advanced at 9 o'clock, Wednesday morning, to occupy better ground. Our troops met with a determined resistance, which lasted until four in the afternoon, when the rebels were forced to give way. Our troops fought gallantly. Our loss was about 200 in killed and wounded,—few killed, most of the casualties being wounds. The enemy's loss is believed to be equal to ours. The rebel camp in front of Gen. Hooker's division was captured and held by our troops. The ground fought for was a swamp with thick underbrush, beyond which is an open country. The woods intervening between our troops and the enemy, prevented the result of our artillery fire being known.

Two Napoleon 12-pounders succeeded in getting through the swamp during the afternoon, and did service. An effort of the enemy to capture them resulted in their being driven back with severe loss.

The result is highly important to the health of the army, as but little more ground is to be gained to place our troops beyond the swamp. Gen. McClellan was present during the day, superintending the movements.

In an obscure corner of the Richmond Dispatch of June 18, is the announcement that Jeff. Davis was taken ill at Raleigh, N. C., whither he had gone to visit his sick child. Anticipations were expressed he would return to the Confederate capital in a few days, but these hopes may prove fallacious.

An intelligent deserter represents Richmond as one great hospital, with sick and wounded in nearly every house, and provisions coarse and high. Richmond papers contain advertisements offering as high as $800 for substitutes for the war.

☞ Washington items of Thursday, say the New York rumors of Cabinet changes were not believed in Washington.

In the Senate, the bill to grant the proceeds of certain public lands in aid of the Pacific Railroad was passed. Yeas 34.—Nays, Carlisle, Kennedy, Powell and Saulsbury—4. The Senate began the trial of Judge Humphries, for treason;—the accused did not appear.

IN TENNESSEE, a detachment of Illinois cavalry made a descent on the rebel cavalry guarding a train near the Cold Water station, on the Mississippi & Tennessee Railroad, and captured 25 prisoners and 20,000 pounds bacon. They also destroyed the bridges, making the road impassable. The navigation of White river is now open to Gen. Curtis' army.

"Will you let me drill you?" said the crowbar to the rock.

"I'll be blasted if I do," was the hard reply.

NEW ORLEANS advices state that four men sentenced to be hanged by Gen. Butler for robbery of citizens, were executed on the 17th. Porter's mortar fleet had gone up to Vicksburg. Com. Farragut was before Vicksburg. A portion of his fleet had routed the enemy from Grand Gulf. One man named Wm. H. Weeks was killed on the Itasca, and four wounded. Numerous guerrilla bands along the Mississippi annoyed passing vessels.

The Navy Department will receive proposals for the raising of the Varuna and other vessels sunk in the Mississippi river.

ARIZONA.—In the news from California, 19th April, it was announced that a force of 3000 California volunteers had left that State on a secret expedition, some said for Arizona and New Mexico. By the latest intelligence from San Francisco, we learn that the brigade of Gen. Carleton has entered Arizona. The advance guard under Col. West, reached Tucson about the 17th ult. The rebels had previously abandoned the place. The stars and stripes were again hoisted over the ruins of Fort Breckinridge.

MENIAL SERVICES REQUIRED OF SOLDIERS.—A correspondent of the Philadelphia Press with Gen. Slough's brigade, in the Shenandoah Valley, records the following occurrence:—

"Before leaving Winchester, I was the witness of one of the strangest powers of military discipline that I have yet seen.—The streets were in a horrible condition with mud, &c., and a body of soldiers, detailed from different regiments, were put to work cleaning them. Why this was done, when plenty of contraband negroes were idly lying on the steps and cellar doors, passes comprehension. Gen. Slough entered a solemn protest against the whole proceeding, but, so far, no action has been taken in the premises."

☞ Pres. Lincoln has been at West Point, has conferred with Gen. Scott, and gone back to Washington at a 2.40 pace.—At New York, one rumor says that Gen. Scott is to succeed Mr. Stanton as Secretary of War, with Gen. Banks as Assistant Secretary, and that Gen. Pope is to take Gen. Banks' command in the field, while Gen. McDowell is to be given some garrison station. Another version makes Gen. Scott Commander in Chief of the Army, with Gen. Banks as Secretary of War.

Volunteers Wanted.

$20 Bounty, and 1 month's pay in advance, will be allowed each man when mustered into the service.

PORTSMOUTH

GRAND REGATTA,

JULY 4, 1862.

To take place on Piscataqua River, at 3 o'clock, from a boat stationed off Martin's Wharf to the Beacon and return. Distance two miles.

There will be Three Races, as follows:

First Race—Distance two miles—for two-oared boats. Prize $8.00.

Second Race—Distance two miles—for four-oared boats. Prize $15.00.

Third Race—Distance two miles—for six-oared boats and over. Prize $25 00.

RULES AND REGULATIONS.

1. The races are open to all boats running on the river one month previous to the race. An entry fee of $1 will be charged, and may be made to the chairman of the committee, at 79 Market St., from 9 A. M. to 6 P. M. (Sunday excepted) until the evening of July 2.

2. The race will be on a straight course in the centre of the river, beginning at the Judge's stand, off Martin's wharf. The drawing for positions will take place at Jefferson Hall, on Thursday evening, July 3, at 8 o'clock, at which time each person or crew entered for the race will have some authorized representative present to draw for them, or take such place in the race as may then be drawn for them by the Judges.

3. Each boat must be designated in the races by the number they draw, which must be placed in some conspicuous position upon the boat, where it can be easily seen. The number will be supplied by the Judges.

4. All boats may carry a coxswain or not, as crew may elect.

5. Two guns will be fired from the Judges' stand, for each race, the first for boats to come into line, the second for the start.

6. At 4 o'clock a gun will be fired for the two-oared boats to come into line. A second will be fired for the start.

7. The other races will take place in regular order, with as little delay as possible.

8. Boats will round the Beacon from larboard to starboard.

9. Any boat taking another boat's water, thereby causing a collision, will be ruled out.

10. Two or more boats rounding the Beacon at the same time, the outside boat must keep off, and give the inside boat sufficient room to round without hitting the Beacon. Any outside boat crowding the inside boat will lose its chance for the prize.

11. Boats in returning must pass between the Judges' stand and Martin's wharf.

12. All boats carrying over six oars will be allowed ten seconds to an oar.

13. Prizes will be awarded immediately after the last race.

14. The ruling of the Judges must be final in all cases.

COMMITTEE—Frank D. Webster, Chairman; James H. Dow, J. Henry Norcross, C. E. Newman, Daniel C. Waldron.

JUDGES—Capt. HERMAN ELDRIDGE, Chairman; Capt. James M. Hill, Capt. Wm. Lambert, Capt. John Chase, Jos. B. Adams, Esq. Joshua E. Eldredge, Esq.

A Real and Great Improvement

IN HORSE SHOES.

S. W. WEBBER,

Blacksmith and Horse-Shoer,

NO 80 STATE STREET, Portsmouth,

Has purchased the sole right to manufacture and use

Cate's Patent Grooved Horse Shoes.

In this city and vicinity; and is prepared to furnish and set the same, at the regular prices for other Shoes, (except for steel Shoes, which are 25 cts. extra), and warrant them to give full satisfaction in all cases. The improvement consists in the nails being set in a steel groove which protects the heads, and the Shoe being concave on both the upper and under sides, so as to be much lighter, to hold on better, and afford a good purchase for the horse without corks, except on very hard ice.

These Shoes are peculiarly favorable for tender or bad feet; quarter cracks, interfering, overreaching, &c.; and gentlemen who have been troubled with their horses, and the public generally, are invited to call and examine the same, and give them a trial.

Any other pattern of Shoe will be put on, to suit customers, as usual; and

FOURTH OF JULY.—The adjourned meeting of citizens, to make arrangements for celebrating Independence Day in Portsmouth, was held in the City Rooms, Wednesday evening. J. H. Head occupied the chair, and Thos. Rider and A. L. Bennett were Secretaries.

The committee appointed to nominate committees and sub committees, reported the following:—

Committee of Arrangements.—Ichabod Goodwin, Daniel Marcy, Clement March, Charles W. Marden, William Sinies, John H Moran, Jas. H. Head, Albert Blaisdell, Joseph P. Morse, Edward A. Tilton, B. F. Ubandler, Wm. Pettigrew, Wm. P. Walker, Frank W. Ham, Jos. B. Adams, Robert O. Donnett, Frank W. Miller, F. D. Webster, A. D. Stavers.

Com. on Finances and Subscriptions.—Jas. H. Head, A. L. Bennett, E. A. Tilton, Thos. H. Rider.

Com. on Decorations.—Jas. W. Lefavour, B. B. Swasey, Saml. Rowell, Edward D. Collin, Gardner M. Goodrich, T. H. Rider, C. C. Haley.

Com. on Music and Military.—E. A. Tilton, George W. Towle, Wm. O. Sides.

Com. on Dinner.—Wm. E. Hadley, F. W. Fernald, W. L. Swett.

Com. on Tent.—A. L. Bennett, F. W. Miller, J. H. Head.

Com. on Firemen.—W. L. Swett, A. L. Bennett, W. Barnabee, Geo. W. Marston, Chief Eng. Moran, and the Foremen of the different companies.

Adjourned to meet at City Rooms on Friday evening at 8 o'clock. Per Order.

☞ In the N. H. Legislature, the following officers have been re-elected: Peter Sanborn, State Treasurer; Henry McFarland, State Printer; Daniel L. Randall, Commissary General.

☞ The Continental Monthly for July is out, and will satisfy the lovers of polite "literature," as well as those who have a taste for the blood and thunder "National policy," to which this magazine is "devoted." For sale by J. H. Foster, Portsmouth,—A. Williams & Co., Boston. J. R. Gilmore, publisher, Boston and New York.

THE GRAND JURY, in Boston, made their semi-annual report on Wednesday.—The Jury found three prolific sources of crime: "First—Rum, from whose poisonous fountain flows so many streams of mischief. During the six months, 83 bills were reported against liquor nuisances and disorderly houses, and the Jury express the belief "that judicious following up of complaints would materially lessen the business of the Criminal Court if not entirely eradicate the evil of intemperance."

Next in order are the dens of harlotry, whose emissaries promenade every street in the city. The cases of shaking down and robbing in these places are numerous and aggravated. Sixty-five bills were reported against these houses. Another, and perhaps as mischievous, source of crime, are the gambling establishments which infest the city and bid defiance to law. "Howard and Sudbury streets, and the region round about, is pestilential with these hotbeds and nurseries of crime."

☞ A Harper's Ferry dispatch of the 24th, says:—

"The greater part of the force here is throwing up earthworks on Bolivar Heights. Supplies are plenty. It was rumored yesterday that the rebel Gen. Ewell was advancing on New Creek with 4000 men.—The 23d Illinois and the 87th Pennsylvania regiments went there this morning.—Jackson is by this time checked, and Gens. Fremont, Banks and Shields have joined their forces to pursue him."

☞ Mr. A. Flagg, employed on the Northern Railroad, as brakeman on the freight train, while attempting to get on the train at Danbury, Wednesday morning, fell, and the wheels passed over one of his legs below the knee, causing his death in the afternoon. He leaves a wife.

The Toledo Commercial gives the following retort:—"The other day as a number of rebel prisoners were being shipped for Sandusky, for the traitors' home on Johnson's Island, a little German made himself quite prominent with his noisy remarks about the secesh. One of them, a brawny six-footer, turned savagely upon him and said, 'We eat Dutchmen down South.'—'Vy den you no eat Sigel?' was the instant retort. Secesh had no reply to give, but passed sadly on."

☞ Mrs. Thompson, of Bristol, Conn., completed her one hundred and third year on Sunday. Her annual picnic met on Saturday. The old lady's health is not as good at this time as it has been for several years past.

A REMEDY FOR SMALL POX.—Dr. Frederic W. Morris, resident physician of Halifax Visiting Dispensary, has written a letter to the American Medical Times, in which he states that the "Sarracenia Purpurea" or Indian cup, a native plant of Nova Scotia, is the remedy for small pox in all its forms, in twelve hours after the patient has taken the medicine. It has been successfully tried in the hospitals of Nova Scotia, and its use will be continued.—Boston Courier.

Two of our colonels, walking through the streets of New Orleans, heard a secesh orator abusing Gen. Butler. They arrested him and took him before that officer, who, after hearing the case, said: "Get a shovel and pick, send him to the earthworks below, there to dig gravel for the term of thirty days. Then, if he behaves, let him go; otherwise, extend the time to sixty."

☞ The Treasury Department is recalling and burning the first issue of demand notes at the rate of half a million per day. Four millions have been destroyed. The whole issue was $60,000,000.

AT NORFOLK Gen. Viele has declared martial law, suspended the city officers who would not take the oath of allegiance, and postponed an election, finding these steps necessary to preserve order.

☞ Matliews' Arnica Hair Gloss. The Arnica Montana, from which this invaluable preparation derives its name, is a perennial plant, a native of the mountains of Siberia. From it is obtained an oil which has been discovered to be the most powerful remedy for allaying and removing inflammation known to pharmacy. This oil, combined with other tried ingredients, forms the Arnica Hair Gloss. June 1 1md

Important to Females.

DR. CHEESEMAN'S PILLS.

The combination of ingredients in these Pills are the result of a long and extensive practice.—They are mild in their operation, and certain in correcting all irregularities, Painful Menstruations, removing all obstructions, whether from cold or otherwise, headache, pain in the side, palpitation of the heart, whites, all nervous affections, hysterics, fatigue, pain in the back and limbs, &c., disturbed sleep, which arise from the interruption of nature.

DR. CHEESEMAN'S PILLS

was the commencement of a new era in the treatment of those irregularities and obstructions which have consigned so many to a PREMATURE GRAVE. No female can enjoy good health unless she is regular, and whenever an obstruction takes place the general health begins to decline.

DR. CHEESEMAN'S PILLS

are the most effectual remedy ever known for all complaints peculiar to FEMALES. To all classes they are invaluable, inducing, with certainty, periodical regularity. They are known to thousands, who have used them at different periods, throughout the country, having the sanction of some of the most eminent Physicians in America.

Explicit Directions, stating when they should not be used, with each Box.—The Price One Dollar per Box, containing from 50 to 60 Pills.

Pills sent by mail, promptly, by remitting to the Proprietor Sold by Druggists generally.

"MAGEE'S PATENT"

VENTILATING & AIR-WARMING

FURNACES.

The subscribers, being the Sole Agents in this vicinity for the manufacture and sale of this valuable Furnace, would ask those about remodelling or erecting buildings to examine this truly valuable invention.

For economy, purity of air and ease of management it has no equal, producing a current of warm air, moist and agreeable;—and as none of the air which comes in contact with the fire-pot is used for respiration, the tendency to produce headache so much complained of in other Furnaces, is entirely obviated.

The objects aimed at by the constructors of heating apparatus have been to obtain the greatest amount of heat from a given amount of fuel, and to prevent the escape of heat to the smoke pipe or chimney.

To accomplish this many complicated and expensive heating arrangements have been constructed, some possessing but little improvement over former methods, while many have proved a total failure. The reason for this is obvious. The combustible gases being lighter than the air, pass off into the pipe or chimney without being consumed. This objection, so common in other Furnaces, is obviated in the

MAGEE FURNACE.

The due or pipe in this Furnace being below the fire-pot, the gases, from their specific gravity, cannot descend, and are burned up by the admission of cold air through the fire-pot, which ignites them as they pass off from the coal, thus saving at least 20 per cent. of the properties of the heat in the fuel.

No heating apparatus with the smoke-pipe or flue on the top of the cone can be made to consume the gases of the coal, as they pass off with a large amount of the heat generated, making the chimney the hottest part of your dwelling.

This Furnace does away with the great number of pipes and angles for the radiation of heat, which are so liable to fill up and get out of order, thus simplifying, while it increases the surface of radiation.

These Furnaces consume all the coal, make no clinkers, the sifting of coal is entirely dispensed with, and they will save from 60 to 50 per cent. of fuel over common Furnaces.

For ease of management, economy and purity of air, these Furnaces have no equal. They can be regulated so as to give any amount of heat required, and the fire may be kept the entire season without once going out.

They give entire satisfaction wherever used. We have in store the different sizes, Brick and Portable, to which we invite the attention of those in want of the best Furnace in the world,—and would refer them to the following named gentlemen, who have them now in use:

Samuel Cleaves, Esq., Albert R. Hatch, Esq.,
Aaron H. Hill, Charles H. Mendum,
Henry F. Wendell, John Sise, and others.

Also on hand, the celebrated and unequalled

MAGEE COOKING STOVES,

Which for economy, durability, ease of management and nicety of operation in every department of cooking,

☞ An order, suggested by Surgeon General Smith of Pennsylvania, will be made by the Secretary of War, giving to United States Quartermasters authority to issue new suits of clothing to wounded soldiers, with or without their destriptive lists, who may have their clothes lost or destroyed on the battle-field. The requisition must be sent in approved by the nearest acting medical director. This will avoid much of the inconvenience, suffering and delay hitherto experienced by the wounded after battle.

☞ The Portland Press mentions that the congregation of the Union Church,—which recently lost their meeting house by fire, and resolved to sell the property rather than to rebuild or repair it,—do not propose to break ap, but have made provisions for the future. The people now worship in Mechanics' Hall, morning and evening; their minister, Rev. Henry D. Moore, is with them, preaching to large assemblies, and they propose to build a house suited to their wants.

☞ A well known gentleman of New York writes in a private letter dated, Paris, June 4: "Mr. Mowatt dined with us a few days since. He is here with Lord Clyde, the greatest English general living. In a conversation which I had with Lord Clyde, on Saturday, he stated that Gen. McClellan had evinced more true generalship than any man in our army. He said he considered him a splendid strategist and able leader."

☞ Mr. Dawes, from the Committee of Elections, has reported for a third time against the claim of Charles Henry Foster to a seat as a Representative from North Carolina. The Committee expresses surprise that he should claim an election under the circumstances.

It must be very hot in the South. A contemporary says that a small negro boy injudiciously leaned up against the sunny side of a house and fell asleep. In a few minutes he began to soften, and in three-quarters of an hour he ran all over the yard. His mother dipped him up and put him in a wash tub.

☞ There is no word in the Indian language for the word "year." The Indians reckon time by the return of snow, or the springing of flowers, and the flight of the birds announces the progress of the seasons. The motion of the sun marks the hour of the day; and these distinctions of time are not noted in numbers, but in language and illustrations of a highly poetical character.

FEARLESS HONESTY.—A business firm in New Orleans, at the beginning of the outbreak, owed two hundred and fifty thousand dollars in New York. This was sequestered under the Confederate laws, but the firm steadily refused to pay it over, at the risk of jail,and are now making arrangements to discharge the debt to the proper creditors in full.—Boston Courier.

PURE OLD BOURBON WHISKEY.

Correspondence between some of the most eminent physicians of New York and Brooklyn, and WM. J. CUTTER, Jr., Louisville, Ky:

NEW YORK May 1, 1861.

MR. WM. T. CUTTER, Jr., Louisville, Ky.:

Dear Sir:—The great difficulty experienced in procuring Brandy sufficiently pure for medicinal purposes, has induced many of the physicians of this city to adopt Bourbon Whiskey as a substitute, both in the hospitals and private practice; and, since the latter has come into such general use, we have reason to believe that a great deal now sold is of very inferior quality.

Presuming that your residence in the vicinity of the manufacture of Whiskey in Kentucky, as well as your skill as a chemist, will enable you to select a reliable article, and having full confidence in your integrity, we are led to inquire whether you will aid us in having this market supplied, through an Agency, with the best quality of Pure Old Bourbon Whiskey for the use of the sick.

We are, very respectfully, sir, yours truly,

LOUISVILLE, Ky., July 31, 1861.

DR. VALENTINE MOTT, Willard Parker & others:

Gentlemen:—Your letter of May 1st has been received. In accordance with your wishes, I have made arrangements to supply your city and vicinity with a pure article of copper distilled Bourbon Whiskey, which I trust will fully meet the requirements of your letter. Thanking you for your kind expressions of confidence, &c.,

I remain, very respectfully, yours truly,
WM. T. CUTTER, JR.

We, the Physicians of Portsmouth, having full confidence in the integrity of D. R. AMBROSE, recommend him as a suitable person to sell OLD BOURBON WHISKEY in Portsmouth, for medicinal purposes, in accordance with an arrangement made between the New York Physicians and WM. T. CUTTER, JR., of Louisville, Ky., and a similar agreement between said Cutter and the Physicians of Boston.

IMPORTANT TO THE AFFLICTED.

DR. DOW continues to be consulted at his office, Nos 7 and 9 ENDICOTT STREET, Boston on all diseases of a

PRIVATE OR DELICATE NATURE.

By a long course of study and practical experience of unlimited extent, Dr. D has now the gratification of presenting the unfortunate with remedies that have never, since the first introduced them, failed to cure the most alarming cases of

GONORRHŒA AND SYPHILIS.

Beneath his treatment, all the horrors of venereal and impure blood, Impotency, Scrofula, Gonorrhœa, Ulcers,pain and distress in the regions of procreation, Inflammation of the Bladder and Kidneys, Dyspepsia, Abscesses, Humors, frightful Swellings, and the long train of horrible symptoms attending this class of disease, are made to become as harmless as the simplest stings of a child.

SEMINAL WEAKNESS.

Dr. D devotes a great part of his time to the treatment of those cases caused by a secret and solitary habit, which ruins the body and mind, unfitting the unfortunate individual for business or society. Some of the sad and melancholy effects produced by early habits of youth, are Weakness of the Back and limbs, Dizziness of the head, Dimness of sight, Palpitation of the heart, Dyspepsia, Nervous Irritability, Derangement of the digestive functions, Symptoms of Consumption, &c. The fearful effects on the mind are much to be dreaded; loss of memory, confusion of ideas, depression of spirits, evil forebodings, aversion of society, self-distrust, timidity, &c., are among the evils produced. Such persons should, before contemplating matrimony, consult a physician of experience, and be at once restored to health and happiness.

Patients who wish to remain under Dr. Dow's treatment a few days or weeks, will be furnished with pleasant rooms, and charges for board moderate. apr7—1y3taw

CAUTION

To Females in Delicate Health.

DR. DOW, Physician and Surgeon, No 7 ENDICOTT STREET, Boston, is consulted daily for all diseases incident to the female system. Prolapsus Uteri, or falling of the Womb, Fluor Albus, Suppression, and other menstrual derangements, are all treated upon new pathological principles, and speedy relief guaranteed in a few days. So invariably certain is the new mode of treatment, that most obstinate complaints yield under it, and the afflicted person soon rejoices in perfect health.

Dr. Dow has no doubt had greater experience in the cure of diseases of women and children, than any other physician in Boston.

Boarding accommodations for patients who may wish to stay in Boston a few days under his treatment.

Dr. Dow, since 1845, having confined his whole attention to an office practice, for the cure of Private Diseases and Female Complaints, acknowledges no superior in the United States.

N. B.—All letters must contain one dollar, or they will not be answered.

Office Hours from 8 A. M. to 9 P. M.

CERTAIN CURE

in all cases, or No Charges Made.

Dr. Dow is consulted daily, from 8 A. M. to 9 P. M. as above, upon all difficult and chronic diseases of every name and nature, having by his unwearied attention and extraordinary success gained a reputation which calls patients from all parts of the country to obtain advice.

Among the physicians in Boston, none stands higher in the profession than the celebrated DR. DOW, No. 7 Endicott-street, Boston. Those who need the services of an experienced physician and surgeon should give him a call.

FRANKLIN HOUSE,

Portsmouth, N. H.

The undersigned having assumed the management of this well known public house, and having made extensive improvements therein, solicits a continuance of the patronage of the travelling public that has so long been extended to the house.

A new parlor and an extensive suite of commodious and well-ventilated sleeping apartments have been added; and a separate Ladies' Entrance from Congress Street, arranged. Gentlemen with their families, or ladies unattended, will now find quiet and retired apartments connected with the street and dining hall by an independent staircase.

The house will be kept as a first class hotel in every respect; and the proprietors will spare no pains to merit the patronage of those visiting this section of the State.

A good STABLE is connected with the house where persons visiting Portsmouth with teams, will be promptly and carefully waited upon.

MATHEWS' VENETIAN LIQUID HAIR DYE.

☞ MATHEWS' VENETIAN HAIR DYE.—This celebrated Dye was first prepared in 1845; since that time it has been USED BY THOUSANDS, and in no instance has it failed to give PERFECT SATISFACTION.

THE VENETIAN DYE is the cheapest in the world. Its price is ONLY FIFTY CENTS, and each bottle contains DOUBLE THE QUANTITY OF DYE, contained in those usually sold for ONE DOLLAR.

THE VENETIAN DYE is the safest composition of its class. It is WARRANTED NOT TO INJURE the hair, or the scalp, in the least.

THE VENETIAN DYE works with RAPIDITY AND CERTAINTY. It causes no annoyance or trouble to those who use it.

THE VENETIAN DYE produces any shade that may be desired,—one that will not fade, crock, nor wash out,—one that is as permanent as the hair itself.

THE VENETIAN DYE does not, in any manner, interfere with the NATURAL SOFTNESS OF THE HAIR,—it neither scorches nor dries it.

THE VENETIAN DYE is the best, cheapest, safest, most convenient, most successful, and most permanent Dye ever used.

American and Foreign Patents.
R. H. EDDY,
SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,
Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, (under the Act of 1837.)
75 State Street, opposite Kilby Street, BOSTON,
After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Bonds, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with dispatch. Research can be made in American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of patents or Inventions—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the patentability of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.
The Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing Patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional service so moderate.
The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents.
These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.
All necessity of a journey to Washington, to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.
TESTIMONIALS.
"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse."
CHARLES MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.
"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office."
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents.
Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but ONE of which patents have been granted, and that is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges."
JOHN TAGGART.
During eight months, the subscriber, in course of his large practice, made on twice rejected applications SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in his favor, by the Commissioner of Patents.

☞ ATTENTION, THE WHOLE! ☜
PORTSMOUTH, April 21st, 1862.
I have for several years been afflicted with distress at my stomach, loss of appetite, and often vomited up all of my food immediately after eating it, and all medicine failed to give any relief until about a year ago, when I took one bottle of DR. S. SWETT'S PANACEA, which fully cured me, so that I have not had the least trouble from any of those complaints since, and I enjoy good health. M. LOWD.
Exeter, Feb. 24, 1863. Dr Swett:—"Sir, for the benefit of those who are afflicted as I have been, with a bloated stomach, loss of appetite, poor rest night and day, I would say, that your PANACEA has effected a radical cure on me; and would add—that for the last year, my health has been greatly improved; therefore, I cheerfully recommend it as superior to any other medicine I ever used for humors and consumptive complaints."
WM. P. LEAVITT.
From Elder I. Chesley, Lee, May 31, 1841.
Dr. Swett: Permit me to testify, as I feel in duty bound to do, that my daughter was afflicted with scrofulous humor, and that previous to your visiting our house in the spring of 1840, she had been confined for a number of months, without her natural rest by day or night. She had applied to a number of physicians, but continued to grow weaker till she commenced using your PANACEA and HUMOR WASH. Since then, she has recovered her health so far as to rest quietly by night, and labor by day. I esteem your medicine one of the best that can be found for the disease above named." ISRAEL CHESLEY
☞ Any one returning the remainder of a bottle or box of Dr. Swett's medicines shall have pay for it, if it do not agree with his case, or if not worth the price. All orders directed to DR. S. SWETT, Portsmouth, N. H., promptly attended to. may30g

SATURDAY, JUNE 28, 1862.

THE REBELLION.

It appears by dispatches from Washington, that the divisions of Generals Fremont, Bank's and McDowell are to be united into one army, under the chief command of Maj. Gen. Pope. One dispatch says in relation to this matter—"The consolidation of the forces under Major Generals Fremont, Banks and McDowell, to be called the Army of Virginia, with Maj. Gen. Pope as its chief commander, is hailed with delight as an earnest of the determination of the President to act with reference only to the public welfare—while it is not doubted that all of these officers will cheerfully co-operate in the performance of this patriotic duty." The commanders of these corps are all the seniors of Gen. Pope in military rank, but the energy and skill displayed by this General in the recent military operations in the West justify the choice, and give reason to hope for the best results from his appointment to this important command.

CHARLESTON, S. C.—By the Ericsson at Philadelphia we learn that the account of the fight on James Island, copied from the Charleston papers, is correct. The Ericsson brings 57 soldiers who were wounded in the late engagement on James Island, near Charleston. Our troops under Gen. Benham made an attack on the morning of the 16th, and were repulsed after four hours' hard fighting, with a loss of 608 in killed, wounded and missing. The Michigan 8th regiment had but 350 men on roll call. The Union troops were obliged to retreat under cover of the gunboats. The Ericsson landed the 7th N. H. Regt. at Port Royal. A Beaufort letter states that the 3d New Hampshire regiment lost 106 killed and wounded.

ITEMS FROM REBEL SOURCES.—The official lists of the rebel losses at the battle of Fair Oaks have been published. Eighty-five regiments and battalions in all were engaged, sustaining a loss of killed, wounded and missing of 5897.

The rate of postage in the Southern Confederacy has been raised from five to ten cents.

A dispatch from Chattanooga says the Federals have stampeded from that place leaving their camps and everything behind.

The Charleston Mercury says all was quiet at James Island on Sunday, but the enemy were busily engaged throwing up earthworks.

The steamer Memphis, from Liverpool to Charleston via Nassau, N. P., ran the blockade Monday, successfully. She has on board Mr. Ward, late Minister to China, and a valuable cargo of British goods.—The Memphis is an iron steamer.

GEN. STANLEY, in a late speech at Washington, N. C., in his capacity of U. S. Military Governor, assured his fellow citizens that the U. S. army had not warred for emancipation,—and cited the President's revisal of Fremont and Hunter, to prove his assertion: he then gave them this warning:—

"I come to serve and save you. Listent to me ere it is too late. The march of this army cannot continue with the same policy. Tell your secession brethren so. In twelve months more there won't be room in North Carolina for a slave's foot. In the name of reason stop it. Lincoln's rebuke of Hunter is significant. Heed the warning he gives. Why not have peace? Your patriotism and interests are involved in it. The result of the war must be emancipation or Union—evils unnumbered, or blessings such as no nation ever had."

☞ The Democratic Convention of Maine, at Bangor, passed resolutions to sustain the administration in a vigorous prosecution of the war, for the support of the Constitution, and the enforcement of the laws, but against making the war a crusade for negro emancipation.

A spirited debate ensued in relation to dropping Gen. Jameson and taking a man on whom the Dana men could unite, and some remarkable disclosures were made.—A ballot resulted in the nomination of Jameson by 166 to 106 for Bion Bradbury. The result was a defeat of that section of the convention which wished to unite with the Dana or peace party, who will hold their convention shortly.

DEATH OF TWO GENERALS.—Gen. Charles D. Jameson, of Bangor, Me., died at Washington, last week, of wounds received at the battle of Fair Oaks. Gen. Jameson was a prominent and influential man, and has rendered good service in the present war. He was supported by the Union Democrats of Maine for Governor last year. Gen. Wm. R. Palmer of the Topographical Engineers, who was sick with the typhoid fever, died in Washington, also, on the same day.

We find the above in an exchange paper;—but the part of it about Col. Jameson cannot be true. The Democratic Convention in Maine, June 26th, re-nominated him for Governor. Had he been so long dead, they must have known it.

LETTER FROM CONCORD.

CONCORD, Thursday, June 26.

Dear Chronicle:—The General Court is unusually quiet for the third and working week of the session, and present appearances are that all business will be disposed of and the Legislature adjourned by the end of next. Education and dogs are the two most prominent subjects of legislation, and in the absence of more exciting topics the House has managed to stir itself up into a fever heat over these. A bill to provide for a Board of Education, similar to that of Massachusetts, was lost, there having been a vague notion among some of the members that it was "going to cost more than it was worth," and in that event, of course, no measure could be sanctioned by New Hampshire economists.

A good deal of discussion is made on the proposal to keep text-books for five years in our schools without change. Book publishers out of the State, of course, oppose it. Perhaps the evil cannot be remedied by legislation.

On Wednesday, a little episode occurred in the shape of a scathing rebuke administered by a leading lawyer of the House to a member who had foolishly insinuated that the legal gentleman or his partner had received $500 from interested parties for the purpose of securing his influence on this measure. The gentleman's character and position of course left no doubt of the utter want of foundation to the report. Besides, it is generally thought that the member who instituted the insuendo fixed the price a little too high for the season.

The Dog law has been talked up and down, over and underneath, and is far from satisfactory even now. In a small way the dog is getting to be as troublesome a subject as the irrepressible colored man. One of the members suggested the good old-fashioned plan of cutting off the animal's tail,—just behind the ears.

The House has about the usual number of able men this year, though one misses faces once familiar. Concord stands at the head, indulging in the legal profession to the number of four out of ten representatives. Messrs. Foster, Chandler, Mugridge and Sanborn are all gentlemen of legislative talent. Prof. Patterson, of Hanover, speaks often and well. He looks sharp after the interests of Dartmouth College. A bill is now pending to give to that institution the public lands in the town of Pittsburg. They are of no value to the State, but under prudent individual management might be made serviceable to the college. The bill will probably succeed.—Col. Kent, of Lancaster, looks after the "military." His Militia Bill, eighty printed pages, is a creditable affair. Mr. Robinson, of Portsmouth, is wide-awake, and never fails to secure the undivided interest of the members.

The number of the Representatives is altogether too large. They sit squeezed together, for all the world like the boys on the back seats of schools on examination day. Among the good-looking men, who might be mentioned, are Paul J. Wheeler, of Newport, Union candidate for governor last year, whose profile is not unlike Caleb Cushing. "Mine hosts" of Willards, at Gilford, with his portly form, and the goodly-sized landlord from Exeter, together with one of his boarders, have conspicuous seats in front of the Speaker's desk. The members from Hooksett and Milford, and one of the young men of the Portsmouth delegation, and indeed not a few others serve to demonstrate that the New Hampshire Legislature still maintains its reputation for men of intelligent expression and fine personal appearance.

The Senate is this year better than that of last season. Messrs. Smith of Manchester, Stearns of Concord, and Wadleigh, of Meredith, new members, are excellent senators. What little this body has to do, is done expeditiously and with good judgment. The Senate should be increased to a one-half larger number, and the members retained for a longer term than two years.—On the whole, I think this collection of "grave and reverend seniors" is really younger-looking, on the average, than the lower house. Still it lacks nothing of dignity either in the presiding officers or in members on the floor.

The season is not very lively in Concord this June, though three or four Society Festivals have been held and well attended.—A military company from Nashua is expected in town to-morrow, Friday.

CHIFFONNIER.

☞ The Richmond Dispatch takes occasion to pay a very high compliment to a speech recently delivered in Congress by Ben Wood of New York. We presume, under the circumstances of his impeachment for treason alleged against him, he will hardly relish aid and comfort from such a quarter.

—— The directors of Strafford Bank have declared a semi-annual dividend of 4 per cent., payable on the 1st of July.

☞ The armed barque Fernandina, Edward Moses of Portsmouth, Acting Master, went to sea from Fortress Monroe last week.

N. H. LEGISLATURE.

WEDNESDAY.—In the Senate, the proposed amendment of the liquor law was denied a passage. An act providing for the removal of foreign paupers, was passed; also an act relating to the jurisdiction in criminal cases of justices of peace residing in the several cities of this State.

The House, after debate, refused to pass the bill abolishing School Districts.

The School Book bill was ordered to a third reading: the Dog law and Militia bill were discussed.

On Thursday, June 26, the Militia bill passed the House, after a long discussion.

The seat of N. P. Coleman of Newington was vacated.

S. J. COURT.—The June Law Term, at Exeter, which commenced its session Tuesday last week, adjourned Saturday. In addition to the divorce cases in which judgments were given as reported in our last the following cases on the Rockingham Docket were disposed of:—

THE REBEL ARMY IN THE WEST.—The retreat of Beauregard from Corinth was a necessity imposed on him by the circumstances that surrounded him, and not a stroke of strategy, as has been pretended by some admirers of his generalship. A correspondent of the Edgefield, S. C., Advertiser, writing from Okolona, Miss., says the retreat from Corinth had upon Beauregards army, a "terribly demoralizing effect." He says, "many declare they will quit the the service and go home," and "indeed the Tennesseans are now deserting every day." It also appears that Beauregard has lost some of his laurels; "not a few of those who were heretofore foremost in his praise, are now the most bitter in denouncing him." The same correspondent says the Southern army "suffered immensely from sickness at Corinth," and, "the whole country from there to Columbus, Miss., is one vast hospital." There are two thousand sick at Okolona, and they are in a terribly suffering condition.

THE TEN THOUSAND PRISONERS?—Every newspaper reader remembers the statement of Gen. Halleck, that 10,000 prisoners and 15,000 stand of arms were taken from the rebels not far from Corinth. That statement was recently discredited by a Chicago paper, as none of the prisoners had been seen at Chicago.

Within a few days it has been denied and ridiculed at Washington, tho' it did not appear on what authority. Now it appears that Gen. Beauregard! says he did not lose more than 500 men and 300 stand of arms.

But per contra, Gen. Pope himself, our Western victorious General, is at Washington, and in answer to a question concerning the 10,000 prisoners taken by him, according to Gen. Halleck, he says he took 30,000 men, they could hardly be called soldiers, and 22,000 stand of arms. Of the captives, many were from Kentucky and Tennessee, and these impressed or deceived men, Beauregard's rear guard was driving South. Having no means to feed them, and believing that there was little temptation for them to join the rebel rout, Gen. Halleck released them upon parole.

So that question is settled.

Boy Wanted.

A good, smart, intelligent Boy, living in this city, may have opportunity to learn the Printer's trade, at the Chronicle Office.

Local.

A CORRECTION.—It gives us pleasure to correct an error we inadvertently made, on statements from a townsman whom we supposed fully informed of the facts in the case. The truth places both Col. Kent and the Portsmouth delegation in a better light, as regards our city; though as to the "gentleman from Lancaster," we did not and do not blame any member for looking out for his own constituency.

The examining committee referred to are to visit Portsmouth Arsenal to-day.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES, }
Concord, N. H., June 26, 1862 }

Editor of the Portsmouth Chronicle:—Sir:—In your paper of yesterday, I find the following allusion to myself, in an article referring to a proposed visit of a Legislative Committee and others to your city:—"Col. Henry O. Kent, representative from Lancaster, (who was smart enough on Monday, before our delegation got back to Concord, to strike out the words 'and Portsmouth,' in a resolution ordering repairs on the Arsenals, and get for his own Arsenal at Lancaster, all the funds)."

The paragraph does me an injustice unwarranted by the facts, and imputes to me a disposition very different from that which I entertain toward the city of Portsmouth and its institutions.

A recommendation was made in the Quartermaster General's Report for an appropriation of $100 each, for the Arsenals at Portsmouth and Lancaster. This report was referred to the Military Committee, of which I am a member; but before action was taken, a special committee was appointed, to whom was referred all matters pertaining to the Portsmouth arsenal; thus removing its interests from our hands. The Lancaster arsenal remained, and the appropriation was voted. Upon reaching the House, the resolution was amended on motion of Col. Jones of Portsmouth, who was unaware of the fact of the select committee, by adding the words "and Portsmouth," which amendment, upon being informed relative to the facts, he proposed to withdraw.

When, in the usual order, the resolution was read a second time, these facts were stated by myself to the House, together with the further fact, that in its present shape, but $100 was appropriated for both arsenals, a sum manifestly inadequate, and the amendment was stricken out, that the proper appropriation for Portsmouth might come in at the proper amount from the special committee charged with the subject.

The foregoing is a detailed statement of a very legitimate transaction, and in justice to myself I desire that no erroneous an impression, regarding both my action in the premises and my method of legislation, should be corrected

Very respectfully yours,
HENRY O. KENT.

☞ Among the new advertisements which have crowded into the columns of the Chronicle of late, Mr. Stevens' notices of Refrigerators are interesting at this time. Also his advertisement of Clothes Wringers and other wares—as also that one of Mr. Alfred Stavers, of another pattern of Wringer, room papers, crockery ware, &c. Every family ought to have some sort of a Wringer—whichever is best. Messrs. Fisher Brothers announce to almost give away Dry Goods, to close out their stock. And Messrs. Jones & Bolles offer the famous Magee Furnaces—this being the season for setting them; also the better-known, widely-used, and everywhere-popular Magee parlor and hall Stoves; and the beautiful Magee Cook Stove, which they say is to supersede all others in use, being the best that ever was used. However that may be, there is no doubt but Magee makes a good stove of any sort, hard to beat; and Jones & Bolles know how to sell them.—See advertisements.

VISITORS FROM ABROAD. — The committee on celebrating the 4th have forwarded mammoth posters to every city and town within sixty miles of this city, giving all the details of the programme of the Fourth. It may be expected that thousands of strangers will visit us on that occasion. Let them come, if they wish to have a good time. The mammoth pavilion is being put up, and will accommodate from three to five thousand persons.

☞ Numerous friends keep inquiring what we are going to hang to the outer arm of that flag-staff. Well, we don't know what better we can do with it than to suspend the ugliest editor in the country—for he is of no benefit or comfort to himself or anybody else. He don't live (or rather stay) in Portsmouth now—having left the city for the city's good.

OLD '76 TO RIDE IN THE PROCESSION. Mr. Daniel Fernald, who is 95 years of age, and served in the Revolutionary war, will be escorted by a body of Continentals, and take part in the Celebration of the Fourth. Probably Mr. F. is the only Revolutionary patriot now living in this State.

☞ The ass-tout editor of the Ballot hopes age will ripen our intellect. As to himself, his hope deferred must long since have made his heart sick—and we are sorry we can neither reciprocate his hopes or his compliments.

☞ We learn that a man named Tate, was run over and killed, on Thursday night, about 11 o'clock, in Kittery, by the freight train, on the P. S. & P. Railroad.

☞ Gerrish sells good Beer at his new fruit and refreshment store on the Square—at least, that brace of bottles of pop he sent us, was good enough for anybody.

☞ Rev. R. W. Humphriss is to preach at the Alms-house Chapel to-morrow afternoon at 5 o'clock.

Important to Females.

DR. CHEESEMAN'S PILLS.

The combination of ingredients in these Pills are the result of a long and extensive practice.—They are mild in their operation, and certain in correcting all irregularities, Painful Menstruations, removing all obstructions, whether from cold or otherwise, headache, pain in the side, palpitation of the heart, whites, all nervous affections, hysterics, fatigue, pain in the back and limbs, &c., disturbed sleep, which arise from the interruption of nature.

DR. CHEESEMAN'S PILLS

was the commencement of a new era in the treatment of those irregularities and obstructions which have consigned so many to a PREMATURE GRAVE. No female can enjoy good health unless she is regular, and wherever an obstruction takes place the general health begins to decline.

DR. CHEESEMAN'S PILLS

are the most effectual remedy ever known for all complaints peculiar to FEMALES. To all classes they are invaluable, inducing, with certainty, periodical regularity. They are known to thousands, who have used them at different periods, throughout the country, having the assurance from some of the most eminent Physicians in America.

Explicit Directions, stating when they should not be used, with each Box.—The Price One Dollar per Box, containing from 50 to 60 Pills.

"MAGEE'S PATENT"

VENTILATING & AIR-WARMING

FURNACES.

The subscribers, being the Sole Agents in this vicinity for the manufacture and sale of this valuable Furnace, would ask those about remodelling or erecting buildings to examine this truly valuable invention.

For economy, purity of air and ease of management it has no equal, producing a current of warm air, moist and agreeable;—and as none of the air which comes in contact with the fire-pot is used for respiration, the tendency to produce headache so much complained of in other Furnaces, is entirely obviated.

The objects aimed at by the constructors of heating apparatus have been to obtain the greatest amount of heat from a given amount of fuel, and to prevent the escape of heat to the smoke pipe or chimney.

To accomplish this many complicated and expensive heating arrangements have been constructed, some possessing but little improvement over former methods, while many have proved a total failure. The reason for this is obvious. The combustible gases being lighter than the air, pass off into the pipe or chimney without being consumed. This objection, so common in other Furnaces, is obviated in the

MAGEE FURNACE.

The flue or pipe in this Furnace being below the fire-pot, the gases, from their specific gravity, cannot descend, and are burned up by the admission of cold air through the fire-pot, which ignites them as they pass off from the coal, thus saving at least 20 per cent. of the properties of the heat in the fuel.

No heating apparatus with the smoke-pipe or flue on the top of the cone can be made to consume the gases of the coal, as they pass off with a large amount of the heat generated, making the chimney the hottest part of your dwelling.

This Furnace does away with the great number of pipes and angles for the radiation of heat, which are so liable to fill up and get out of order, thus simplifying, while it increases the surface of radiation.

These Furnaces consume all the coal, make no clinkers, the sifting of coal is entirely dispensed with, and they will save from 30 to 50 per cent. of fuel over common Furnaces.

For ease of management, economy and purity of air, these Furnaces have no equal. They can be regulated so as to give any amount of heat required, and the fire may be kept the entire season without once going out.

They give entire satisfaction wherever used. We have in store the different sizes, Brick and Portable, to which we invite the attention of those in want of the best Furnace in the world,—and would refer them to the following named gentlemen, who have them now in use:

Samuel Cleaves, Esq., Albert R. Hatch, Esq.,
Aaron H. Hill, Charles H. Moudum,
Henry F. Wendell, John Sise, and others.

in this city and vicinity; and is prepared to furnish and set the same, at the regular prices for other shoes, (except for steel Shoes, which are 25 cts. extra), and warrant them to give full satisfaction in all cases. The improvement consists in the nails being set in a steel groove which protects the heads, and the Shoe being concave on both the upper and under sides, so as to be much lighter, to hold on better, and afford a good purchase for the horse without corks, except on very hard ice.

These Shoes are peculiarly favorable for tender or bad feet, quarter cracks, interfering, overreaching, &c.; and gentlemen who have been troubled with their horses, and the public generally, are invited to call and examine the same, and give them a trial.

Any other pattern of Shoe will be put on, to suit customers, as usual, and

ASTONISH THE WORLD!

Why is it that Lane is so popular?

WHY IS IT THAT THE GREAT MASS OF THE PEOPLE BUY THEIR GOODS AT

"L A N E'S?"

These are questions, the answers to which you will do well to remember.

1st. We do a strictly "CASH BUSINESS," buying and selling for "nett cash," thereby saving much from bad debts, and having great advantage in buying goods.

2d. We employ none but first-class artists in the cut and manufacture of our goods, thereby giving to the purchaser an elegant and tasty fit, combined with great durability.

3d. We always keep a very large stock and you are sure to find garments suited to your taste and pocket.

4th. Our corps of salesmen are all gentlemen and you have no fear of being abused if you do not purchase; but on the contrary, take great pleasure in showing strangers over our immense establishment.

5th. We invite strangers who are making purchases in the city, to make our store their headquarters, and send any bundle or package there for safe keeping.

PURE OLD BOURBON WHISKEY.

Correspondence between some of the most eminent physicians of New York and Brooklyn, and WM. J. CUTTER, JR., Louisville, Ky.:

NEW YORK May 1, 1861.

MR. WM. T. CUTTER, JR., Louisville, Ky.:

Dear Sir:—The great difficulty experienced in procuring Brandy sufficiently pure for medicinal purposes, has induced many of the physicians of this vicinity to adopt Bourbon Whiskey as a substitute, both in the hospitals and private practice; and, since the latter has come into such general use, we have reason to believe that a great deal now sold is of very inferior quality.

Presuming that your residence in the vicinity of the manufacture of Whiskey in Kentucky, as well as your skill as a chemist, will enable you to select a reliable article, and having full confidence in your integrity, we are led to inquire whether you will not aid us in having this market supplied, through an Agency, with the best quality of Pure Old Bourbon Whiskey for the use of the sick.

We are, very respectfully, sir, yours truly,

LOUISVILLE, Ky., July 31, 1861.

DRS. VALENTINE MOTT, Willard Parker & others.

Gentlemen:—Your letter of May 1st has been received. In accordance with your wishes, I have made arrangements to supply your city and vicinity with a pure article of copper-distilled Bourbon Whiskey, which I trust will meet the requirements of your letter. Thanking you for your kind expressions of confidence, &c.,

I remain, very respectfully, yours truly,

WM. T. CUTTER, JR.

We, the Physicians of Portsmouth, having full confidence in the integrity of D. R. AMBROSE, recommend him as a suitable person to sell OLD BOURBON WHISKEY in Portsmouth, for medicinal purposes, in accordance with an arrangement made between the New York Physicians and WM. T. CUTTER, Jr., of Louisville, Ky., and a similar agreement between said Cutter and the Physicians of Boston.

IMPORTANT TO THE AFFLICTED.

DR. DOW continues to be consulted at his office, No 7 and 9 ENDICOTT STREET, Boston, on all diseases of a

PRIVATE OR DELICATE NATURE.

By a long course of study and practical experience of unlimited extent, Dr. D. has now the gratification of presenting the unfortunate with remedies that have never, since he first introduced them, failed to cure the most alarming cases of

GONORRHŒA AND SYPHILIS.

Beside, health his treasure, all the horrors of venereal and impure blood, Impotency, Scrofula, Gonorrhœa, Ulcers, pain and distress in the regions of procreation, Inflammation of the Bladder and Kidneys, Hydrocele, Abscesses, Humors, frightful Swellings, and the long train of horrible symptoms attending this class of disease, are made to become as harmless as the simplest failings of a child.

SEMINAL WEAKNESS.

Dr. D. devotes a great part of his time to the treatment of those cases caused by a secret habit, or solitary habit, which ruins the body and mind, unfitting the unfortunate individual for business or society. Some of the sad and melancholy effects produced by early habits of youth, are Weakness of the Back and limbs, Dizziness of the head, Indigestion, Dyspepsia, Palpitation of the heart, Dyspepsia, Nervousness, Derangement of the digestive functions, Symptoms of Consumption, &c. The mental effects on the mind are much to be dreaded; loss of memory, confusion of ideas, depression of spirits, evil forebodings, aversion of society, self-distrust, timidity, &c., are among the evils produced. Such persons should before contemplating matrimony, consult a physician of experience, and be at once restored to health and happiness.

Patients who wish to remain under Dr. Dow's treatment a few days or weeks, will be furnished with pleasant rooms, and charges for board moderate. apr7—1y3taw

CAUTION

To Females in Delicate Health.

DR. DOW, Physician and Surgeon, No 7 Endicott Street, Boston, is consulted daily, for all diseases incident to the female system: Prolapsus Uteri, or falling of the Womb, Fluor Albus, Suppression, and other menstrual derangements, are all treated upon new pathological principles, and speedy relief guaranteed in a few days. So invariably certain is the new mode of treatment, that most obstinate complaints yield under it, and the afflicted person soon rejoices in perfect health.

Dr. Dow has no doubt had greater experience in the cure of diseases of women and children, than any other physician in Boston.

Boarding accommodations for patients who may wish to stay in Boston a few days under his treatment.

Dr. Dow, since 1845, having confined his whole attention to an office practice, for the cure of Private Diseases and Female Complaints, acknowledges no superior in the United States.

CERTAIN CURE

in all cases, or No Charges Made.

Dr. Dow is consulted daily, from 8 A. M. to 9 P. M. as above, upon all difficult and chronic diseases of every name and nature, having by his unwearied attention and extraordinary success gained a reputation which calls patients from all parts of the country to obtain advice.

Among the physicians in Boston, none stands higher in the profession than the celebrated DR. DOW, No. 7 Endicott street, Boston. Those who need the services of an experienced physician and surgeon should give him a call.

MATHEWS' VENETIAN LIQUID HAIR DYE.

☞ MATHEWS' VENETIAN HAIR DYE.—This celebrated Dye was first prepared in 1845; since that time it has been used by THOUSANDS, and in no instance has it failed to give PERFECT SATISFACTION.

THE VENETIAN DYE is the cheapest in the world. Its price is ONLY FIFTY CENTS, and each bottle contains DOUBLE THE QUANTITY OF DYE, contained in those usually sold for ONE DOLLAR.

THE VENETIAN DYE is the safest composition of its class. It is WARRANTED NOT TO INJURE the hair, or the scalp, in the least.

THE VENETIAN DYE works with RAPIDITY AND CERTAINTY. It causes no annoyance or trouble to those who use it.

THE VENETIAN DYE produces any shade that may be desired,—one that will not fade, crock, nor wash out,—one that is as permanent as the hair itself.

THE VENETIAN DYE does not, in any manner, interfere with the NATURAL softness OF THE HAIR,—it neither scorches nor dries it.

THE VENETIAN DYE is the best, cheapest, safest, most convenient, most successful, and most permanent Dye ever used.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

—— N. H. Sanborn, Esq., of Franklin, has been appointed Sheriff of Merrimack County, in place of N. G. Ordway, Esq. whose term has expired.

—— Lieut. John D. Devin, who was in the engagement at Front Royal, and taken prisoner by the rebels, arrived home, at Dover, last week. Lieut. D. was fortunate enough to make his escape from his captors, after a few days detention, but in doing so had the misfortune to be thrown from his horse, by which accident one of his arms was broken.

—— The Cocheco Manufacturing Company have declared a semi annual dividend of $25 on a share; the Great Falls Company pay 5 per cent.; the Salmon Falls Co. 4 per cent.

—— Gilbert Bullock, Esq., of Concord, on Tuesday, broke both bones in one of his legs in jumping from his carriage, his horse having become unmanageable.

—— In Autrim, June 12, Mr. Charles Gates went to the barn of a neighbor, and while standing there talking, fell and died immediately.

—— A sad affair occurred at Bristol, the 20th, by which one man was killed. Workmen were engaged in blasting a ledge, on the "Sugar Loaf," and a number of spectators were standing at a distance from the place, when, upon the explosion of a seam-charge, one stone was thrown thirty rods and struck Mr. Sanborn Gale with such force that he was hurled fifteen feet and struck his head among the rocks, injuring him so badly that he died at 7 o'clock.—Several other persons were injured, but none seriously.

—— The first prize of $50 at the Cambridge Law School, for a dissertation on the recent changes of the law relative to the Property of Married women, has been awarded to Wm. G. Coburn, Manchester, N. H.

THE ARMY OF THE WEST.—In noticing Gen. Pope's departure from Washington, the St. Louis Union says: "The General states that the war in the West is over.—Beauregard has not 20,000 men on whom he can rely. None of his troops have gone to Richmond, neither is it true that they have reinforced Charleston, Savannah or Mobile. The truth is, Beauregard's army is not merely demoralized—it is dissolved. Gen. Halleck will probably remain at Corinth during the Summer. There will be no difficulty in furnishing him with supplies. The railroad from Columbia will be in running order in a few days. Railroad communication with Memphis will be also restored in a short time, for the enemy has disappeared from the country lying between the two points. Gen. Pope states that his own command absolutely requires rest.—Four months of continuous and the most severe duty will render a season of repose in the dead Summer heat very acceptable to them, and enable them to recruit their exhausted energies. When the season arrives for resuming the campaign, Gen. Halleck will be in a position to march at once into the interior of the lower cotton States, and sweep away the vestiges of resistance and rebellion in that region. The Fall campaign will undoubtedly put the finishing touches to the good work."

SUMMER TIME.

Now is the high-tide of the year,
And whatever of life hath ebbed away
Comes flooding back, with a ripple cheer,
Into every bare inlet and creek and bay:
Now the heart is so full that a drop overfills it;
We are happy now because God so wills it;
No matter how barren the past may have been,
'Tis enough for us now that the leaves are green;
We sit in the warm sunshine and feel how well
How the sap creeps up and the blossoms swell;
We may shut our eyes, but we cannot help knowing
That skies are clear and grass is growing;
The breeze comes whispering in our ear,
That dandelions are blossoming near,
That maize has sprouted, that streams are flowing,
That the river is bluer than the sky,
That the robin is plastering his house hard by;
And if the breeze kept the good news back,
For other couriers we should not lack;
We could guess it all by yon heifer lowing,—
And hark! how clear bold chant cleer,
Warmed with the new wine of the year,
Tells all in his lusty crowing!

ATTENTION, THE WHOLE!
PORTSMOUTH, April 21st, 1862.
I have for several years been afflicted with distress at my stomach, loss of appetite, and often vomited up all of my food immediately after eating it, and all medicine failed to give any relief until about a year ago, when I took one bottle of DR. S. SWETT'S PANACEA, which fully cured me, so that I have not had the least trouble from any of these complaints since, and I enjoy good health. M. LOWD.
Boston, Feb. 24, 1863. Dr. Swett:—Sir, for the benefit of those who are afflicted as I have been, with a tumor, which prevented quiet rest night and day, I would say, that your PANACEA has effected a radical cure on me; and would add—that by the use of it, my health has been greatly improved; therefore, I cheerfully recommend it as superior to any other medicine I ever used for humors and consumptive complaints."

From ELDER I CHESLEY, Lee, May 31, 1841.
DR. SWETT: Permit me to testify, as I feel in duty bound to do, that my daughter was afflicted with scrofulous humor, and that previous to your visiting our house in the spring of 1840, she had been confined for a number of months, without her natural rest by day or night. She had applied to a number of physicians, but continued to grow weaker till she commenced using your PANACEA and HUMOR WASH. Since then, she has recovered her health so far as to rest quietly by night, and labor by day. I esteem your medicine one of the best that can be found for the disease above named." ISRAEL CHESLEY.
☞ Any one returning the remainder of a bottle or box of Dr. Swett's medicines shall have pay for it, if it do not agree with his case, or if not worth the price. All orders directed to DR. S. SWETT, Portsmouth, N. H., promptly attended to. may26g

Morning Chronicle.

Portsmouth, N. H.

MONDAY, JUNE 30, 1862.

THE REBELLION.

The Grenada Appeal says that Vicksburg will be held at all sacrifices, and that all non-combatants have been sent away.

The Vicksburg Citizen says the rebel force at Tupello have been greatly increased and their camps much improved.

The Citizen publishes a letter from the Lieutenant commanding the gunboat Winona to the authorities of Rodney, warning them that if the Federal transports are fired upon from the batteries erected at or near that point, the same punishment will be visited upon the town which the city of Grand Gulf received. To the letter Gen. Lovell replied that his batteries are located at the best points, and that he shall fire when he pleases.

It is reported that there are 22,000 troops at Vicksburg under Bragg and Pillow.

News from the Shenandoah Valley, other than official sources, leads to the belief that Jackson's troops have not in force returned from the point at which they were last seen by our troops. Speculations concerning them are various. Among them is one that he is repairing damages, and preparing to secure the wheat and rye crop of the Valley, which is presumed to be good.

Reports that abound, that the enemy is occupying the country between Manasses and Strasburg in any force, are untrue.—There may, however, be rebel pickets at settlements heretofore temporarily occupied by our troops.

Gen. Pope has entered upon his duties as Chief of the Army of Virginia. Gen. Fremont, having declined to serve under him as commander of the 1st corps, has been relieved from the command, and Gen. Rufus King has been appointed to the vacancy. Gen. Shields has resigned his commission, in consequence, probably, of the action of the Senate in rejecting his nomination as Major General.

It is reported that Gen. Benham, who was in command of the Charleston expedition, in the absence of Gen. Hunter, has been sent home under arrest, for disobedience of orders in making the attack, notwithstanding positive orders to the contrary.

It is reported, says a New York dispatch, that Gen. Hunter ordered the negro brigade to James Island, but several officers refusing to accompany the contrabands, the project was abandoned. Two Surgeons were sent home in the Ericsson by Gen. Hunter, for refusing to act as surgeons to the negro regiment.

Before Richmond, it is said Gen. McClellan has directed the issue of rations of dried apples, potatoes and pickles. The whiskey ration is stopped, and the troops are furnished with hot coffee immediately after reveille.

The Newbern Progress of the 21st reports that the rebels at Kingston and Goldsborough are living on half rations, and also that they are frequently deserting. Their force is small.

The rebel pickets had burned Tuscarora, and destroyed a portion of the railroad.

It is reported that fifteen rebels were killed at Fisherville by the explosion of a shell thrown by one of our gunboats, which did not burst when it first struck.

About 6000 of our men were engaged in the fight before Richmond on the 25th. They encountered two divisions of the rebel army, and drove them back a mile. Two brigades of Gen. Hooker's division, Grover's and Sickles', did nearly all the work. The 2d New Hampshire is one of the five regiments composing Gen. Grover's brigade.—Sgt. Thomas Lever, and a corporal of Co. B, and Geo. Miles, Co. A, 2d N. H., were among the killed. The dispatch reports that Capt. John Arts, of Co. K, was wounded in the left leg, and suffered amputation of the limb. W. H. Tenney, of Co. K, was also wounded. Twenty-five members of other companies in the regiment, were wounded.

☞ A severe thunder shower passed over Boston and vicinity on Friday evening, the lightning striking the house of Mr. A. F. Sise, at Longwood, at a quarter before 9 o'clock. It knocked the chimney from the roof, and, passing down, forced a block from the chimney, in a room where a child was sleeping, with such force as to break a part of the crib in which the little girl was placed. It, however, did not even awake her. A book case in the parlor, was nearly destroyed, and other damage was done to the furniture of the room, but three persons sitting in the apartment were not injured in the slightest degree.

☞ The marriage of the Princess Alice of England is to be again postponed, owing to the death of the mother of her fiance—the Grand Duchess of Hesse. It really seems as though the poor girl was never to have her husband—for this is the third or fourth postponement.

☞ Gen. Scott's wife died at Rome on the 10th of June. She was 72 years of age.

Gen. Pope is undoubtedly a good soldier and a loyal man, 39 years of age. He was, at the breaking out of the rebellion, one of the few regular army officers who openly took strong grounds for the Union. He was even arrested by order of President Buchanan for having in a letter, at Cincinnati, denounced the semi-treasonable course of the administration. But President Lincoln nominated him as Brigadier General at the time of the call for three years volunteers, and he was stationed in Northern Missouri. Since then his career has been well known. His system of breaking up the guerrillas first showed his organizing capacity. His capture of nearly 2000 rebel recruits in Missouri demonstrated his remarkable celerity; while his glorious success at Island No. 10 revealed a combination of military qualities rarely equaled. To this man the army of Virginia is now assigned, and the country will place implicit reliance in his military judgment, vigilance, skill and indomitable energy. Only let him have troops enough, and we are satisfied that a new era will be opened in the war.

By the way, the people of this part of the country have wondered why our War Department did not let all volunteers come out at the call after Banks' retreat.

Congress.—In the Senate, Friday, June 27, a bill was passed authorizing the Superintendent of Public Printing to print and sell for cost the copies of public documents ordered by the Departments.

The Senate passed a resolution calling on the President for the report of Joseph Holt and Robert Dale Owen, if not incompatible with the public service.

The bill to prevent the members of Congress from taking any consideration for procuring any office from the Government was taken up. The bill provides that any member of Congress or officer of the Government committing such offence, will be liable to indictment for misdemeanor, and if convicted will suffer a fine not exceeding $10,000, and imprisonment not exceeding two years, and will be afterwards disqualified for holding office under the United States. The bill was amended so as also to apply to those who for any reward, compensation, or consideration give any contract, office, or place, and then passed.

The Philadelphia Races.—At the third day's racing there were between 3000 or 4000 spectators. The weather was beautiful, and the track, considering the late heavy rains, was in good condition. The first race was a single dash of one mile, and was won by John Hunter's Miss Jessie, beating Lexington, Tilley and Acrolite half a length in 1:46 1-4. In the race for the $500 purse, mile heats, the first heat was won by Dr. Weldon's Hillsborough, and the second, third and fourth heats by Mr. J. W. Chay's Wagram. Pope, Swizart and Cyclone also ran. Time—1:49—1:47 3-4—1:49 1-4—1:50.

Saturday finished the meeting. The three mile race and the ladies gift race were well contested.

☞ The Washington Star publishes a large number of extracts from Maryland papers, showing the rapid progress of emancipationism in the State of Maryland.—Ex-Governor Hicks, Hon. Reverdy Johnson and Senator Sellman are said to be open advocates of the new order of things. The Baltimore American, the ablest paper in the State, keeps up its fire in support of the President's policy on this subject.

☞ About a week ago a man named Hicks, living in Alexandria county, Va., near Ball's Cross Roads, in a moment of intoxication undertook to whip his wife.—While in the act of beating her, his little son, a lad ten years of age, seized a dirk or large knife and ran behind his father and plunged it into his back, inflicting a wound which has since proved fatal.

☞ Is any one curious about the number of servants in waiting upon Queen Victoria? It seems to be two hundred and twenty-two, since the Queen, desirous that all her household should see the wonders of the Great Exhibition, has ordered the purchasing of two hundred and twenty-two tickets for their use.

☞ Two men were killed and two wounded, near Trenton, N. J., when the railway train ran into the canal, carrying part of Cook's battery to which these men belonged. Several horses were killed and much property destroyed. Cause, gross carelessness, for which the company should be roundly taxed.

☞ The Fredericksburg (Va.) Christian Banner of June 24 says the stampede of negroes continues with increased numbers. On last Thursday one hundred and fifty crossed over to the north side of the Rappahannock river. They are going, going, and will soon be all gone.

☞ The Chicago Tribune is informed that over three hundred of the Confederate prisoners at Camp Douglas were recruited into the ranks of the Irish Brigade on Saturday last, and left with it for Washington.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

—— A new office has been established at Wilson's Crossing, Rockingham county, and Warren Richardson has been appointed Postmaster—without expense to the government. Darius Frink has been appointed Postmaster at Newington, Rockingham county, vice F. W. DeRochemont, removed.

—— The following are among the wounded arrived at New York per steamer Ericsson:

Third New Hampshire.—Lieut. Robert Allen, wounded in right hand; privates Grant Trotter, in the jaw; W. H. Goodwin in the hand; G. L. Gerrish, in the left hip.

Co. B — Samuel Coban, flesh wound; James Geerah, wounded; Van S. Marstin, do.

Co. E—Valentine Case, ——.

Co. F—Edgar Doples, injured; Charles Doherty, wounded.

Co. H—Walton A. Lawrence, injured; Thomas N. Carr, do; Daniel N. Atwood, flesh wound; Freeman N. Tumbler, wounded.

—— The Manchester Mirror mentions the advance of $37,000 by that city to aid families of those engaged in fighting the battles of the country, according to an act of the Legislature, and says that Manchester has sent to the war over seventeen hundred men, or one fifth of all that have enlisted in this State.

—— In the N. H. Legislature, on Thursday, in the House, the Committee on Elections reported that Mr. Coleman of Newington was not entitled to his seat. Mr. Smith of Wentworth, moved to amend by saying he was entitled. This motion was lost, 114 to 144. The committee's report was then adopted, 153 to 125.

The London Morning Star is the people's penny paper. It is a large double folio, ably conducted. A friend in England has sent us a copy of the Star, of June 15. It contains an editorial article on English mediation in American affairs, on the whole very sensible, which supposes such mediation might do more harm than good.

After expressing a fervent wish for peace, in America, and hoping for a time when it will not be needful "to talk idly of abortive intervention," the Star goes on with the following questions and remarks.

But in this case, and at the present moment, what proposals of peace can we offer? Shall we propose to the South to return to their allegiance and disband their armies? We wish we could think there was the slightest chance of such a proposal meeting with anything but a furious rejection.—What other advice is there from which the North would not turn with contempt? The path of the North has so far been, on the whole, one of splendid victory. Is it in human reason to suppose that they who have at heavy sacrifice accomplished so much, are likely now to pause in their course on the verge of full success, and deliberately to abandon the only objects for which they ever drew a sword or fired a shot?—What have the Northerns been battling for at all? To prevent the dismemberment of their Union, and to stay the growth and spread of slavery. In order to assent to any plan on which a mediation at this moment could be founded the North must resign both these objects. Suppose they consent to have their Union severed, how is the severance to be made? Are States already conquered to be handed over to the Southern Confederacy simply because they had to be conquered? How is the sovereignty of the Mississippi to be settled?—Surely when Northern statesmen entered upon the war they might have made terms of peace at once if they would only consent to let the South secede and mark out her own dominions. Every consideration which any French or British politician can now suggest must have been fully present to the minds of the Northern Government when they entered upon this struggle.—They must have fully appreciated their difficulties and clearly recognized their objects. Is this the time, when the difficulties have been nearly surmounted, to invite them to surrender the objects? Nor must we forget in such a case our own national dignity and interests. It is but too probable that even a mere offer of mediation upon our part would just now be received by both combatants as something like an insult. We must take care how we give advice which may seem as if it were thrust in to save slavery from its impending doom. We must take care not to leave it to be told hereafter that when the most accursed enemy of civilization was driven to its death-struggle, England interposed and secured a reprieve for it. Every future difficulty, every quarrel which might spring out of the prolongation of the slave system, would inevitably be laid to the account of England's injudicious—who shall say that it might not be termed perfidious?—intervention. In the interests of peace we might brave all this and more, but just now peace is not to be procured by any proffered service of ours.

A Good Wine needs no Puff.—When George IV., King of England, was Prince Regent, he was celebrated for his admirable knowledge of good wine. His vaults were stocked with the choicest vintages of Europe. He had one wine, a rarity of its kind—and of this only a dozen bottles left. These were destined for a grand diplomatic banquet. The wine was ordered to be decanted—but every bottle had vanished. In affright the Prince's steward had recourse to a vintner of his acquaintance; but what was his horror when he learned that such a wine was not to be found in the market. The wine-dealer requested his friend, however, to go back and search if one bottle had been left. To his joy the steward found one. With this he returned to the vintner, who bade him call at a stated hour. He did so, and received a dozen bottles of wine, with this caution, that it was to be drunk before twelve hours. The imposition was never discovered.

Calling on a friend of ours of the American legation, the other day, he invited us to a glass of wine. We complimented his taste in the choice of so rich a port, but were somewhat astonished when he assured us it was an American vintage called Sambuci wine. It was rich, juicy and high-flavored, possessing none of the peculiarities which distinguish the manufactured sugar wines and elder-champagne. He told us the proprietor, Mr. A. Speer of New Jersey, U. S. A., had been awarded a gold cup by the American Institute for the excellence of his wine. This is a new phase in the produce of America—a wine country.—[Dickens' "All the Year round."

We quote the above with pride that we do produce one wine in this country that Europeans acknowledge superior to their own production. For a 4th of July dinner it cannot be excelled. 1td

PORTSMOUTH
GRAND REGATTA,
JULY 4, 1862.
To take place on Piscataqua River, at 3 o'clock, from a boat stationed off Martin's Wharf to the Beacon and return. Distance two miles.

There will be Three Races, as follows:

First Race—Distance two miles—for two-oared boats. Prize $35.00.

Second Race—Distance two miles—for four oared boats. Prize $15.00.

Third Race—Distance two miles—for six-oared boats and over. Prize $25.00.

4th Race—distance three miles—open to all double-bank wherries, whaleboats and ship's boats. No allowance for difference in number of oars. It is intended to award three prizes to this race—the first of which to be $25—the amount of the others to be determined before the 3d of July.

RULES AND REGULATIONS.

1. The course are open to all boats running on the river one month previous to the race. An entry fee of $1 will be charged, and may be made to the chairman of the committee, at 79 Market St., from 9 A. M. to 8 P. M. (Sunday excepted) until the evening of July 2.

2. The race will be on a straight course in the centre of the river, beginning at the Judge's stand, off Martin's wharf. The drawing for positions will take place at Jefferson Hall, on Thursday evening, July 3d, at 8 o'clock, at which time each person or crew entered for the race will have some authorized representative present to draw for their place, or the place in the race as may then be drawn for them by the Judges.

3. Each boat must be designated in the races by the number they draw, which must be placed in some conspicuous position upon the boat, where it can be easily seen. The number will be supplied by the Judges.

4. All boats may carry a coxswain or not, as crew may elect.

5. The guns will be fired from the Judges' stand, for each race; the first for boats to come into line, the second for the start.

6. At 4 o'clock a gun will be fired for the two-oared boats to come into line. A second will be fired for the start.

7. The other races will take place in regular order, with as little delay as possible.

8. Boats will round the Beacon from larboard to starboard.

9. Any boat taking another boat's water, thereby causing a collision, will be ruled out.

10. Two or more boats rounding the Beacon at the same time, the outside boat must keep off, and give the inside boat sufficient room to round without hitting the Beacon. Any outside boat crowding the inside boat will lose its chance for the prize.

11 Boats in returning must pass between the Judges' stand and Martin's wharf.

12 All boats carrying over six oars will allow ten seconds to an oar.

13. Prizes will be awarded immediately after the last race.

14. The ruling of the Judges must be final in all cases.

Committee—Frank D. Webster, Chairman; James H. Dow; J. Henry Norrose, C. E. Newman, Daniel G. Waldron.

Judges—Capt. Heman Eldredge, Chairman; Capt. James M. Hill, Capt. Wm. Lambert, Capt. John Chase, Jos. B. Adams, Esq. Joshua E. Eldredge, Esq.

LOST—Thursday, probably between Market and Water streets, a POCKET BOOK containing upwards of $9 in bills and change. The finder will confer a favor on a poor man, and be satisfactorily rewarded, on leaving the same at the Chronicle Office. June27*

THE ARSENAL QUESTION.

The Legislative Committee to examine the Portsmouth Arsenal, and report whether to repair and improve, or to "remove" it, visited this city on Saturday. The Committee and suite consisted of Gov. Berry, President Hackett of the Senate, Speaker Rollins of the House, Treasurer Sanborn; Messrs. Kent and Head and others of the House; Senator Smith, and another, with Mr. Prescott of the Independent Democrat, other representatives of the press, and sun dry other highly honorable and "honorary" gentlemen. Secretary Tenny, we and the young ladies looked for in vain; and Quartermaster General Gage didn't dare to come to Portsmouth, after his insult and slight to our sea-coast defences.

The City Council of Portsmouth had appointed Mayor Simes and Aldermen Nichols and Knowlton, and President Whittemore of the Common Council, a committee to receive and fittingly provide for the distinguished visitors to our city; and they were accordingly met at the C. & P. Depot, and tendered the liberty of the city—especially of the Navy Yard and the Arsenal, (with a proviso that neither be removed to Kittery or Concord.)

The first move of the procession—respectable in numbers as eminent in composition—amounting to fifty persons or more—was for the residence of Senator Hackett, where a bountiful collation was spread; after which, in charge of Constructor Hanscom, the whole party proceeded in boats to the Navy Yard, where His Excellency Governor Berry and ex-Governor Goodwin were received with the regulation salute of nineteen guns. Every courtesy and attention was extended to the party by Com. Pearson, Lt. Bradford, Constructor Hanscom, and indeed all the officers of the Yard; and after a look over the Yard and buildings, and an interesting visit on board the frigate Colorado and the gunboat Sonoma, the party were obliged to return to the city without accepting the proffered hospitalities at the residence of Com. Pearson—having previously accepted the similar invitation from Representative Chas. Robinson, at his home on Pleasant street—whither all next repaired—and were well "repaired" too—a most elegant and sumptuous repast being spread with a lavish hand.

After this arduous undertaking had been completed, the Committee, marshalled by Commissary General Randall, visited the Arsenal, made all due examination, and then became the city's guests at dinner at the Rockingham House—which of course was served in Messrs. Hadley & Co.'s best style—and if that isn't good enough for anybody, then we hope the Arsenal will be "removed"—that's all. We couldn't well attend on the Commitee during the latter portion of their arduous duties; but we must cut off our report here, and go to the Rockingham and hear the report of the Committee if we can.

P. S.—We have been, and seen, and heard—been to the Rockingham and the Depot, seen the procession, and heard considerable of one thing and another, varidd, but all pleasant. We find on inquiry that our report as above is not full nor wholly correct—but have decided to add rather than to alter. The authorized Committee consisted of ten Representatives and two Senators,—all whose names we know not—but no matter, the whole delegation proved themselves right down good fellows, and of course saw clearly the utter folly of talking about depriving New Hampshire's sole seaport and only vulnerable point of a storehouse of arms and munitions.

The dinner was through ere we arrived—but we feel perfectly safe in agreeing with the unanimous vote of the party, pronouncing it capital. And we did get a portion of the after feast "and the flow of soul." Mayor Simes, who of course presided, briefly welcomed the delegation in his usual cordial manner: to which Senator Smith, chairman of the committee, neatly and feelingly responded. Remarks were also called for from Gov. Berry, President Hackett, Speaker Rollins, and ex-Governor Goodwin,—all which were brief and to "the point," (which on this occasion every one could "see,") and were well received. Col. Nat Head proposed three cheers for Portsmouth and her City Government; and got 'em—hearty ones too; and Col. Kent very feelingly alluded to New Hampshire's Second Regiment and its connection with old Portsmouth—and closed with getting three hearty cheers for the gallant Second. Ex-Gov. Goodwin stated in the course of his remarks, that both he and Gov. Berry were natives of Maine, and thanked New Hampshire for honoring them as she had.

But car-time arrived, and under the escort of Capt. Towle's Company of Lancers, with a military band, the procession re-formed and marched to the railway station. Here Gov. Berry thanked the boys and Capt. Towle for their escort,—(which he declared he considered the most honorable and pleasing he ever had,) commended their skilful and correct drill, exhorted them to love and try to be soldiers, and bade them good bye—everybody said good bye; and amidst cheers on cheers, Conductor Langley started off his train.

THE FOURTH.—The indications are that we shall have a creditable and enjoyable celebration of the Fourth of July in Portsmouth—some prospective details of which we give to-morrow. And we are glad of it,—for aside from all patriotic and pecuniary considerations, it is better to provide entertainment and amusement for our own folks, especially the young, at home, than to have them go abroad for it, on that day.

A petition, numerously and respectably signed, for the appropriation of $300 by the city, to aid the celebration, was presented in the City Council, Friday evening, and passed the Com. Council; but as that Board failed to comply with the rule in such cases, and to state how the money should be procured,—whether from the contingent or any unexpended balance, or by creation of a debt, the Aldermen declined to concur; and the Com. Council having immediately adjourned, there was no opportunity to amend. We believe a large majority of tax-payers would approve of the appropriation; and the least the city can do, it would seem, would be the paying of the Band—and we think they will do it, even if they don't give the $300 asked.

☞ It is reported that Lt. Robert L. Wyman, has been ordered to the command of the new gunboat Sonoma, at the Portsmouth Navy Yard.

Business is not quite so brisk as it has been, at the Portsmouth Naval Station, but there is considerable doing.

The huge frigate Colorado is being dismasted, and on examination has been found almost entirely sound above the water line; but will soon go into dock for examination and probably repairs of her bottom.

The four war steamers will all be ready for sea in a few weeks. The Sonoma's machinery has already been run considerably; and that for the Conemaugh is mostly in, and her engines will probably be started next week; while that for the Ossipee is already arriving, and the Sacramento's is expected in a week or two. With good luck the first two will be ready for sea in a few weeks, and all four be doing Union service within the summer.

For the Chronicle.

A HOSPITAL HERE.—The States are taking care of their sick and wounded soldiers, and we are rejoiced to hear that this subject is receiving consideration in our own city. Portsmouth offers many inducements for a Hospital. Its pure, cool air, alike free from stifling heats and unhealthy damps; its easy access—steamers bringing their suffering cargoes almost to the very doors of Hospital accommodation, without the inconvenience and pain of inland journeys;—the readiness of our own citizens to co-operate in any such movement—as we feel sure they will;—physicians of ability; all these point us to move in this matter.

Our soldiers are already known every where as among the bravest, and their already thinned and thinning ranks disclose the stern fortunes of war;—those that can be removed, let us not leave to crowded hospitals elsewhere, or burden others with those alleviations of their sufferings which can be more amply rendered here.

Nor can we hope for a speedy termination of the war. Let us, therefore, look in harder realities in the face, and bear our share in the terrible issues of the battle-field. If our sick and wounded are to be brought to New Hampshire at all, let us prepare to receive them and to care for them in Portsmouth. INCHES.

"MAGEE'S PATENT"
VENTILATING & AIR-WARMING
FURNACES.

The subscribers, being the Sole Agents in this vicinity for the manufacture and sale of this valuable Furnace, would ask those about remodelling or erecting buildings to examine this truly valuable invention.

For economy, purity of air and ease of management it has no equal, producing a current of warm air, moist and agreeable;—and as none of the air which comes in contact with the fire-pot is used for respiration, the tendency to produce headache so much complained of in other Furnaces, is entirely obviated.

The objects aimed at by the constructors of heating apparatus have been to obtain the greatest amount of heat from a given amount of fuel, and to prevent the escape of heat to the smoke pipe or chimney.

To accomplish this many complicated and expensive heating arrangements have been constructed, some possessing but little improvement over former methods, while many have proved a total failure. The reason for this is obvious. The combustible gases being lighter than the air, pass off into the pipe or chimney without being consumed. This objection, so common in other Furnaces, is obviated in the

MAGEE FURNACE.

The flue or pipe in this Furnace being below the fire-pot, the gases, from their specific gravity, cannot descend, and are burned up by the admission of cold air through the fire-pot, which ignites them as they pass off from the coal, thus saving at least 20 per cent. of the properties of the best in the fuel.

No heating apparatus with the smoke-pipe or flue on the top of the cone can be made to consume the gases of the coal, as they pass off with a large amount of the heat generated, making the chimney the hottest part of your dwelling.

This Furnace does away with the great number of pipes and angles for the radiation of heat, which are so liable to fill up and get out of order, thus simplifying, while it increases the surface of radiation.

These Furnaces consume all the coal, make no clinkers, the sifting of coal is entirely dispensed with, and they will save from 30 to 50 per cent. of fuel over common Furnaces.

For ease of management, economy and purity of air, these Furnaces have no equal. They can be regulated so as to give any amount of heat required, and the fire may be kept the entire season without once going out.

They give entire satisfaction wherever used. We have in store the different sizes, Brick and Portable, to which we invite the attention of those in want of the best Furnace in the world,—and would refer them to the following named gentlemen, who have them now in use:

Samuel Cleaves, Esq., Albert R. Hatch, Esq.,
Aaron H. Hill, Charles H. Mendum,
Henry F. Wendell, John Sise, and others.

Also on hand, the celebrated and unequalled

THE CELEBRATION OF THE FOURTH

If there is ever a time when the beloved institutions of our country should be peculiarly honored, it is when they are threatened, and the flame of patriotism most needs fanning. Now is especially the time when a stirring celebration of the Fourth of July will tell with good effect. Every dollar judiciously expended for this purpose will be an investment for the country—inasmuch as it will excite the patriotism of the community, and give vent for those feelings which keep alive a sense of common interest in the great events of the day.

It will be very appropriate to have such a celebration here at this time and it is to be hoped that all, old and young, will lend willing and ready hands to those who have taken hold of the matter.

Let those individuals who are able to be liberal in this matter spare the City as much expense as possible, that nothing may be withdrawn from any source to which our noble soldier citizens in the army, may hereafter look for aid.

CITY COUNCIL.

In the Board of Aldermen, on Tuesday evening, the committee on public buildings were authorized to make repairs at the State street school house.

Gas light corner of Summer and Middle streets, granted. Petition for gas light corner of Jefferson and Water streets, referred to committee on gas lights.

Petition for an appropriation of $300 for the celebration of the "Fourth"—referred to a special meeting of the Common Council on Friday evening. The use of the Court House yard granted for building a Pavilion.

THE NEW MILITIA BILL.

The importance of the passage of an effective Militia Bill, at the present season, is generally conceded, and one has already been introduced into the House by the Military Committee. The committee find an insurmountable obstacle to the revival of the old system, in the entire absence of arms from the State, and in the cost (which they estimate at $400,000) of procuring them. They are therefore obliged to present some other plan, and do so in the bill now before the House.

The system proposed is brief and comprehensive, although the regulations for the necessary detail make the entire enactment one of considerable length. The prominent features are few and easily reviewed.

Provision is made for the enrolment of the militia, in a more complete and thorough manner than formerly, and for its organization when called into service. An entire force is provided for, of 2000 volunteers, to be divided among the several counties in proportion to their population.

Any citizen may petition for the formation of a company, which must consist, at the time of its formation, of fifty men, although the Commander-in-chief may, in case of public peril, by proclamation increase such companies to the maximum of, corresponding arms of the regular service.—when four companies conveniently located exist, a regiment may be formed, and two brigades and the division are to be organized when the state of the troops demand it.

Officers are recommended by their respective companies. Company parades, spring and fall, and full encampments by Regiment or Brigade, are provided for. The uniform discipline in camp and field, and all regulations for governing the troops, are similar to those of the regular service.

The expense of the system is very much less than that of the old plan, and its details provide in all particulars for the organization of an effective force, which may be augmented if necessity demands.

We believe that, in the present condition of affairs, such a bill is perhaps the only practicable one, and that it will meet the want now existing throughout the state. What we need is a disciplined and effective force, ready at any moment to take the field. The military spirit of the State is undoubtedly at par, with an upward tendency, and by this bill will be further fostered. A force composed of forty companies, distributed over our territory, organized as under the proposed bill, will enable all to engage in the formation of an active militia and will prove available in time of need; and officered, as no doubt it would be, by the returned officers and soldiers of the present war, would afford the State all the exigencies of the occasion demanded, and place it where it should be in this important particular.—Rep'ctor.

PIERRE SOULE, the Louisiana Statesman, who has arrived at Fort Warren, a prisoner from Gen. Butler, is said to have been arrested on three charges: first, that he is the leader of a secret society, known as the "Southern Independence Association," of which each member is solemnly sworn to oppose, at the cost of his life if necessary, the reconstruction of the old Union, no matter what disaster may befall the Confederate cause, and to aid by armed force if required, the Confederate government in carrying out its laws for the confiscation of the property of Union men, and in the detection and punishment or expulsion of people whom they regard as spies. Second, that Mr. Soule was the author of the insolent letter sent by the late Mayor to Commodore Farragut, and is the principal supporter of the rebellion in the city.

DISTANCE OF THE ARMY FROM RICHMOND.—Newspapers and correspondents are so anxious to make an advance movements that they have got McClellan's headquarters within four miles of Richmond, when the truth is his headquarters are between eight and nine miles from the city. Fair Oaks is by direct railroad and telegraph line six miles from Richmond, and our pickets are not over half a mile beyond the six mile post. The next point we occupy is at Dr. Garnet's, seven miles by New Bridge road from Richmond. At the Mechanicsville bridge, on our extreme right, our troops occupy the nearest point to Richmond, which is only four and one-fourth miles from the city. If our pickets move ten or twenty yards a day it is advancing as fast as can be expected.

THE MORRIS BROTHERS, PELL & TROWBRIDGE'S MINSTRELS give an entertainment at the Temple, next Tuesday evening. These minstrels have a great reputation, and are favorites here as well as elsewhere. They introduce several novelties suggested by recent incidents and cannot fail to please all who enjoy Ethiopian performances. See advertisement.

MR. WILLIAM BLACK, boatswain in the Navy, was married in this city June 19th, 1812, and with his partner, completed their fifteen year of wedlock on Thursday of last week. His lady being absent in Boston at the time, the golden occasion was not celebrated.

PURE OLD BOURBON WHISKEY.

Correspondence between some of the most eminent physicians of New York and Brooklyn, and WM. J. CUTTER, Jr., Louisville, Ky:

NEW YORK May 1, 1861.

Mr. WM. T. CUTTER, Jr., Louisville, Ky.—

Dear Sir:—The great difficulty experienced in procuring Brandy sufficiently pure for medicinal purposes, has induced many of the physicians of this vicinity to adopt Bourbon Whiskey as a substitute, both in the hospitals and private practice; and, since the latter has come into such general use, we have reason to believe it a great deal now sold is of very inferior quality.

Presuming that your residence in the vicinity of the manufacture of Whiskey in Kentucky, as well as your skill as a chemist, will enable you to select a reliable article, and having full confidence in your integrity, we are led to inquire whether you will not aid us in having this market supplied, through an Agency, with the best quality of Pure Old Bourbon Whiskey for the use of the sick.

We are, very respectfully, sir, yours truly,

LOUISVILLE, Ky., July 31, 1861.

Drs. VALENTINE MOTT, Willard Parker & others.

Gentlemen:—Your letter of May 1st has been received. In accordance with your wishes, I have made arrangements to supply your city and vicinity with a pure and reliable article of Bourbon Whiskey, which I trust will fully meet the requirements of your letter. Thanking you for your kind expressions of confidence, &c.,

I remain, very respectfully, yours truly,
WM. T. CUTTER, JR.

We, the Physicians of Portsmouth, having full confidence in the integrity of D. R. AMBROSE, recommend him as a reliable person to sell OLD BOURBON WHISKEY in Portsmouth, for medicinal purposes, in accordance with an arrangement made between the New York Physicians and WM. T. CUTTER, Jr., of Louisville, Ky., and a similar agreement between said Cutter and the Physicians of Boston.

SPEER'S SAMBUCI WINE

PURE AND FOUR YEARS OLD,

OF CHOICE OPORTO FRUIT,

For Physicians' Use,

FEMALES, WEAKLY PERSONS, INVALIDS.

SAMBUCUS TREE, OF PORTUGAL,

The Great Remedy for Kidney Affections, Rheumatism, Chronic Complaints

Excellent Wine for Females.

Every Family should use the SAMBUCI WINE celebrated in Europe for its medicinal and beneficial qualities as a gentle Stimulant, Tonic, Diuretic and Sudorific, highly esteemed by eminent physicians; used in Europe in all the American Hospitals, and by some of the first families in Europe and America.

As a DIURETIC, it imparts a healthy action to the Glands and Kidneys, and Urinary Organs, very beneficial in Dropsy, Gout and Rheumatic Affections.

SPEER'S SAMBUCI WINE is not a mixture or manufactured article, but is pure from the juice of the Portugal Sambucus, cultivated in New Jersey, recommended by Chemists and Physicians as possessing medical properties superior to any other Wines in use, and an excellent article for all weak and debilitated persons, and the aged and infirm, improving the appetite, and benefitting ladies and children.

A LADIES' WINE, because it will not intoxicate as other wines, as it contains no mixture of spirits or other liquors, and is admired for its rich, mellow flavor and nutritive properties, imparting a healthy tone to the digestive organs, and a blooming, soft and healthy skin and complexion.

MATHEWS' Arnica HAIR GLOSS

This is a new and invaluable preparation for preserving and beautifying the hair.

The wonderful virtues of Arnica in allaying and removing inflammation are universally known.

ARNICA HAIR GLOSS is a combination of these virtues, with other tried and excellent ingredients.

ARNICA HAIR GLOSS stimulates and invigorates the hair, prevents it from falling out—restores it when lost—promotes its growth and strength—renders it proof against all diseases.

ARNICA HAIR GLOSS permanently cures all irritations and eruptions of the scalp, and makes it healthy and fertile. For the removal of dandruff it has no equal. Its operations in this particular are magical and permanent.

ARNICA HAIR GLOSS is unequalled as a hair-dressing compound. It not only cleanses the scalp and invigorates the hair, but it renders the latter charmingly soft and lustrous. Its odor is particularly delicate and fragrant—the proprietor having taken especial pains to secure this result.

ARNICA HAIR GLOSS is the very best preparation for the hair ever discovered.

ARNICA HAIR GLOSS, notwithstanding its surpassing merits—is retailed at only twenty-five cents a bottle, by all Druggists.

in this city and vicinity; and is prepared to furnish and set the same, at the regular prices for other Shoes, (except for steel Shoes, which are 25 cts. extra), and warrant them to give full satisfaction in all cases. The improvement consists in the nails being set in a steel groove which protects the heads, and the Shoe being concave on both the upper and under sides, so as to be much lighter, to hold on better, and afford a good purchase for the horse without corks, except on very hard ice.
These Shoes are peculiarly favorable for tender or bad feet, quarter cracks, interfering, overreaching, &c.; and gentlemen who have been troubled with their horses, and the public generally, are invited to call and examine the same, and give them a trial.

☞ ATTENTION, THE WHOLE! ☜
PORTSMOUTH, April 21st, 1862.
I have for several years been afflicted with dizziness at my stomach, loss of appetite, and often vomited up all of my food immediately after eating it, and all medicine failed to give any relief until about a year ago, when I took one bottle of DR. S. SWETT'S PANACEA, which fully cured me, so that I have not had the least trouble from any of these complaints since, and I enjoy good health. M. CWD.
Exeter, Feb. 24, 1858. Dr. Swett:—"Sir, for the benefit of those who are afflicted as I have been, with a humor, that prevented quiet rest night and day, I would say, that your PANACEA has effected a radical cure on me; and would add—that by the use of it, my health has been greatly improved; therefore, I cheerfully recommend it as superior to any other medicine I ever used for humors and consumptive complaints."
WM. P. LEAVITT.
From ELDER I. CHESLEY, Lee, May 31, 1841.
DR. SWETT: Permit me to testify, as I feel in duty bound to do, that my daughter was afflicted with scrofulous humor, and that previous to your visiting our house in the spring of 1840, she had been confined for a number of months, without her natural rest, by day or night. She had applied to a number of physicians, but continued to grow weaker till she commenced using your PANACEA and HUMOR WASH. Since then, she has recovered her health so far as to rest quietly by night, and labor by day. I esteem your medicine one of the best that can be found for the disease above named. ISRAEL CHESLEY
☞ Any one returning the remainder of a bottle or box of Dr. Swett's medicines shall have pay for it, if it do not agree with his case, or if not worth the price. All orders directed to DR. S. SWETT, Portsmouth, N. H., promptly attended to. may26

Morning Chronicle.

Portsmouth, N. H.

TUESDAY, JULY 1, 1862.

THE REBELLION.

In Nashville, Tenn., at the special second conference of clergymen before Governor Johnson, all declined to take the oath of allegiance. Most of them were sent to the penitentiary, prior to their removal to Gen. Halleck, for the purpose of being exchanged for Tennessee prisoners. Among them were Rev. Drs. Baldwin, Schone and Lawrie, Methodists, and Lord and Howell, Baptists. Rev. Dr. Wharton was allowed some days' grace on account of illness. The Rev. Dr. Elliott did not appear. The Rev. Mr. Hendricks is expected to take the oath.—The Catholic divines, being loyal, were not disturbed.

It is stated that Gen. Banks has telegraphed to the President, that he is entirely satisfied with the new order placing Gen. Pope in command of the Department of Virginia.

Advices from New Orleans, to the 20th, say trade is reviving and Union sentiment gaining strength. Many soldiers from the rebel army are coming forward to take the oath. Col. Kimball, with four companies of the 12th Maine Regiment, had broken up a rebel camp at Manchoc. There had been for some weeks 1800 men there, with a number of heavy guns. They fled on the appearance of our forces, leaving camp equipage, regimental colors and garments. Gen. Butler had issued a form of oath for foreign residents, to support and defend the Constitution of the United States.

Since the evacuation of Corinth by the rebels and the occupation of Memphis by Federal troops, the railroad between the places has been repaired and made ready for use. On Wednesday, the first train over the road started out from Memphis with a number of teams and wagons, accompanied by several officers, under the insufficient escort of one company of the 56th Ohio regiment. About twelve miles from Memphis the train was intercepted by a large force of rebel cavalry, who destroyed the locomotive, burned the cars, killed ten of our men, and captured several officers, including Col. Kinney and Majors Pride and Sharpe.

P. S. The dispatches and papers, later on Monday, confirm the rumors of bloody battles and a Union victory, but not of the Fall of Richmond.

The N. Y. Tribune on Monday morning at 9 o'clock issued an extra with dispatches from Gen. McClellan's battle-field Sunday morning, to the effect that the enemy attacked Gen. McCall's division at Mechanicsville on Thursday morning last, but were gallantly repulsed, however, and a general engagement had taken place, which continued up to Saturday evening. We suffered severely in officers and soldiers killed and wounded. The attack was made by the rebels unwittingly falling into a trap laid for them by McClellan, and thus inaugurated their own defeat. There can be no doubt that the affair has been entirely successful to our arms, and that Richmond is within our grasp, and may, ere this, be occupied. On Friday, of our troops, in the early part of the day, only Gen. Porter's corps contended against the rebels, but subsequent reinforcements swelled the number to 45,000. The rebels had 60,000 men under Gens. Lee, Hill, Anderson and Branch. Some say the rebels had 80,000.

A dispatch from Washington on Monday noon, says "the Government had received no accurate information of the state of affairs on the Peninsula, by reason of the interruption of telegraphic communication. Nothing had been received warranting the belief of any serious disaster." Col. Jesse A. Gove, (of Concord, N. H.) of the 22d Mass. Regt., was among the killed.

☞ Some days ago we copied from a Maine paper a statement that Major Cilley, of the Maine cavalry, had had his arm severed near the shoulder. We are happy to be able to contradict this story on the very best authority, viz., a letter from the Major himself to his relatives. His arm was severely injured, but was not cut off, and at the latest dates was doing well.

☞ Our thanks to Mr. John E. Rider, of this city, for various English newspapers he has sent us of late from London.

Also to Messrs. Albert A. Fernald of Kentucky, and Acting Boatswain Nelson Goodrich of U. S. ship Pensacola at New Orleans, for various Southern papers.

CONGRESS—Saturday, June 28.—The House was not in session. In the Senate, the question was taken on Mr. Clark's motion to substitute the bill of the Senate committee for the House confiscation bill, which was agreed to, 21 to 17,—11 absent.

THE FIGHT AT JAMES' ISLAND.—We are permitted to copy the following from a private letter received by a gentleman of this city from Lieut. Col. John H. Jackson, and dated "Headquarters 3d N. H. Vols., Grimball's Plantation, James Island, S. C., June 19, 1862":—

"Last Monday morning our regiment was engaged in a bloody fight. We went out with an aggregate number of 623, and lost in killed and wounded 104,—a severe loss,—and we were finally compelled to retire. I would send you a copy of our list of killed and wounded, but as I am very busy, Bet one Portsmouth man was wounded. John A. Tucker, who was but slightly wounded by a grape shot in the ankle.—The regiment stood over an hour in a perfect storm of grape, round shot, shell, and rifle balls, but all stood the fire like veterans. One of our captains was killed and six lieutenants wounded. Lieut. Cornelius, of Portsmouth, was uninjured. My horse was struck twice, once in the jaw and once in the hoof, and the round shot that killed Capt. Carlton, of Co. I, came so near the horse's head as to cause him to jump back with force, nearly throwing me over his head. But I cannot begin to tell you the scenes and events of that eventful morning, but of one thing you may rest assured the the New Hampshire Third has added laurels to its already good name."

CONSERVATIVE MOVEMENT.—A meeting was held on Saturday afternoon, at Washington, in accordance with the invitation of the conservative members of Congress,—Hon. John J. Crittenden of Ky. in the chair, and Mr. Cox of Ohio acting as Secretary. At a previous meeting, Messrs. Crittenden, Wickliffe, Richardson, Biddle and Cox were appointed a committee to prepare resolutions, and Mr. Wickliffe presented a series for the consideration of the meeting.

Several of these resolutions gave rise to discussion, after which they were adopted in an amended form. A committee was then appointed to superintend the publication of and the procuring of signatures to the resolutions.

There were about thirty-five members present, and various reasons were given for the absence of other gentlemen.

THE POST OFFICE ROBBERS.—In relation to the two Sargents and Allen, who were sentenced in Bangor on Friday, by Judge Ware, to long terms of imprisonment for breaking into and robbing the Post Office at North Berwick, it is stated in the Bangor Whig that the parties were a gang of desperadoes who had long been a terror to the people in the town of Wells and vicinity, where they lived. A cave was discovered leading from the cellar in the house occupied by the Sargents, in which was secreted large quantity of stolen goods which they had taken from five or six different stores, which they robbed during the past year. This was a very aggravated case, as they had burned all the letters after having rifled them of their contents.

"A PRIMARY COOK BOOK, by Mrs. Putnam, for New Beginners in Housekeeping. Receipts suited to the times." This is the title of a small, neat, 12mo volume of 84 pages, published by Mr. Losing, of Boston, and for sale in Portsmouth by Mr. Shores. It is just exactly the book that is wanted by beginners in Housekeeping, who wish to be neat, comfortable, and economical. The motto on the title page is from Cicero,—"The world has not yet learned the riches of frugality,"—and the directions in the book show the practiced and intelligent housekeeper.

REMOVAL OF THE WOMEN AND CHILDREN FROM RICHMOND.—The State of Virginia has appropriated $20,000 for the purpose of removing all the women and children from Richmond, and they have been nearly all removed and sent to a country town, forty-two miles further south. The wealthy families some time since sent their females to Oxford, N. C., and elsewhere in that State. At the present moment, therefore, there are no females in the Southern capital except the hospital nurses.

☞ The papers of Monday morning abounded in rumors, by telegraph, that Richmond was taken by the U. S. troops under Gen. McClellan, after four days' fighting,—but the military authorities at Washington did not allow the dispatches, received there, to be forwarded for publication, as nothing official had come from Gen. McC.

Some of the papers growl audibly because of this restraint; but there may be very good reasons for it; and perhaps the good news is not true.

☞ The celebrated Order of Gen. Butler relating to the insulting conduct of secesh females towards Federal soldiers, has resulted, says the New Orleans Delta, in an improved demeanor that elicits as profound a respect from the officers and men, as the beauty and grace of New Orleans ladies challenge their admiration.

LETTER FROM NEW YORK.

From our Regular Correspondent.

HARLEM TERRACE, N. Y., June 23.

Dear Chronicle:—The unsettled condition since the first of the month of my personal effects, consisting of two trunks of well-worn apparel, one pair of boots and accompanying boot-jack, with the customary store of odds and ends which naturally collect in the niches and recesses of one's room as the years roll by, has much against my inclination, prolonged unusually the interval between this and my last letter.

In the language of those peculiarly reliable specimens of humanity known as "army correspondents," we've made a "forward movement" and are now most delightfully located seven and a half miles from the city, on the banks of the Harlem River, a tide-stream 3-4 of a mile wide, flowing in beautiful undulations from the entrance of Long Island Sound and the terminus of the East River northwesterly about 10 miles, till it connects with the Hudson.

The city connection is by 3d Avenue cars, once in ten minutes during the day and night, or by two steamboats, the Sylvan Shore and Sylvan Grove, every hour, from Ft. Peck Slip, the latter route much more attractive and conveying passengers in some fifteen minutes less time.

Leaving our place of business at 6 P. M. a few minutes' walk brings us to the boat, (about three times the size of the old Grace Darling of Portsmouth,) and we are soon steaming up the East River, past the many craft of every class which are floating on its surface, their white sails fluttering in the wind, and their sharp prows cleaving the water noiselessly as they rock to and fro.—After steaming rapidly for a quarter hour, we find the river widens to a couple of miles, and in the centre Blackwell's Island, with its hospitals, penitentiary, alms-house, work-house, Insane Asylum and connecting building, varying from 200 to 325 feet in length, 4 stories high, with wings of 200 feet, all built of solid stone, in the most magnificent style of architecture, each angle of every edifice worthy the study and admiration of the passer-by, and I would advise all passengers on the Sound boats to leave their state-rooms and secure a position on the forward deck, at least an hour before the time of arrival in New York, for the inspection of these buildings and the many beautiful views which are constantly unfolding one after another, during the trip down the river. Several prettily sequestered villages are scattered along the Long Island shore,—among them Greenpoint, Long Island city, Ravenswood, Astoria, and Sunswick Terrace. Ravenswood is particularly worthy of notice. The houses and villas are for the most part erected on the bank of the river, beautifully surrounded with groves of trees, with gardens sloping down to the water. The residences are owned and occupied by some of our richest New York merchants, who seek rest from toil and enjoy the summer morns and evenings in this and the many other attractive spots on both sides of this flowing river.

One of the patients of the Insane Asylum on Blackwell's Island, which we are fast leaving in the distance, has ingeniously constructed, on a mound at the extreme upper end of the island, of rough boards, a house or hut of curious model, surrounded with a high earthen battlement, with embrasures and moat along the outside, entrance within which is obtainable only by means of a long bridge, midway of which is a draw. In this, his castle, the work of his own hands, he is permitted to reside. He is perfectly quiet and harmless, goes regularly to his meals, and always on returning raises the draw to prevent others from intruding on his domain. The Insane Asylum averages about 200 inmates; those patients whose disease assumes a violent form are transferred to the "mad-house," distinguishable from the rest by the boarding up of the windows, which became necessary in consequence of the excitement caused the prisoners by the passing boats. But there goes the whistle of Astoria landing, and I will tell you more of Harlem in my next.

NEWINGTON.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

COL. CROSS' HORSE.—The Lawrence Journal of Saturday says: "The horse of Col. Cross, of the 5th N. H. Regiment, together with another which was captured by the Colonel from a rebel carrier of dispatches, passed through this place yesterday on the freight train for the north. The horse had on all the accoutrements usually worn on the battle-field, and in the saddle-bags and attached to the saddle were the pistols, overcoat, &c. of the Colonel. Col. Cross was severely wounded in the battle of Fair Oaks, and is in the hospital at Philadelphia."

—— A General Order issued by Adj. Gen. Colby, by order of Governor Berry, directs that the "9th Regiment be armed with Windsor Rifles, Sabre Bayonets, which have been purchased and are now in the State. No person will be commissioned excepting those who actually labor in recruiting and forwarding the organization of the Regiment. There are no sinecure offices to be dispensed in this regiment."

☞ Lieut. James B. Gove, attached to the company stationed at Fort Constitution, has recently been presented with a handsome sword and belt, by friends in Concord, the place of his residence.

Birds are a poor man's music, and flowers the poor man's poetry.

☞ See you fair maiden in another column, picking Sambuci Grapes for Speer's Wine. It is an admirable article, used in hospitals, and by the first class families in Paris, London and New York, in preference to old Port wine. It is worth a trial, as it gives great satisfaction. 1y.

☞ Mathews' Arnica Hair Gloss. The Arnica Montana, from which this invaluable preparation derives its name, is a perennial plant, a native of the mountains of Siberia. From it is obtained an oil which has been discovered to be the most powerful remedy for allaying and removing inflammation known to pharmacy. This oil, combined with other tried ingredients, forms the Arnica Hair Gloss. June21 1md

THE IRON-CLAD FRIGATE WARRIOR (British) has made another trial and another failure. The Arabia's mails bring the particulars of the event, and apologise for the ill-fortune of the ship by stating that she was in bad trim, that her bottom was fouled, that heavy rain was falling and the wind blowing, not to mention other drawbacks which are classed under the head of "minor disadvantage." New pipes have been fitted for conveying from the main decks to the bilges the leakage which might enter the ports when fighting the guns in heavy weather. Some seventy tons of bricks and mortar have been built into the bottom of the ship, to prevent the lodgment and consequent stagnation of bilge water.

PORTSMOUTH

GRAND REGATTA,

JULY 4, 1862.

To take place on Piscataqua River, at 3 o'clock, from a boat stationed off Martin's Wharf to the Beacon and return. Distance two miles.

There will be Three Races, as follows:

First Race—Distance two miles—for two-oared boats. Prize $8.00.

Second Race—Distance two miles—for four oared boats. Prize $15.00.

Third Race—Distance two miles—for six-oared boats and over. Prize $25.00.

4th Race—distance three miles—Open to all double-bank wherries, whaleboats and ship's boats. No allowance for difference in number of oars. It is intended to award three prizes to this race—the first of which to be $25,—the amount of the second to be determined before the 3d of July.

RULES AND REGULATIONS

1. The races are open to all boats running on the river one month previous to the race. An entry fee of $1 will be charged, and may be made to the chairman of the committee, at 79 Market St., from 9 A. M. to 6 P. M. (Sundays excepted) until the evening of July 2.

2. The race will be on a straight course in the centre of the river, beginning at the Judge's stand, off Martin's Wharf. The drawing for positions will take place at Jefferson Hall, on Thursday evening, July 3, at 8 o'clock, at which time each person or crew entered for the race will have some authorized representative present to draw for them, or take such place in the race as may then be drawn for them by the Judges.

3. Each boat will be designated in the races by the numbers they draw, which must be placed in some conspicuous position upon the boat, where it can be easily seen. The number will be supplied by the Judges.

4. All boats may carry a coxswain or not, as crew may select.

5. Two guns will be fired from the Judges' stand, for each race; the first for boats to come into line, the second for the start.

6. At 4 o'clock a gun will be fired for the two-oared boats to come into line. A second will be fired for the start.

7. The other races will take place in regular order, with as little delay as possible.

8. Boats will round the Beacon from larboard to starboard.

9. Any boat taking another boat's water, thereby causing a collision, will be ruled out.

10. Two or more boats pounding the Beacon at the same time, the outside boat must back off, and give the inside boat sufficient room to round without hitting the Beacon. Any outside boat crowding the inside boat will lose its chance for the prizes.

11. Boats in returning must pass between the Judges' stand and Martin's Wharf.

12. All boats carrying over six oars will allow ten seconds in advance.

13. Prizes will be awarded immediately after the last race.

14. The ruling of the Judges must be final in all cases.

CELEBRATION OF THE FOURTH

IN PORTSMOUTH.

Young America Awake.—As you pass Mr. Head's store at any time of the day, you will observe a crowd of juveniles coming out with papers, or flocking in; soldiers with uniforms; flower-girls with patterns of dresses; and a host of others—almost sufficient to produce a "perfect bedlam." But with Mr. Head's perfect system for accomplishing everything appertaining to the Celebration, all works like clock-work.

The Floral Procession is progressing finely. Already 17 cars have been engaged and about two hundred children have parts assigned them. The floral display will be equal to any that has preceded it.

A Grand Military Review will take place at some portion of the day. All of the military connected with the Celebration will be reviewed, and evolutions, which will be interesting, will show the drill of the companies.

Arches.—A number of arches are under way for the great day, some of which are expected to eclipse anything ever seen in this city. Liberty Bridge, of ancient memories and associations, will be beautifully covered with arches. The citizens at the upper end of Market street will also throw up a handsome arch, and a movement is under way to raise one at this other end of the street. Capt. Towle and others will probably erect a handsome arch near the Custom House. We would like to see the West end represented as in times past.

Throw out your Banners.—A strong rope thrown across a street, with a pretty design fastened in the centre and a motto and flags of various sizes on each side, makes a very pretty decoration for those who do not wish to go into expensive work.

Elegant Banners.—Mr. Henry S. Bodge, jeweller, Congress street, has kindly offered to get up the Procession Banner, which is expected to be quite elegant.—Ladies in the city are also preparing others, which will be very unique and beautiful.

The 4th of July Concert.—This feature will be one of the finest things projected on the occasion. Already one hundred and fifty children have joined the singing class under Mr. Tilton, and it is expected that the number will be increased to three, and perhaps five, hundred, by the 4th. A series of seats, running one above the other, will be placed at the end of the Pavilion, which will show the musical patriots to advantage. They will all be in costume.

Work of the Committee.—Mr. Head informs us that the rush of the little ones to take part in the Celebration is so great that four of the committee are employed constantly filling out papers for recruits, and memoranda for the participators in the floral and national cars. Printed blanks are used to facilitate business.

Our Police.—The squad of Police to take the lead of the Procession will be under the charge of Chief Marshal Bragdon. Mr. B. being a military man, has taken hold of the work, and will bring out a true military squad in a neat uniform.

The Jackson Regiment will be a successful feature. Three companies have enlisted and are having suits made at Messrs. Leveen & Co's. Daniel street. Recruits come in at the rate of fifty per day.

Societies and Associations of Portsmouth. We trust that every Order in the city will feel it their duty to appear in the Procession on the 4th of July. We have so much to make up a display in our city, all should attend that possibly can.

The Fire Companies.—This body of men did themselves credit in the Celebration of 1858. Let them not be backward on this occasion.

Hook and Ladder.—The Hook and Ladder company have voted to appear in the procession on the 4th.

Honor the Brave.—While other cities have received their returned soldiers with due ceremonies, our brave patriots come and go without the slightest public attention. As the 4th will be a fitting day for such a movement, the committee on the Celebration intend to give them a prominent place in the procession, and the best double span of horses and elegant carriage that can be found in the city.

Lafayette Road on the 4th.—The farmers on Lafayette Road wishing to keep their memories fresh and green in regard to the friend of Washington, are fitting out three elegant teams, two horses each, to join the Floral Procession. From other sections of the city and neighboring towns, we learn that the farmers have responded to the call and will join in the festivities of our country's birthday.

The Boat Race.—This feature is progressing finely. Boats are being hauled up and scraped, crews are mustering and practising, betokening an interesting and exciting Regatta.

Isles of Shoals awake.—A dozen or more of the hardy sons of Neptune are to appear in a large launch, representing the manning of the life-boat in a storm.

Music on the Fourth.—We learn that the Portsmouth Cornet Band and the Epping Brass Band have been engaged for the Celebration, and more are expected, if funds can be raised. Good music is the life of a procession.

Our American Jack Tars.—A movement is under way to have a hundred or more of the noble fellows walk in the procession. We hope to see them out with a good band and the stars and stripes. A miniature frigate, the Constitution, would be an addition to their division. Press on the column.

Decorations.—Don't put off this work until the last moment. Take a look about the house and see how much you can collect that will work into a design for the occasion. A few cheap flags, motto painted or printed, and a little evergreen, well arranged, will gladden the heart of some body. Let the children be decorations for the procession, while the parents embellish their houses.

☞ Morris, Pell & Trowbridge's Concert Troupe are to appear at the Temple this, Tuesday, evening. The high reputation of this company gives assurance that it will be one of the best concerts of the kind ever given in this city.

☞ The agent of the Denier brothers arrived from New York on Monday evening, and we understand he will make some arrangements to give our citizens a Blondin performance on the 4th of July.

Goodwin Guards Attention!

The members of the Goodwin Guards are notified to meet at IRVING HALL, this, TUESDAY, evening, at 8 o'clock.

Per order of the Captain,
SAMUEL LANGDON, JR.,
Clerk.

Important to Females.

DR. CHEESEMAN'S PILLS.

The combination of ingredients in these Pills are the result of a long and extensive practice.—They are mild in their operation, and certain in correcting all irregularities, Painful Menstruations, removing all obstructions, whether from cold or otherwise, headache, pain in the side, palpitation of the heart, hurries, all nervous affections, hysterics, fatigue, pain in the back and limbs, &c., disturbed sleep, which arise from the interruption of nature.

DR. CHEESEMAN'S PILLS

was the commencement of a new era in the treatment of those irregularities and obstructions which have consigned so many to a PREMATURE GRAVE. No female can enjoy good health unless she is regular, and whenever an obstruction takes place the general health begins to decline.

DR. CHEESEMAN'S PILLS

are the most effectual remedy ever known for all complaints peculiar to FEMALES. To all classes they are invaluable, inducing, with certainty, periodical regularity. They are known to thousands, who have used them at different periods, through out the country, having the sanction of some of the most eminent Physicians in America.

Explicit Directions, stating when they should not be used, with each BOX.—The Price One Dollar per Box, containing from 50 to 60 Pills.

Pills sent by mail, promptly, by remitting to the Proprietor. Sold by Druggists generally.

"MAGEE'S PATENT"

VENTILATING & AIR WARMING

FURNACES.

The subscribers, being the Sole Agents in this vicinity for the manufacture and sale of this valuable Furnace, would ask those about remodelling or erecting buildings to examine this truly valuable invention.

For economy, purity of air and ease of management it has no equal, producing a current of warm air, moist and agreeable;—and as none of the air which comes in contact with the fire-pot is used for respiration, the tendency to produce headache so much complained of in other Furnaces, is entirely obviated.

The objects aimed at by the constructors of heating apparatus have been to obtain the greatest amount of heat from a given amount of fuel, and to prevent the escape of heat to the smoke pipe or chimney.

To accomplish this many complicated and expensive heating arrangements have been constructed, some possessing but little improvement over former methods, while many have proved a total failure. The reason for this is obvious. The combustible gases being lighter than the air, pass off into the pipe or chimney without being consumed. This objection, so common in other Furnaces, is obviated in the

MAGEE FURNACE.

The size of pipe in this Furnace being below the fire-pot, the gases, from their specific gravity, cannot descend, and are burned up by the admission of cold air through the fire-pot, which ignites them as they pass off from the coal, thus saving at least 20 per cent. of the properties of the heat in the fuel.

No heating apparatus with the smoke pipe or flue on the top of the cone can be made to consume the gases of the coal, as they pass off with a large amount of the heat generated, making the chimney the hottest part of your dwelling.

This Furnace does away with the great number of pipes and angles for the radiation of heat, which are so liable to fill up and get out of order, thus simplifying, while it increases the surface of radiation.

These Furnaces consume all the coal, make no clinkers, the sifting of coal is entirely dispensed with, and they will save from 30 to 50 per cent. of fuel over common Furnaces.

For ease of management, economy and purity of air, these Furnaces have no equal. They can be regulated so as to give any amount of heat required, and the fire may be kept the entire season without once going out.

They give entire satisfaction wherever used. We have in store the different sizes, Brick and Portable, to which we invite the attention of those in want of the best Furnace in the world,—and would refer them to the following named gentlemen, who have them now in use:

Samuel Cleaves, Esq., Albert R. Hatch, Esq.,
Aaron H. Hill, Charles H. Mendum,

PURE OLD BOURBON WHISKEY.

Correspondence between some of the most eminent physicians of New York and Brooklyn, and Wm. J. Cutter, Jr., Louisville, Ky.:

NEW YORK May 1, 1861.

MR. WM. T. CUTTER, JR., Louisville, Ky.:

Dear Sir,—The great difficulty experienced in procuring Brandy sufficiently pure for medicinal purposes, has induced many of the physicians of this vicinity to adopt Bourbon Whiskey as a substitute, both in the hospitals and private practice; and, since the latter has come into such general use, we have reason to believe that a great deal now sold is of very inferior quality.

Presuming that your residence in the vicinity of the manufacture of Whiskey in Kentucky, as well as your skill as a chemist, will enable you to select a reliable article, and having full confidence in your integrity, we are led to inquire whether you will not aid us in having this market supplied, through an Agency, with the best quality of Pure Old Bourbon Whiskey for the use of the sick.

We are, very respectfully, sir, yours truly,

LOUISVILLE, Ky., July 31, 1861.

DR. VALENTINE MOTT, Willard Parker & others.

Gentlemen:—Your letter of July 1st has been received. In accordance with your wishes, I have made arrangements to supply your city and vicinity with a pure article of copper-distilled Bourbon Whiskey, which I trust will fully meet the requirements of your letter. Thanking you for your kind expressions of confidence, &c.,

I remain, very respectfully, yours truly,

WM. T. CUTTER, Jr.

We, the Physicians of Portsmouth, having full confidence in the integrity of D. R. AMBROSE, recommend him as a suitable person to sell OLD BOURBON WHISKEY in Portsmouth, for medicinal purposes, in accordance with an arrangement made between the New York Physicians and Wm. T. Cutter, Jr., of Louisville, Ky., and a similar agreement between said Cutter and the Physicians of Boston.

SPEER'S SAMBUCI WINE

PURE AND FOUR YEARS OLD,

OF CHOICE OPORTO FRUIT,

For Physicians' Use,

FEMALES, WEAKLY PERSONS, INVALIDS.

SAMBUCUS TREE, OF PORTUGAL,

The Great Remedy for Kidney Affections, Rheumatism, Chronic Complaints

Excellent Wine for Females.

Every Family should use the SAMBUCI WINE celebrated in Europe for its gentle Stimulant, Tonic, Diuretic and Sudorific, highly esteemed by eminent physicians, used in European and American Hospitals, and by some of the first families in Europe and America.

AS A DIURETIC, it imparts a healthy action to the Glands and Kidneys, and Urinary Organs, very beneficial in Dropsy, Gout and Rheumatic Affections.

SPEER'S SAMBUCI WINE is not a mixture or manufactured article, but is pure from the juice of the Portugal Sambucus, cultivated in New Jersey, recommended by Chemists and Physicians as possessing medical properties superior to any other Wines in use, and an excellent article for all weak and debilitated persons, and the aged and infirm, improving the appetite, and benefiting ladies and children.

A LADIES' WINE, because it will not intoxicate as other wines, as it contains no mixture of spirits or other liquors, and is admired for its rich, peculiar flavor and nutritive properties, imparting a healthy tone to the digestive organs, and a blooming, soft and healthy skin and complexion.

WE REFER TO

a few well known gentlemen and physicians, who have tried the Wine:

MATHEWS' arnica HAIR GLOSS

This is a new and invaluable preparation for preserving and beautifying the hair.

The wonderful virtues of Arnica in allaying and removing inflammation are universally known.

ARNICA HAIR GLOSS is a combination of these virtues, with other tried and excellent ingredients.

ARNICA HAIR GLOSS stimulates and invigorates the hair, prevents it from falling out, restores it when lost—promotes its growth and strength—renders it proof against all diseases.

ARNICA HAIR GLOSS permanently cures all irritations and eruptions of the scalp, and makes it healthy and fertile. For the removal of dandruff it has no equal. Its operations in this particular are magical and permanent.

ARNICA HAIR GLOSS is unequalled as a hair-dressing compound. It not only cleanses the scalp and invigorates the hair, but it renders the latter charmingly soft and lustrous. Its odor is particularly delicate and fragrant—the proprietor having taken especial pains to secure this result.

ARNICA HAIR GLOSS is the very best preparation for the hair ever discovered.

ARNICA HAIR GLOSS, notwithstanding its surpassing merits—is retailed at only Twenty-five cents a bottle, by all Druggists.

☞ A large and hand-some Bible has been presented to Rev. Mr. Beane, pastor of the Unitarian Society at Chicopee, Mass., by the Methodist pastor and several members of that church. For some months the two congregations have worshipped together in rare Christian fellowship.

Nathaniel Howe of Hopkinton, an eccentric clergyman of the Calvinistic school, once made an ordination prayer which contained the following valuable hint as to the best mode of dealing with theological opponents:—"O Lord, may thy young servant put down the Methodists and Baptists, and Episcopalians, and Universalists, by preaching better and living better than they!"

His many friends in Portland will be pained to hear of the death of Rev. Samuel E. Brown, a former pastor of the Christian Society in Portland. He died on Thursday last, at Hampton, N. H., where he has been settled since he left Portland. Press.

TACITUS says: "In the the early ages man lived a life of innocence and simplicity." Upon this a critic remarks: "When was this period of innocence? The first woman went astray. The first man that was born into the world killed the second. When did the time of simplicity begin?"

We may perhaps escape the censure of others when we do wrong privately, but we cannot avoid the reproaches of our own mind.

Beneficence is the most exquisite luxury, and the good man, after all, is the genuine epicure.

A word of kindness is seldom spoken in vain. It is seed which, even when dropped by chance, springs up a flower.

A reward of five hundred dollars is offered for a newspaper correspondent who corresponds with truth.

If you wish to keep your enemies from knowing any harm of you, don't let your friends know any.

To Adam, paradise was home. To the good among his descendants, home is paradise.

A Real and Great Improvement
IN HORSE SHOES.
S. W. WEBBER,
Blacksmith and Horse-Shoer,
NO 80 STATE STREET, Portsmouth,
Has purchased the sole right to manufacture and use
Cate's Patent Grooved Horse Shoes.
in this city and vicinity; and is prepared to furnish and set the same, at the regular prices for other shoes, (except for steel shoes, which are 25 cts. extra), and warrant them to give full satisfaction in all cases. The improvement consists in the nail being set in a steel groove which protects the heads, and the $ of no being concealed both the upper and under sides, so as to be much light er, to hold on better, and afford a good purchase for the horse without corks, except on very hard ice.
These shoes are peculiarly favorable for tender or bad feet, quarter cracks, interfering, overreaching, &c., and gentlemen who have been troubled with their horses, and the public generally, are invited to call and examine the same, and give them a trial.
Any other pattern of shoe will be put on, to suit customers, a small add

NO 31 DANIEL STREET,
Portsmouth, April 29, 1862.

☞ ATTENTION, THE WHOLE! ☜
PORTSMOUTH, April 21st, 1862.
I have for several years been afflicted with distress after eating, loss of appetite, and often vomited up all my food immediately after eating it, and all medicine failed to give any relief until about a year ago I took one bottle of Dr. S. SWETT'S PANACEA, which fully cured me so that I have not had the least trouble from any of these complaints since, and I enjoy good health. M. LOWD.
Exeter, Feb 24, 1859. Dr Swett:—Sir, for the benefit of those who are afflicted as I have been, with a bad, and painful, yet not dangerous, sight and day, I would say, that your PANACEA has effected a radical cure on me, and would add—that by the use of this, my health has been greatly improved; therefore, I cheerfully recommend it as superior to any other medicine I ever used for humors and consumptive complaints." WM. P. RAVITT.
From ELDER I CHESLEY, Lee, May 31, 1841.
Dr. SWETT: Permit me to testify, as I feel in duty bound to do, that my daughter was afflicted with scrofulous humor, and that previous to your visiting our house in the spring of 1840, she had been confined for a number of months, without her bed, or rest by day or night. She had applied to a number of physicians, but continued to grow weaker till she commenced using your PANACEA and HUMOR WASH. Since then, she has recovered her health so far as to rest quietly by night, and labor by day. I esteem your medicine one of the best that can be found for the disease above named." ISRAEL CHESLEY.
☞ Any one returning the remainder of a bottle or box of Dr. Swett's medicines shall have pay for it, if it do not agree with his case, or if not worth the price. All orders directed to DR. S. SWETT, Portsmouth, N. H., promptly attended to. may30

WEDNESDAY, JULY 2, 1862.

SOVEREIGN POWER.—Mr. Train, the American Street Railroad manager, now in England, says, in a late speech:

"How many times must I correct the oft-recited blunder about the term Sovereign States? Peace was signed in 1783. Then came the Confederation of States, lasting till 1786, when the States delegated all their Sovereign power to the Federal Government under the constitution of the United States."

An American paper makes this comment:

"Mr. Train must presume greatly upon the ignorance of his audience when he ventures to make so extraordinary assertion as this."

Extraordinary as it may seem, it is nevertheless literally true;—for the Constitution of the United States, Art. 6, says expressly:

"This Constitution, and the laws of the United States which shall be made in pursuance thereof, and all the treaties made, or which shall be made, under the authority of the United States, shall be the SUPREME LAW of the land; and the judges in every State shall be bound thereby, any thing in the constitution or laws of any State to the contrary notwithstanding."

No words could make it plainer. The laws of the United States being supreme in the land,—State laws are subordinate.

THE REBELLION.

Steamer Blackstone from New Orleans June 21, at New York, brought a cargo of cotton, sugar, rosin, &c.

The French bark Cohez, from Marseilles, via Vera Cruz, with a cargo of brandy and wine and $60,000 in specie, was seized in the river by the Custom House officers and ordered North for adjudication.

Vicksburg.—The steamer Forest Queen, from Memphis, has arrived, with 650 bales of cotton at Cairo. The news from the flotilla is highly interesting. Our gunboats and rams had passed the mouth of the Yazoo river, and proceeded to within four miles of Vicksburg, from which point seven men went by land, on the Louisiana side, and communicated with Commodore Farragut's fleet, below the city. The Commodore has since sent a dispatch to Capt. Davis, which reached Memphis on Saturday morning. Capt. Davis immediately started down the river with the Benton, and other vessels of the flotilla will soon follow.

A special dispatch to the Tribune says the Union ram fleet was off Vicksburg on the 27th inst., and communicated with Commodore Farragut, who was to attack that place on Friday. Twenty vessels were in position, and Farragut was confident of victory. The rebel force is estimated at 12,000.

It is reported that Farragut has destroyed the town of Warrington.

The cotton was burned all along the rivers.

Gen. Curtis is in a perilous position in Arkansas, the rebel General Rains being in his rear with 15,000 men.

A rebel mail captured, states that Beauregard had arrived at Richmond with the main portion of his army; that 30,000 men were sent to reinforce Jackson, and that the latter would at once attack the right flank of our army while Lee would make a desperate attack in front.

At Suray, Va., the U. S. troops drove out four companies of rebel cavalry, June 30.

A rebel spy named Nicholas had been arrested at Manassas.

Rebel guerrillas, 500 strong, have appeared at Henderson, near Louisville, Ky.

At Nashville, Tenn., June 30, Dr. Cheatham, Superintendent of the Tennessee Lunatic Asylum, was sent to the penitentiary for treason, as was also Rev. C. D. Elliott.

Fourteen hundred Federal prisoners taken at Shiloh and paroled, were sent home.

A large quantity of cotton has been received.

The U. S. troops have evacuated James Island, and gone to Hilton Head.

THE RISE IN GOLD.—The general tendency of gold is still upward, or rather we should say that of paper is still downward. The era of shin plasters, and of a disordered and fluctuating currency, big with evil in the extent and duration of which no man can foresee, is growing up before us. We do not know that any remedy can be applied, but we repeat our monition that business men must watch this sign of the times diligently if they regard their own safety.

There are many causes now operating to produce this state of things. Foreign capitalists, distrustful of them, are sending over American securities for sale; foreign merchants are converting property and stocks into cash to avoid taxation, and shipping the proceeds to Europe in gold. There is also a demand for gold by those engaged in buying cotton and sugar at the South, as the planters refuse to sell except for gold.—Boston Traveller.

☞ Gov. Stanley of North Carolina, and Mr. Colyer, who is superintendent of the poor there and also head schoolmaster, have come to a good understanding; the schools are reopened; Gov. S. will not close them, nor return fugitives without orders from the President.

FROM BEFORE RICHMOND.

Tuesday morning's mail brought the conclusion of the Baltimore American's account of the battles and movements made last week before Richmond. From all the accounts it appears that Gen. McClellan expected to be attacked by the rebels, and had given such orders under this expectation as would concentrate his forces; that these orders were obeyed and the concentration effected in good order, thereby changing his base of operations to the James River; that all the U. S. property was removed from the White House by Gen. Casey without the loss of a man,—and the White House burnt before the enemy arrived there, 30,000 strong, to be welcomed only by gunboats. And lastly, that on Saturday, U. S. gunboats and transports were in the James River, and more in motion towards it.

The American's correspondent writes from Washington on Saturday, as follows:

Since closing my letter from White House I find myself very unexpectedly in Washington city, and in possession of most reliable information from White House and other points on the peninsula, nearly a day later than is contained in my letter. It appears that telegraph communication between White House and Gen. McClellan was not broken until near 1 o'clock on Saturday, and then the wire was cut at the dispatch station, 11 miles out. Trustall's station, 4 miles out, was in our possession until 4 o'clock in the afternoon, at which hour the operator at White House heard a strange signal coming over the wire. On going to the instrument, he was heralded with what the Union troops call the rebel national salute,—"I say, O you —— of a ——!" This was the signal given for final evacuation, when a portion of the infantry forces immediately embarked on board the steamboats in waiting for them. The last of the transports was moved off by steam tugs, and a few articles scattered about on shore fired. The whole was of a very small value, and thus of the many millions worth of property here a few days ago, perhaps not $5000 worth was destroyed.

In the midst of this closing scene in the beautiful Chickahominy region, I regret to have to state that some vandal set fire to the White House, and it was entirely consumed.

The enemy made his appearance in considerable force at the White House about 7 o'clock Saturday evening, and although he neither found bread for man nor hay for beast, was welcomed with heavy showers of grape-shot from three gunboats which were ranged along in front of the landing. They were supposed to be 30,000 strong, and, unless they brought their haversacks well supplied, must have gone supperless to bed.—In the best of times I found starvation stare me in the face at White House, and I hope the rebels found no better fare.

The cavalry at the White House guarded the departure of the last wagons and horses, which moved off at the final evacuation and joined the forces of Gen. Stoneman, who were hovering in the vicinity all day. After passing these trains off and seeing their entire safety, Gen. Stoneman, with the entire force, moved off in a direction that I am not at liberty to state.

Gen. Casey reports that he lost not a man, nor did he leave a soul behind, not even a contraband.

At 10 o'clock on Saturday morning, Col. Ingalls and Capt. Sawtelle were before Yorktown with an immense convoy of vessels and steamers, on their way to the new base of operations on James River. They would doubtless move down immediately to Fortress Monroe, and await the instructions of Gen. McClellan. A number are, however, already up the James River, under the protection of the gunboats.

Since an early hour on Saturday morning Gen. McClellan has been deprived of his telegraphic communication with Washington. He abandoned its use several hours before the wires were cut, doubtless being fearful that the enemy might by placing a magnet on the wires read his orders. Direct communication with Gen. McClellan is now being opened, however, by the gunboats up the mouth of the Chickahominy, and will soon be right in this respect.

The papers of Tuesday afternoon only add that the latest advices from General McClellan, received at Washington Monday noon, were up to 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon. Up to that time he had successfully carried out the plan he pointed out some time ago. After an interruption of communication between Gen. McClellan and Washington for forty-eight hours, his left wing touched James river near Turkey Island Bridge. He immediately opened communication with Com. Rogers, of the Potomac flotilla, and through him with Washington. The result may be that the steam transports may relieve his soldiers of the fatigue of marching on Richmond, by landing them near the rebel capital, after the gunboats have cleared away obstructions. Our army are now extricated from the malarious swamps of the Chickahominy, and are on the high grounds of James river.

The dash of Thursday was, in the opinion of the U. S. officers, a part of the rebel programme to possess themselves of the supplies at White House, in which, owing to the determined bravery of our troops, they failed most signally. Gen. Hooker feels perfectly secure in his position, and was heard to tell Gen. McClellan that if the latter would take care of the left and center, he would defy the enemy to break through the right wing.

The New York Herald calls the battle of Friday, a victory for our arms. The correspondent of a Philadelphia paper writes on Saturday evening:

"We are still fighting. Fort Darling will be ours to-morrow, and possibly Richmond will be occupied and the rebel army cut to pieces by the 4th of July. Gen. McClellan remarked to-night, to the bearer of dispatches, that we were victorious, but the great battle had just commenced, and he could not make a report until the job was done."

It is reported that a fight took place on Monday in Richmond between North Carolina and Virginia troops, both using grape and canister.

A letter from White House, 26th, states that Capt. Spencer, of the army, has been arrested by order of Gen. McClellan, for disloyalty, and placed on board the gunboat Marblehead. His uncle was a Judge in Maryland, and had lately been arrested for treason, whereupon the captain laid down his sword and refused duty.

THE N.H. THIRD AT JAMES ISLAND.

As the New Hampshire regiments are, one after another, brought into the fierce battles for the defence of the Union, they prove themselves well worthy to uphold the fair fame of the old Granite State. The Second and the Fifth, in Virginia, have won and maintained a proud position, second to none in the Grand Army of the North; and in the recent attack on the rebel fort at Secessionville, on James Island, the Third proved that neither courage nor determination was wanting, on the part of the soldiers, in order to have obtained the desired result. But here also, as too often before in the present war, the attacking party was too small, and the attempt failed.

Of the part taken by the Third in this fight, we take the following account from the correspondence of the Boston Journal:

"The attack had been commenced by Gen. Stevens' brigade; the Mich. 8th and the N. Y. 79th, (Highlanders,) supported by other troops, dashed upon the parapet, and a terrible fight ensued. Our men fired with great rapidity, but a murderous fire was poured into them from bodies of infantry in the fort and behind it, as well as from its heavy guns and field howitzers,—and at length the troops were withdrawn under cover of a hedge, 500 yards from the fort. In the meantime, the New Hampshire 3d, with Hamilton's and Ransom's batteries, pushed forward upon the enemy's right, driving a battery of rebel field guns before them, and pouring a heavy fire across the marsh upon the fort, which they could not reach on account of the marsh and creek. They nearly succeeded in outflanking the enemy's main body and getting an enfilading fire upon the fort, when a battery unexpectedly opened upon them from the woods away to their left. Still they stood their ground bravely and fought like heroes. The 3d is a noble regiment."

Another correspondent says:

"The N. H. 3d charged on a masked battery twice, and drove the rebels out, but could not hold it, as our other regiments had all they could do in other places, and the rebels had another battery, which commanded the one the New Hampshire boys were in. At this place, where all the fighting was to be done, the rebels had five or six batteries, which our boys could not see until they got right in range of them. The N. H. 3d lost 105 killed, wounded and missing. Company B went in with 96 men, and came out with 36, and no officer but the captain."

The N. Y. Post's correspondent says:

"The N. H. 3d was ordered up by Gen. Benham to support, as he said, two other regiments, but when they reached the point designated, they found no regiments there; but saw, to their dismay, that they were surrounded by three masked batteries, which opened upon them, and finally obliged them to retreat, very much cut up. We took eight prisoners."

The N. Y. Commercial Advertiser states that—

"Gen. Wright ordered the 3d New Hampshire and 3d Rhode Island to the rear of the fort, when the men opened upon the sharpshooters and two masked batteries in the rear. At this time the N. H. 3d had advanced so that they were between the fort and the masked batteries. Two South Carolina regiments were posted in the rear of the masked batteries, firing grape and canister. Notwithstanding this critical position, the N. H. 3d maintained it an hour and ten minutes, having sustained a loss of 105 out of 663 men. The regiment silenced the fort with their rifles. The sharpshooters were so skillful that the enemy were picked off as fast as they attempted to load the guns. The R. I. 3d made a charge on the two South Carolina regiments, thereby giving N. H. 3d an opportunity to extricate itself from its perilous position; this prevented it from being surrounded."

The correspondent of the Boston Transcript also writes:

"The N. H. 3d, led on by Lieut. Col. Jackson, took a path on the left of the main column, and had it not been for the timely assistance of the 3d R. I. artillery, they would have been cut off entirely."

The correspondent of the Manchester Mirror says, "Lieut. Col. Jackson, commanding the N. H. 3d, rode his cream-colored horse 'Charley' through the whole engagement, and was a conspicuous mark for the enemy, but escaped unhurt. One ball passed through his coat sleeve; his horse was hit twice."

The following is the list of the killed in the Third:

Co. C—Eugene Cadworth, James Mayer, Jos. Peno, Edward Gualner, Samuel Whittaker.

Co. D—James Fair.

Co. H—Serg. Stephen Desbome, private Hansom F. Williams.

Co. I—Capt. Ralph Carlton, Corporal Freeman A. Lewis, Hiram Morse.

Co. K—Thomas Conway.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

—— Steamer Matanzas from Port Royal brought the following wounded to New York, on Monday; Lieut. Cody, 3d New Hampshire; Lieut. Hutchinson, do. They were removed to the New England Rooms on Tuesday.

—— A young man belonging to Manchester, by the name of Frank Gorrell, aged 19, was drowned in the Piscataquog river, Saturday afternoon. It is supposed he was attacked by the cramp while in the water, as he was a swimmer.

—— Dr. Daniel Patterson of Rumney, who was taken prisoner on Bull Run battle field last March, has written to his wife from Salisbury, N. C. He was well treated though he received such fare as he was not accustomed to at home.

—— The bill just passed for the establishment of Agricultural Colleges, and now awaiting the signature of the President, gives to New Hampshire 150,000 acres of land. Each State must accept the donation within two years, and provide suitable buildings.

PORTSMOUTH

GRAND REGATTA,

JULY 4, 1862.

To take place on Piscataqua River, at 3 o'clock, from a boat stationed off Martin's Wharf to the Beacon and return. Distance two miles.

There will be Three Races, as follows:

First Race—Distance two miles—for two-oared boats. Prize $8.00.

Boats for this race will enter free.

Second Race—Distance two miles—for four-oared boats. Prize $15.00.

Third Race—Distance two miles—for six-oared boats and over. Prize $25 00.

Fourth Race—Distance two miles—Open to all double-bank wherries, whaleboats and ship's boats. No allowance for difference in number of oars. It is intended to award three prizes to this race—the first of which to be $25,—the amount of the others to be determined before the 3d of July.

RULES AND REGULATIONS.

1. The races are open to all boats from Portsmouth. An entry fee of $1 will be charged, (except for two-oared boats, which will enter free,) and may be made to the chairman of the committee at 59 Market St., from 9 A. M. to 6 P. M. (Sunday excepted) until the 3d of July, at 12 o'clk. M.

2. The race will be on a straight course in the center of the river, beginning at the Judge's stand, off Martin's wharf. The drawing for positions will take place at Jefferson Hall, on Thursday evening, July 3, at 8 o'clock, at which time each person or crew entered for the race will have some authorized representative present to draw for them, or the same shall place in the race as may then be drawn for them by the Judges.

3. Each boat must be designated in the races by the number they draw, which must be placed in some conspicuous position upon the boat, where it can be easily seen. The number will be supplied by the Judges.

4. All boats may carry a coxswain or not, as crew may elect.

5. Two guns will be fired from the Judges' stand, for each race; the first for boats to come into line, the second for the start.

6. At 4 o'clock a gun will be fired for the two-oared boats to come into line. A second will be fired for the start.

7. The other races will take place in regular order, with as little delay as possible.

8. Boats will round the Beacon from larboard to starboard.

9. Any boat taking another boat's water, thereby causing a collision, will be ruled out.

10. Two or more boats rounding the Beacon at the same time, the outside boat must keep off, and give the inside boat sufficient room to round without hitting the Beacon. Any outside boat crowding the inside boat will lose its chance for the prize.

11. Boats in returning must pass between the Judges' stand and Martin's wharf.

12. All boats carrying over six oars will allow ten seconds to an oar.

12. Prizes will be awarded immediately after the last race.

14. The ruling of the Judges must be final in all cases.

PORTSMOUTH NAVY YARD

SUBSCRIPTION FOR THE VOLUNTEERS.

The committee appointed to expend the "Navy Yard fund," raised for the benefit of the Maine and New Hampshire volunteers in the service of the Government, deem it proper to make a public report of their proceedings, in the management and expenditure of the money entrusted to their charge.

This fund was contributed in the month of November last, by the officers and operatives of the Portsmouth Navy Yard, each of whom allowed one day's pay to be reserved on the monthly pay-roll and retained in the hands of the Paymaster of the Yard, by him to be paid over to the persons authorized to receive the amount, and by them to be expended for such articles as they should judge best adapted to the wants and most conducive to the health and comfort of our Maine and New Hampshire soldiers, in service at the seat of war.

At a meeting of the contributors, Governor Washburn of Maine, Governor Berry of New Hampshire, Messrs. Gowen Wilson, and Ephraim Otis of Kittery, Charles W. Stimpson, Samuel Rowell, and John E. Salter of Portsmouth, were selected as a committee for the purpose. Governor Washburn being unable, by reason of his official engagements, to attend to the duties of the commission, and having authorized Francis Bacon, of Kittery, to act in his stead, the last-named person was accordingly joined to the committee.

The committee voted to appropriate the whole sum to the purchase of woolen socks, mittens and flannel, as upon inquiry into the sanitary condition of our several regiments, it was ascertained that these were the articles of which they were most destitute.*

The following statement of receipts and expenditures is exhibited:

Rec'd of Mr. Paymaster Bleecker, amount of contributions	$3441.59
Paid for
4793 prs woolen socks	$1696.72
1068 " " mittens	317.00
3422 yds. flannel	1026.62
143 skeins yarn for running heels of socks	14.77
Running heels	79.08
22 spools thread for making up flannel	.88
12 pounds thread " "	9.03
Tape and trimmings for flannel garments	6.63
Express of sundry pkgs mittens & flannels	3.90
Freight and truckage of sundry boxes of socks, mittens and flannels	8.88
Freight and truckage of articles to Washington	66.75
Postage, tolls, and telegraphic message	2.77
Boxes, bench for cut'g garm'ts & sundries	5.04
Services and expenses of agents in purchas'g & forward'g socks, mittens, &c.	44.56
Services of agent in distributing articles to the soldiers	50.00
Refunded to Paym't Bleecker, overpaid	0.50
Balance deposited with Dr. S. G. Howe, of the Sanitary Commission, to be expended at their discretion	104.11
	$3441.59

The socks were knit of wool of the best staple, with heels run with yarn, all at a cost of about thirty-five cents per pair;—the mittens were of excellent quality, a large proportion of them having a forefinger, and they cost about thirty-one cents a pair. The flannel was white, and of the kind called "cotton and wool," and was purchased at a price something less than thirty cents per yard. It was made into undershirts and drawers,—of each an equal number—in the whole about fifteen hundred garments, the cutting of which was done by Mr. Benjamin Cheever of Portsmouth, who, in the exercise of a patriotic sentiment, devoted several days to the arduous task, declining to accept any compensation for his services. A similar spirit was displayed by the ladies of the several charitable societies in Portsmouth, Kittery, Eliot, York, South Berwick, and by the ladies of the Soldiers' Aid Societies in Concord, Dover and Exeter, by whom the garments were gratuitously, as well as neatly and substantially, made.

The socks, mittens and flannels were distributed among the second, fourth, fifth, sixth and seventh Maine regiments, and the second and fifth New Hampshire regiments, the N. H. Battalion of Sharp Shooters and the first N. H. Artillery,—our other regiments having been comparatively well supplied with such articles.

The committee are indebted to Doct. M. F. Wentworth and G. J. Prescott, Esq., of Kittery, and William F. Lord, Esq., of Berwick, by whose assistance the committee were enabled more speedily and effectually to advance the object of the contributors.

Their acknowledgements are due also to Captain Pearson, by whose permission they availed themselves of the facilities and accommodations of the Navy Yard, for storing and packing the various articles.

The receipt of five dollars each from Hon. James H. Butler, of Nottingham, N. H., Elisha H. Jewett, Esq., of So. Berwick, Me., and John Trickey, Esq., of Dover, N. H., is acknowledged. These sums, intended by the donors as additions to the Navy Yard Fund, have been deposited with Dr. Howe of the Sanitary commission.

Per order of Committee.

FRANCIS BACON, Sec. and Treas.

☞ An old citizen, who has a care for the good report of our city, suggests that some pains be taken to remove grass, weeds, &c., from the side of the pavement in our streets—wherever its presence is noticed as an objection rather than as an ornament.—Many strangers will, undoubtedly, visit Portsmouth on the Fourth, and such labors will be fully repaid by the improvement in appearance which the city will present.

CELEBRATION OF THE FOURTH IN PORTSMOUTH.

The Goodwin Guards have decided to appear in the Procession of the 4th. With their fine military uniform, they will make a grand display. There will be a finer and more varied display of military in our city on the Fourth of July, than has been seen for 20 years.

Services of the Day at the Pavilion.—Rev. Mr. Patterson has accepted the invitation of the committee to make the Prayer: and Rev. Mr. Waterhouse has consented to read the Declaration of Independence.—Hon. Charles Levi Woodbury, of Boston, has been invited to deliver the oration.

TO THE LADIES.—Much work is to be done in Jefferson Hall, in the way of trimming the cars for the Floral Procession. Will the ladies rally on this occasion and lend a helping hand? *

The Miniature Frigate.—Capt. James Hill, of our city, is getting up a fine little frigate to take position in the Procession on the 4th. She will be 26 feet long and manned by 40 boy sailors, in showy suits.

The Procession.

ALL CITIZENS, including those already invited by letter or otherwise, are requested to meet at the CITY ROOMS, and form in the Procession on the morning of The 4th.

Per order. J. H. HEAD,

1 jly4 Chairman Committee.

LIST OF OFFICERS OF THE SONOMA.—The following is a list of the officers of the United States steamer Sonoma, now fitting for sea at the Portsmouth Navy Yard:

Lieutenant Commanding—R. H. Wyman.
Lieutenant and Executive Officer—T. F. Kane.
Acting Masters—F. Willis, W. A. Post, d G. A. Cornell.
Assistant Surgeon—Thomas Hiland.
Assistant Paymaster—E. Bellows.
Acting 1st Assistant Engineer—H. E. Rhoades.
Acting 2d Assistant Engineer—Romeo E. Stall.
Acting 3d Assistant Engineers—Wm. A. Staples, Asa B. Collins, J. A. Fingree, Wm. A. Smith.
Masters' Mates—Chas. B. Staples, Chas. H. Pierce, Chas. Norton, Edward Currier.

☞ We are informed by Mr. Job Jenness, late of the Ocean House, Rye Beach, that but $6700 insurance will be realized on the property burnt—which is $200 less than it, with a very little which is unburnt, brought at auction recently. It is reported (but not by Mr. J., that we know of,) that one Company, which held the largest policy, declined to pay the full face of it, on account of the property selling at auction for about one-third the sum it was represented to be worth,—and must undoubtedly have cost.

☞ Rev. Mr. Gage will preach at the North Church this (Wednesday) evening, at a quarter before 8 o'clock.

☞ See you fair maiden in another column, picking Sambuci Grapes for Speer's Wine. It is an admirable article, used in hospitals, and by the first class families in Paris, London and New York, in preference to old Port wine. It is worth a trial, as it gives great satisfaction. 1y.

☞ Mathews' Arnica Hair Gloss. The Arnica Montana, from which this invaluable preparation derives its name, is a perennial plant, a native of the mountains of Siberia. From it is obtained an oil which has been discovered to be the most powerful remedy for allaying and removing inflammation known to pharmacy. This oil, combined with other tried ingredients, forms the Arnica Hair Gloss. June.1 1md

DIED, May 26th, 1862, private William A. Hamilton, of Kittery, Me., of Co. C, 10th Me. Vols., aged 22 years. While retreating from Winchester, May 26th, he sank down, sick and exhausted by the roadside, near Bunker Hill, and was lying on his face when overtaken by the advance of Ashby's Cavalry. By one of the party he was ordered to rise, but unable to do so, he did not promptly obey. The order was repeated, and while in the act of trying to rise, his captor drew his revolver and shot him through the hip. He was then hurried back on foot, weak and bleeding, towards Winchester, but was unable to proceed far. He was rudely thrust into the house of Mr. Joseph Branson and roughly dashed upon the floor. When taken there he was suffering great agony, and his hands and feet were cold. He lived until the next morning, and decently buried by Mr. Branson. He leaves a wife and one child to mourn his loss.—Saco Democrat.

"MAGEE'S PATENT"

VENTILATING & AIR-WARMING

FURNACES.

The subscribers, being the Sole Agents in this vicinity for the manufacture and sale of this valuable Furnace, would ask those about remodelling or erecting buildings to examine this truly valuable invention.

For economy, purity of air and ease of management it has no equal, producing a current of warm air, moist and agreeable;—and as none of the air which comes in contact with the fire-pot is used for respiration, the tendency to produce headache so much complained of in other Furnaces, is entirely obviated.

The objects aimed at by the constructors of heating apparatus have been to obtain the greatest amount of heat from a given amount of fuel, and to prevent the escape of heat to the smoke pipe or chimney.

To accomplish this many complicated and expensive heating arrangements have been constructed, some possessing but little improvement over former methods, while many have proved a total failure. The reason for this is obvious. The combustible gases being lighter than the air, pass off into the pipe or chimney without being consumed. This objection, so common in other Furnaces, is obviated in the

MAGEE FURNACE.

The flue or pipe in this Furnace being below the fire-pot, the gases, from their specific gravity, cannot descend, and are burned up by the admission of cold air through the fire-pot, which ignites them as they pass off from the coal, thus saving at least 20 per cent. of the properties of the heat in the fuel.

No heating apparatus with the smoke-pipe or flue on the top of the cone can be made to consume the gases of the coal, as they pass off with a large amount of the heat generated, making the chimney the hottest part of your dwelling.

This Furnace does away with the great number of pipes and angles for the radiation of heat, which are so liable to fill up and get out of order, thus simplifying, while it increases the surface of radiation.

These Furnaces consume all the coal, make no clinkers, the sifting of coal is entirely dispensed with, and they will save from 30 to 50 per cent. of fuel over common Furnaces.

For ease of management, economy and purity of air, these Furnaces have no equal. They can be regulated so as to give any amount of heat required, and the fire may be kept the entire season without once going out.

They give entire satisfaction wherever used. We have in store the different sizes, Brick and Portable, to which we invite the attention of those in want of the best Furnace in the world,—and would refer them to the following named gentlemen, who have them now in use:

Samuel Cleaves, Esq., Albert E. Hatch, Esq.,
Aaron H. Hill, Charles H. Mendum,

PURE OLD BOURBON WHISKEY.

Correspondence between some of the most eminent physicians of New York and Brooklyn, and Wm. J. Cutter, Jr., Louisville, Ky:

NEW YORK May 1, 1861.

Mr. Wm. T. Cutter, Jr., Louisville, Ky.:

Dear Sir:—The great difficulty experienced in procuring Brandy sufficiently pure for medicinal purposes, has induced many of the physicians of this vicinity to adopt Bourbon Whiskey as a substitute, both in the hospitals and private practice; and, since the latter has come into such general use, we have reason to believe that a great deal now sold is of very inferior quality.

Presuming that your residence in the vicinity of the manufacture of Whiskey in Kentucky, as well as your skill as a chemist, will enable you to select a reliable article, and having full confidence in your integrity, we are led to inquire whether you will not aid us in having this market supplied, through an Agency, with the best quality of Pure Old Bourbon Whiskey for the use of the sick.

We are, very respectfully, sir, yours truly,

LOUISVILLE, Ky., July 31, 1861.

Drs. VALENTINE MOTT, Willard Parker & others.

Gentlemen:—Your letter of May 1st has been received. In accordance with your wishes, I have made arrangements to supply your city and vicinity with a pure article of copper distilled Bourbon Whiskey, which I trust will fully meet the requirements of your letter. Thanking you for your kind expressions of confidence, &c.,

I remain, very respectfully, yours truly,

WM. J. CUTTER, Jr.

We, the Physicians of Portsmouth, having full confidence in the integrity of Dr. A. AMBROSE, recommend him as a suitable person to sell OLD BOURBON WHISKEY in Portsmouth, for medicinal purposes, in accordance with an arrangement made between the New York Physicians and Wm. J. Cutter, Jr., of Louisville, Ky., and a similar agreement between said Cutter and the Physicians of Boston.

OF CHOICE OPORTO FRUIT,

For Physicians' Use,

FEMALES, WEAKLY PERSONS, INVALIDS

SAMBUCUS TREE OF PORTUGAL,

The Great Remedy for Kidney Affections, Rheumatism, Chronic Complaints

Excellent Wine for Females.

Every Family should use the SAMBUCI WINE celebrated in Europe for its medicinal and beneficial qualities as a gentle Stimulant, Tonic, Diuretic and Sudorific, highly esteemed by eminent physicians, used in European and American Hospitals, and by some of the first families in Europe and America.

AS A DIURETIC, it imparts a healthy action to the Glands and Kidneys, and Urinary Organs, very beneficial in Dropsy, Gout and Rheumatic Affections.

SPEER'S SAMBUCI WINE is not a mixture or manufactured article, but is pure from the juice of the Portugal Sambucus, cultivated in New Jersey, recommended by Chemists and Physicians as possessing medical properties superior to any other Wines in use, and an excellent article for all weak and debilitated persons, and the aged and infirm, improving the appetite, and benefitting ladies and children.

A LADI'S WINE, because it will not intoxicate as other wines, as it contains no mixture of spirits or other liquors, and is admired for its rich, mellow flavor and invigorative properties, imparting a healthy tone to the digestive organs, and a blooming, soft and healthy skin and complexion.

This is a new and invaluable preparation for preserving and beautifying the hair.

The wonderful virtues of Arnica in allaying and removing inflammation are universally known.

ARNICA HAIR GLOSS is a combination of these virtues, with other tried and excellent ingredients.

ARNICA HAIR GLOSS stimulates and invigorates the hair, prevents it from falling out—restores it when lost—promotes its growth and strength—renders it proof against all diseases.

ARNICA HAIR GLOSS permanently cures all irritations and eruptions of the scalp, and makes it healthy and lovely. For the removal of dandruff it has no equal. Its operations in this particular are magical and permanent.

ARNICA HAIR GLOSS is unequalled as a hair-dressing compound. It not only cleanses the scalp and invigorates the hair, but renders the latter charmingly soft and lustrous. Its odor is particularly delicate and fragrant—the proprietor having taken especial pains to secure this result.

ARNICA HAIR GLOSS is the very best preparation for the hair ever discovered.

ARNICA HAIR GLOSS, notwithstanding its surpassing merits—is sold at only twenty-five cents a bottle, by all Druggists.

Daily Morning Chronicle

VOL. 20. PORTSMOUTH, N. H. THURSDAY, JULY 3, 1862. NO. 128.

The Chronicle.

☞ It takes half-a-dozen smart writers to edit the Portland Daily Advertiser,—the owner and publishers being also different persons, not included among the editors.—"Who couldn't" get up a good paper, that way—with plenty of money and lots of editors? In smaller places, one man has to perform at least half a dozen of the duties there divided into chief, news, literary, financial, local, and other editorships, besides being owner, publisher, and what not.

An old daily paper editor told us years ago, that the reason there was no daily in Portsmouth, was, that nobody capable, was fond of working hard enough to establish and conduct one. Now as the Advertiser has changed hands at least half-a-dozen times since we have printed the Chronicle, we infer that the editors down there are not fond of working too hard. But the chief editor of the new Press is, we know—and will not be found behind everybody, see if he is.

Since writing the above we regret to see the following announcement in the new Daily Kennebec Journal, at Augusta, Me.

"With this number we discontinue the publication of the Daily Journal. What we announced as an experiment at commencement, proves to be impracticable at present. Whenever, in the judgment of practical business men, proper encouragement is given to justify the enterprise, we may recommence the publication of the Daily edition. Until then our determination and industry will be to make the Weekly Kennebec Journal as good as it can be."

And the Weekly is good enough, too—but that nice little Daily ought not to stop. We guess they don't like hard work, either. By the way, when this Chronicle was started, it was not announced as an "experiment," but the publisher stated that it "would be published Daily from and after such a date"—and it has been, for almost ten years. But if anybody thinks the berth of a country Daily publisher, a sinecure, let them try it, that's all.

☞ The Saco Democrat, editorially, and two of its correspondents also, condemn the People's Convention at Bangor, as unsupported by the true Democracy of Maine, and as being in no sense a people's convention. The Portland Argus says that "no good national man can object to the resolves,"—and recommends a "union of act as well as of purpose"—between the two parties that desire to "redeem" the State.

A Real and Great Improvement
IN HORSE SHOES.
S. W. WEBBER,
Blacksmith and Horse-Shoer,
NO 80 STATE STREET, Portsmouth,
Has purchased the sole right to manufacture and use
Cate's Patent Grooved Horse Shoes.
In this city and vicinity; and is prepared to furnish and set the same, at the regular price for other Shoes, (except for steel Shoes, which are 25 cts. extra), and warrant them to give full satisfaction in all cases. The improvement consists in the nails being set in a steel groove which protects the heads, and the Shoe being concave on both the upper and under sides, so as to be much lighter, to hold on better, and afford a good purchase for the horse without corks, except on very hard ice.
These Shoes are peculiarly favorable for tender or bad feet, quarter cracks, interfering, overreaching, &c.; and persons who have been troubled with their horses, and the public generally, are invited to call and examine the same, and give them a trial.
Any other pattern of Shoe will be put on, to suit customers, as usual; and BLACKSMITH JOBBING generally attended to. S. W. WEBBER.

Portsmouth, April 25, 1862.

☞ ATTENTION, THE WHOLE! ☜
PORTSMOUTH, April 21st, 1862.
I have for several years been afflicted with dizziness at my stomach, loss of appetite, and often vomited up all of my food immediately after eating it, and all medicine failed to give any relief until about a year ago, when I took one bottle of DR. S. SWETT'S PANACEA, which fully cured me, so that I have not had the least trouble from any of these complaints since, and I enjoy good health. M. LOWD.
Exeter, Feb. 24, 1838. Dr. Swett:—"Sir, for the benefit of those who are afflicted as I have been, with a humor, the provoking quiet rest night and day, I would say, that your PANACEA has effected a radical cure on me; and would add—that the use of it, my health has been greatly improved; therefore, I cheerfully recommend it as superior to any other medicine I ever used for humors and consumptive complaints."
WM. P. LEAVITT.
From ELDER I CHESLEY, Lee, May 31, 1841.
DR. SWETT: Permit me to testify, as I feel in duty bound to do, that my daughter was afflicted with scrofulous humor, and that previous to your visiting our house in the spring of 1840, she had been confined for a number of months, without her usual rest by day or night. She had applied to a number of physicians, but continued to grow weaker till she commenced using your PANACEA and HUMOR WASH. Since then, she has recovered her health so far as to rest quietly by night, and labor by day. I esteem your medicine one of the best that can be found for the disease above named." ISRAEL CHESLEY
☞ Any one returning the remainder of a bottle or box of Dr. Swett's medicines shall have pay for it, if it do not agree with his case, or if not worth the price. All orders directed to DR. S. SWETT, Portsmouth, N. H., promptly attended to. may26q

THURSDAY, JULY 3, 1862.

THE REBELLION.

The President has called upon the States for three hundred thousand additional volunteers. This call is made in response to a recommendation signed by the Governers of seventeen loyal States, and by the President of the Military Board of Kentucky. The names of Gov. Berry, of this State, and those of the Governors of Maine Vermont and Connecticut are appended to the document; the names of Gov. Andrew of Massachusetts and Gov. Sprague of Rhode Island, do not appear. Gov. Andrew declined to authorize any gentleman to sign the memorial to the President, but after reading it in the papers he immediately telegraphed to the Secretary of War his entire approval.

Each new volunteer for the war is to receive one month's pay ($13) in advance, and a bounty of $25 in advance.

Advices from Arkansas are to the effect that Gen. Henderson with some 5000 rebels was in the immediate vicinity of St. Charles, and that Col. Fitch had abandoned the fort, spiking the guns. Gen. Curtis is suffering for supplies, his army having been on half rations for a week. Our boats cannot get up White River owing to low water. Arkansas refugees report Pike with 6000 men, moving from Fort Smith to attack Gen. Curtis' rear, while Hindman is rapidly gathering a force to attack him in front.

INCREASE OF COIN. — An increased coinage of cents has taken place at the Philadelphia Mint during the present month, amounting to $10,000, and this coinage, being double the usual monthly amount, will continue for a considerable period longer. The Mint offers at any time to give cents for United States demand notes. It has recently received $500,000 in eagles, sent from New York, into gold dollars, for the convenience of the Government. A large amount of gold and silver is expected during the coming three months from the mines of California, Colorado and Washoe, and in less than a month the heavy premium now charged for specie may be materially reduced.

DEATH OF MRS. COL. ELLET.—Mrs. Elvina Ellet, wife of the late Col. Ellet, died in Philadelphia on Sunday evening, in the 49th year of her age. She was the daughter of the late Judge Daniel of Virginia and brother of the present Judge Daniel on the same bench. She has had four children, all of whom are now living. She was present at the death of her husband, in Cairo, Ill. Her death has resulted from no disease, being mainly from pure exhaustion and grief.

☞ The Senate on Tuesday passed the army appropriation bill, first striking out the proviso limiting the number of troops to 750,000 men. The House passed the tariff bill with amendments.

☞ The President has signed the Pacific Railroad and internal tax bills.

SOUTHERN SENTIMENT.

New Orleans being now under the military rule of the United States, administered by Gen. Butler, the papers there begin to resume something of their former tone.

The Picayune of June 6, has an editorial question, "What is to be done with slavery?" —and in its answer makes these sensible remarks:—

The Government of the United States, at the present moment, seems to be divided on one issue; and that is, whether, in the war it is carrying on to restore the now disturbed Union, the institution of slavery, as it exists in a large portion of what it considers the country over which it has the rightful control, shall exist at all, or only in a modified degree and to a limited extent. It is useless to attempt to disguise the true issue. The extinction of slavery altogether is the end and aim of one influential party in the Government, and its limitation within certain bounds and conditions is the professed policy of another. The present war is popular with the first party, as, in their opinion, sure to result in the obliteration of that institution. With the second it is looked upon as sure to produce a state of things, the consequence of which will be to confine it within the narrowest bounds.

Some years ago, the Hon. Mr. Howe, Provincial Secretary of Nova Scotia, addressing the Assembly of that Province, said that he believed that the question of slavery in the United States must be settled, sooner or later, by bloodshed. He said, "that question shadows the institutions and poisons the springs of public and social life among our neighbors. It saps all principles, overrides all obligations."

What the Nova Scotia Secretary then prefigured, has had its realization in the events of the last year.

The issue, as viewed by those outside and we may fairly suppose disinterested observers of the course of American politics, has been made; and the events of the last twelvemonth may be accepted as the trial of it.

From these premises, the Picayune draws the following conclusions:—

The result has not yet been ascertained, and will not be, perhaps, even with the conclusion of the contest now going on between the North and the South. It is a difficult matter to uproot the institutions which underlie the material prosperity, the vital interests of so large a community as that which holds this slavery to be necessary for the development of its natural and physical resources. Especially is it a work of difficulty when those who assume to perform it, must, upon reflection, hold themselves bound to protect the institution on constitutional grounds.

Whether as a Southern Confederacy, or, as a component part, in whatever form, of the American Union of States, these interests claim, from their intrinsic merits, protection, and must have it. Popular clamor reckless legislation, partizan faction, political rivalries, cannot change the eternal fitness of things. Through whatever conflicts, however long, however severe and ruinous, truth will prevail at last.

These conclusions are refreshing for their plainness, and remarkable for their assumptions,—first begging the whole question, and then pronouncing it settled.

It would be difficult, indeed, to uproot the institution of slavery, if those who attempt it felt themselves institution-bound to protect it. But it is remarkable that "the large community who hold slavery to be necessary," hold that they may violate the constitution at will, while they claim that the power against which they rebel, must protect slavery because of the constitution!

The assumptions in the last paragraph are most remarkable: viz. that slavery claims protection and must have it, Confederacy or no confederacy, Union or no Union!

Why? Because of the eternal fitness of things, says the Picayune, and because truth will prevail at last. We have no doubt truth will prevail,—but we do not see (says Uncle Toby,) that truth means the same thing as slavery,—nor do we believe slavery will be eternal. We have seen it die in the British, French, and Danish West Indies, in half the States of the Union, in the city of Washington, and now in the territories.

And we now see it quivering and shaking all over the South, and discussed even in the old slave mart New Orleans. Exactly when or how it will fall is not plain, for the end is not yet: but it totters, and does not look like having eternal life.

☞ By a special arrangement by the Paymaster of the Portsmouth Navy Yard, the men will be paid off to-day (Thursday) instead of on the 15th. This will be a great convenience to all who wish to celebrate the Fourth. The pay-roll of the Yard now contains between 800 and 900 names.

The crew of the Colorado, numbering between 500 and 600 men, were paid off on Wednesday. The aggregate amount which they received was about $50,000.

☞ Secretary Seward, Assistant Adjutant Gen. Buckingham, Hon. Thurlow Weed and several other government officials arrived in Boston on Wednesday morning. The object of this sudden and unexpected visit of Mr. Seward is understood to be for the purpose of expediting the preliminary measures necessary to raise an additional force.

FIGHT BEFORE RICHMOND.

The papers are occupied with voluminous details of the operations of the army of the Potomac during the last three days of last week. It is hardly possible to weave the several accounts into any connected narrative, nor is it precisely clear what has been done and what has been the result. The following condensed statement gives as correct an idea of these operations, perhaps, as can at present be obtained:

The first indication of "something in the wind" was observed at White House, one of the main depots for commissary stores,—on Wednesday of last week, when a fleet of boats began to remove the stores down the York river towards West Point. The sick and wounded were also removed, and the few troops at White House ordered to be ready to leave at any moment. During the morning there was a report that Stonewall Jackson and Gen. Ewell were approaching and threatening to open the way for a raid on the White House. Meanfime, the trains on the railroad were kept running day and night, carrying forward nothing but ammunition and munitions of war, and siege and rocket trains, and field pieces. The last event of Wednesday night was the arrival of nearly a hundred wounded men of Hooker's division, who had participated in the movement of Gen. McClellan on that morning, securing Tavern Hill, (the "important point" in McClellan's dispatches,) which commands Richmond.

Nothing of importance occurred on Thursday morning. The removal of stores, &c., continued. About noon the enemy made their first attack in a feint upon Gen. Stoneman's forces, near Hanover Court House, but about 2 P. M. crossing the Chickahominy, and making a desperate attempt to drive back our men. The only forces engaged here were Gen. McCall's division, who were located on the opposite side of a swampy ravine, a mile and a half from the Chickahominy. The battle lasted till 9 P. M., when the enemy drew off, renewing the attack at daybreak on Friday, and, after several hours of hard fighting, McCall's division were ordered to fall back.

The fighting, especially on Friday, is said to have been terrible. The rebels had overwhelming forces, and as soon as they met one repulse, they returned doubly strong. They came in such dense masses that the shell and grape made great gaps in their lines, which were immediately filled up, and they moved forward most determinedly.—Their artillery was so poorly served that the damage to our ranks was light in proportion. They still moved on, and exchanged showers of Minie balls; but when Gen. Porter ordered a bayonet charge, they retreated in double quick, though he pursued them but a short distance. They again rallied and approached our lines, when the same terrible slaughter ensued. On coming to close quarters they were again repulsed, and driven to a still greater distance, the twice fought-over battle ground being literally strown with the dead and dying. Gen. Porter a second time fell back to his position, and waited nearly an hour for the enemy to renew the assault. They finally came on in increased numbers, having been reinforced, and were again received with shell and grape. A third time they bore down most determinedly on our lines, and this contest was the most severely contested of the whole; but when the bayonet was brought to bear he fell back, and was pressed toward Richmond a mile beyond our original lines. Again, for the fourth time, Gen. Porter fell back to his first position, when an order was received from Gen. McClellan to continue the retrograde movement slowly and in order. The enemy again pressed forward boldly, when their advance was checked by the entire reserve force.

This fresh force held the enemy in check, while the force which had borne the brunt of the battle moved back in good order, carrying with them their dead and wounded. The enemy made a fierce attack on the reserve, but cannon were posted at various points of the route by which they were retiring, which occasionally poured in shot and shell upon them, which checked their movements, and enabled the troops to move in order. At one time in this retrograde movement, the reserve force under Gen. Sykes charged on the enemy with the bayonet, and drove him back nearly a mile.—This is about the substance of the fighting, which closed on Friday night. Our loss is estimated at about 1200; but few in proportion are killed. The loss in officers is heavy.

A letter writer, who ought to be well informed not only of results but of plans, comes to the following gratifying conclusions: That the object of Gen. McClellan, long before the battle on Friday, was to abandon the White House, and also draw in his right wing across the Chickahominy. That he accomplished this with but little loss in comparison to that he inflicted on the enemy, there can be no doubt; and that he has strengthened his position by contracting his lines, and changing his base of operations to James River, is equally evident. There he will have the co-operation of the gunboats, and if the enemy attempt to interrupt his supply vessels by making a dash on James River, they will meet with prompt punishment from the gunboats, and so weaken their forces in front that the city will fall into his possession with but a slight struggle.

The following troops from New England were among those engaged in the fight:—5th New Hampshire; 9th, 22d and 29th Massachusetts; 2d and 5th Maine.

The N. Y. Tribune's Fortress Monroe correspondent says it was understood that Gen. McClellan's right was attacked with great impetuosity by Stonewall Jackson, whose men successfully charged our artillery, sustaing a loss of not less than 5000 men. It is reported that Jackson was killed, and that one of our Brigadier Generals was taken prisoner, together with an entire regiment. Gen. Fitz John Porter was sorely pressed, and crossed the Chickahominy to the Western side. Gen. McClellan with much severe fighting had penetrated and passed through White Oak swamp with 40,000 men and 100 pieces of artillery, to a secure and advantageous position, and subsequently cut through a line of communication with James river. It is reported that during the two days' fighting, Gen. McClellan's loss was 10,000.

Of the continuation of the fight from Saturday until Monday, we have as yet received no particulars; but the St. Louis Democrat has a special dispatch from Memphis, 30th, which says advices from Richmond that morning state that the rebels were driven from that city on that day.

CELEBRATION OF THE FOURTH.

The committee having the matter in charge are progressing favorably with the preliminary arrangements necessary to secure an interesting and attractive Celebration in this city. The programme is certainly varied enough to meet the wishes of all, and there seems every reason to anticipate that the day will be observed in a patriotic and suitable manner. The procession, oration, regatta, &c., will occupy a large portion of the day.

Probably there will be a large number of strangers drawn thither by the attractions afforded by the celebration, and a good opportunity will be afforded to our Manchester friends to become somewhat better acquainted with New Hampshire's sea-port. Indeed, it has been stated that many citizens of that place intend to visit us on that day. We can assure them of a hearty welcome.

The social gatherings of families and friends, also, which are quite a noticeable feature of a New England holiday will doubtless be no less frequent and agreeable than they have proved in former years—All such celebrations of the day, whether public or private, should be encouraged, as tending to keep ever alive the memories of the early struggles and triumphs of our country, and as promoting kind feelings among all classes of our citizens.

BARS.—It is considered a pretty smart feat in a young man, to leap a five-barred gate, and old military Officers are apt to be a little proud of the bars on their coat-sleeves, which denote their terms of years in the service—but very few of them, in our army or navy, or that of any other country, ever get to wearing eight of these distinctive marks,—which being each a five-years "tally," denote almost half a century of service.

The veteran Sergeant Davidson, of Fort Constitution, in Portsmouth harbor, has arrived at the eighth bar, however; and has recently resigned his commission as Sergeant in the U. S. A., to take that of Captain in the 9th Regt. N. H. Volunteers. It will be remembered that he was commissioned by Gov. Goodwin, last year, as Captain in the N. H. 2d, and was detached for special service at the Fort. We hear the Company now at the Fort under his command, will be Co. A of the new Regiment.

We are glad to learn that an elegant sword, belt and sash, of the value of nearly $50, are to be presented to him by his friends in Portsmouth.

THE STRAWBERRY CROP is quite abundant in this vicinity, and the fruit is of the best quality, with prices much lower than usual. The recent rains will keep the vines in bearing condition for several days.—There is hardly a fruit that makes more abundant returns or pays better to a careful and attentive cultivator. It will be seen by the advertisement that Mr. Payser offers for sale many choice varieties. Very much of the success in the cultivation of these plants depends upon the picking of the fruit. While it takes an hour's time to fill a box with the small varieties, from the choice varieties a box can be filled in five minutes.

☞ The citizens of Eliot, Me., intend to celebrate the Fourth in a becoming manner. Salutes will be fired at sunrise, noon and sunset. A procession will be formed, and under escort of the Eliot Union Guard, will march, accompanied by the North Berwick Band, to the Picnic ground, where prayer will be offered by Rev. A. B. Lovewell; the Declaration of Independence will be read by John D. Frost, Esq., and an oration delivered by S. G. Norcross, Esq. A bountiful table will be laid, comprising all the luxuries of the season—free for all.—The celebration will be closed by a display of fireworks in the evening.

☞ George N. Carlton, Esq, after an absence of fourteen months, arrived at his home in this city on Saturday evening, from Memphis, Tenn., whence he had just been permitted to depart by the Federal forces now occupying that city.]

N. K. Raynes, Esq., who arrived in this city a short time since, from New Orleans, had never been pressed into, or entered the rebel service, as has been stated.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

—— A very valuable horse belonging to Mr. Geo. W. Glines, of Manchester, was drowned in the canal near the Print Works on Saturday afternoon. He was blind, and being left for a moment, walked off into the canal and could not be got out before he was dead.

—— Rev. Samuel E. Brown, whose death we copied a day or two since, died in South Hampton, where he was pastor, (not in Hampton, as at first stated.) His age was 55 years. He was some time minister of the Baptist Church at Hampton Falls.—He was a man of excellent social and religious character and was held in high estimation. His funeral services were held on Saturday, Rev. Mr. Pierce, of Manchester, officiating.

—— Henry McCarty, of Manchester, a newsboy, was run over on the Concord R. R. at Martin's Ferry, on Tuesday forenoon, while attempting to jump upon the cars.—His left foot was badly mangled, the wheels passing over it.

—— The Manchester American gives the following sketch of Col. Gove:—

Col. Jesse A. Gove, who is reported to have been killed in the late great battle at Richmond, was a native of Weare, and the son of Squier Gove, Esq. His youth was remarkable for military ardor, and he was sent to the Military Academy at Norwich, Vt., under Col. Ransom, under whom he subsequently served in the Mexican war, and was promoted for gallant and meritorious conduct. His original entry into the service was April 9, 1847, as second lieutenant in the Ninth U. S. Infantry. He studied law with Hon. Franklin Pierce, and was made Pension Agent, which office he held until Mr. Pierce's election to the Presidency, during which (March 3, 1855,) he was appointed captain in the Tenth U. S. Infantry, after which he was stationed in Utah. He obtained a furlough and Oct. 30, 1861, was commissioned Colonel of the Mass. 22d regiment, originally under the command of Senator Wilson. Since his acceptance of this command his name has been before the people as a skillful and brave officer and a noble hearted man.—He leaves a wife and two or three small children, who reside at Concord.

—— In the Legislature, the highest mileage is 344 miles, awarded to Samuel Aiken, Representative from Errol and Cambridge.

—— The flourishing community of Shakers at Canterbury have recently completed a barn which is probably the largest and most completely furnished in the State.—It is two hundred feet long, exclusive of covered drive-ways at either end, through which teams are driven to the second floor. There is a wing to the main barn which is thirty feet long, and another of the same size is in the process of construction. Over two hundred tons of hay can be stowed in the barn, which has accommodations for a large number of cattle, including separate rooms for cows with calf, and for weaning calves. The arrangements for tying up the cows are perfect. By a single motion of a lever all the cows in one row are fastened or released at once. Grain is fed to the cows by a truck which can be run before each animal. The barn is a model of neatness, like everything else about the premises of the Shakers.

Portsmouth, June 28, 1862.

PORTSMOUTH

GRAND REGATTA,

JULY 4, 1862.

To take place on Piscataqua River, at 3 o'clock, from a boat stationed off Martin's Wharf to the Beacon and return. Distance two miles.

There will be Three Races, as follows:

First Race—Distance two miles—for two-oared boats. Prize $8.00.

Boats for this race will enter free.

Second Race—Distance two miles—for four-oared boats. Prize $15.00.

Third Race—Distance two miles—for six-oared boats and over. Prize $25 00.

4th Race—distance three miles—Open to all double-bank wherries, whaleboats and ship's boats. No allowance for difference in number of oars. It is intended to award three prizes to this race—the first of which to be $20,—the amount of the others to be determined before the 3d of July.

RULES AND REGULATIONS

1. The races are open to all boats from Portsmouth An entry fee of $1 will be charged, (except for two-oared boats, which will enter free,) and may be made to the chairman of the committee at 79 Market St., from 9 A. M. to 6 P. M. (Sunday excepted) until the 3d of July, at 12 o'clk M.

2. The race will be on a straight course in the centre of the river, beginning at the Judge's stand, off Martin's wharf. The drawing for positions will take place at Jefferson Hall, on Thursday evening, July 3, at 8 o'clock, at which time each person or crew entered for the race will have some authorized representative present to draw for them, or take such place in the race as may then be drawn for them by the Judges.

3. Each boat must be designated in the races by the number they draw, which must be placed in some conspicuous position upon the boat, where it can be easily seen. The number will be supplied by the Judges.

4. All boats may carry a coxswain or not, as crew may elect.

5. Two guns will be fired from the Judges' stand, for each race: the first for boats to come into line, the second for the start.

6. At 4 o'clock a gun will be fired for the two-oared boats to come into line. A second will be fired for the start.

7. The other races will take place in regular order, with as little delay as possible.

8. Boats will round the Beacon from larboard to starboard.

9. Any boat taking another boat's water, thereby causing a collision, will be ruled out.

10. Two or more boats rounding the Beacon at the same time, the outside boat must keep off, and give the inside boat sufficient room to round without hitting the Beacon. Any outside boat crowding the inside boat will lose its chance for the prizes.

11. Boats in returning must pass between the Judges' stand and Martin's wharf.

12. All boats carrying over six oars will allow ten seconds to an oar.

12. Prizes will be awarded immediately after the last race.

14. The ruling of the Judges must be final in all cases.

COMMITTEE.—Frank D. Webster, Chairman; James H. Dow, J. Henry Norcross, C. E. Newman, Daniel G. Waldron.

JUDGES—Capt. HENRY ELDRIDGE, Chairman; Capt. James M. Hill, Capt. Wm. Lambert, Capt. John Chase, Jos. B. Adams, Esq. Joshua E. Eldredge, Esq.

☞ Secretary Seward informed a delegation of the New York Press, on Tuesday, that Gen. McClellan was in communication with our fleet on James river. He also stated that there was no truth in the Herald's report that two European Governments had given notice thas the war should cease.

☞ Henry Luther, a shoemaker, of Boston, claims to be a lineal descendant of Martin Luther, the great German reformer. He has in his possession a Family Record, whereby his pedigree may be traced.

☞ Lieut. Whipple, in his memoir of travels in California, states that there is a spring of cool, sweet water in San Diego county, not far from the desert, which has no power of quenching thirst.

To the Ladies.—Much work is to be done in Jefferson Hall, in the way of trimming the cars for the Floral Procession. Will the ladies rally on this occasion and lend a helping hand?

☞ See yon fair maiden in another column, picking Sambuci Grapes for Speer's Wine. It is an admirable article, used in hospitals, and by the first class families in Paris, London and New York, in preference to old Port wine. It is worth a trial, as it gives great satisfaction. 1y.

☞ Mathews' Arnica Hair Gloss. The Arnica Montana, from which this invaluable preparation derives its name, is a perennial plant, a native of the mountains of Siberia. From it is obtained an oil which has been discovered to be the most powerful remedy for slaying and removing inflammation known to pharmacy. This oil, combined with other tried ingredients, forms the Arnica Hair Gloss. june4.1md

"MAGEE'S PATENT"

VENTILATING & AIR-WARMING

FURNACES.

The subscribers, being the Sole Agents in this vicinity for the manufacture and sale of this valuable Furnace, would ask those about remodelling or erecting buildings to examine this truly valuable invention.

For economy, purity of air and ease of management it has no equal, producing a current of warm air, moist and agreeable;—and as none of the air which comes in contact with the fire-pot is used for respiration, the tendency to produce headache so much complained of in other Furnaces, is entirely obviated.

The objects aimed at by the constructors of heating apparatus have been to obtain the greatest amount of heat from a given amount of fuel, and to prevent the escape of heat to the smoke pipe or chimney.

To accomplish this many complicated and expensive heating arrangements have been constructed, some possessing but little improvement over former methods, while many have proved a total failure. The reason for this is obvious. The combustible gases being lighter than the air, pass off into the pipe or chimney without being consumed. This objection, so common in other Furnaces, is obviated in the

MAGEE FURNACE.

The flue or pipe in this Furnace being below the fire-pot, the gases, from their specific gravity, cannot descend, and are burned up by the admission of cold air through the fire-pot, which ignites them as they pass off from the coal, thus saving at least 20 per cent. of the properties of the heat in the fuel.

No heating apparatus with the smoke-pipe or flue on the top of the cone can be made to consume the gases of the coal, as they pass off with a large amount of the heat generated, making the chimney the hottest part of your dwelling.

This Furnace does away with the great number of pipes and angles for the radiation of heat, which are so liable to fill up and get out of order, thus simplifying, while it increases the surface of radiation.

These Furnaces consume all the coal, make no clinkers, the sifting of coal is entirely dispensed with, and they will save from 30 to 50 per cent. of fuel over common Furnaces.

For ease of management, economy and purity of air, these Furnaces have no equal. They can be regulated so as to give any amount of heat required, and the fire may be kept the entire season without once going out.

They give entire satisfaction wherever used. We have in store the different sizes, Brick and Portable, to which we invite the attention of those in want of the best Furnace in the world,—and would refer them to the following named gentlemen, who have them now in use:

Samuel Cleaves, Esq., Albert R. Hatch, Esq.,
Aaron H. Hill, Charles H. Mendum,
Henry F. Wendell, John Sise, and others.

Also on hand, the celebrated and unequalled

PURE OLD BOURBON WHISKEY.

Correspondence between some of the most eminent physicians of New York and Brooklyn, and Wm. J. Cutter, Jr., Louisville, Ky.:

NEW YORK, May 1, 1861.

MR. WM. T. CUTTER, Jr., Louisville, Ky.:

Dear Sir:—The great difficulty experienced in procuring Brandy sufficiently pure for medicinal purposes, has induced many of the physicians of this vicinity to adopt Bourbon Whiskey as a substitute, both in the hospitals and private practice; and, since the latter has come into such general use, we have reason to believe that a great deal now sold is of very inferior quality.

Presuming you are well known in the vicinity of the manufacture of Whiskey in Kentucky, as well as your skill as a chemist, will enable you to select a pure article, and thereby lend your influence in your integrity, we are led to inquire whether you will not aid us in having this market supplied, through an Agency, with the best quality of Pure Old Bourbon Whiskey for the use of the Sick.

We are, very respectfully, sir, yours truly,

LOUISVILLE, Ky., July 31, 1861.

DR. VALENTINE MOTT, Willard Parker & others.

Gentlemen:—Your letter of May 1st has been received. In accordance with your wishes, I have made arrangements to supply your city and vicinity with a pure article of copper distilled Bourbon Whiskey, which I trust will fully meet the requirements of your letter. Thanking you for your kind expressions of confidence, &c.

I remain, very respectfully, yours truly,
WM. T. CUTTER, Jr.

We, the Physicians of Portsmouth, having full confidence in the integrity of D. R. AMBROSE, recommend him as a suitable person to sell OLD BOURBON WHISKEY in Portsmouth, for medicinal purposes, in accordance with an arrangement made between the New York Physicians and WM. T. CUTTER, Jr., of Louisville, Ky., and a similar agreement between said Cutter and the Physicians of Boston.

SPEER'S SAMBUCI WINE
PURE AND FOUR YEARS OLD,
OF CHOICE OPORTO FRUIT,
For Physicians' Use,
FEMALES, WEAKLY PERSONS, INVALIDS.
SAMBUCUS TREE, OF PORTUGAL,

Every Family should use the SAMBUCI WINE celebrated in Europe for its medicinal and beneficial qualities as a gentle Stimulant, Tonic, Diuretic and Sudorific, highly esteemed by eminent physicians, used in European and American Hospitals, and by some of the first families in Europe and America.

AS A DIURETIC, it imparts a healthy action to the Glands and Kidneys, and Urinary Organs, very beneficial in Dropsy, Gout and Rheumatic Affections.

SPEER'S SAMBUCI WINE is not a mixture or manufactured article, but is pure from the juice of the Portugal Sambucus, cultivated in New Jersey, recommended by Chemists and Physicians as possessing medical properties superior to any other Wines in use, and an excellent article for all weak and debilitated persons, and the aged and infirm, improving the appetite, and benefitting ladies and children.

A LADIES' WINE, because it will not intoxicate as other wines, as it contains no mixture of spirits or other liquors, and is admired for its rich, peculiar flavor and nutritive properties, imparting a healthy tone to the digestive organs, and a blooming, soft and healthy skin and complexion.

WE REFER TO

FRANKLIN HOUSE,
Portsmouth, N. H.
The undersigned having assumed the management of this well known public house, and having made extensive improvements therein, solicits a continuance of the patronage of the travelling public that has so long been extended to the house.
A new parlor and an extensive suite of commodious and well-ventilated sleeping apartments have been added; and a separate Ladies' Entrance from Congress street, arranged. Gentlemen with their families, or ladies unattended, will now find quiet and retired apartments connected with the street and dining hall by an independent staircase.
The house will be kept as a first class hotel in every respect, and the proprietor will spare no pains to merit the patronage of those visiting this section of the State.
A good TABLE is connected with the house, where persons visiting Portsmouth with teams, will be promptly and carefully waited upon.

This is a new and invaluable preparation for preserving and beautifying the hair.

The wonderful virtues of Arnica in allaying and removing inflammation are universally known.

ARNICA HAIR GLOSS is a combination of these virtues, with other tried and excellent ingredients.

ARNICA HAIR GLOSS stimulates and invigorates the hair, prevents it from falling out—restores it when lost—promotes its growth and strength—renders it proof against all diseases.

ARNICA HAIR GLOSS permanently cures all irritations and eruptions of the scalp, and makes it healthy and fertile. For the removal of dandruff it has no equal. Its operations in this particular are magical and permanent.

ARNICA HAIR GLOSS is unequalled as a hair-dressing compound. It not only cleanses the scalp and invigorates the hair, but it renders the latter charmingly soft and lustrous. Its odor is particularly delicate and fragrant—the proprietor having taken especial pains to secure this result.

ARNICA HAIR GLOSS is the very best preparation for the hair ever discovered.

ARNICA HAIR GLOSS, notwithstanding its surpassing merits, is retailed at only Twenty-five cents a bottle, by all Druggists.

Advertising.
For a Square (1½ inches) or less, one insertion 50 cents, three insertions $1, one week $1.50, one month $3, three months $6, six months $8, one year $10. These are Daily rates—and no advertisements receive more than one insertion in the Weekly (Gazette) without special order and charge.
Funeral Notices, and Advertisements of articles Lost and Found, &c., 50 cents.
Advertisements may appear both in the Daily Chronicle and Weekly Gazette, if ordered; and will thus receive the most thorough circulation both in this city and vicinity, and throughout the State. ☞ Liberal terms for yearly advertising.

The Chronicle.

A SECOND MOSES.—A Harrisburg paper mentions a cradle that came down stream during a late terrible freshet, in which was a babe, which when found by some people on the bank, looked up and smiled. The editor adds that he remembers "reading in that sweet book of old," how Moses when found by Pharaoh's daughter, "looked up and smiled." Unfortunately, however, for the editor's biblical rhetoric, the book of Exodus tells us that "the babe wept."—Newspaper quotations of scripture very often display gross ignorance of the "book of old."

COMPLIMENT TO CAPT. RINGGOLD.—The Legislature of Maryland, on March 10, passed a resolution tendering their thanks to Capt. Cadwallader Ringgold and the officers and crew of the United States frigate Sabine, for their gallant and humane efforts in rescuing from the wreck of the steamer Governor in November last, a marine battalion of 400, on their way to Port Royal. The official copy has recently been placed in the hands of the Captain.

HEART MAGNETISM.—If one should give me a dish of sand, and tell me there were particles of iron in it, I might look for them with my eyes, and search for them with my clumsy fingers, and be unable to detect them; but let me take a magnet and sweep through it, and how would it draw to itself the almost invisible particles, by the mere power of attraction! The unthankful heart like my fingers in the sand, discovers no mercies; but let the thankful heart sweep through the day, and as the magnet finds the iron, so it will find in every hour some heavenly blessings; only the iron in God's sand is gold.

The credit system is a bad one in other matters than finance. If Gluttony paid her debt on the spot, she would never be "taken in execution" by the gout. If Drunkenness were obliged to liquidate with Nature every time she liquors at the tavern, she would soon be bankrupt. There is a Greek epigram which says that it would be a good thing for mankind if the headache which is the penalty of intoxication were suffered at once, instead of being put off till next day.

The Memphis Avalanche states that the rebel leaders have solemnly determined in the last emergency to appeal to England or France to be received as colonies.

It was rumored in Memphis on Wednesday, that a force under Breckinridge is moving north to fall upon Halleck's detached division.

SUICIDE.—Dr. W. G. Blood, formerly of Bradford, Vt., lately of Enfield, N. H., cut his own throat and died in the highway at Bennington, on the 24th ult. He was a man of ability, and no cause is known for his suicide.

☞ A jealous wife in Genova, N. Y., recently revenged herself on her rival by stripping the latter of all her garments in the public streets, and in that condition leaving her to find shelter where she could.

☞ In Acton, Me., some cruel boys tied a bunch of shavings to the tail of a dog and set them on fire. Result, the poor brute ran under Sylvester Loud's barn, which was destroyed.

☞ Rev. Dr. Fayette Jewett, American missionary to Constantinople, died suddenly at the hotel where he was stopping, in Liverpool.

A Real and Great Improvement
IN HORSE SHOES.
S. W. WEBBER,
Blacksmith and Horse-Shoer,
NO 80 STATE STREET, Portsmouth,
Has purchased the sole right to manufacture and use
Cate's Patent Grooved Horse Shoes.
in this city and vicinity; and is prepared to furnish and set the same, at the regular prices for other Shoes, (except for steel Shoes, which are 25 cts. extra,) and warrant them to give full satisfaction in all cases. The improvement consists in the nails being set in a steel groove which protects the heads, and the Shoe being concave on both the upper and under sides, so as to be much lighter, to hold on better, and afford a good purchase for the horse without corks, except on very hard ice.
These Shoes are peculiarly favorable for tender or bad feet, quarter cracks, interfering, overreaching, &c.; and gentlemen who have been troubled with their horses, and the public generally, are invited to call and examine the same, and give them a trial.
Any other pattern of Shoe will be put on, to suit customers, as usual; and BLACKSMITH JOBBING generally attended to.

☞ ATTENTION, THE WHOLE! ☜
PORTSMOUTH, April 21st, 1862.
I have for several years been afflicted with distress at my stomach, loss of appetite, and often vomited up all of my food immediately after eating it, and all medicine failed to give any relief until about a year ago, when I took one bottle of DR. S. SWETT'S PANACEA, which fully cured me, so that I have not had the least trouble from any of those complaints since, and I enjoy good health. M. LOWD.
Exeter, Feb. 24, 1838. Dr. Swett:—"Sir, for the benefit of those who are afflicted as I have been, with a humor, which prevented quiet rest night and day, I would say, that your PANACEA has effected a radical cure on me; and would add—that by the use of it, my health has been greatly improved; therefore, I cheerfully recommend it as superior to any other medicine I ever used for humors and consumptive complaints."
WM. P. LEAVITT.
From ELDER I CHESLEY, Lee, May 31, 1841.
DR. SWETT: Permit me to testify, as I feel in duty bound to do, that my daughter was afflicted with scrofulous humor, and that previous to your visiting our house in the spring of 1840, she had been confined for a number of months, without her natural rest by day or night. She had applied to a number of physicians, but continued to grow weaker till she commenced using your PANACEA and HUMOR WASH. Since then, she has recovered her health so far as to rest quietly by night, and labor by day. I esteem your medicine one of the best that can be found for the disease above named." ISRAEL CHESLEY.
☞ Any one returning the remainder of a bottle or box of Dr. Swett's medicines shall have pay for it, if it do not agree with his case, or if not worth the price. All orders directed to DR. S. SWETT, Portsmouth, N. H., promptly attended to. may26D

Morning Chronicle.

Portsmouth, N. H.

FRIDAY, JULY 4, 1862.

FOURTH OF JULY.

In 1776, the revolutionary fathers set their names to the Declaration that our settlements were no longer Colonies, dependant on a foreign power, but independent States,—and were so declared because we had been oppressed by the mother country. And they began their catalogue of reasons by declaring that—

"We hold these truths to be self-evident; that all men are created equal; that they are endowed, by their creator, with certain unalienable rights; that among these are life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness. That to secure these rights, governments are instituted among men, deriving their just powers from the consent of the governed."

To-day, in 1862, we are engaged in a civil war of terrible magnitude and of the most bloody and destructive character, brought on by a most wicked and atrocious rebellion against a government which has been only too indulgent and favorable to the men and the institutions that have now engaged to overthrow the old government based on liberty, and establish a new one, to be avowedly based on slavery.

This usually festive day occurs now, at a moment of intense and anxious interest, in which every loyal citizen hopes for the speedy capture of Richmond, and the safety and success of our armies and navies there and elsewhere. If any are inclined to despondency, let them look back on the patriots of 1776 and take courage from their example.

Lieut. Col. Alfred W. Ellett reports that on the 26th ult. he went up the Yazoo river with two rams, to capture or destroy three rebel gunboats, the Van Dorn, Polk and Livingston, which he was informed lay below a raft which obstructed the river, about 65 miles up, protected by four guns in battery. He ran close up to the battery, when the enemy set fire to the boats and set them adrift down upon him. He was obliged to leave the river to escape a conflagration. The three large rebel boats were totally destroyed. The enemy did not fire upon Col. Ellett.

NEW ORLEANS.—The Picayune of the 20th contains advertisements of steamers and sailing vessels up for New York and Philadelphia; and Adams' Express has resumed operations between New Orleans and New York.

The weather is described as "delightfully cool, with glorious sunshine and a fine breeze"—and our troops have as yet no malaria to contend with.

The gangs of laborers who have been set at work in the streets by order of Gen. Butler, have "weeded out the grass," (a significant commentary on the utter desolation of the city under rebel rule) "scraped out the dirt, and deepened and widened the ditches," measures, according to the Picayune, which have given the city "an appearance of cleanliness and neatness quite unusual hitherto, and much to be admired."

TOOMBS AND HIS COTTON.—The Atlanta Confederacy, a Georgia paper, has an account of a meeting of the committee of public safety in Cuthbert, who—in consideration of the fact that General Robert Toombs, of the Confederate army, and others, "influenced more by avarice than patriotism, have planted unusually large crops of cotton, thereby curtailing to that extent the provision crop necessary for the support of our suffering country"—resolved that Toombs and his cotton-planting neighbors be requested to withdraw their negro labor from the cotton fields and place it in charge of the committee appointed to superintend the defense of the river. The public safety men also express great indignation at the unpatriotic course of Toombs and those who share his example. To these resolutions Toombs replies from Richmond, saying:

"Gents:—Your telegram has been received. I refuse a single hand. My property, so long as I live, shall never be subject to the order of those cowardly miscreants, the committee of public safety of Randolph and Eufaula. You may rob me in my absence, but you cannot intimidate me."

☞ The Portland Daily Advertiser has been enlarged and makes a good appearance. The editor-in-chief has labored very hard to bring the Advertiser to its present state of mechanical advancement.

What a world this would be if all its inhabitants could say with Shakespeare's shepherd: "Sir, I am a true laborer; I earn what I wear; I owe no man a hate; envy no man's happiness; glad of other men's good, content with my farm."

THE REBELLION.

Com. Farragut, with nine vessels of his fleet, has passed Vicksburg under a heavy fire from the batteries on the bluffs. Gen. Grant is organizing a land force at Memphis, to cooperate with the navy in the reduction of the place. The Granada Appeal of the 27th ult. announces that every preparation that military science could suggest has been made at Vicksburg, and that the city will be defended to the last. Gen. Bragg is in command of the troops sent to defend this last stronghold of the rebels on the Mississippi river.

According to accounts from Washington, reinforcements have been sent to Gen. McClellan. A portion of the army of Gen. McDowell left Aquia Creek for Richmond on Sunday last. The N. Y. Post also states that Gen. Burnside has been ordered to support McClellan by rapid movements from the South, and that the latest intelligence received from him asserted that he was marching as fast as he could in the right direction.

A gunboat, from the scene of action on Monday, ten miles above City Point, arrived at Fortress Monroe, on Tuesday. A division of our army had been fighting four days, and had retreated about seventeen miles. The fight of Monday was most terrific, the enemy having three to our one—The battle commenced with our land force, and after about four hours' hard fighting our gunboats got in range, and poured into the rebels a heavy and incessant fire, which the rebels stood about two hours, and then retreated in great disorder. Our troops captured, notwithstanding their disadvantages, a number of artillery pieces and 2000 prisoners. Among the prisoners is the rebel Gen. Magruder. It is reported that Gen. McClellan, by the superior numbers of the enemy, was compelled to spike his siege guns and leave them on the field, after burning the carriages. In the retreat many of our sick and wounded were necessarily left behind.

A dispatch from Gen. McClellan, received at the War Department at noon, Thursday, dated from Berkley, Harrison's Bar, Wednesday, 5:30 P. M. states that he "had succeeded in getting his army to that place on the banks of James river. He had lost but one gun, which had to be abandoned Tuesday night, because it broke down. At four o'clock the rear of the wagon train was within a mile of camp, and only one wagon was abandoned. We had a severe battle on Tuesday, and beat the enemy back, the men fighting even better than before. The men were in good spirits, and the reinforcements sent from Washington had arrived."

The Washington Star says considerable reinforcements of fresh troops, probably quite as many as he has lost in the four days' fighting, have doubtless reached Gen. McClellan, and others follow close on their heels.

A dispatch from Corinth says eight or ten rebel regiments of cavalry attacked Col. Sheridan's advance guard, about two miles south of Booneville on Tuesday morning, but were compelled to retreat. Their loss is not reported. The rebels make daily demonstrations on different parts of our lines.

☞ The French have worse enemies than the Mexicans to contend with on their march to the Aztec capital; yellow fever is doing its work to a remarkable extent. Not alone does the pestilence attack the soldiers; the army Legion has been cut off, and a great number of the surgeons, whose places are being filled from France, while 12,000 fresh troops are on their way to fill the ranks.

☞ In the Lynn Police Court, last week, Thos. Faahe was fined $6 and costs for raking hay on the Sabbath. Faahe refused to pay the amount, and was committed to Salem jail.

☞ Sandwich has more post offices than any other town in Massachusetts, having eight. Barnstable and Falmouth have each seven.

☞ It is estimated that $100,000 worth of oysters were destroyed last fall in the bays on the south side of Long Island, by the shell-fish known as the "sea stars."

☞ The Indians are again becoming troublesome in Utah, cutting the telegraph lines, &c. Troops have been sent in pursuit of them.

☞ C. C. Lathrop has resigned the appointment as Collector of New Orleans, to which he was some weeks ago commissioned.

Even as nature benevolently guards the rose with thorns, even so does she endow woman with pins.

Praises are valuable only when they come from lips that have the courage to condemn.

We are told to have hope and trust, but what's a poor fellow going to do when he can no longer get any trust?

Mr. Chronicle:—Allow me to suggest that the Post of Honor in the Procession today, be given those who, at this critical moment, are not only ready to help keep alive the remembrance of the glorious Fourth, as all good citizens should be; but are also willing to do more, even to be Volunteers for the war.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

—— Lieut. W. S. Pillsbury, who has been recruiting for the 9th regiment in Manchester, went into camp in Concord, on Friday evening with 52 men.

—— The Nashua Cadets, Capt. George Bowers, accompanied by the Nashua Cornet Band, visited Concord on Friday with a number of invited guests. They were received at the Depot by Co. A, of the Horse Guards, under Capt. John H. George, by whom they were escorted to the Guards' armory, where the two companies partook of a collation. The Cadets then marched through the principal streets, and finally to the Phenix, where they partook of a dinner provided by the Nashua representatives.—Gov. Berry and other invited guests were also at the table. After the dinner ceremonies, the Cadets marched to the State House Yard, where they performed various evolutions, and were reviewed by the Governor and the Adjutant and Commissary Generals,—at the conclusion of which, brief addresses were made by the Governor, Gen. Colby and Capt. Bowers. The Cadets then partook of another collation at the Horse Guards' armory, and afterwards took the cars for home.

—— A new packet, Mr. James Rand master, will make her first trip from Dover to Portsmouth, this (Friday) morning.—This will afford a good opportunity for those who wish to attend the celebration here.

——At the annual meeting of the Salmon Falls Manufacturing Co., on Wednesday of last week, the following officers were elected:

Joshua Converse, Clerk; George W. Lyman, R. M. Mason, J. M. Tredick, A. A. Lawrence, J. A. Burnham, Geo. P. Upham, Directors; William G. Mears, Treasurer.

ORDINATION.—Mr. Benj. F. Eaton was ordained to the work of the Ministry on Wednesday evening, July 2, in the Universalist Church at Dover. Invocation and reading the Scripture, by Br. T. H. Miller; Sermon by Br. Weaver of Lawrence; Ordaining Prayer and Right Hand by Br. Patterson of Portsmouth; Charge and delivery of the Scriptures by Br. Greenwood of Malden, Mass, a former pastor in Dover; concluding Prayer by Br. Weaver. Benediction by the pastor.

—— It is stated that about 400 men have been recruited for the 9th Regiment by the different recruiting officers throughout the State. About 30 have been enlisted in Dover.

—— Dr. Wm. A. Webster, of Manchester, has been appointed Surgeon of the 9th regiment.

N. H. LEGISLATURE.

TUESDAY.—In Senate, resolutions were passed in favor of the town of New Castle, and appropriating twenty-five hundred dollars for educating the deaf, blind and dumb. The following House bills were read and referred: an act for the preservation of birds; an act relating to naturalization; an act relating to the competency of witnesses. On motion of Mr. Cooper, the House militia bill was taken from the table and further considered; ordered to a third reading on Wednesday.

In the House, the naturalization bill, the bill for adopted children, and the bird bill, were passed. The bill giving lands in Pittsburg to Dartmouth College, and the resolution touching the same lands, were indefinitely postponed. The second or extra member from Moultonboro' was unseated, 158 to 112,—reason, there were not quite enough rateable polls.

CONGRESS, Wednesday.—In the Senate, resolutions from Connecticut were presented, in favor of the establishment of a Navy Yard at New London. Mr. Powell of Kentucky reported a bill to punish persons giving compensation to members of Congress or officers of the government for procuring contracts. Mr. Wright of Indiana offered a resolution expelling James F. Simmons from the Senate for receiving $50,000 for procuring a contract. Laid over. The additional Treasury Note bill was taken up. An amendment of the Finance Committee reserving seventy-five millions for the prompt payment of deposits was adopted; also an amendment authorizing the notes to be paid in coin, at the discretion of the Secretary of the Treasury.

OUR FLAG.

BY ALBERT LAIGHTON.

Tune—Old Hundred.

When patriot hands the Flag unfurled,
Whose stars of Freedom light the world,
O God! protected by Thy might,
It waved in triumph through the fight.

Where bayonets gleam, and cannon roar,
Its rainbow beauty streams once more,
Unharmed, though threatened and defied,
Above the battle's crimson tide.

Baptized anew with fire and blood,
We bear it through the fearful flood,
And still, our Father, trust in Thee,
To bless the Banner of the Free.

O when these raging conflicts cease,
And North and South are locked in peace,
Revered, from every hill and plain
Let Freedom's symbol float again.

July 4, 1862.

☞ The Portland Press says last Saturday noon Bangor was visited by a tremendous hail storm. Junks of ice fell as large as a man's hand.

The less a writer knows of a subject, the more ink he uses in telling it.

TO THOSE RAISING CHICKENS.—Mr. Genin, of France, affirmed before the French Academy of Sciences, that after three years' study he has ascertained that all eggs containing the germ of males have wrinkles on their smaller ends, while female eggs are smooth at both extremities.

The Procession.

ALL CITIZENS, including those already invited by letter or otherwise, are requested to meet at the CITY ROOMS, and form in the Procession on the morning of The 4th.

Per order. J. H. HEAD,
1july4 Chairman Committee.

☞ Mathews' Arnica Hair Gloss. The Arnica Mostasa, from which this invaluable preparation derives its name, is a perennial plant, a native of the mountains of Siberia. From it is obtained an oil which has been discovered to be the most powerful remedy for allaying and removing inflammation known to pharmacy. This oil, combined with other tried ingredients, forms the Arnica Hair Gloss. june31 1md

PORTSMOUTH

GRAND REGATTA,

JULY 4, 1862.

To take place on Piscataqua River, at 3 o'clock, from a boat stationed off Martin's Wharf to the Beacon and return. Distance two miles.

RULES AND REGULATIONS.

1. The races are open to all boats from Portsmouth. An entry fee of $1 will be charged, (except for two-oared boats, which will enter free,) and may be made to the chairman of the committee at 70 Market St., from 9 A. M. to 6 P. M. (Sunday excepted) until the 3d of July, at 12 o'cl'k.M.

2. The race will be on a straight course in the centre of the river, beginning at the Judge's stand, off Martin's wharf. The drawing for positions will take place at Jefferson Hall, on Thursday evening, July 3, at 8 o'clock, at which time each person or crew entered for the race will have some authorized representative present to draw for them, or take such place in the race as may then be drawn for them by the Judges.

3. Each boat must be designated in the races by the number they draw, which must be placed in some conspicuous position upon the boat, where it can be easily seen. The number will be supplied by the Judges.

4. All boats may carry a coxswain or not, as crew may elect.

5. Two guns will be fired from the Judges' stand, for each race; the first for boats to come into line, the second for the start.

6. At 4 o'clock a gun will be fired for the two-oared boats to come into line. A second will be fired for the start.

7. The other races will take place in regular order, with as little delay as possible.

8. Boats will round the Beacon from larboard to starboard.

9. Any boat taking another boat's water, thereby causing a collision, will be ruled out.

10. Two or more boats rounding the Beacon at the same time, the outside boat must keep off, and give the inside boat sufficient room to round without hitting the Beacon. Any outside boat crowding the inside boat will lose its chance for the prizes.

11 Boats in returning must pass between the Judges' stand and Martin's wharf.

12. All boats carrying over six oars will allow ten seconds to an oar.

12. Prizes will be awarded immediately after the last race.

14. The ruling of the Judges must be final in all cases.

ROUTE OF PROCESSION.—The procession will form on State Street, right resting on Middle Street, and will pass through State to Summer, through Summer to Islington, from Islington to Congress, through Congress to Market, through Market to Deer, through Deer to Vaughan, through Vaughan to Congress, through Congress and Islington to Anthony, through Anthony to Austin, through Austin to Cabot, from Cabot to Middle, through Court to Pleasant, through Pleasant to Water, through Water to State, through State to Pleasant, through Pleasant to Congress, through Congress to Fleet, through Fleet to Court, and will enter the Pavilion.

The procession will countermarch on arriving at the Pavilion; the Military will form at right and left while the remaining part of the procession will pass in; the Military bringing up in the rear.

The services will be under direction of Hon. Marcellus Bufford, and are as follows:

ORDER OF EXERCISES AT PAVILION.

1. Overture by the Portsmouth Cornet Band.
2. National Ode, written by Albert Laighton,—sung by 300 school children in concert, under the direction of Prof. E. A. Tilton.
3. Prayer by Rev. A. J. Patterson.
4. Song—"Star Spangled Banner."
5. Reading of the Declaration of Independence, by Rev. I. F. Waterhouse.
6. Song—"Red, White and Blue."
7. Oration.
8. Song—"America." "Old Hundred," in which the audience are requested to join, which will close the services at the Pavilion.

REGATTA.

At precisely 3 o'clock the Committee will be escorted to the Judges' Stand by the Goodwin Guards, under Capt. Sides, United States Artillery, Lieut. Boothby; and Portsmouth City Guard, Capt. Towle.

There will be Four Races, as follows:

First Race—Distance two miles—for two-oared boats. Prize $8.00.

Boats for this race will enter free.

Second Race—Distance two miles—for four-oared boats. Prize $15.00.

Third Race—Distance two miles—for six-oared boats and over. Prize $25.00.

4th Race—distance three miles—Open to all double-bank wherries, whaleboats and ship's boats. No allowance for difference in number of oars. First prize $25; second prize $15.

BALLOON ASCENSIONS.

At the close of the Regatta there will be a Balloon Ascension from the Judges' stand. At 5 o'clock the pilot balloon Portsmouth will be sent up; at 5½ o'clock a still larger Balloon, the Independence, will go up, with appropriate devices, in charge of Mr. Saxton of Newburyport.

SALUTE.

A salute of 13 guns will then be fired by United States Artillery from Fort McClary, which will close the exercises on the river.

TIGHT ROPE PERFORMANCE.

At 6 o'clock, Mons. Denier will walk on a tight rope (from top of Jefferson Hall) to North Church steeple and backwards blindfold. He will also wheel a wheelbarrow decorated with national emblems.

ZOUAVE DRILL AND SKIRMISH

By the U. S. Artillery from Fort Constitution. At 7 o'clock, Capt. Davidson's company, escorted by the Goodwin Guards and Portsmouth Light Guard, will proceed to the outskirts of the city, where a dress parade will take place, and a skirmish by Capt. Davidson's company, on which occasion three hundred cartridges will be fired.

PROMENADE CONCERT.

A Grand Promenade Concert will take place at the Mammoth Pavilion, on Court Street, in the evening. Doors open at 7 o'clock. The walls of the building will be richly decorated with flags, evergreens, portraits, busts, mottoes, &c., and lighted by fifty burners. 300 school children, in costume, under the direction of Prof. E. A. Tilton, will sing national airs. The Portsmouth Cornet Band will enliven the evening with their selections of music; and National Tableaux will be interspersed among the other entertainments.—The day to close by a series of Quadrilles.

POSITION OF DIVISIONS, &c.,
IN PROCESSION.

1st division will form on State street, right resting on Middle.

2d Division on Fleet street, right resting on State street.

3d Division on Court street, right resting on Haymarket square.

4th Division on Court Place, right resting on Court street.

It is desirable that all companies and associations who are to take part in the Procession, should be in readiness at 9 o'clock, A. M., and all Marshals are requested to see that the Divisions under their charge are in readiness to form into line at that hour.

All persons invited by note, or otherwise, are requested to meet at the City Rooms at 8½ o'clock where carriages will be in waiting to receive them. Soldiers of this war and other wars will meet at the above place.

Ornamental cars and carriages from neighboring towns will report themselves at the Chief Marshal's quarters, front of the Court House.

Citizens from the neighboring towns in carriages who wish to appear in the Procession, will form on State street, near City Rooms.

All teams, carriages and carriages that belong to the Floral Procession must be at the Court Houre yard at an early hour, to be decorated. At the close of the Procession the cars must be left at the Court House yard, for removal of decorations.

All children who take a part in the Floral Procession must be at the Court House at 8 o'clock.

JAMES H. HEAD, Chief Marshal.

While the Procession is in motion, no carriages will be allowed to pass through the streets on which the Procession may be; and all persons are hereby requested not to fire guns or crackers, or make any other unnecessary disturbances while the Procession is passing.

OREN BRADDON, City Marshal.

☞ br. tom-ass wit-em, of the bawl at, must, as usual, have his amiable fling at the proposed Celebration of the 4th in Portsmouth—and calls it a Chronicle affair, tho' we have had no opportunity to do anything for it, save to advertise as we do for anybody. All statements we have made concerning it have been from correspondents, and plainly so printed and accredited; and there is no need of the wayfaring man, even if he is a fool, erring therein; but no matter, so that the Chronicle can be belied, and the growler glorified. Perhaps the secret is, that "the managers" did not think the bawl-at of importance enough, to send it an "official programme of the exercises of the day,"—which we give in another column; but no more hold ourselves responsible for, than we do for any other advertisement, or for the bawl-at editor behaving like a gentleman.

It is our habit, to wish every creditable exhibition good luck, and to "do what we can" for each—just as it is somebody's else custom to sneer at and try to belittle and injure nearly all.

☞ Lieut. Thomas M. Jackson, of the 3d N. H. Regiment, arrived in this city a day or two since from James Island. He had been prostrated for some weeks with malarious fever, incident to exposure in that climate, and was urged by the Surgeon to come North that he might regain his health. We trust that his wish to return speedily will be gratified, and that he may go back with recovered health and renewed strength.

☞ Some of the Portsmouth friends of Capt. Davidson, of Fort Constitution, have procured him an elegant regulation sword, belt and sash; and they were presented to him at the Fort, Thursday afternoon, by a delegation of the donors,—Mr. Charles G. Pickering making the presentation in a brief, and very neat and appropriate speech. The ceremony took place late in the afternoon, and the scene presented was one of rare beauty—the tide was high, and the lower harbor contained quite a fleet of vessels, most of them in motion; and the picturesque scenery around made a charming background for the interesting scene on the lawn—while "the blue above and the blue below" were lighted up by the mellow rays of the declining sun. The Company at the Fort, (which is certainly a very fine one and well drilled in infantry, artillery and heavy artillery tactics—as our citizens will have an opportunity to see to day) was drawn up on the green, and Mr. Pickering addressed Capt. Davidson thus:

Capt. Davidson,—A few of your friends in Portsmouth, desirous of manifesting their regard for you as a citizen and soldier, have procured for you this sword, sash and belt, which I now have the honor of presenting to you. We feel satisfied that you will never dishonor it; that with it you will nobly defend our glorious old Flag; and that, should your health be spared, you will not sheathe it while hostile hands are raised against the kindest and most beneficent government upon which the sun has ever shone. The feelings of true and ardent patriotism that have induced you to turn your back upon this delightful spot, and exchange a life of comparative ease and comfort for one of danger and privation in the field, after having already served your country so long and so faithfully, are beyond all praise.

Familiar as you are with the duties of a soldier, as well in war times as in times of peace, the path you are about to tread is by no means a strange one. We shall follow your course with interest, as you move on where duty calls you: and when peace shall again dawn upon our once prosperous and happy, but now distracted land, may you return in safety to receive the joyous welcome of your many friends at home.

To which Capt. Davidson responded, with much feeling, promising to stand by the flag under which he had served so long, and thanking his friends again and again most cordially for their kindness and liberality in thus honoring him.

☞ We shall issue no Chronicle Saturday morning, of course—but if any very interesting or important news should come at any time between this and Monday morning, we will issue an Extra.

☞ Never fear, Mr. Ballot—the Chronicle isn't going to "hang up" just yet—tho' we hope it will, before it comes to cry "hard times" so long and so loud as some other folks have done.

☞ Among the rare sights in Portsmouth to-day, will be the drill and manœuvres of Capt. Davidson's Company, from Fort Constitution.

☞ The Ballot man owns that he can lie faster and larger than we can—but he has told the truth this time accidentally.

☞ Diman's Highland Cottage, Strathbam, is open this week, for strawberries and cream.

☞ Any representatives or reporters for the press, who may be in the city to-day, are invited to make the Chronicle Counting Room their headquarters—where we shall be happy to furnish them such accommodations as we have.

☞ Among the attractions of to-day, don't forget the Denier Brothers. See their advertisement and programmes.

☞ The Post Office will be closed this afternoon from one to four o'clock.

Special Notices.

Important to Females.

DR. CHEESEMAN'S PILLS.

The combination of ingredients in these Pills are the result of a long and extensive practice.—They are mild in their operation, and effectual in correcting all irregularities, Painful Menstrations, removing all obstructions, whether from cold or otherwise, headache, pain in the side, palpitation of the heart, whites, all nervous affections, hysterics, fatigue, pain in the back and limbs, &c., disturbed sleep, which arise from the interruption of nature.

DR. CHEESEMAN'S PILLS

was the commencement of a new era in the treatment of those irregularities and obstructions which have consigned so many to a PREMATURE GRAVE. No female can enjoy good health unless she is regular, and whenever an obstruction takes place the general health begins to decline.

DR. CHEESEMAN'S PILLS

are the most effectual remedy ever known for all complaints peculiar to FEMALES. To all classes they are invaluable, inducing, with certainty, periodical regularity. They are known to thousands, who have used them at different periods, throughout the country, having the sanction of some of the most eminent Physicians in America.

Explicit Directions, stating when they should not be used, with each Box.—The Price One Dollar per Box, containing from 50 to 60 Pills.

Pills sent by mail, promptly, by remitting to the Proprietor. Sold by Druggists generally.

"MAGEE'S PATENT"

VENTILATING & AIR-WARMING

FURNACES.

The subscribers, being the Sole Agents in this vicinity for the manufacture and sale of this valuable Furnace, would ask those about remodelling or erecting buildings to examine this truly valuable invention.

For economy, purity of air and ease of management it has no equal, producing a current of warm air, moist and agreeable;—and as none of the air which comes in contact with the fire-pot is used for respiration, the tendency to produce headache so much complained of in other Furnaces, is entirely obviated.

The objects aimed at by the constructors of heating apparatus have been to obtain the greatest amount of heat from a given amount of fuel, and to prevent the escape of heat to the smoke pipe or chimney.

To accomplish this many complicated and expensive heating arrangements have been constructed, some possessing but little improvement over former methods, while many have proved a total failure. The reason for this is obvious. The combustible gases being lighter than the air, pass off into the pipe or chimney without being consumed. This objection, so common in other Furnaces, is obviated in the

MAGEE FURNACE.

The flue or pipe in this Furnace being below the fire-pot, the gases, from their specific gravity, cannot descend, and are burned up by the admission of cold air through the fire-pot, which ignites them as they pass off from the coal, thus saving at least 20 per cent. of the properties of the heat in the fuel.

No heating apparatus with the smoke-pipe or flue on the top of the cone can be made to consume the gases of the coal, as they pass off with a large amount of the heat generated, making the chimney the hottest part of your dwelling.

This Furnace does away with the great number of pipes and angles for the radiation of heat, which are so liable to fill up and get out of order, thus simplifying, while it increases the surface of radiation.

These Furnaces consume all the coal, make no clinkers, the sifting of coal is entirely dispensed with, and they will save from 30 to 50 per cent. of fuel over common Furnaces.

For ease of management, economy and purity of air, these Furnaces have no equal. They can be regulated so as to give any amount of heat required, and the fire may be kept the entire season without once going out.

They give entire satisfaction wherever used. We have in store the different sizes, Brick and Portable, to which we invite the attention of those in want of the best Furnace in the world,—and would refer them to the following named gentlemen, who have them now in use:

Samuel Cleaves, Esq., Albert R. Hatch, Esq.,
Aaron H. Hill, Charles H. Mendum,
Henry F. Wendell, John Sise, and others.

Also on hand, the celebrated and unequalled

Morning Chronicle.

☞ Gen. Rufus King having expressed to the Government his desire that Gen. Sigel, instead of himself, should be assigned to the command of the corps lately under Gen. Fremont, the change has been made accordingly, and Gen. King resumes command of his division.

The rope used on the occasion of the execution of Mumford, at New Orleans, was taken from the parish prison, and was intended for one of Gen. Butler's agents, who was captured early in April and confined in that place. He was to have been hung with that rope the same day that the fleet passed the forts, but the event caused a postponement, which saved the life of the agent.

☞ The silver table on which Said Pacha's dinner to the Emperor was served, a few weeks ago, cost about $30,000.—The dessert dishes at $8000, and the napkins a small fortune each, as they were studded with diamonds.

☞ There was another large discharge of workmen at the Charlestown Navy Yard, Monday, comprising blacksmiths, machinists, gun carriage makers, carpenters, joiners, &c. The number of men is being rapidly reduced.

PURE OLD BOURBON WHISKEY.

Correspondence between some of the most eminent physicians of New York and Brooklyn, and WM. I. CUTTER, Jr., Louisville, Ky.:

NEW YORK May 1, 1861.

Mr. WM. I. CUTTER, Jr., Louisville, Ky.:

Dear Sir:—The great difficulty experienced in procuring Brandy sufficiently pure for medicinal purposes, has induced many of the physicians of this vicinity to adopt Bourbon Whiskey as a substitute, both in the hospitals and private practice; and, since the latter has come into such general use, we have reason to believe that a great deal now sold is of very inferior quality.

Presuming that your residence in the vicinity of the manufacture of Whiskey in Kentucky, as well as your skill as a chemist, will enable you to select a reliable article, and having full confidence in your integrity, we are led to inquire whether you will not aid us in keeping this market supplied, through an Agency, with the best quality of Pure Old Bourbon Whiskey for the use of the sick.

We are, very respectfully, dr, yours truly,

LOUISVILLE, Ky., July 31, 1861.

Drs. VALENTINE MOTT, Willard Parker & others.

Gentlemen:—Your letter of May 1st has been received. In accordance with your wishes, I have made arrangements to supply your city and vicinity with a pure article of copper distilled Bourbon Whiskey, which I trust will fully meet the requirements of your letter. Thanking you for your kind expressions of confidence, &c.,

I remain, very respectfully, yours truly,
WM. I. CUTTER, Jr.

We, the Physicians of Portsmouth, having full confidence in the integrity of D. R. AMBROSE, recommend him as a suitable person to sell OLD BOURBON WHISKEY in Portsmouth, for medicinal purposes, in accordance with an arrangement made between the New York Physicians and WM. I. CUTTER, Jr., of Louisville, Ky., and a similar agreement between said Cutter and the Physicians of Boston.

SPEER'S SAMBUCI WINE
PURE AND FOUR YEARS OLD,
OF CHOICE OPORTO FRUIT,
For Physicians' Use.
FEMALES, WEAKLY PERSONS, INVALIDS.
SAMBUCUS FREE OF PORTUGAL,

Every Family should use the SAMBUCI WINE celebrated in Europe for its medicinal and beneficial qualities as a gentle Stimulant, Tonic, Diuretic and Sudorific, highly esteemed by eminent physicians, used in European and American Hospitals, and by some of the first families in Europe and America.

AS A DIURETIC, it imparts a healthy action to the Glands and Kidneys, and Urinary Organs, very beneficial in Dropsy, Gout and Rheumatic Affections.

SPEER'S SAMBUCI WINE is not a mixture or manufactured article, but is pure from the juice of the Portugal Sambucus, cultivated in New Jersey, recommended by Chemists and Physicians as possessing medical properties superior to any other Wines in use, and an excellent article for all weak and debilitated persons, and the aged and infirm, improving the appetite, and benefitting ladies and children.

A LADIES' WINE, because it will not intoxicate as other wines, as it contains no mixture of spirits or other liquors, and is admired for its rich, peculiar flavor and nutritive properties, imparting a healthy tone to the digestive organs, and a blooming, soft and healthy skin and complexion.

WE REFER TO
a few well known gentlemen and physicians, who have tried the Wine:
Gen. W. Scott, U.S.A. Dr. Ward, Newark,
Gov. Morgan, N.Y. State Dr. Wilson, 11th St., N.Y.

MATHEWS' Arnica HAIR GLOSS

This is a new and invaluable preparation for preserving and beautifying the hair.
The wonderful virtues of Arnica in allaying and removing inflammation are universally known.
ARNICA HAIR GLOSS is a combination of these virtues, with other tried and excellent ingredients.
ARNICA HAIR GLOSS stimulates and invigorates the hair, prevents it from falling out—restores it when lost—promotes its growth and strengthens—renders it proof against all disease.
ARNICA HAIR GLOSS permanently cures all irritations and eruptions of the scalp, and makes it healthy and fertile. For the removal of dandruff it has no equal. Its operations in this particular are magical and permanent.
ARNICA HAIR GLOSS is unequalled as a hair-dressing compound. It not only cleanses the scalp and invigorates the hair, but it renders the latter charmingly soft and lustrous. Its odor is particularly delicate and fragrant—the proprietor having taken especial pains to secure this result.
ARNICA HAIR GLOSS is the very best preparation for the hair ever discovered.
ARNICA HAIR GLOSS, notwithstanding its surpassing merits—is retailed at only Twenty-five cents a bottle, by all Druggists.

VOL. 20. PORTSMOUTH, N. H. MONDAY, JULY 7, 1862. NO. 130

The Chronicle.

"Lord, how this world is given to lying!"

Such was the exclamation we were almost tempted to make, on looking over the printed report of Quartermaster General Gage, of New Hampshire,—not on account of anything we found therein, but what we did not find. Our readers will remember a statement (which we copied from a Manchester paper some weeks since) that Gen. Gage recommended the discontinuance of the Arsenal at Portsmouth, &c. Also that (on the authority of a correspondent from Concord) we stated that Col. Kent was instrumental in cutting off the appropriation for repairs of Portsmouth Arsenal, and transferring the amount to the Lancaster Arsenal. Col. Kent denied and corrected that error, in a letter to us, which we chronicled; and now, to our astonishment, Gen. Gage writes us that he never hinted at, recommended or dreamt of, removing the Arsenal from Portsmouth!—And on carefully examining his Report to the Legislature, we "can't see" on what the ass-umption was built—unless it was that "the wish" of some of our interior editors "was father to the thought." Gen. Gage suggests the erection of a new Arsenal, and repairs of the old ones—but says not one word as to "removing" any.

We must confess that we, and our citizens generally, were not a little surprised at the reported action of Col. Kent and Gen. Gage in regard to this matter—since we know their high esteem for our city.—And ex-Gov. Goodwin, at the Arsenal dinner at the Rockingham, said that when he first read the statement "of some of our bad editors," about Col. Kent, he at once pronounced it false, for he knew Col. Kent better. And we will end by saying that we didn't believe Gen. Gage said what we thought he did, and we are glad he didn't!

HOBSON'S CHOICE.—This is one of the most common proverbial expressions in the English language, and it may be gratifying to many of our younger readers to know its origin, which is simply this;—Thomas Hobson was a carrier at Cambridge. He died the 1st of January, 1630, and Milton, who was a student in the University of that place, wrote a whimsical epitaph to his memory. A figure of him en fresco was also set up at the Bull in Bishopsgate-street, which was the inn which he frequented when in London, and which, with an appropriate inscription, might have been seen within these few years. To his employment in the capacity of carrier, he added the profession of supplying the students of the University with horses; and in order to secure an equal portion of rest as well as labor, he would never let one out of its turn; and hence the saying of "Hobson's choice;" this or none.

☞ Upon the body of one of the crew of the United States barque Kingfisher, recently killed by the rebels in Ocella river, Florida, whither two boats had been sent to obtain water, was ten dollars in money, which the rebel commander, it is said, sent back to the ship for the benefit of his family. The rebels informed an officer who went with a flag of truce, that our men would be well treated in return for the kindness which had been shown rebel prisoners.

SUSPICION OF BOY MURDER.—On Saturday, officer Simon Walker of Bangor arrested Franklin Smith, a lad of 12 years, on suspicion of having drowned "Little Eddie" Reed, at Merrill's Mills, on Monday week. The allegation is that the older boy enticed the younger from school, got him beyond his depth and left him purposely to drown.

☞ Messrs. G. H. & S. E. Twombly, printers, of Dover, have issued the second number of the "Dover Trade Journal," the circulation of which is 6000 copies. It contains a list of different branches of business in the city, with local news, &c., and is distributed free. It is a neatly-printed sheet, and the publishers are doing a good thing for the business of Dover, in first-rate style.

Don't wait for your fervor to cool before you act. The workmen at a foundry might as well wait for the molten iron to cool before pouring it into the mould.

☞ ATTENTION, THE WHOLE! ☜
PORTSMOUTH, April 21st, 1862.
I have for several years been afflicted with distress at my stomach, loss of appetite, and often vomited up all of my food immediately after eating it, and all medicine failed to give any relief until about a year ago, when I took one bottle of DR. S. SWETT'S PANACEA, which fully cured me, so that I have not had the least trouble from any of these complaints since, and I enjoy good health. M. LOWD.
Exeter, Feb. 24, 1858. Dr Swett:—"Sir, for the benefit of those who are afflicted as I have been, with a humor, which prevented my rest night and day, I would say, that your PANACEA has effected a radical cure on me; and would add—that since then, my health has been greatly improved; therefore, I cheerfully recommend it as superior to any other medicine I ever used for humors and consumptive complaints."
WM. F. ...EAVITT.
From ELDER I. CHESLEY, Lee, May 31, 1841.
DR. SWETT: Permit me to testify, as I feel in duty bound to do, that my daughter was afflicted with scrofulous humor, and that previous to your visiting our house in the spring of 1840, she had been confined for a number of months, without her natural rest by day or night. She had applied to a number of physicians, but continued to grow weaker till she commenced using your PANACEA and HUMOR WASH. Since then she has recovered her health so far as to rest quietly by night, and labor by day. I esteem your medicine one of the best that can be found for the disease above named." ISRAEL CHESLEY
☞ Any one returning the remainder of a bottle or box of Dr. Swett's medicines shall have pay for it, if it do not agree with his case, or if not worth the price. All orders directed to DR. S. SWETT, Portsmouth, N. H., promptly attended to. may 26o

MONDAY, JULY 7, 1862.

THE REBELLION.

Further accounts, though brief and confused, show the recent battles on the Peninsula, to be some of the most severe yet fought during the war. Tuesday was the sixth day that the fight had been going on, and it had extended the whole length of our lines. We have lost heavily in killed, wounded and missing, yet it is probable that many reported as killed, will yet be ascertained to be safe or prisoners. It is asserted that the enemy's forces have greatly out numbered ours in almost every action, but that, notwithstanding this, they have been repulsed officer than we have, and their loss far exceeds ours. It is now said that we have lost very few of our siege guns, most of them having been recovered in safety. There have been a great many wounded prisoners taken on both sides.—Heintzleman captured eight guns and a whole brigade of rebels, 1600, including their Colonels—Pendleton, of Louisiana, ex-Congressman Lamar, of Georgia, and McGowan, of South Carolina. Our transportation was all safely removed but seventy-five wagons, which were burned in camp. The enemy's attack, on Monday, was fierce in the extreme. Kearney, Hooker, Richardson, Sedgwick, Smith and McCall participated. The Penn. reserve, under McCall, suffered severely, and Gens. McCall and Reynolds were probably taken prisoners, as they were missing Tuesday night. Gen. Meade is severely wounded, and Gens. Burns and Brooks slightly.

The varying fortunes of the field are shown by the fact that each side took guns and large numbers of prisoners. Among those taken from the enemy are Col. Lamar of Ga., ex-M. C., and Col. Pendleton of a Louisiana regiment. The Richmond Dispatch of Monday announces the death of Gen. "Stonewall" Jackson; also that of Gen. Barnwell Rhett of S. C. The rebel General Anderson was mortally wounded in the same action.

Reports from Fredericksburg represent the greatest possible distress among the inhabitants—the 13th Va. rebel regiment, raised in that town, having been cut to pieces.

Dispatches have been received from Gen. McClellan dated 1 o'clock afternoon 4th.—The following is the substance:

"There has been no fighting since Tuesday night, when the enemy were repulsed with great slaughter. The army moved to the position now occupied, because it affords greatly superior advantages for the co-operation of the gunboats, of which seventeen are now in the river protecting the flank of the army. Statements of the casualties in the severe battles cannot yet be furnished. Our forces were not beaten in any conflict, nor could they be driven from the field by the utmost efforts of the enemy. The conduct of our troops in every command and under all circumstances, was admirable. No guns have been lost since the retirement of Friday, June 27, when McCall's division was at the outset overwhelmed by superior numbers, and 25 field pieces fell into the hands of the rebels."

Gen. Dix reports the arrival at Fortress Monroe of 6553 rebel prisoners, being part of those taken in the late battle, among whom are several colonels and majors.

A dispatch from New Madrid, 5th, says —"Vicksburg is ours." This opens the Mississippi to its mouth.

BY TELEGRAPH.

[We are indebted to Messrs. Hutchings, Ilsley and others for the following dispatch, received Sunday noon.]

The rebels in front of McClellan's army were attacked on Thursday and driven back 8 or 10 miles, with great loss of men and guns. Reinforcements for McClellan were being landed on the 3d, and were received with great enthusiasm by his troops. In the fight on Tuesday, which lasted from 5 A. M. to 3 P. M., 24 guns were taken from the rebels.

The river, north of Vicksburg, is lined with men trying to escape the rebel conscription. 2500 are on an island, defying their oppressors.

The Navy department has received dispatches fully confirming the capture of Vicksburg.

The ram Monarch brings particulars of the bombardment of Vicksburg. Com. Porter's fleet commenced to shell the batteries on the 26th.—the first day without result. On Friday it was renewed, the shells being directed on the city. On Saturday it was again renewed and 8 of Farragut's vessels passed the rebel batteries with but little damage. The city must have been greatly damaged by our shells, as fires were seen in many places.

Scouts and rebel deserters say no rebel troops, except cavalry, have gone from the South West to Richmond. It is reported that the rebels are preparing to attack Corinth, under the impression that most of our troops have been sent east.

☞ Saturday was an extremely warm day, thermometers in different parts of the city, marking form 90 to 95 degrees in the shade. And Sunday did not suffer the mercury to be of a more retiring disposition.

FOURTH OF JULY.

The Fourth of July has become a magic word. It is interwoven with our existence. On it was the nation born; and its anniversary has been celebrated with firing of cannon, beating of drums, patriotic speeches and toasts, ringing of bells, music and dancing, and a thousand other demonstrations of joy. As such, the day was received and "remembered" in Portsmouth, on Friday—some particulars of the ceremonies being given in another place, by our reporters. We do not deem it necessary to go into full particulars, even if we had room—for of course most of those who felt an interest in the matter, were "there to see" for themselves. The Celebration, as a whole, was carried out nearly in accordance with the order of the day published, and was very creditable to our city and to Mr. J. H. Head, who conceived and carried out the affair—with, of course, much assistance from other gentlemen, who appeared in various positions; also the invaluable aid of the ladies, whose hearts and hands are in every good work, but whose more quiet efforts are usually seen only in results.

There were many hundreds, probably thousands, of strangers in the city, and all our own population was agog; and we heard no voice expressed except that of praise and satisfaction. Of course there is one man who will not praise it.

Unusual quiet has prevailed in the city during the whole season about the Fourth—and we saw no instances of drunkenness or fighting—though of course there must have been some of both; and we are told that the gallant money officer of the Navy Yard came near "taking the law on" a fellow who recklessly threw a bunch of lighted crackers into the crowd of horses and men, and at this gentleman's feet, while the rope-walker was performing.

We are glad that those who wanted a Celebration, got one—and we congratulate them on their good success. Almost the only drawback of the occasion, seemed to be, that many things were an hour or two behind the stated time. The route of the procession was changed, on account of sick persons in some of the streets.

The Floral part of the procession was very fine, comprising a large number of cars of beautiful designs, appropriate to the occasion—many of them original. Prominent among them was the miniature full-rigged U. S. frigate Constitution, with a bold little crew; and the Lafayette School, and other good cars from the suburbs. We shall try to give a full list, with the mottoes, another day.

Honored among the numerous honorary guests of the occasion, were the venerable Daniel Fernald, said to have been a revolutionary soldier; and soldiers of 1812 and '62.

☞ One of the U. S. Marines was slightly sun-struck, while marching in the procession on the Fourth, and was compelled to leave the ranks.

One or two slight accidents occurred from fast driving in the streets on the same day, but, we believe, no one was seriously injured.

William Pearson, about 15 years of age, shattered one of his thumbs so severely, while firing a pistol, that amputation was found to be necessary.

☞ The Methodist Meeting House, in Newington, was entirely destroyed by fire on Saturday morning. The flames appeared, bursting out near a corner of the house in which was a closet containing books, lamps, wicks, rags, &c., which circumstance has induced some persons to attribute the fire to spontaneous combustion; it must be so, unless it was the work of an incendiary, as no fire nor lights had been there for a long time. The house was a plain, neat structure, of 40 or 50 pews, well built,—but had not recently been used for public worship. It was insured for $1000 in the Rockingham Mutual, about 5 years since.

☞ The 4th number of the "Book of Days" has been published by J. B. Lippincott & Co., Philadelphia, and is for sale by J. F. Shores, Jr. It is as well filled with interesting matter, and as beautifully printed, as have been the previous numbers.

Bradlee's pocket guide to the White Mountains, Lake Winnipiseogee, and Lake Memphremagog, with maps, published by John E. Bradlee, Boston, is a convenient little book for those who go the mountains," and its descriptions will be interesting, even to those who don't. For sale by J. F. Shores, Jr.

N. H. LEGISLATURE.

WEDNESDAY.—The Senate passed the militia bill and the act for the preservation of birds.

The House passed a bill relative to the keeping of dogs. A bill was introduced, in addition to the act to aid in defence of the country. The bill proposes to add $300,000 to the amount of the bonds or certificates of debt which the Treasurer was authorized to issue by the act to which the bill is an amendment; read twice and referred to the committee on finance. Resolutions on national affairs were introduced and ordered to be printed.

NEW HAMPSHIRE BIRD LAW.

Below we give the new and stringent Act to prevent the murder of Birds, passed by our Legislature last week—and commend its careful perusal to any pot-hunters from Massachusetts, who may now be prowling in New Hampshire, "seeking whom they may devour;" and also to Police Officers:

STATE OF NEW HAMPSHIRE.

AN ACT to promote the interest of Agriculture.

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives, in General Court convened.

SEC. I. If any person shall at any season of the year take, kill or destroy any of the Birds called robins, thrushes, larks, blue-birds, orioles, sparrows, swallows, martins, woodpeckers, bob-o links, yellow-birds, linnets, fly catchers, or warblers; or shall, between the first day of March and the first day of August, take, kill or destroy any of the birds called snipes, woodcocks, plovers, rails, yellow-legs, or sand pipers; or shall, between the first day of March and the first day of September, take, kill or destroy any of the birds called partridges, or grouse, or quails; or shall, within the respective terms aforesaid, sell, buy, OR HAVE IN POSSESSION, ANY OF SAID BIRDS, taken or killed, whether in this State or elsewhere,—he shall forfeit for every and partridge, or grouse, quail, woodcock, snipe or plover, taken, killed or had in possession, the sum of THREE DOLLARS; and for each of the other birds named above, the sum of ONE DOLLAR,—to be recovered by complaint before any Justice of the Peace.

SEC. II. Any person owning or occupying land, may forbid the destruction of birds on the same at any season of the year, by public notice in any newspaper published in the County, or by posting notice on the land; and any person taking or destroying birds on said land, in defiance of said prohibition, shall be subject to the penalty of One Dollar for each bird so destroyed, in addition to the penalties named in section first of this bill.

SEC. III. It shall be the duty of the Selectmen of towns, and of the Mayor and Aldermen of cities, throughout this State, to cause the provisions of this act to be enforced within their respective limits.

SEC. IV. All forfeitures or penalties recovered for violation of any of the provisions of this Act, shall inure, ONE HALF TO THE USE OF THE COMPLAINANT, and one-half to the use of the town or city where the same shall be recovered.

SEC. V. The provisions of this Act, or of any section thereof, may be suspended for a time not exceeding one year, within the corporate limits of any town or city, the inhabitants of which may at their annual town meeting pass a vote to that effect.

SEC. VI. This Act shall take effect from and after its passage.

☞ Among the many pleasant private social "celebrations" of the day, on the Fourth, one of the most enjoyable was a surprise party given at his residence in the evening, by the family of the gallant Captain of the miniature frigate Constitution, of the procession—the occasion being also his anniversary birthday. What added to the zest of the elegant and thoroughly hospitable entertainment, was the fact that the gallant host himself had not the least suspicion of the plot, till it burst upon him in all the glory of a cheerful company of his congratulating friends, the greatest profusion of superb bouquets, with music, dancing, fireworks, &c. All agreed that it was one of the most surprisingly agreeable ways of winding up a very agreeable Fourth,—and the Captain found out what the folks were "going to do with so many eggs."

☞ We don't know whether we were more astonished or delighted, when Mr. Farwell, of the "Eastern stage line," brought us a box of handsome, well-ripened blueberries on the Fourth of July. He brought several boxes, picked in York we believe, and this is a remarkably early yield. We can bear a repetition of the dose as long as Farwell and the bushes can.

☞ Messrs. Wendell & Moses, proprietors of the North Mills in this city, advertise to furnish an excellent article of ground Salt, in any desired quantity, at a low price.

☞ Lieut. P. C. Pope has been detached from the Portsmouth Navy Yard and ordered to the U. S. steam sloop Powhatan, at Philadelphia.

NAVAL RECRUITING.—The New Bedford Mercury says the whole number of seamen enlisted in the navy at that port from May 4, 1861, to July 1, 1862, is as follows: Seamen, 576; ordinary seamen, 998; landsmen, 474; boys, 15; apprentice, 1. Total, 2064.

CELEBRATION OF THE FOURTH IN PORTSMOUTH.

The celebration of the Fourth of July, in this city, notwithstanding the short time in which the Committee of Arrangements were compelled to make their preparations, and the somewhat limited means which were at their disposal, was quite successful, and afforded a large amount of genuine pleasure to our citizens, and to many persons from neighboring towns in this State and Maine, who came to Portsmouth to pass the day.

At an early hour on Thursday evening, boys, with their guns, pistols and crackers, commenced the celebration of the day; and during the night there was the usual bonfire on Market Square. There was comparatively little disturbance, although the large extra police force were not allowed much rest.

The oldest inhabitant may declare, as has become fashionable with old and young, that he never knew an unpleasant Fourth of July; yet he could hardly claim that he ever knew a pleasanter one than that which has just passed.

At sunrise the ringing of bells and the firing of a national salute commenced,—ever the appropriate herald of the Fourth of July. The bells were rung and salutes fired at noon and at sunset also.

In the morning a company of 15 "Raw Recruits" mysteriously appeared, and passed through the principal streets. The grotesque appearance which this corps presented, elicited much laughter from the spectators. A good thing were these Fantastics.

THE PROCESSION.

The first regular feature of the programme was the procession. The Committee of Arrangements, however, so nearly carried out the programme which they announced in Friday's Chronicle, that it is unnecessary to enter very fully into details. The procession was quite lengthy and attractive. The military display, in particular, was the finest we have had in this city on a like occasion for many years. It consisted of the Goodwin Guards, under command of Capt. W. O. Sides; U. S. Marines, under command of Lieut. C. A. Stillman, from the Portsmouth Navy Yard; two batteries of U. S. Artillery, from Fort Constitution, under command of Capt. James Davidson; one battery of U. S. Artillery from Fort McClary, under Lieut. Sylvester Boothby; the Portsmouth Light Guards, (boys,) under Capt. G. W. Towle; and the Jackson Regt., (also boys.) They all made a fine appearance, and acquitted themselves most creditably. Where all did so well, it would be, perhaps, unnecessary to speak in particular of each, even did our space permit it.

The Granite State Ex 1st, under Capt. A. K. P. Deering, occupied a prominent position in the procession, and aided materially in ensuring the success which was so fully achieved.

THE STREET DECORATIONS, except the lavish profusion of the floral adornment of the procession, were not many nor elaborate. Those at the residences of ex-Mayor Walker (mottoes "The Spirit of '76 still lives"—"Union and Liberty,") and Mr. E. Fitzgerald—flags and flowers—were among the finest we saw; Capt. Towle, Capt. Hill, A. H. Hill, Esq., and others also decorated their house fronts; Messrs. Deering & Yeaton run up a little "glory" of flags at their rigging-loft: at the Chronicle office, a large flag was thrown across the street, for "Union, liberty, and law"—"Independence forever!" and the front of the building bore the picture of an old style printing press; above it, "Let there be light"—below: "The tyrant's foe, the people's friend;" and "DANIEL FOWLE, the first Printer in New Hampshire, Oct. 7th, 1756." "His name bespoke no fool servility; his paper bore no stamp but that of liberty." Beside these there were fine floral displays in many windows, among which we observed those of ex-Mayor Reding, Capt. Chas. Salter, Wm. Pettigrew, F. W. Miller, J. P. Hart, Mrs. Halliburton, Jas. Moses; A. W. Simpson, A. F. Nowell, J. Rider; and there were, no doubt, many others. The flags were flying from all the public staffs, but stars and stripes were rather scarce as a general thing—we hope no lack of true patriotism or public spirit was denoted thereby. And the only arch was the span of the blue heavens above, which was never more beautiful.

AT THE PAVILION.

The procession, having passed over the prescribed route, entered the pavilion which had been erected in the Court House yard. The tent was large, was well floored, and was handsomely decorated with flags, flowers, &c. A raised platform at the lower end was speedily filled by the very large choir of children, and the exercises were commenced with an overture by the Portsmouth Cornet Band. This was followed by the singing of the original Ode, written by Albert Laighton—the choir consisting of children from the public schools, in costume, under the direction of Mr. E. A. Tilton.—Rev. A. J. Patterson then offered a fervent prayer. The children next sang the Star Spangled Banner, and Rev. I. F. Waterhouse read, in clear and distinct tones, the Declaration of Independence. "America" was then sung by the children, the audience joining—closing the exercises here.

The Marines, the companies from Forts Constitution and McClary, and the Goodwin Guards, were then escorted to Jefferson Hall, accompanied by the Portsmouth Cornet Band, where a collation had been provided for them by direction of the Committee of Arrangements. This, doubtless, was an attractive feature of the day to them, after passing over the somewhat lengthy route prescribed for the procession.

THE REGATTA.

This was to many one of the most pleasant of the many pleasant features of the day, and passed off with great satisfaction to all who witnessed it. The wind was rather rough for such craft as are brought forward on such occasions, but no serious accident occurred. The Committee and Judges were as follows:

COMMITTEE—Frank D. Webster, James H. Dow, J. Henry Norcross, C. E. Newman, Daniel G. Waldron.

JUDGES—Capt. Heman Eldredge, Capt. James M. Hill, Capt. Wm. Lambert, Capt. John Chase, Jos. B. Adams, Esq. Joshua E. Eldredge, Esq.

Two boats were entered for the first race, —the Monitor and the Little Mac. Immediately upon starting, the Little Mac broke a thole-pin, and fell out of the race. The Monitor, however, continued on, and went over the course (from the Judge's stand,—a boat stationed off Noble's wharf, to the Beacon, and return)—distance about a mile and three quarters. This the Monitor passed over in 13 minutes and 2 seconds. This race was for 2-oared boats; Prize, $8.

Second Race—four-oared boats, same distance as first race. Two boats also entered for this race—the Walker and the Skedaddle, both carrying coxswains. The race was won by the Skedaddle in 12:2, the Walker's time being 12:40. Prize $15.—After passing the Judges' stand on the return, the crew of the Walker complimented the winning boat by three hearty cheers.

The Skedaddle was manned by—Thos. J. Spinney, coxswain; Seth Seely, Wm. Varney, James Hall, and Chas. Hall, of Portsmouth.

The Walker by—N. Dana Whipple, coxswain; Henry Mathes, James R. May, C. P. Kimball and James K. Medbury, of Portsmouth.

Third race—six-oared boats, same distance. Entries,—Butcher Boy, Skedaddle and Sunny Side. This race was also won by the Skedaddle, in 10:38; the Sunnyside coming in second, in 11:00; and the Butcher Boy in 11:53. This race was quite exciting, the crews of the winning boat and of the Sunny Side being very nearly matched, in point of strength and practice, although the former, we understood, had somewhat the advantage in boats, that in which they rowed being new, and lighter than the other. The two rounded the Beacon very nearly together, the Sunny Side being but about her length behind. Prize, $25.

The crew of the Sunny Side, of Portsmouth, were—Wm. Randall, coxswain; Elvyn Newton, Judson Randall, Chas. Baker, Moses Garland, John H. Robinson, and Oliver Downes, of the S hoals.

Of the Skedaddle—same as 3d race with addition of Nathan Spinney and Fabius Spinney.

Of the Butcher Boy—John Meserve, coxswain; and six oare-men.

Fourth Race—Open to all double-bank wherries, whaleboats and ship's boats. No allowance for difference in number of oars. First prize $25; second prize $15. Entries, Saucy Jack and Zouave, each carrying 12 oars. This was the concluding race of the day, and was sharply contested. It was won by the Saucy Jack in 10:36,—the Zouave coming in but twenty seconds behind.

Crews:—of the Zouave—Sam'l W. French, coxswain; Warren Cogswell, Geo. Fretson, Chas. French, Gustavus Abbott, Wentworth Rigker, Benj. Woodsum, Chas. Abbott, Oliver Adams, John Fernald, Jos. Fernald, John Gray, Frank Bailey—of the caulkers's gang at the Portsmouth Navy Yard;

Of the Saucy Jack—Stephen A. Dixon, coxswain; Francis Spinney, Wm. H. Staples, Chas. F. Staples, Alvin Staples, Andrew J. Dixon, Alvin Dixon, John W. Knight, Henry M. Paul, Jos. W. Davis, Henry Spinney, Wm. Brown, Simon F. Spinney, all of Eliot.

A purse was made up at the Judge's stand, for another trial between the Monitor and the Little Mac, but it was found to be impracticable.

A balloon was then sent up from the Judges' stand, under the charge of Mr. Sigston, of Newburyport; but the strong breeze which prevailed, caused an accident to the larger one, which taking fire while in the process of inflation, it was burnt causing quite a scattering of the small crowd collected around it. At the conclusion of the regatta, a salute was fired at Noble's Island, by the U. S. Artillery from Fort McClary, which closed the exercises at the river.

TIGHT ROPE PERFORMANCE.

Twice during the day Mons. Denier walked on a tight rope from Jefferson Hall to the North Church steeple and back. At six o'clock in the evening Market Square was densely packed with a large crowd of interested, and some trembling, spectators, who gazed with bated breath at the performance of the thrilling feat. The achievement was first accomplished with the balancing pole. In a few minutes, Mr. Denier again was seen trundling his wheelbarrow before him along the rope. And finally he walked rapidly along the line to the lively music of the Portsmouth Cornet Band,—he being at this time enveloped in a sack.—The several feats were admirably performed; there was no appearance of courting danger or fool-hardy daring, but the performer evidently had fully tested his powers and sought to accomplish that only which he felt sure of achieving. He therefore enlisted the sympathies of all who saw him, without making the spectacle one of extreme pain to them. We are pleased to learn that full houses greeted him at his performances in the Temple.

A Promenade Concert in the Pavilion, which was quite well attended, closed the public exercises of the day.

"MAGEE'S PATENT"

VENTILATING & AIR-WARMING

FURNACES.

The subscribers, being the Sole Agents in this vicinity for the manufacture and sale of this valuable Furnace, would ask those about remodelling or erecting buildings to examine this truly valuable invention.

For economy, purity of air and ease of management it has no equal, producing a current of warm air, moist and agreeable,—and as none of the air which comes in contact with the fire-pot is used for respiration, the tendency to produce headache so much complained of in other Furnaces, is entirely obviated.

The objects aimed at by the constructors of heating apparatus have been to obtain the greatest amount of heat from a given amount of fuel, and to prevent the escape of heat to the smoke pipe or chimney.

To accomplish this many complicated and expensive heating arrangements have been constructed, some possessing but little improvement over former methods, while many have proved a total failure. The reason for this is obvious. The combustible gases being lighter than the air, pass off into the pipe or chimney without being consumed. This objection, so common in other Furnaces, is obviated in the

MAGEE FURNACE.

The flue or pipe in this Furnace being below the fire-pot, the gases, from their specific gravity, cannot descend, and are burned up by the admission of cold air through the fire-pot, which ignites them as they pass off from the coal, thus saving at least 20 per cent. of the properties of the heat in the fuel.

No heating apparatus with the smoke-pipe or flue on the top of the cone can be made to consume the gases of the coal, as they pass off with a large amount of the heat generated, making the chimney the hottest part of your dwelling.

This Furnace does away with the great number of pipes and angles for the radiation of heat, which are so liable to fill up and get out of order, thus simplifying, while it increases the surface of radiation.

These Furnaces consume all the coal, make no clinkers, the sifting of coal is entirely dispensed with, and they will save from 30 to 50 per cent. of fuel over common Furnaces.

For ease of management, economy and purity of air, these Furnaces have no equal. They can be regulated so as to give any amount of heat required, and the fire may be kept the entire season without once going out.

They give entire satisfaction wherever used. We have in store the different sizes, Brick and Portable, to which we invite the attention of those in want of the best Furnace in the world,—and would refer them to the following named gentlemen, who have them now in use:

Samuel Cleaves, Esq., Albert R. Hatch, Esq.,
Aaron H. Hill, Charles H. Mendum,
Henry F. Wendell, John Sise, and others.

Also on hand, the celebrated and unequalled

MAGEE COOKING STOVES,

Which for economy, durability, ease of management and nicety of operation in every department of cooking,

GRAY HAIRS.—Hon. Frederick Smyth, American Commissioner at the World's Fair in London, writes:—

"Old buildings are rarely torn down or painted; the people here have a veneration for everything old. Hair dye is not used here, but gray hair is preferred, and thousands of youngish men powder their hair to make it appear gray. Ladies with gray and white hair take especial care to display it. I see hundreds of ladies wear white and gray hair elaborately dressed, and it looks finely."

A REJECTED RECRUIT.—Among those who presented themselves for enlistment at one of the armories yesterday, was a middle aged person of Irish birth, who entered a name upon the roll. Several of those in the armory thought they saw a familiar face, and a closer look convinced that she was the person they thought her to be. She was handed over to the police, who gave her a night's lodging, and this morning was suffered to depart with the hint that the war could be prosecuted without her aid as a soldier. She was dressed in male attire, with a high, old-fashioned black hat, under which she had secured her long hair.—Lowell Courier, 27th.

☞ Menander Pearson, Esq., of Bangor, was attacked with apoplexy on board the cars, while on his way home from Boston, last Monday afternoon, and died at his residence about nine o'clock the same evening. He had been summoned home by the dangerous illness of his wife.

A QUIET REBUKE.—The St. Paul, Minn., Press says that "on Sunday morning last two gentlemen of Chicago called at the residence of Edward Stimson, Esq., and sent their names up to the Hon. Edward Everett, wishing to pay their respects. The honorable gentleman returned an answer that he could not see them as he was preparing to attend divine worship. What gives the rebuke a point, is the fact that the two gentlemen who called are prominent members of the church themselves."

☞ The Odd Fellows, in Maine, have no notion of letting the most beautiful season of the year go by without having their jubilation. The Portland, Bildeford, Saco, Saccarappa and Brunswick lodges have a grand excursion to Bath on the 8th.

A sober German community lately drove a company of Ethiopian minstrels out of town, on ascertaining they were counterfeit and not real blacks. They were vehemently denounced as imposters by the German press, and all the merit of their performance was unable to remove the 'stigma.'

PURE OLD BOURBON WHISKEY.

Correspondence between some of the most eminent physicians of New York and Brooklyn, and WM. J. CUTTER, Jr., Louisville, Ky:

NEW YORK, May 1, 1861.

Mr. WM. T. CUTTER, Jr., Louisville, Ky.:

Dear Sir:—The great difficulty experienced in procuring a pure whiskey, for medicinal purposes, has induced many of the physicians of this vicinity to adopt Bourbon Whiskey as a substitute, in the hospitals and private practice and, since the latter has come into such general use, we have reason to believe that a great deal now sold is of very inferior quality.

Presuming that your residence in the vicinity of the manufacture of Whiskey in Kentucky, as well as your skill as a chemist, will enable you to select a reliable article, and having full confidence in your integrity, we are led to inquire whether you will not aid us in having this market supplied, through an Agency, with the best quality of Pure Old Bourbon Whiskey for the use of the sick.

We are, very respectfully, sir, yours truly,

LOUISVILLE, Ky., July 21, 1861.

Drs. VALENTINE MOTT, Willard Parker & others.

Gentlemen:—Your letter of May 1st has been received. In accordance with your wishes, I have made arrangements to supply your city and vicinity with a pure article of copper distilled Bourbon Whiskey, which I feel will fully meet the requirements of your letter. Thanking you for your kind expressions of confidence, &c.,

I remain, very respectfully, yours truly,
WM. T. CUTTER, Jr.

We, the Physicians of Portsmouth, having full confidence in the integrity of Mr. R. AMBROSE, recommend him as a suitable person to sell OLD BOURBON WHISKEY in Portsmouth, for medical purposes, in accordance with an arrangement made between the New York Physicians and WM. T. CUTTER, Jr., of Louisville, Ky., and a similar agreement between said Cutter and the Physicians of Boston.

OF CHOICE OPORTO FRUIT,

For Physicians' Use,

FEMALES, WEAKLY PERSONS, INVALIDS,

SAMBUCUS TREE OF PORTUGAL,

The Great Remedy for Kidney Affections, Rheumatism, Chronic Complaints

Excellent Wine for Females.

Every Family should use the SAMBUCI WINE celebrated in Europe for its medicinal and beneficial qualities as a gentle Stimulant, Tonic, Diuretic and Sudorific, highly esteemed by eminent physicians, used in European and American Hospitals, and by some of the first families in Europe and America.

AS A DIURETIC, it imparts a healthy action to the Glands and Kidneys, and Urinary Organs, very beneficial in Dropsy, Gout and Rheumatic Affections.

SPEER'S SAMBUCI WINE is not a mixture or manufactured article, but is pure from the juice of the Portugal Sambucus, cultivated in New Jersey, recommended by Chemists and Physicians as possessing medical properties superior to any other Wines in use, and an excellent article for all weak and debilitated persons, and the aged and infirm, improving the appetite, and benefitting ladies and children.

A LADIES' WINE, because it will not intoxicate as other wines, as it contains no mixture of spirits or other liquors, and is admired for its rich, peculiar flavor and nutritive properties, imparting a healthy tone to the digestive organs, and a blooming, soft and healthy skin and complexion.
